

Local Department.

A fine lot of Scrap Pictures just received at the Journal Store.

Had a most refreshing rain Monday night. Hope Providence will send more of the same kind.

No scrofula can be so deep seated, no sore so stubborn, but that Ayer's Sarsaparilla will be found helpful. It will effect a cure, if cure be possible.

Rice—Rice—Rice!—In order not to be undersold by anyone, Spigelmyer is selling that 7 cent Rice at 5 cts. per pound.

You can always get the highest prices for produce at Spigelmyer's. Butter 16, Eggs 16, Lard 10, Ham 12, Shoulder 11, Side 10 cts.

J. W. Eyer, of Buffalo valley, harvested 19,780 large wheat sheaves from 45 acres of land. A good yield, truly.

We learn with regret that Mr. Benj. [Hafely, of Aaronsburg, was severely kicked by a horse, the other day, and that he is in a dangerous condition. We did not hear the particulars.

The Second Brigade, National Guard of Pennsylvania, Gen. James A. Beaver commanding, will have its camp this summer near Saltsburg, Indiana county, commencing August 10th, next.

Judge Frank, John A. Miller, J. R. Brungard, George Haines and others of our Brush Valley neighbors whose names we can not recall, are off to Gettysburg to attend the Encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic.

Frank J. Schoch, Esq., and lady, of Selinsgrove, and Mr. J. F. Torbert and lady, of Coburn, are staying for a time at the Millheim Hotel. The old Millheim has had quite a good run of custom as summering place this season and its guests are all pleased with the treatment received.

Rev. Wm. H. Schoch, of Forreston, Ill., a former Aaronsburg boy, paid his old home a visit last week and preached most excellent sermons both at Aaronsburg and Millheim, last Sunday. The old burg has reason to be proud of the ministers she has sent out.

The public has long since awarded to Ayer's Hair Vigor the foremost place among reliable Hair Restoratives. It is effective, agreeable and absolutely harmless. It makes the hair fresh and luxuriant, and old age scarce and unfashionable.

Last week was not a very good one for candidates. Only two put in appearance. Their names are J. H. Holt, Esq., and Mr. Henry Beck. However, quality amply made up for lack of numbers.

J. A. LIMBERT, the new mail contractor, has procured a fine new wagon and is prepared to carry express packages and other goods from Coburn to Woodward and all intermediate points at reasonable charges.

In order to suit all tastes, preferences or prejudices, the Journal office printed and distributed so nothing like a million of delegate election tickets. Are we not a clever, accommodating set of fellows?

It is against the law to catch trout less than five inches long. Better carry your inch rule right with you when you go. The Journal store has them for sale—only 5 cents a piece.

F. J. Schoch, Esq., & lady, of Selinsgrove, are now rusticiating in and around Millheim. This is the very identical Frank Schoch who used to be a counter hopper here many years ago. He is now one of the leading citizens of Selinsgrove and a bank president besides.

Neighbor Dan Musser constructed a new dam right at "Brookdale"—that's what we call it—last week. It is well made and looks well. Now if the turnpike company or the town council fix up the ragged old bridge it would still further improve our end. Is a word to the wise sufficient?

Prof. Wm. T. Meyer will give another term of lessons in instrumental music at the following places, beginning at Bebersburg, Aug. 8th; Millheim, Aug. 9th; Coburn and Aaronsburg, Aug. 10th. Pupils will please take notice of this arrangement.

BIG FIRE.—The Lock Haven paper mill was burned to the ground last Friday morning. The establishment covered over an acre of ground and cost $160,000. Insurance about $65,000. Seventy-five hands were employed at the time of the fire and this was only about half the usual force. The factory is to be rebuilt at once.

Prof. J. H. Kurtzenkabe, of Harrisburg, the celebrated and successful teacher of vocal music, has raised a large and promising singing class here. We are the more glad of the Professor's success among us because our singing is sadly in need of a better culture. Let parents give this matter the attention it deserves.

The Journal Store always keeps a complete line of stationery in all its branches. Blank and memoranda books in great variety, paper of every grade and price, pencils and penholders of every description, Staffords celebrated writing fluid a specialty.

The Excelsior Dye Works at Lewisburg turns out first class work. Shawls, dresses and men's garments will be colored and pressed in best style. Mr. Jacob Wolf is agent for Centre county. Goods left at the Journal office will be attended to. Satisfaction guaranteed.

We learn from a reliable source that Mr. Jas. A. McClain, one of our candidates for Register, has been promoted by the Penna. R. Co. to the agency at Snow Shoe, and that he has in consequence withdrawn from the canvass. Mr. McClain was the agent at Milesburg and is a tip top, first class official, but the other fellows are no doubt glad that he is out of the way, and well they may be.

A good, kind lady who would rather not have her name mentioned, sent us a fine large slice of Lefkache. We have often thought that if our friends but knew how happy these little kindnesses make us feel they would be giving us presents continually. We rejoice to know however, that some of them are learning that "it is more blessed to give than to receive."

BOARD.

Having been informed that a report is circulated that J. H. Reifsnnyder is to be my deputy if nominated and elected to the office of Sheriff, I would simply say that I did not ask or promise the deputyship to Mr. Reifsnnyder or anyone else, and know that Mr. Reifsnnyder would not accept the same if offered to him. I hope no one is so silly as to believe such unfounded reports.

S. K. FAUST.

For the Journal.

Respect the Dead.

It was the sad pleasure of our correspondent the other day to visit the old Penn's creek graveyard where the old church used to stand, near Mr. David J. Musser's, in Gregg township. The church has been taken away years ago, the fence has yielded to time's destroying hand and the grave yard is a common. In strolling around I found some marble and a number of brown stone head and foot stones. Among them I also found the grave of the "Rev. James Martin, pastor of the first Presbyterian congregation in Penn's valley." The grave and tombstone, like all the surroundings, are in a very dilapidated condition, and it made me feel sad to see that the last resting place of this early pioneer of the cross, and founder of Presbyterianism in the historic old valley should be so neglected. I concluded to give my Presbyterian friends a gentle reminder on the matter. Let the sacred spot be enclosed by a substantial iron fence, instead of being exposed to the devastations of animals and beasts as it now is.

TRAVELER.

If you are a farmer it will pay you doubly, and if you are not a farmer it will pay you anyhow, to read the Farmers' Supply Store advertisement of Alexander & Co., Bellefonte, Pa. Col. Shortidge, who has immediate charge of the store, showed us through the establishment the other day. The Col. is thoroughly at home among implements and machinery, and is well versed in agricultural science besides. He makes the adaptation and utility of implements as well as the commercial value of fertilizers special studies, and you will get the full value of your money for whatever you may purchase in either department at the Supply Store. We call the special attention of our farmer readers to their grain drill with fertilizing attachments. It is the model machine of its kind, as you will be convinced upon trial. The clothes washer we believe to be all that is claimed for it, but will give it a practical test for our own satisfaction.

At any time you go to Bellefonte it will pay you to call at the Farmers' Supply Store and have a talk with Col. Shortidge.

ELIAS MUSSER, at the toll gate above Millheim, is regularly authorized to keep a boarding house during the continuance of the Evangelical camp meeting. He is prepared to furnish meals, refreshments of all kinds and horse feed. The camp ground is only about a fourth of a mile from the toll gate.

Our friend Herman Wittmauer gives a very doleful account of the state of affairs in Guthrie county, Iowa, where he has resided for some years. A people so afflicted should have our active sympathies in their distress.

The firm of Musser, Weiser & Co. are hereby tendered the warmest thanks of the Mrs. Editor for a fine mess of eels. A fair stock of thanks is always kept in reserve for similar occasions. [Ben is under no obligations this trip because he didn't get a bit. Nuff said.]

Whitcomb's Clothing and Furnishing Store, is the largest, best, fullest and cheapest establishment of its kind in Lock Haven if not in this part of the state. He is an active, wide awake businessman and buys and sells at the lowest possible price. If you go to Lock Haven by all means call and see his extensive and well selected stock of clothing, boots and shoes, Hats and other gentlemen's furnishings goods.

WANTED.—From 5 to 10 bushels of potatoes and 25 bushels of corn on account at this office.

Letter from Iowa.

Ponora, Guthrie Co., Iowa, July 11th, 1881.

Mr. Editor:—Our crops of last summer were pretty good, notwithstanding the hot, dry and stormy weather. Winter began in the first week of November 1880, and from thence to the 10th of April 1881, we had only two clear days, on which the thermometer showed a few degrees above zero, while the rest of the time it kept at about 33 degrees below the freezing point. The first week of December it commenced to snow and continued to do so at short intervals until April 12, when we had the largest snow of all, about one foot deep. On the 18th and 17th of the same month a big freshet came on, and in consequence swollen rivers, which flooded the low lands, took away numerous bridges and dams and tore up the roads. Thousands of acres of corn remained unhusked; the sowing time had come and gone, and the work had to be left undone. In vain we hoped for dry weather. The spring rains were so powerful and uninterrupted as the winter snows had been. At last the farmers were compelled to sow although the fields were in a very wet condition, and the result will be failing crops in most cases. Hundreds of acres of land, especially low land, were not sowed at all, while sowed land is so waterlogged that no cultivation is possible. Much of our corn was only planted in the last week of June. The 12th of July will always be remembered by us as a day of sorrow and trouble. The morning of the day was beautiful, but at about 10 o'clock clouds gathered in on the western horizon, the wind coming from the north. A little before noon it commenced to rain and hail, the wind changing to a southwestern direction. It grew dark and the heaviest hailstorm ever witnessed poured down on our mother earth. The ground in a short time was covered with about two inches of hail, but further south, where the storm raged with greater fury, the ground was covered from four to six inches deep, from as large as hen's eggs. Grain, trees and roofs were literally crushed under the weight of the hail. The people are discouraged and wear sad faces. The damage done in one vicinity is not so extensive, but in some of the surrounding parts of the country everything was destroyed. We had a great amount of rain this year, lasting whole weeks and sometimes coming down like waterpots. Last week it stopped and got fearfully hot, the temperature rising to 108 in the shade, while on the coolest days it kept at 95. From Saturday afternoon again up to the present time we had continuous lightning, thunder and rain, which swelled our principal river about 6 feet, took away almost all bridges and stopped communication with neighboring parts of the country. If it keeps on this way, I can not see how we are to harvest. Wheat stands thin and short, but is filled pretty well. Corn is from a few inches to 4 feet high. The main trouble is that on account of this wet spell, there was no opportunity so far to cultivate the corn and consequently the fields are covered with weeds.

I could fill many pages more with the description of the horrible devastation out here, but will close with the heartfelt wish, that the inhabitants of Pennsylvania may be spared such afflictions.

Yours truly, HERMAN WITTMAUER.

For the Journal.

The Game Laws.

The amendments to the game and fish laws, which we published last week, permit the hunting of deer from October 1st to December 31st; prohibit trout less than five inches in length to be taken, and limit rabbit hunting from November 1st to January 1st. Bass, pike, etc., can now only be taken in season with hook, rod and line, thus making the fishing for them illegal. The other parts of the act of 1878 remain in force. The laws relating to game now stand as follows: Deer, except spotted fawns, may be killed from October 1st to December 31st. Penalty $50. Dogs running deer may be killed by any person, except in the counties where such hunting is permitted by special acts. Squirrels may be killed from September 1st to January 1st. Penalty $5 for each squirrel. Rabbits can be taken from November 1st to January 1st. Penalty $5. Wild Turkeys can be taken from October 15th to January 1st. Penalty $5. No wild fowl, which includes ducks, geese, pigeons, etc., can be killed between May and September 1st, under a penalty of $10. Woodcock may be killed from July 4th to January 1st, and upland or grass plover from July 15th to January 1st. Penalty $10 in each case. Partridges may be killed from October 1st to January 1st. Penalty $10. Pheasants may be killed from October 1st to January 1st. Penalty $10. Rail or reed birds are to be killed only during the months of September, October and November. Penalty $5. Nets, traps, snares or torchlight are prohibited to be used in killing wild turkeys, partridges, woodcock, rail or reed birds, under a penalty of $10, and any person may destroy such nets, traps, etc., wherever found. Sunday hunting or fishing is prohibited under a penalty of $25. One half the penalty goes to the informer.

News Miscellany.

Recently a prisoner was taken from the Franklin, Ga., jail, by one hundred undisguised men, tied to a stake, and slowly roasted to death on the spot where he had outraged and killed a lovely young woman.

The oldest minister in the world is believed to be Rev. John F. Adams, of the New Hampshire conference. Of the ninety-four years he has lived, sixty-nine have been spent in the ministry.

A citizen of Clinton, Iowa, flogged a teamster for flogging his horse, and received from his admiring neighbors a case, suitably inscribed in recognition of his humane services.

Tansy tea, poured over cabbage plants after they begin to head, is said to have been found during two seasons a sure defence against the green worm.

A MAD MAN'S ACT.

Kills His Wife and Seven Children and Then Takes His Own Life.

St. PAUL, Minn., July 19.—A Winona special says: Paul Veld, a Swiss emigrant who lately bought a farm in Eagle creek valley, became insane through the failure of crops and homesickness. On Sunday morning he was found dead in a front room of his house. His wife and two children were dead in the next room; three children were dead in a bed upstairs, the two oldest boys in the hayloft were mortally wounded. All were shot in the head. One boy may recover. A revolver was found in the house.

Various Causes.—Advancing years, care, sickness, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition—all operate to turn the hair gray, and either of them inclines it to shed prematurely. Ayer's Hair Restorer will restore faded or gray, light or red hair to a rich brown or deep black, as may be checked, and it cleanses the scalp, giving it healthy action. It removes and cures dandruff and humors. By its use falling hair is checked, and a new growth will be produced in all cases where the follicles are not destroyed or the glands decayed. Its effects are beneficial to the hair, and it is especially valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts. It contains neither oil nor grease, and will not soil or color white cambric; yet it lasts long on the hair, and keeps it fresh and vigorous.

For Sale by All Druggists.

DIED.

For the Millheim Journal. Died July 17th inst., at the residence of her son, Rev. W. H. Gottwald, in Milton, Pa., Susan, relict of Rev. Daniel Gottwald, aged 79 years, 8 months and 8 days. Rev. D. Gottwald died to Aaronsburg nearly 43 years ago. He lived about 38 years ago. Since which time the deceased lived in widowhood. The raising of a large family devolved upon her. She met the responsibility nobly. Three of her sons entered the Christian Ministry, one entered the Medical Profession, another entered the Union Army and died in defence of his Country. One of the daughters shared with her husband, the hardships and trials of missionary life in the west. Four of eleven children still survive to mourn the loss of an affectionate parent. Sister Gottwald was indeed a good and kind mother, an exemplary christian and a true friend. She was highly esteemed by all who knew her. The large attendance at her funeral gave evidence, that she had many friends, in and about Aaronsburg, for many years the place of her residence. The sermon on the occasion was preached from Rev. 14:13: "Blessed are the dead, which die in the Lord, from henceforth; yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors and their works to them that will follow." Another entered the Union Army and died in defence of his Country. One of the daughters shared with her husband, the hardships and trials of missionary life in the west. Four of eleven children still survive to mourn the loss of an affectionate parent. Sister Gottwald was indeed a good and kind mother, an exemplary christian and a true friend. She was highly esteemed by all who knew her. The large attendance at her funeral gave evidence, that she had many friends, in and about Aaronsburg, for many years the place of her residence. The sermon on the occasion was preached from Rev. 14:13: "Blessed are the dead, which die in the Lord, from henceforth; yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors and their works to them that will follow." Another entered the Union Army and died in defence of his Country. One of the daughters shared with her husband, the hardships and trials of missionary life in the west. Four of eleven children still survive to mourn the loss of an affectionate parent. Sister Gottwald was indeed a good and kind mother, an exemplary christian and a true friend. She was highly esteemed by all who knew her. The large attendance at her funeral gave evidence, that she had many friends, in and about Aaronsburg, for many years the place of her residence. The sermon on the occasion was preached from Rev. 14:13: "Blessed are the dead, which die in the Lord, from henceforth; yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors and their works to them that will follow." Another entered the Union Army and died in defence of his Country. One of the daughters shared with her husband, the hardships and trials of missionary life in the west. Four of eleven children still survive to mourn the loss of an affectionate parent. Sister Gottwald was indeed a good and kind mother, an exemplary christian and a true friend. She was highly esteemed by all who knew her. The large attendance at her funeral gave evidence, that she had many friends, in and about Aaronsburg, for many years the place of her residence. The sermon on the occasion was preached from Rev. 14:13: "Blessed are the dead, which die in the Lord, from henceforth; yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors and their works to them that will follow." Another entered the Union Army and died in defence of his Country. One of the daughters shared with her husband, the hardships and trials of missionary life in the west. Four of eleven children still survive to mourn the loss of an affectionate parent. Sister Gottwald was indeed a good and kind mother, an exemplary christian and a true friend. She was highly esteemed by all who knew her. The large attendance at her funeral gave evidence, that she had many friends, in and about Aaronsburg, for many years the place of her residence. The sermon on the occasion was preached from Rev. 14:13: "Blessed are the dead, which die in the Lord, from henceforth; yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors and their works to them that will follow." Another entered the Union Army and died in defence of his Country. One of the daughters shared with her husband, the hardships and trials of missionary life in the west. Four of eleven children still survive to mourn the loss of an affectionate parent. Sister Gottwald was indeed a good and kind mother, an exemplary christian and a true friend. She was highly esteemed by all who knew her. The large attendance at her funeral gave evidence, that she had many friends, in and about Aaronsburg, for many years the place of her residence. The sermon on the occasion was preached from Rev. 14:13: "Blessed are the dead, which die in the Lord, from henceforth; yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors and their works to them that will follow." Another entered the Union Army and died in defence of his Country. One of the daughters shared with her husband, the hardships and trials of missionary life in the west. Four of eleven children still survive to mourn the loss of an affectionate parent. Sister Gottwald was indeed a good and kind mother, an exemplary christian and a true friend. She was highly esteemed by all who knew her. The large attendance at her funeral gave evidence, that she had many friends, in and about Aaronsburg, for many years the place of her residence. The sermon on the occasion was preached from Rev. 14:13: "Blessed are the dead, which die in the Lord, from henceforth; yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors and their works to them that will follow." Another entered the Union Army and died in defence of his Country. One of the daughters shared with her husband, the hardships and trials of missionary life in the west. Four of eleven children still survive to mourn the loss of an affectionate parent. Sister Gottwald was indeed a good and kind mother, an exemplary christian and a true friend. She was highly esteemed by all who knew her. The large attendance at her funeral gave evidence, that she had many friends, in and about Aaronsburg, for many years the place of her residence. The sermon on the occasion was preached from Rev. 14:13: "Blessed are the dead, which die in the Lord, from henceforth; yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors and their works to them that will follow." Another entered the Union Army and died in defence of his Country. One of the daughters shared with her husband, the hardships and trials of missionary life in the west. Four of eleven children still survive to mourn the loss of an affectionate parent. Sister Gottwald was indeed a good and kind mother, an exemplary christian and a true friend. She was highly esteemed by all who knew her. The large attendance at her funeral gave evidence, that she had many friends, in and about Aaronsburg, for many years the place of her residence. The sermon on the occasion was preached from Rev. 14:13: "Blessed are the dead, which die in the Lord, from henceforth; yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors and their works to them that will follow." Another entered the Union Army and died in defence of his Country. One of the daughters shared with her husband, the hardships and trials of missionary life in the west. Four of eleven children still survive to mourn the loss of an affectionate parent. Sister Gottwald was indeed a good and kind mother, an exemplary christian and a true friend. She was highly esteemed by all who knew her. The large attendance at her funeral gave evidence, that she had many friends, in and about Aaronsburg, for many years the place of her residence. The sermon on the occasion was preached from Rev. 14:13: "Blessed are the dead, which die in the Lord, from henceforth; yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors and their works to them that will follow." Another entered the Union Army and died in defence of his Country. One of the daughters shared with her husband, the hardships and trials of missionary life in the west. Four of eleven children still survive to mourn the loss of an affectionate parent. Sister Gottwald was indeed a good and kind mother, an exemplary christian and a true friend. She was highly esteemed by all who knew her. The large attendance at her funeral gave evidence, that she had many friends, in and about Aaronsburg, for many years the place of her residence. The sermon on the occasion was preached from Rev. 14:13: "Blessed are the dead, which die in the Lord, from henceforth; yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors and their works to them that will follow." Another entered the Union Army and died in defence of his Country. One of the daughters shared with her husband, the hardships and trials of missionary life in the west. Four of eleven children still survive to mourn the loss of an affectionate parent. Sister Gottwald was indeed a good and kind mother, an exemplary christian and a true friend. She was highly esteemed by all who knew her. The large attendance at her funeral gave evidence, that she had many friends, in and about Aaronsburg, for many years the place of her residence. The sermon on the occasion was preached from Rev. 14:13: "Blessed are the dead, which die in the Lord, from henceforth; yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors and their works to them that will follow." Another entered the Union Army and died in defence of his Country. One of the daughters shared with her husband, the hardships and trials of missionary life in the west. Four of eleven children still survive to mourn the loss of an affectionate parent. Sister Gottwald was indeed a good and kind mother, an exemplary christian and a true friend. She was highly esteemed by all who knew her. The large attendance at her funeral gave evidence, that she had many friends, in and about Aaronsburg, for many years the place of her residence. The sermon on the occasion was preached from Rev. 14:13: "Blessed are the dead, which die in the Lord, from henceforth; yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors and their works to them that will follow." Another entered the Union Army and died in defence of his Country. One of the daughters shared with her husband, the hardships and trials of missionary life in the west. Four of eleven children still survive to mourn the loss of an affectionate parent. Sister Gottwald was indeed a good and kind mother, an exemplary christian and a true friend. She was highly esteemed by all who knew her. The large attendance at her funeral gave evidence, that she had many friends, in and about Aaronsburg, for many years the place of her residence. The sermon on the occasion was preached from Rev. 14:13: "Blessed are the dead, which die in the Lord, from henceforth; yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors and their works to them that will follow." Another entered the Union Army and died in defence of his Country. One of the daughters shared with her husband, the hardships and trials of missionary life in the west. Four of eleven children still survive to mourn the loss of an affectionate parent. Sister Gottwald was indeed a good and kind mother, an exemplary christian and a true friend. She was highly esteemed by all who knew her. The large attendance at her funeral gave evidence, that she had many friends, in and about Aaronsburg, for many years the place of her residence. The sermon on the occasion was preached from Rev. 14:13: "Blessed are the dead, which die in the Lord, from henceforth; yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors and their works to them that will follow." Another entered the Union Army and died in defence of his Country. One of the daughters shared with her husband, the hardships and trials of missionary life in the west. Four of eleven children still survive to mourn the loss of an affectionate parent. Sister Gottwald was indeed a good and kind mother, an exemplary christian and a true friend. She was highly esteemed by all who knew her. The large attendance at her funeral gave evidence, that she had many friends, in and about Aaronsburg, for many years the place of her residence. The sermon on the occasion was preached from Rev. 14:13: "Blessed are the dead, which die in the Lord, from henceforth; yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors and their works to them that will follow." Another entered the Union Army and died in defence of his Country. One of the daughters shared with her husband, the hardships and trials of missionary life in the west. Four of eleven children still survive to mourn the loss of an affectionate parent. Sister Gottwald was indeed a good and kind mother, an exemplary christian and a true friend. She was highly esteemed by all who knew her. The large attendance at her funeral gave evidence, that she had many friends, in and about Aaronsburg, for many years the place of her residence. The sermon on the occasion was preached from Rev. 14:13: "Blessed are the dead, which die in the Lord, from henceforth; yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors and their works to them that will follow." Another entered the Union Army and died in defence of his Country. One of the daughters shared with her husband, the hardships and trials of missionary life in the west. Four of eleven children still survive to mourn the loss of an affectionate parent. Sister Gottwald was indeed a good and kind mother, an exemplary christian and a true friend. She was highly esteemed by all who knew her. The large attendance at her funeral gave evidence, that she had many friends, in and about Aaronsburg, for many years the place of her residence. The sermon on the occasion was preached from Rev. 14:13: "Blessed are the dead, which die in the Lord, from henceforth; yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors and their works to them that will follow." Another entered the Union Army and died in defence of his Country. One of the daughters shared with her husband, the hardships and trials of missionary life in the west. Four of eleven children still survive to mourn the loss of an affectionate parent. Sister Gottwald was indeed a good and kind mother, an exemplary christian and a true friend. She was highly esteemed by all who knew her. The large attendance at her funeral gave evidence, that she had many friends, in and about Aaronsburg, for many years the place of her residence. The sermon on the occasion was preached from Rev. 14:13: "Blessed are the dead, which die in the Lord, from henceforth; yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors and their works to them that will follow." Another entered the Union Army and died in defence of his Country. One of the daughters shared with her husband, the hardships and trials of missionary life in the west. Four of eleven children still survive to mourn the loss of an affectionate parent. Sister Gottwald was indeed a good and kind mother, an exemplary christian and a true friend. She was highly esteemed by all who knew her. The large attendance at her funeral gave evidence, that she had many friends, in and about Aaronsburg, for many years the place of her residence. The sermon on the occasion was preached from Rev. 14:13: "Blessed are the dead, which die in the Lord, from henceforth; yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors and their works to them that will follow." Another entered the Union Army and died in defence of his Country. One of the daughters shared with her husband, the hardships and trials of missionary life in the west. Four of eleven children still survive to mourn the loss of an affectionate parent. Sister Gottwald was indeed a good and kind mother, an exemplary christian and a true friend. She was highly esteemed by all who knew her. The large attendance at her funeral gave evidence, that she had many friends, in and about Aaronsburg, for many years the place of her residence. The sermon on the occasion was preached from Rev. 14:13: "Blessed are the dead, which die in the Lord, from henceforth; yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors and their works to them that will follow." Another entered the Union Army and died in defence of his Country. One of the daughters shared with her husband, the hardships and trials of missionary life in the west. Four of eleven children still survive to mourn the loss of an affectionate parent. Sister Gottwald was indeed a good and kind mother, an exemplary christian and a true friend. She was highly esteemed by all who knew her. The large attendance at her funeral gave evidence, that she had many friends, in and about Aaronsburg, for many years the place of her residence. The sermon on the occasion was preached from Rev. 14:13: "Blessed are the dead, which die in the Lord, from henceforth; yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors and their works to them that will follow." Another entered the Union Army and died in defence of his Country. One of the daughters shared with her husband, the hardships and trials of missionary life in the west. Four of eleven children still survive to mourn the loss of an affectionate parent. Sister Gottwald was indeed a good and kind mother, an exemplary christian and a true friend. She was highly esteemed by all who knew her. The large attendance at her funeral gave evidence, that she had many friends, in and about Aaronsburg, for many years the place of her residence. The sermon on the occasion was preached from Rev. 14:13: "Blessed are the dead, which die in the Lord, from henceforth; yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors and their works to them that will follow." Another entered the Union Army and died in defence of his Country. One of the daughters shared with her husband, the hardships and trials of missionary life in the west. Four of eleven children still survive to mourn the loss of an affectionate parent. Sister Gottwald was indeed a good and kind mother, an exemplary christian and a true friend. She was highly esteemed by all who knew her. The large attendance at her funeral gave evidence, that she had many friends, in and about Aaronsburg, for many years the place of her residence. The sermon on the occasion was preached from Rev. 14:13: "Blessed are the dead, which die in the Lord, from henceforth; yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors and their works to them that will follow." Another entered the Union Army and died in defence of his Country. One of the daughters shared with her husband, the hardships and trials of missionary life in the west. Four of eleven children still survive to mourn the loss of an affectionate parent. Sister Gottwald was indeed a good and kind mother, an exemplary christian and a true friend. She was highly esteemed by all who knew her. The large attendance at her funeral gave evidence, that she had many friends, in and about Aaronsburg, for many years the place of her residence. The sermon on the occasion was preached from Rev. 14:13: "Blessed are the dead, which die in the Lord, from henceforth; yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors and their works to them that will follow." Another entered the Union Army and died in defence of his Country. One of the daughters shared with her husband, the hardships and trials of missionary life in the west. Four of eleven children still survive to mourn the loss of an affectionate parent. Sister Gottwald was indeed a good and kind mother, an exemplary christian and a true friend. She was highly esteemed by all who knew her. The large attendance at her funeral gave evidence, that she had many friends, in and about Aaronsburg, for many years the place of her residence. The sermon on the occasion was preached from Rev. 14:13: "Blessed are the dead, which die in the Lord, from henceforth; yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors and their works to them that will follow." Another entered the Union Army and died in defence of his Country. One of the daughters shared with her husband, the hardships and trials of missionary life in the west. Four of eleven children still survive to mourn the loss of an affectionate parent. Sister Gottwald was indeed a good and kind mother, an exemplary christian and a true friend. She was highly esteemed by all who knew her. The large attendance at her funeral gave evidence, that she had many friends, in and about Aaronsburg, for many years the place of her residence. The sermon on the occasion was preached from Rev. 14:13: "Blessed are the dead, which die in the Lord, from henceforth; yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors and their works to them that will follow." Another entered the Union Army and died in defence of his Country. One of the daughters shared with her husband, the hardships and trials of missionary life in the west. Four of eleven children still survive to mourn the loss of an affectionate parent. Sister Gottwald was indeed a good and kind mother, an exemplary christian and a true friend. She was highly esteemed by all who knew her. The large attendance at her funeral gave evidence, that she had many friends, in and about Aaronsburg, for many years the place of her residence. The sermon on the occasion was preached from Rev. 14:13: "Blessed are the dead, which die in the Lord, from henceforth; yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors and their works to them that will follow." Another entered the Union Army and died in defence of his Country. One of the daughters shared with her husband, the hardships and trials of missionary life in the west. Four of eleven children still survive to mourn the loss of an affectionate parent. Sister Gottwald was indeed a good and kind mother, an exemplary christian and a true friend. She was highly esteemed by all who knew her. The large attendance at her funeral gave evidence, that she had many friends, in and about Aaronsburg, for many years the place of her residence. The sermon on the occasion was preached from Rev. 14:13: "Blessed are the dead, which die in the Lord, from henceforth; yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors and their works to them that will follow." Another entered the Union Army and died in defence of his Country. One of the daughters shared with her husband, the hardships and trials of missionary life in the west. Four of eleven children still survive to mourn the loss of an affectionate parent. Sister Gottwald was indeed a good and kind mother, an exemplary christian and a true friend. She was highly esteemed by all who knew her. The large attendance at her funeral gave evidence, that she had many friends, in and about Aaronsburg, for many years the place of her residence. The sermon on the occasion was preached from Rev. 14:13: "Blessed are the dead, which die in the Lord, from henceforth; yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors and their works to them that will follow." Another entered the Union Army and died in defence of his Country. One of the daughters shared with her husband, the hardships and trials of missionary life in the west. Four of eleven children still survive to mourn the loss of an affectionate parent. Sister Gottwald was indeed a good and kind mother, an exemplary christian and a true friend. She was highly esteemed by all who knew her. The large attendance at her funeral gave evidence, that she had many friends, in and about Aaronsburg, for many years the place of her residence. The sermon on the occasion was preached from Rev. 14:13: "Blessed are the dead, which die in the Lord, from henceforth; yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors and their works to them that will follow." Another entered the Union Army and died in defence of his Country. One of the daughters shared with her husband, the hardships and trials of missionary life in the west. Four of eleven children still survive to mourn the loss of an affectionate parent. Sister Gottwald was indeed a good and kind mother, an exemplary christian and a true friend. She was highly esteemed by all who knew her. The large attendance at her funeral gave evidence, that she had many friends, in and about Aaronsburg, for many years the place of her residence. The sermon on the occasion was preached from Rev. 14:13: "Blessed are the dead, which die in the Lord, from henceforth; yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors and their works to them that will follow." Another entered the Union Army and died in defence of his Country. One of the daughters shared with her husband, the hardships and trials of missionary life in the west. Four of eleven children still survive to mourn the loss of an affectionate parent. Sister Gottwald was indeed a good and kind mother, an exemplary christian and a true friend. She was highly esteemed by all who knew her. The large attendance at her funeral gave evidence, that she had many friends, in and about Aaronsburg, for many years the place of her residence. The sermon on the occasion was preached from Rev. 14:13: "Blessed are the dead, which die in the Lord, from henceforth; yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors and their works to them that will follow." Another entered the Union Army and died in defence of his Country. One of the daughters shared with her husband, the hardships and trials of missionary life in the west. Four of eleven children still survive to mourn the loss of an affectionate parent. Sister Gottwald was indeed a good and kind mother, an exemplary christian and a true friend. She was highly esteemed by all who knew her. The large attendance at her funeral gave evidence, that she had many friends, in and about Aaronsburg, for many years the place of her residence. The sermon on the occasion was preached from Rev. 14:13: "Blessed are the dead, which die in the Lord, from henceforth; yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors and their works to them that will follow." Another entered the Union Army and died in defence of his Country. One of the daughters shared with her husband, the hardships and trials of missionary life in the west. Four of eleven children still survive to mourn the loss of an affectionate parent. Sister Gottwald was indeed a good and kind mother, an exemplary christian and a true friend. She was highly esteemed by all who knew her. The large attendance at her funeral gave evidence, that she had many friends, in and about Aaronsburg, for many years the place of her residence. The sermon on the occasion was preached from Rev. 14:13: "Blessed are the dead, which die in the Lord, from henceforth; yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors and their works to them that will follow." Another entered the Union Army and died in defence of his Country. One of the daughters shared with her husband, the hardships and trials of missionary life in the west. Four of eleven children still survive to mourn the loss of an affectionate parent. Sister Gottwald was indeed a good and kind mother, an exemplary christian and a true friend. She was highly esteemed by all who knew her. The large attendance at her funeral gave evidence, that she had many friends, in and about Aaronsburg, for many years the place of her residence. The sermon on the occasion was preached from Rev. 14:13: "Blessed are the dead, which die in the Lord, from henceforth; yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors and their works to them that will follow." Another entered the Union Army and died in defence of his Country. One of the daughters shared with her husband, the hardships and trials of missionary life in the west. Four of eleven children still survive to mourn the loss of an affectionate parent. Sister Gottwald was indeed a good and kind mother, an exemplary christian and a true friend. She was highly esteemed by all who knew her. The large attendance at her funeral gave evidence, that she had many friends, in and about Aaronsburg, for many years the place of her residence. The sermon on the occasion was preached from Rev. 14:13: "Blessed are the dead, which die in the Lord, from henceforth; yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors and their works to them that will follow." Another entered the Union Army and died in defence of his Country. One of the daughters shared with her husband, the hardships and trials of missionary life in the west. Four of eleven children still survive to mourn the loss of