

BEININGER & BUMILLER, Editors and Proprietors.

Local Department.

T. R. STAM has just opened the largest stock of goods that ever came to this town. He will positively sell goods cheaper than any other store in this town.

From the Philadelphia Journal we learn that Ex-Gov. Curtin is suffering from a serious affection of the eyes.

J. F. Cook, Esq., Gen. Agent of several large marble companies, paid us a flying business visit last week.

Rev. John Tomlinson, after an absence of some weeks spent in Somerset county, has returned to serve his pastorate.

Marble door steps of the best Sutherland Falls marble, made at the Millheim Marble Works at a moderate price.

One of the best assortments of Silk Handkerchiefs, Canvases, Notions and Novelties can be found at the Journal store. Prices the very lowest.

A splendid, strong 2 horse spring wagon for sale. None better in the valley. Price moderate. Inquire at the Journal office.

Brilliant colors in Germantown Wool, Zephyr, Saxony Wool, Silk Floss you will find at the Journal store, next door to the post office on Main Street.

It affords us pleasure to state that our neighbor, Mr. J. W. Snook who had been confined to the sickbed for over a week, is convalescing. Hope to see him strong and vigorous again in a few days.

Mr. J. F. Turbert and lady who had been absent from town for some time visiting their folks in Schuylkill county, have returned and are making their abode with mine host W. S. Musser, as before.

A full line of School Books, Copy Books, Slates, Pencils, Pens, &c., always on hand at the Journal Book and Stationery store on Main Street, next door to the post office.

The ladies of Rebersburg and vicinity would better not purchase their fall hats until Mrs. E. J. Carlin returns from New York city, where she is at present buying her stock of millinery goods.

J. A. LIMBERT, the new mail contractor, has procured a fine new wagon and is prepared to carry express packages and other goods from Coburn to Woodward and all intermediate points at reasonable charges.

Our readers will be gratified to learn that the business of the popular Bee Hive dry goods store, Lock Haven, will be continued at the old place just as before the recent death of the late proprietor, Mr. J. J. Everitt.

Your children ought to be clothed in warm garments as the weather is very changeable and good protection of the body is necessary. For that purpose come to the Journal store, where the best Children's Merino Vests are kept for sale at low prices.

Mrs. Annie M. Weaver has left for New York to lay in her fall and winter stock of hats, bonnets, and other millinery goods. Mrs. Weaver is an enterprising business woman, keeps the best stock the market affords and sells really cheap.

S. P. Kerstetter in Lewisburg, is just a splendid place to buy queensware, lamps, and groceries generally. If you go there you will find a full and complete line of goods, low prices and a first rate, clever man to deal with. Just try it and see for yourself.

Jas. A. McClain and J. C. Harper, candidates for Register and Prothonotary respectively, paid us a short visit last week. They looked pleased, happy, confident, talked cheerfully, shook hands gracefully, and went their way rejoicing.

Mr. Cyrus G. Bright has opened a new boot and shoe store in Aaronsburg. Cyrus is a skillful and experienced shoemaker himself and fully understands the wants and tastes of our people. He sells as cheap as the cheapest and should be liberally patronized.

On Thursday last week a little son of Benj. Stover, residing at Pine Creek, Haines township, while hunting fish worms in company with his brother, met with a serious accident. Forest was just lifting the pick to dig into the ground when Clarence bent forward to take up a worm. The sharp point of the pick went straight into his right eye, completely emptying the optic cavity. Drs. Deshler are the attending physicians and report the child doing as well as can be expected.

WANTED.—About 3500 first class 1 1/2 inch yellow pine flooring in the rough. Need not be fully dry. Inquire at the Journal office.

—That good, kind soul, Mrs. Jacob Keen brought us a monstrous bug hen's egg last week. We don't care to give the exact size and weight in figures, lest our friends would accuse us of stretching—as if an editor could even stretch an egg—but it is fully as large as a "goose egg" anyhow.

—Ayer's Hair Vigor restores the color and stimulates the growth of the hair, prevents it from falling off, and greatly increases its beauty. It has a delicate and lasting perfume, its ingredients are harmless, and for the toilet it is unequalled.

—Last week for the first time we had the pleasure of making the acquaintance of Mr. Wm. C. Ward, Gen. Freight Agent of the P. & E. R. R., and Mr. J. Lewis Hough, Chief Clerk to Supt. Neilson. We called at their headquarters in Williamsport on a little business, and left them with the impression that they are full sized gentlemen in every sense of the word.

—In reading the Journal this week don't skip the caids of A. Simon's Sons, Grocers, and Simon Brothers, Clothiers, Lock Haven. The brothers and sons, or sons and brothers—it reads well either way—are active, enterprising business men, keep the best market affords and sell at bottom prices. No better places anywhere to get full value for your money "and don't you forget it."

—It is admitted on all hands that a visit to Lock Haven would be very unsatisfactory, and incomplete without going to Whitcomb's Mammoth Clothing Store. Mr. Whitcomb keeps everything that goes into the make up of men's clothing. His stock is as complete as this price is low, and his many customers always leave with glad hearts and cheerful countenances, knowing that they have received as much for their cash as any man can possibly give.

—The winter term of our public schools in the borough and township will commence next Monday, October 24th. Parents take a note of this and have your children fully equipped and ready to start to school that day. It is of no small importance that you should enable and urge them to put in their full time. Every school hour lost, decreases the knowledge they ought to acquire as children and which they will sadly miss in their older days. A word to the wise is sufficient.

—One day last week two Aaronsburg boys, the one a son of Mr. Summers, the other of Mr. Fred Limbert, engaged in a hand to hand fight in that place, and in a fit of uncontrollable passion young Summers made use of a knife and stabbed Limbert in the thigh, severing one of the arteries. The boys, we are told, had an old spite at each other that finally resulted in this passionate fight.

—The corner-stone for the new St. John's Lutheran Church at this place was laid with religious services and ceremonies on Sunday last. The day was a fair one from about nine o'clock until evening, and a great many people had assembled to witness the solemn rite. Unusually able and instructive sermons were preached on Saturday and Sunday evenings, by Rev. W. H. Diven, of Salocoma, and on Sunday morning by Rev. S. E. Furst, of Bellefonte. The collection mounted to about fifty dollars, which swells the total contributions to date to the clever sum of $3450. The people of Millheim as well as the visiting ministers and other strangers present were all well pleased and doubtless much benefitted by the preaching and exercises of the day.

The Gallows in Snyder County.

Jonathan Moyer, Emanuel Ettinger and Israel E. b, convicted of the murder of John and Gretchen Kintzler in the court of oyer and treamer for Snyder county, are to be executed at Middleburg on Friday, December 16. The trial of the condemned excited much interest and was reviewed by the supreme court on an appeal by the defendants, but the higher tribunal sustained the rulings of Judge Bucher. Messrs. Potter, Honer and Grimm were of counsel for the commonwealth and Messrs. Dill, Smith and Linn for defendants.

Schreyer of Milton, Vice President, Jno. M. Caldwell, Milton, Treasurer, and A. B. Mann, of Condersport, Sec'y. The Executive Committee consists of Geo. D. Pifer, 514 Market St. Philadelphia, H. Chambers, Latrobe John McLaughlin, Huntingdon, P. H. Schreyer, Milton and A. B. Mann, Condersport.

In the whole History of Medicine.

No preparation has ever performed such marvelous cures, or maintained so wide a reputation, as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which is recognized as the world's remedy for all diseases of the throat and lungs. Its long continued series of wonderful cures in all climates has made it universally known as a safe and reliable agent to employ. Against ordinary colds, whooping cough, and other serious disorders, it acts speedily and surely, always relieving suffering, and often saving life. The remedy is kept always on hand in every household. No person can afford to be without it. From their knowledge of its composition and effects, physicians use the Cherry Pectoral extensively in their practice, and everyone who has used it, will always cure where cures are possible.

The Warren county jail at present is without a single occupant.

The Cornwall ore mines, near Lebanon, produced last year 280,000 tons of iron ore, a larger product than any other mine in the United States.

A Johnstown mule, owned by Gallagher Brothers, committed suicide on Sunday night by hanging itself with a halter. The unfortunate animal was endeavoring to knock a fly off the left ear with his right hind foot, and the hoof got caught in the halter, drawing it so tight around its neck as to cause strangulation.

Tennessee's Sleeping Beauty.

KNOXVILLE, October 11.—Lizzie Moran, a beautiful young girl, has been sleeping eight days, awakening only a few moments for food. The case puzzles the doctors.

It will pay the head of every household to devote considerable attention to his children. It will especially pay to become interested in the school-life of the children, and, as much as possible, to know just what they are studying and how they are doing it. It is too common a custom for parents to trust all to the teacher, on the principle that it is their business to educate the young people. But even if the teacher's duty is well performed, the supervision of the father will stimulate the child to renewed exertions, and largely aid the teacher. The child whose father goes over his lessons with him is never at the foot of his class.—Philadelphia Journal.

A TIMELY TOPIC.—The most successful men in business are those who advertise freely. Our greatest dry goods and grocery merchants spend hundreds of dollars yearly in this way, and they all say that it pays. The merchants who do little or no business are the ones who do not use printer's ink. Look around and observe the truthfulness of what we say. There is another thing true of the man who advertises: his stock is the largest, best and cheapest, for the reason that it is converted into money every few days.—E.E.

MURDER IN FRANKLIN COUNTY.

A Furnace Hand Strikes Down a Man and Death Results.

The Chambersburg Herald says: On Monday night of last week Jacob Swank, of Carrick, was on his way home from a meeting and as he passed the furnace casting house, he was hailed by John Heeter who was sitting in the door. Heeter called to him to come over and tried to provoke a fight, but Swank said he had no desire to wrangle, that he was too old a man, and passed on. Heeter called him a second time and as Swank turned, Heeter hurled a piece of cinder at him which struck him in the forehead, felling him to the ground. The dastard then ran and jumping on his unconscious victim tramped him terribly. The furnace keeper finally pulled him off and the poor fellow was carried home. He laid in an unconscious state until Friday last when he died. Monday District Attorney Suserrott and the coroner took the matter in hand. Dr. Ramsey, assisted by Dr. Jones, of Mercersburg, had the corpse exhumed, and held a post mortem, at which a large clot of blood in the front part of the brain and a fractured skull were revealed. The murderer escaped and has not been arrested. A reward of $50 is offered for his arrest, by the commissioners. It ought to be $500. The following is an accurate description of the murderer: John Heeter, aged nineteen, five feet six inches tall, weight about 140 pounds, heavy set with short neck, no beard, red faced with thick lips, nose with depressed bridge, flat nostrils and turned up, ears lay forward, heavy under jaw, hair sandy and curly, low forehead, a scar on upper part of nose, downcast look and repulsive countenance. Fifty dollars reward. Exchanges please copy and aid justice.

A FOUL MURDER.

One of the very worst murders was committed in Lancaster city on the night of the 5th inst. Mrs. Seymour was down stairs about 11 o'clock and was in the act of administering medicine to Mrs. Robinson, a sick woman in the house, when there was a knock at the window. She knew it was Edward Sanders by the voice, a hard case of a young man about 25 years of age. She refused him admission; but after he told her he had something very particular to tell her she opened the door. He entered and immediately assaulted her and ravished her. After a severe struggle she escaped and ran into the street and cried for help. A neighbor woman who was up yet left her in; but when she was on the street Sanders followed her and knocked her down. Mrs. Seymour took convulsions and died before a doctor could be called in. When the physician came she was dead. Mrs. Robinson, the sick woman, was sent to the Alms House and the three children to the Home for Friendless Children. Thus, in a few moments was a mother murdered and the family broken up and scattered at the hour of midnight. Any jurymen who would refuse to hang such a fellow ought to be hung himself. While the woman was dying Sanders stood by and taunted her.

MURDER NEAR LANCASTER.

LANCASTER, Pa., October 16.—Samuel H. Miller, hotelkeeper and merchant of Union Station, on the Reading and Columbia railroad, put two bullets in William Gensemer at midnight last night, because Gensemer and his friends demanded admission to the hotel. One ball entered his neck and another the temple. Gensemer died at 12.30 to-day. Miller was arrested and lodged in prison in this city late this afternoon.
