GENERAL HANCOCK.

Not a Flaw in His Record—Not a Stain on His Reputation.

From the St. Louis Republic. But THE TIMES does not say a word too much in praise of General Hancock. He has so borne himself through the most trying ordeal a man can undergo as to increase the love of friends and win the respect even of the bitterest political enemies.

The following seasonable and well-digested article we clip from the New York Star. Democrats will do well to follow its spirit and advice at this particular juncture.

No Time for Dispondency Now.

From the tone of many of our contemporaries we are impressed with the gloomy view of the future that is taken by some of our democratic friends.

The present is not a time for democratic dispondency, but rather for an encouragement to renewed exertion. At the worst, the democracy has carried one-half the states in the Union, and the slightest change, the turning of ten thousand votes out of a grand total of ten millions cast in the late election, would have given it the presidency.

When we look at the enormously powerful agencies that were opposed to us, it is but little marvel that victory did not perch upon our banners in the great struggle just closed.

It is generally believed that the short session of Congress, lasting from early next month until March fourth, and ending with the inauguration of General Garfield, will be one of the best natured ever known.

How Carl Chuz, together with numerous other Republican leaders, will attempt to force through Congress, at its next session, a bill reorganizing the Pension system of the country.

Secretary Sherman is of opinion that the several hundred millions of United States five and six per cent bonds, redeemable during the next few months can be replaced by bonds leaving three and sixty-five one-hundredths per cent interests.

Gov. James D. Williams, of Indiana, died at Indianapolis, last Saturday the 23rd inst. Gov. Williams was one of the remarkable men of the times.

KANSAS has gone a little further than any state in prohibitory legislation, by adopting an amendment to the constitution prohibiting the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors except for medicinal, scientific and mechanical purposes.

Mrs. Peterman, of Lancaster, who had a family consisting of her husband and nine children, has had eight funerals in as many months—losing her husband and seven children.

RAIL ROAD HORRORS.

A Train Plunges Down A Bank.

A dreadful accident occurred on the Lehigh Valley Rail Road, near Wilkesbarre, Tuesday the 19th instant. By reason of a misplaced switch the engine leaped the track and plunged down the embankment, and issued clouds of steam and shrieked like a thing of life in agony.

The train consisted of the engine and two passenger cars, the ladies' car being nearest the locomotive. Several of the passengers were also severely injured, but it is believed that none are dangerously hurt.

A Train on the Texas Railroad Takes a Tumble and Nineteen Persons are Wounded.

GALVESTON, TEXAS, November 16.—A News Louisville special says: The construction train on the Dallas and Wichita railroad went through a temporary bridge four miles north of here this evening. Nineteen laborers were wounded and three have since died and others will die.

A DARING GIRL.

In the midst of a large forest, five or six miles back of Damascus, Wayne county, Pa., lives Henry Merrill, a well-known hunter and trapper. He has but one companion in his solitary abode—a daughter, aged about eighteen years.

The buck, engaged by the pain, struck at the boat with one of its forelegs, shattering the frail bark in pieces. The boat sank at once, leaving Miss Merrill in the water with the struggling and infuriated animal.
