Lock Haven has a school tax of 15 mills.

Try Spigelmyer's 12 1/2 cent coffee. None better in town at any price.

Dr. Mingle, is home again from his western trip, safe and sound as a brand new dollar. Hope he will stay.

The Pennsylvania State Teachers' Association will be held at Washington, Pa., July 23, 27 and 28 instant.

Astronomers say that the comet has split itself into two parts and is vanishing.

Don't fail to hear Rev. A. D. Rowe, next Sunday. You will enjoy a fine, rare treat if you go.

Harvest hands are receiving from $1.25 to $1.50 per day in this neighborhood.

Spigelmyer has just received a barrel of choice rice. It is selling out fast at 7 cents a pound.

The harvest in this neighborhood is pretty well over. The crop is a good one generally—excellent on particular farms.

Ex-President Hayes was defeated last Thursday in an election for trustees of Kenyon College, at Gambier, Ohio.

To-day we publish another interesting letter from our friend W. K. Alexander, who now sojourns in Texas.

R. F. VONADA, our ex-mail carrier, retired from the business July 1st. He was a faithful and obliging official and has the kindest feelings of all with whom he came in contact.

We should not suffer from a cough, when a few doses of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral will cure. Time, money, comfort, health, are all saved by it.

There is a lull in the candidate business just now. The candidates—real good fellows as they are—are very considerate in permitting farmers to cut their crops in peace.

Two interesting letters will appear in next week's Journal, one from Hon. W. K. Alexander, now in Texas, and the other from Rev. J. G. Ehoemaker, of Emporia, Kansas.

Spigelmyer picked out a lot of his best calicoes, 7 cent goods and marked them down to 5 cents, in order to make room for a large lot of new prints coming in next week.

Practitioners of medicine are now required to register their diplomas at the Prothonotary's office; neglect of this imposes a penalty of $100.

Forty buildings were burnt down in a town called State Line, in Northern Pennsylvania on the glorious 4th, and it was the little fire cracker that did it. Comment is unnecessary.

The glorious Fourth passed off very quietly here, barring the noise and racket made by big and little boys with fire crackers, toy pistols, anvils &c. In the evening the band gave us some good music.

Rev. C. F. Deininger and family, of New Berlin, have been spending their mid-summer vacation in and about Millheim. They seem to be thoroughly convinced that Penns Valley chickens are among the best.

J. A. LIMBERT, the new mail contractor, has procured a fine new wagon, and is prepared to carry express packages and other goods from Coburn to Woodward and all intermediate points at reasonable charges.

J. H. HOLT announces himself this week as a candidate for county treasurer. Mr. Holt is an enterprising and successful lumber merchant and a gentleman of first class integrity and business qualifications.

Geo. W. Spangler, candidate for treasurer called to see us last week. We know George these many years as a man of good standing and character. He is as competent as any one to handle the county funds.

The Lock Haven Journal of last week gives natty little Sammy Faust the following neat puff:

Mr. R. K. Faust, of Centre Mills, Centre Co., called on us to-day. Mr. F. is a wide awake business man and a candidate for Sheriff of Centre Co. The Demo cracy of Centre could not nominate a better man for that position.

Centre Camp Meeting of the Evangelical Association will be held this year in Mr. John Keen's grove about three miles west of Millheim, commencing August 11th, and ending August 18th. There will be no boarding house on or near the grove.

Committee. Notices have been sent to the friends of Maurice Healey, the furnace man recently murdered at Dunbar, Fayette county, that those attempting to capture the murderer will be killed. It is thought there is a Molly Maguire organization in that section.

A child of Peter Murphy, of Oxford, was in the harvest field carrying sheaves on Wednesday, when two horses, attached to the reaper, became frightened and ran off, knocking the child down and passing over her, mauling her body in a terrible manner. Her left thigh-bone was broken and her limbs fearfully lacerated.

A cherry tree in Boshkill township, Northampton county, the property of John Roth, is nearly sixty years old, and will bear eighteen bushels of fruit this year.

At Spigelmyer's you can buy Mason's fruit jars at the following prices: 2 quart jars, $1.75 per dozen; 1 quart, $1.40 per dozen; pint, $1.20 per dozen.

Bellefonte has just elected its corps of ten teachers, among whom we are glad to notice our young friends, Mr. J. C. Meyer, recently from Aaronsburg, and Miss Lizzie Swartz, daughter of Dr. Geo. M. Swartz, formerly of Millheim.

Rev. H. C. Holloway, of Newville, Pa., sailed for Europe on the City of Berlin, of the Inman line, July 2nd. He expects to visit England, Scotland, France, Italy and Germany, and return in the fall. Hope he may have a pleasant and profitable trip.

The Journal Store always keeps a complete-line of stationery in all its branches. Blank and memoranda books in great variety, paper of every grade and price, pencils and penholders of every description. Staffords celebrated writing fluid a speciality.

The following are the new tax collectors in this end of the county for the current year: Potter—J. C. Boal, Gregg—Isaac Smith, Penn—David Kimport, Millheim—Thomas Heckman, Haines—Elijah Bard, Miles—Simon M. Spangler.

There will be no session of the United Sunday School next Sunday, in order to give all an opportunity to hear Rev. A. D. Rowe, the returned Children's Missionary to India, who will lecture on Mission Work in India, in the Lutheran church, Aaronsburg, at 9 o'clock, A. M.

The EXCELSIOR DYE WORKS at Lewisburg turns out first class work. Shawls, dresses and men's garments will be colored and pressed in best style. Mr. Jacob Wolf is agent for Centre county. Goods left at the Journal office will be attended to. Satisfaction guaranteed.

Besides the many common people that dropped in to see us on business or pleasure during vacation we had calls from several great men, prominently among which we mention J. C. Harper and Joe W. Fury, Esq., of Bellefonte, and Hon. W. J. Purman, of Clinton County.

MUSICAL COLLEGE.—This celebrate d institution for the study of vocal and instrumental music will begin a session of six weeks, on Monday, August 1st, 1881. Address F. C. MOYER, Director Musical College, Freeburg, Pa. 4t

Read the beautiful and touching tribute of Maud Muller, in another column, to the memory of Eddie and Luther Heckman, sons of Mr. A. N. Heckman, of Nittany Valley, who died respectively June 25th and 27th, proximo. Independent of the sad occasion that called it forth and its utter truthfulness, it is a production of rare literary merit.

The hot wave that was rolling over the land made a halt here last Sunday, in order we suppose to take a rest. It had the effect to run up mercury to 105 degrees in the shade, and it was agreed all round that it was very hot—tremendous hot—awful hot—blazing hot. Everybody said so, and so at last we had to believe it ourself.

LEWIN, LEWIN, LEWIN—Of the Philadelphia Branch, Branch, Branch—is the very man, man, man—that will sell you clothing, clothing, clothing—just a trifle cheaper, cheaper, cheaper—than any other man, man, man—in Centre county, county, county. Now don't you take our word, word, word—go and see yourself, self, self—in order that you may, may, may—know the truth, truth, truth—of every word we say, say, say.

On Tuesday Mr. Frank Bowersox had the largest crowd of people that perhaps ever assembled in a harvest field in Penns Valley. They did not come to work however—for the majority so doubt would have been utterly opposed to such a diversion—but to see the Osborne Self Binder at work. All who saw the machine in operation are simply delighted with the work it does. It cuts the grain and binds the sheaves in any desired size, in a neat and substantial manner, and needs only a driver to operate it.

What a grand improvement—what a magnificent achievement. But what will American ingenuity next invent? Guess somebody will make a machine one of these days that will combine the reaper, thresher, grist mill and oven all in one, so that while the grain in the straw would enter the machine in front, the baked loaves, cakes and pies, in every desired size, shape and quality, would come out at the rear. There is still room for improvement on the Osborne Self Binder.

By Universal Accord. ATHER'S CATHARTIC PILLS are the best of all purgatives for family use. They are the product of long laborious and successful chemical investigation, and their extensive use, by physicians in their practice, and by all civilized nations, proves them the best and most effectual purgative yet. They are perfectly safe and do not injure the system. They are especially adapted to the needs of the digestive apparatus, derangements of which they prevent and cure. If timely taken, they are the best and safest physic to employ for children and the weakened and debilitated, where a mild but effectual cathartic is required.

For SALE BY ALL DEALERS

At no time before did we see grand old Brush Valley appear so beautiful or rich as we did last week on a trip down to the lower end. There is not a poor wheat field to be seen from the turn-pike down to Mr. George Brungraves, which is as far as we came. The hay crop is simply superabundant, the oats fields, just now dressed in rich-green, are all that could be desired, while the corn is doing well in making up for lost time. It seems as if Providence was making a special effort this year to lavish his richest blessings on this beautiful and favored spot of earth.

ARM BROKEN.—Miss Mary A. Maize, of this place, had the misfortune to break her right arm at the wrist, on Thursday June 30th. She was picking cherries at Mr. John Coey's, near Aaronsburg, standing on the upper rungs of a ladder. Her sister was also in the act of ascending the ladder from below, and had reached but a few feet above ground, when a rung broke which gave the ladder a twist and brought it and Mary to the ground. The fall was a severe one and she is much bruised otherwise.

ANOTHER.—Mrs. Michael Smith, of this place, fell from a cherry tree at Mr. John Karn's, Tuesday the 5th and broke her arm. We did not learn the particulars.

How the World moves in a Day. The following are the respective headings of as many articles in the Philadelphia Times of July 7th, showing how crimes and accidents run riot throughout the country in a single day:

A furious fight. Shot and captured after dangerously wounding two men.—A murderer's death in jail.—Broke his neck while loading hay.—Killed because he would not work.—Two Hundred people poisoned.—An Indiana Duel.—An Ex-Minister way-laid and badly beaten with a slung shot.—Garrison, the Williamsburg Murderer delivers himself up for fear of being lynched.—Murder and Suicide in Pittsburgh.—A father causes his daughter's death.—A murderer's suicide.—Massacred by Indians.—Over 300 cattle burned.

W. F. MUSSER, A. B. who recently graduated from Pennsylvania College, Gettysburg, will open a select school at Aaronsburg, on Monday, July 25th instant. Frank is amply qualified both by education and character to take charge of such a school, and we hope he may be patronized as he deserves. Aaronsburg used to be proud—and with reason—of her schools and scho of spirit, but for some years she has had no school above the "common" grade. We hope Frank will be able to revive some of the old spirit and enterprise that worked so nobly in the cause, in the days of Dimm, Haines, Barrell, Swartz, Foose and others.

Letter from Texas. Clarendon, Donley Co., Texas. June 25th, 1881.

Dear Journal: I have been out this morning helping to do some surveying and feeling a little weary for the wear I concluded while trying to rest myself to write up Clarendon and the surrounding country for the benefit of your readers. Clarendon is finely situated at the junction of Carr Creek and Salt Fork of Red River. Carr Creek passes along the edge of the town, right through the town plot, however. The stream is about half as large as Elk Creek at low water, but being fed by springs all along its course, always furnishes the town with plenty of water. Excellent water is obtained here by digging from 20 to 40 feet. Clarendon has about 20 houses, built, some of stone, some of timber and some of unburnt brick called adobe. The adobe is made of sand and black earth, in size to suit the wall for which it is intended. For an 18 inch wall an adobe is made 18 inches long, 6 inches wide and 4 inches thick, perfectly sun-dried. They make an elegant wall when plastered both inside and outside with good sand and lime mortar, and are much cheaper than adobe brick.

Clarendon is situated about 280 miles north-west from Galveston, the county seat of Cooke county and the terminus of the Texas, Missouri & St. Louis R. R., the nearest rail road point south, and about 225 miles from Dodge City, Kansas, the nearest rail road point on the north. It has a population of about 125, is quite a business point, as there is no business place on the south of any consequence nearer than Henrieville—285 miles away, and Elliot, north-west from here about 60 miles. One would suppose when there is not sufficient population in the county to complete a county organization, when it requires but 150 voters to organize, there would be but little business, but there are several large cattle ranches in the county and many more outside of the county that depend upon Clarendon for supplies, and this makes it quite a trade center. A good physician is wanted here. A shoemaker, a saddler and a tinsmith could each do very fine. The prairie surrounding the town are very fine. Some little farming is done but my opinion is that the country is too dry for farming purposes. We had a little shower last night, which was the first rain since I came here several weeks ago. I fear the crops will be a failure, but for cattle this section can compete with any other in the United States. They have the finest cattle here I ever saw—steak and fat as fresh from Penns Creek. Cattle men here pronounce the business the best and surest of all legitimate pursuits. One of the leading stock men calls his calves his coupons, and says he knows exactly how many he has and what they are worth every time he counts them. They say that dry weather does not affect the cattle and that calves fatten better on partially dry grass than upon growing, green grass.

This is a decidedly healthy country. I have enjoyed the very best of health ever since I am here. While I am writing old Texas is just making things rattle. It is nothing unusual for the wind to blow a fearful gale, and this is one reason why this locality is so healthy. All the miasmas and impurities in the atmosphere are driven away. Besides this we are at an altitude of about 2000 feet above the sea. You will see from the very nature of this shed, this can't be other than a healthy region.

Next week a party of us expect to visit Capt. Goodnight's ranche, which is the finest in the country if not in the world. He owns the celebrated Paladero Canyon on Red River, about 70 miles long and about as wide at the mouth, with natural walls on each side at places 1000 feet high. He uses it exclusively for a winter ranche, as it affords constant pasture for his stock and the best of shelter from storms. He had about 20,000 head of cattle last winter and you could scarcely notice a shortening or decrease of the grass. I will write again about this celebrated ranche after visiting it, and in the mean time remain your friend, W. K. ALEXANDER.

Missionary Meeting. Rev. A. D. Rowe, returned missionary from India, will lecture in the Lutheran Church, Aaronsburg, next Sunday morning at 9 o'clock on "Mission Work in India." He will exhibit some India idols, style of dress, and other interesting matters. The public and especially Sunday School workers and scholars are cordially invited to attend. Communicated.

THE REAPER. Sabbath morning June 26th, '81, George Edle Heckman died of scarlet fever after an illness of but four days—aged 14 years. 11 months and a few days. Monday morning June 27th Luther Sankey Heckman died of the same disease—aged 11 years, 6 months and some days. Both were sons of Mr. Adam N. Heckman, of Nittany valley.

These were sudden and sad deaths. They cast a gloom over our valley, and the many intimate friends of Mr. & Mrs. Heckman were filled with sadness. Such cases of severe affliction are rare. Two noble boys full of promise and beauty—a devoted father's pride and a loving mother's treasure, to the still and cold in death at the same time side by side, borne to the cemetery together and laid into one grave! Surely "God moves in a mysterious way His wonders to perform."

The friends ask in wonder and awe—What does it mean, why and under whose does God call so loudly? "He hath his mysteries of grace—ways we cannot tell." "New we see through a glass darkly."

Tuesday June 28th, the day of burial, was one never to be forgotten by all who attended. So sad, so full, were all hearts. No words can picture or express the heart throes and deep distressing anguish of those dear parents, grand parents and relatives. They had the deep and tender sympathies of all present. The sermon by the Pastor Rev. W. H. Diven, so eloquent, so thoughtful and consoling, was listened to with wrapt attention.

The Sunday School scholars, the companions and friends of the two lovely boys, now cold in death, brought offerings of beautiful flowers emblematical of the purity and immortality of the loved ones laid to rest in the quiet graveyard. The precious dust was encased in beautiful caskets. The funeral was large and most solemn and impressive. Many evidences were manifested of the high regard and esteem in which the dead were held, and sympathy for the friends' griefs in their deep sorrow was heart-felt and general.

Sabbath morning the St. Paul's Lutheran Sunday School passed a series of resolutions of love, respect and remembrance to the memory and worth of dear Eddie and Luther Heckman, who had missed only three Sabbaths from Sunday school in four years. They were always on this day interested—always good and kind—never said a wrong or harmful word. They were model boys in every particular. Just the kind of jewels the blessed Saviour wanted for His school in the Heavenly Paradise above. They are safe now. No temptations—no trials—no more pains and struggling for them! He who proclaimed "suffer little children to come unto Me" will care for them now. They are singing new songs—learning new and better and sweeter lessons than earth can teach. Together—not alone—saved and happy are these dear manly boys.

There is a lonely, empty home. So few to bow at the family altar—to gather around the table. How are they missed by the aged grand fathers and mothers, the uncles and aunts—the friends' presents in their beautiful faces—honest, noble and generous. We cannot and never will forget them. It is sad and hard to give them up, but the Saviour counts the pure ones, the bright ones for his own. "The Lord gave, the Lord hath taken away. Blessed be the name of the Lord." "M. M."

MARRIED. On the 13th inst., at the English Lutheran Parsonage, Jersey Shore, by Rev. J. A. Bright, Mr. Samuel Ryder of Coburn, Centre county Pa., to Miss Amanda A. Weirick of Pine Creek.
