Democratic County Committee Meeting.

A meeting of the Democratic County Committee will be held at the Bash House, Bellefonte, on Tuesday, April 26th, at 2 o'clock, p. m., at which it is earnestly hoped every member of the committee will be present.

The apportionment of delegates to the different districts for the ensuing two years will be made, and other matters of importance to the party will be considered.

P. GRAY MEEK, Chairman.

Senator Don Cameron says that "no nobler, better or more patriotic body of men than the Pennsylvania legislature could be found in the world."

That is putting it on thick and heavy and ought to settle the matter most effectually, and yet there are lots of people just like me and perverse enough to believe quite the contrary.

Gen. James B. Weaver, of Iowa, the Greenback candidate for President, will make a speech in Bellefonte, on the 30th inst. Just what Greenback speeches are good for at this particular time we are not able to say, but suppose the illustrious general will be able to tell. Guess there will be a free admission.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Washington, D. C., April 16, '81.

Except Mahone, Riddleberger and George C. Gorham, I think every one is glad there is a prospect of the Senate going temporarily into the business of confirming persons nominated for office by the President.

Many Republicans are anxious to dispose of certain important nominations, and an agreement will probably be reached next week to take up certain specified ones. The Democratic Senators will not object. Of course, after this necessary work is over the Republicans can resume their attempt to elect Riddleberger and Gorham.

No law can prevent that. The interest in the election of such men, however, will be small after attention has been for a time drawn from it to other subjects. The Republicans know they are not fighting for any principle, and most of them realize the fact that Gorham and Riddleberger are not names that carry strength with them in the North.

After the probable confirmations, then, there is likely to be some further arrangement by which the contest may be practically dropped now and resumed in December.

Most encouraging reports come from owners of six per cent. bonds as to the 34 per cent. proposition of Secretary Windou. Owners of five per cent. bonds redeemable this summer, believing they will soon be called upon in a similar way, have (some of them) written to the Secretary expressing a willingness to have their bonds extended at the lower rate.

The plan is, then, an assured success. Of its good results, especially if Congress shall be induced to forgo at its next session the passage of a 3 per cent. funding bill, there is room for doubt.

The National banks are large holders of these redeemable bonds and they get from the Secretary a higher interest than Congress proposed and the celebrated "fifth section" of the late refunding bill is not put in force. They will fight as earnestly against such a bill next winter as they did last winter, and public sentiment will not be as strongly in favor of a bill at 3 per cent. Now that interest has been or is about to be reduced, I fear the Secretary's unauthorized "compromise" has made the passage of a 3 per cent. bill impossible.

This whole subject will, however, have full discussion as soon as Congress meets. I am surprised that it has not had more attention during debate in the last week of the Senate's very wayward session.

The President grows in personal popularity here, notwithstanding the rather rigid rules he has thought it necessary to adopt as to the reception of visitors. There are numberless stories about the influence this or that man has with him, but they are laughed at. They were true enough of Grant, who, except on rare occasions, liked to have trouble taken off his hands, and of Hayes, who, though always ready to do all that became his position, had a constitutional inability in the matter of making up his mind. But they are not true about Garfield.

CARROLL.

It is thought that every Ohio man expects an office under the Garfield administration except those who are in the penitentiaries.

THE WORK OF WATER.

Thousands of People Rendered Homeless.

YANKTON, Dak., April 12.—The overflowed water of the Missouri is gradually subsiding, though the ice is piled to a height of from ten to thirty feet along the bank and on the bars and bottom. Yankton is filling up with refugees from the low lands, and the people are doing their best to care for them. Outside help is needed, however, as the resources of the citizens are not adequate to the demands of the thousands of people rendered homeless. All these people possessed what was swept away. Nearly all the stock on the low lands, hundreds of thousands of head, was drowned. The farm houses and villages are submerged or floating about in the water. On the site of Green Island of the twenty houses but one remains, and there the toe is from ten to twenty feet deep. The bottom from here to the Big Sioux, sixty miles long and from five to twenty miles wide, is still under water.

Yankton parties are still out in yaws bringing in the people. The Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad runs over this bottom, though the track is under water, it being the only means of communication with the outside. The steamers Terry and Far West are adrift and in good condition. The losses to property in general cannot now be estimated, but they must be very great. The flood season has only begun, as the future Missouri slope is buried in snow.

Yankton is almost destitute of fuel and coal oil and short of provisions. This fact, with the continued winter weather, adds to the suffering among the homeless families who have been drowned out. The city can furnish shelter for about one thousand, and is making great efforts to supply clothing, fuel and provisions from its limited store.

As soon as the gorge breaks boats can be sent below for supplies. All the railroads west of Yankton are snowed in. The damage to steamboat property will amount to $50,000, including two boats sunk—the Western and the Santeeville. The steamers Nellie Peck, Bella Helena, Black Hills, Josephine, Besebud, Mead and Big Horn, are all lying high and dry up on the ice and far inland. They are damaged to the extent of $30,000, but will be put adrift as soon as the weather will permit, probably inside of thirty days.—Patrol.

A DEATH-DEALING TORNADO.

It Cuts a Swath Two Hundred Yards Wide and Kills Four Persons.

CINCINNATI, April 14.—A special dispatch to the Times-Star to-day from Memphis says: The hurricane on Tuesday in Mississippi crossed the Mississippi river at Commerce and proceeded easterly to Hernando. It made a path two hundred yards wide, laying waste houses, forests, bridges and fences. A large number of negro cabins, full of their occupants, were blown down, without a single case of injury to the inmates. The storm is known to have killed four persons. Four others are missing and are supposed to have been killed or disabled by the tornado. Some persons were picked up and whirled several hundred yards through the air by it and then set down upon the ground uninjured.

THE GREAT Beehive STORES.

Having given the Gents' Department ample time to explain its good qualities, we will now turn our attention to the Ladies' Department, to which we are paying our utmost attention to have the most complete in Centre county. We do not like to include Philadelphia, but in most departments they cannot beat us.

Our Mr. Bauland has just returned from the East, having purchased the largest and finest stock of Dry Goods, for cash, ever brought to Bellefonte, which we will sell for cash at such low prices as to astonish the public.

As the amount of goods purchased for this Spring is so immense, it will be impossible this time to mention many specialties. We expect most of our goods will be here this week, and will try to have them ready for sale during this week.

We will have the largest, finest and cheapest stock of Dress Goods ever shown. We wish to inform you of a few bargains that will not be sold again for the money.
