Uriah Moyer Arrested.

Detective "Bully" Lyon, of Reading, who was instrumental in working up the Kintzler murder case in Snyder county, Saturday arrested Uriah Mover, one of the alleged murderers, and 2t. who Ettinger, now dead, stated in his confession had fired the fatal shot. CHILDREN ON THE STREETS .- Pa_ rents and guardians should avail themselves of the long winter evenings now almost upon us wherein to impress the minds and enlist the attention of the girls and boys under their special charge. The twilight and early hours that make up the walking time after supper, are the harvest moments for bad influences to grow and thrive in young hearts. The education of the street is always productive of evil. It tends to the formation of habits which leads to a doubtful reputation. How many a bright boy has become proficent in wickedness that might have proved an ornament to society and a benefit to mankind, had his evening hours been spent at home. It is next to impossible for children to run the streets and escape the vices so common to the ignorant and vicious. It is upon the street at night the horrid oaths are uttered, the petty quarrel is made a pretext for more brutal work, and the first glass leads to irregular ways. Home can, with little effort, be made attractive. A few books, juvenile magazines and papers, with a smile and occasional word from their elders are all that is necessary, under ordinary circumstances, to keep within doors children and youth .- Philipsburg 'Jour-

THAT TERRISLE LAMP.

The Carlisle Volunteer says: On Thursday evening last, after the family of Mr. Francis Mentzer, of Frankford township, Cumberland county, had retired, Mrs. Mentzer with several of the children remained up to sew carpet rags. The mother had finished a ball of carpet rags and playfully rolled it to the other end of the table to her youngest child, a little girl of four years, saying as she did so, "Now Minnie we'll go to bed." The little girl caught the ball and in an innocent way threw it back saying, "catch it mamma," But alas! this pleasant little family episode had a sudden and fearful termination. The ball struck the lamp, knocking it off the table into the mother's lap, where it exploded, saturating her clothing and igniting. Instantly her whole body was enveloped in flames and she screamed for help at the top of her voice. Mr. Mentzer rushed from his chamber to find the whole kitchen filled with flames and smoke, in which the form of his unfortunate wife was scarcely distinguishable. He at once caught her in his arms and did his utmost to smother the fire and tear away the barning clothes. In answer to her cries he carried her out where water was thrown upon her and the fire extinguished, but not until she was so severely burned that she died in about twenty hours afterward. Neighbors living a considerable distance away heard her screams and saw the fire and came running, believing the house to be on fire. None The Pa.
