FLOWER GARDEN AND LAWN .- The planning for the planting of ornamental trees should have been done before the time for setting them. Evergreens may be left until later, and will need more care; their roots should never be allowed to become dry. The lawn will need a dressing of some kind; ashes, guano, or some fertilizer may be ap-plied; use manure only when it is fine was persuaded to try the remedy myand theroughly rotted, with no weed seeds alive in it. right to color butter artificially. Since the coloring of butter is probably due to coloring matter in the food, as well as to the power of the cow to remove the same from the food, the question may be asked whether these is any more wrong in putting the color into the butter than in supplying food to the animal which will cause the cow to give milk, the cream of which will make yellow butter. At all events, as the coloring is now made from harmless substances, and the colored butter is as pure and good as the uncolored (when properly done), and as the people preter the colored butter, we think the benefit of the doubt belongs on the side of the farmer.

Cast iron was not in commercial use before the year 1700, when Abraham Darby, an intelligent mechanic, who had brought some Dutch workmen to e-tablish a brass foundry at Bristol, England., conceived the idea that iron might be substituted for brass. This his workmen did not succeed in effecting, being probably toomuch prejudiced in favor of the metal with which they were best acquainted. A Welsh snepherd-boy named John Thomas had, some time previous to this, been received by Abraham Darby into his does not gloss the paper, and can be workshop on the recomendation of a distant relative. SOUTH BERWICK, Me., Jan. 17, 1872. H. R. STEVENS, hsq. Dear Sir.—I have had dyspepsia in its worst form for the last ten years, and have taken hundreds of dollars' worth of medicines without obtaining any relief. In September last I com-menced taking the Vegetine, since which time my health has steadily improved. My food di-
