CURE FOR NIGHT SWEATS .- The night perspirations of consumptive persons are a notable factor in the progress of the disease, and many remedies have been tried for them, one of the most effective being sulphate of atropine. This, however, is not always applicable. Recently, in a rebellious case Dr. Kohnhom (a Belgian) thought to use the powder which is employed in the German Army as a remedy for sweating of the feet, and known as staempulver; it contains salicylic acid (three parts) and silicate of magnesia (eightyseven parts). The effect was remarkable; the night-sweats, which had persisted several months, stopped the first night, and six months after they had not reappeared. Another case was also successfully treated. The method is, rubbing the powder, each evening, over the whole body; if the skin be too dry, a little lard or alcoholic solution of tannin should be rubbed on first. As the powder may provoke coughing the patient should, during application, hold a handkerchief to the mouth and FISH CHOWDER .- The best fish for chowder are haddock and striped bass. Cut the fish in pieces an inch thick and two inches square; take six or eight good sized slices of salt pork; put them in the bottom of an iron pot and fry them till crisped. Take out the pork, leaving the fat, chop the pork fine. Put in the pot a layer of fish a layer of split crackers, some of the chopped pork, a little black and red pepper, a little chopped onion, then another laver of fish split crackers an seasoning. Do this ill you have used all your fish. Then just cover your fish with water and stew slowly until it is tender; thicken the gravy with pounded crackers; add ketchup if you like. Boil up the gravy once and pour over the fish; squeeze in the juice of a lemon, add salt if necessary.

STEWED TOMATOES .- Put a bit of butter in a hot saucepan, and after it has melted add the tomatoes pealed and sliced; season with pepper only, cover the saucepan closely, and set it where the tomatoes will stew very slowly, stirring occasionally with a silver or woolen spoon. When sufficiently cooked add salt and butter, and serve hot. Tomatoes should never be cooked in an iron kettle, nor stirred with an iron spoon, as it spoils the color of the Line some patty pans with it, fill them with uncooked rice to keep their shape, and bake them in a moderate oven till done. Remove the rice, and fill the tartlets with jam, or with stewed fruit, and on the top put a heaped spoonful of whipped cream.

NEW ENGLAND MUFFINS .- Beat two eggs well with a tablespoonful of butter; ald a pint of milk. Take three cups of flour, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, and a half a teaspoonful of salt; sift into the milk and eggs, beat quickly and drop into muffin-rings or gem-pans, leaving room for them to rise; bake immediately in a quick oven.

Keep in a cool place in the summer. I don't think it is a good plan to let them set in the hot sun. Keep your hives shut up so the mice can not get in. I would keep them a little off of the ground. If you let them swarm you must hive them. To do this nicely I sometimes take a little smoke with me; it seems to tame them. What shall we do when they begin to rob one another? I would put a little board up pearance of the borders of a sweet in front of the hive. Let the board be long enough to come out to each side of the hive; close up the entrance so there is no room for the thieves to get in, only at the bottom, and you will not have any trouble, for when bees go to hive they take a straight cut, and if they have to go to the end of this little board they will not bother them.

MR. H. R. STEVENS:

I wish to inform you what Vegetine has done for me. I have been troubled with Erystpelas Humor for more than 30 years in my limbs and other parts of my body, and have been a great sufferer. I commenced taking Vegetine one year ago last August and can truly say it has done more for me than any other medicine. I seem to be perfectly free from this humor and can recommend it to every one. Would not be without this medicine—'tis more to me than gold—and I feel it will prove a blessing to others gold—and I feel it will prove a blessing to others as it has to me.

In one case, a delicate young lady of about 17 years was much benefited by its use. Her parents informed me that it had done her more good than all the medical treatment to which she had previously been subjected.

Yours, respectfully,
