THE BEST BREED OF COWS FOR A MILK DAIRY. - Each breed has its merits. If a large vield of milk is desired the Dutch or so called Holstein is to be preferred, but these cattle are very high priced and a milkman could not afford to purchase them. Good, well-selected native cows, with short-horn blood in them, are the best in some cases, because they give abundant and good looking milk, and when the milk fails they are easily fatted. No milkman can afford to raise calves unless he has cheap land and plenty of pasture. If he has these he had better keep Ayrshires; or pure Ayrshire bull from good milking strain and raise half breeds. So far as regards the cost of milk the Ayrshires, according to their special advocates, take the paim over all other breeds, as they are easily fed and milk freely.

A MUZZLE FOR BITING HORSES .- There has been a number of inquiries of late as to an easy and effectual method of curing the habit of biting in horses. This dangerous habit is taught the horse by thoughtless owners or drivers, by playing with them when colts, or teasing them when full grown. A sharp cut with a whip across the horse's nose when he bites may serve to break him from the habit; but when the case is worse and incurable, a muzzle for this purpose may be made of strips of light hoop iron or of leather. A band may be made to encircle the muzzle to which strips of leather or iron are fastened. At the bottom of the muzzle a round piece of leather should be fastened by rivets to keep the strips in their place.

A decoction of strong soap-suds with tobacco stems (the more tobacco the better) will exterminate the red spider and all other insects from all plants and shrubs without the slightest danger of injury.

As soon as the leaves of the current and gooseberry are fairly expanded the "worm" may be looked for. The eggs are laid upon the under side of the lower leaves, and if these are removed and destroyed much trouble is averted.

Tchoumaik, the Bandit. There recently expired in the infirmary of the prison at Odessa an individual, by name Vacili Tchoumaik, a native of Ismail, of Kalmuck descent, who during the major part of the ninety-six years of his life appears to have been an unmitigated public nuisance. Born about 1785, Vacili grew up to the physical proportions of Hercules and the strength of Samson. He was duly drawn for the conscription, and served his time as a soldier, but he disdained such placid laurels as those which crown the shako of the celebrated Russian drum-major whose waxen effigy, in full uniform and holding a little wax dwarf in the hollow of one big hand, smiles through his mustache upon mankind at Mme. Tussaud. Un obtaining his discharge Vacili Tchoumaik adopted brigandage as his profession; and it is estimated that in the course of his career as a bandit, he committed no fewer than eighty murders. During many years he and the outlaws forming his band kept the country round about Odessa in a continuous state of terror, while the Russian police rather connived at than interferes with the miscreants' doings. At length an exceptional superintendent named Khordo hevsky undertook the task of abrogating him. The brigand chief was surrounded in a roadside inn where he had taken refuge, and after a sanguinary struggle he and several of his followers were captured. The fine old Russian code of criminal jurisprudence being then prevalent, Vacili remained nine years in prison before he was tried. In 1859, however, he was sentenced to the knout and to 20 years' hard labor in Siberia. The brigand was at that period 74 years of age. Five years afterward he escaped and made his way back to Odessa; but he was again caught, tried, and relegated to penal servitude. Once more, in 1869, he made his re-appearance at Odessa, and after two years' confinement in jail put justice to the trouble of again trying him, and sending him back to Siberia. In the middle of last May this patriarchal bandit made a fifth and final appearrnce in the immediate relief. vicinity of Odessa, and distinguished himself by attempting to steal a wagon and horses belonging to some German colonists. The sturdy Teutons, however, gave the veteran desperado a very warm reception. They soundly belabored Vacili and a companion of his, and, binding them hand and foot, delivered them over to the authorities. Tchoumaik was found to have had seven moved to the prison infirmary, where, on or white glue, and iron on the wrong side. Fact is, these light days it gets so awfully the 30th ultimo he died. NEW PROCESS FOR WASHING LINEN .-'In Germany and Belgium a substitute has lately been introduced for soda in the laundry, which, while it has all the detersive qualities of soda, does no injury to the linen. Two pounds of soap are dissolved in about five gallons of water as hot as the hand can bear. To this are added one tablespoonful of oil of turpentine and three of liquid ammonia. This mixture is then well stirred, and in it the clothes are steeped for three hours, the washtub being covered up as carefully as possible. Next, the clothes are washed, rinsed and blued as usual. The mixture will serve a second time, only, it must be re-heated and one-half spoonful of oil of turpentine and one and one-half of ammonia added to it. This process economizes time, labor and fuel. The clothes are not injured, because the ammonia evaporates very quickly; and at least select the best native cows, get a as for the smell of the turpentine, that disappears in the drying."
