—The Lutherans of Saydertown are making arrangements to build a new church, which is very much needed at that place. We wish the brethren all possible success.

—Brother Tuteu says that the Bellefonte pavements are not safe for drunken men to travel on. Don't know how that is—have no experimental knowledge whatever in that line, and therefore feel bound to take his word for it.

—A fine line of Family Bibles, Presentation Bibles, Photograph Albums, Velvet Frames, French Vases, Beautiful Scrap Pictures, Paper Boxes, and a great variety of Fancy Goods generally. Splendid S. School, Day School and Visiting and other Cards—all very cheap, at the Journal Store.

—Eighty-three persons have recently united with the M. E. Church, at Bellefonte, as the visible fruits of a revival of eight weeks duration. If these eighty-three remain faithful to their vows and lead consistent, christian lives, what a blessing they may be to themselves, their families, the community and the church at large. How careful and industriously should every congregation cherish and encourage, instruct and develop new converts. Are christians generally alive and active to their duties on this line?

IMPORTANT.—To those contemplating marriage—that is those who soon expect to go to housekeeping soon after they are married—it is very important to know just where to go for good and cheap furniture. W. R. Camp's at Centre Hall, is exactly such a place. He makes the best kind of furniture and sells really cheap. Whether you need a Chamber suit, parlor suit, lounges, chairs, or any other article in his line, you can do as well as anywhere in the county. Just try Mr. Camp, and you will find that we tell you the square truth in the matter.

—Last week we had such an unusual and full assortment of weather that all classes and conditions ought to have been able to suit themselves, and yet people were unhappy and disposed to grumble. On Monday it was intensely cold and a fierce storm prevailed all day. Tuesday and Wednesday, still cold but quiet. Thursday morning the earth was covered with the smoothest coat of ice ever seen in this section. Many felt it severely. Friday, mild, with a bright, sunny afternoon. Saturday—a beautiful white snow but it didn't last long and soon turned to mud.

On Tuesday last an eight-inch snow fell and yesterday at the time of our writing everybody seemed to be out enjoying the good sleighing.

—The tall slim spire on the Lutheran church at Centre Hall, succumbed to the fierce storm of Sunday the 22nd January. At about 3 o'clock in the afternoon it came down with a tremendous crash, and the violence of the wind was so great that the spire was carried over the roof without touching it, except at the eaves, where about twelve feet of the cornice is badly shattered. The spire broke just above the belfry, leaving about 12 to 15 feet to stand. The part that came down measures about 80 feet. The entire height of steeple from the ground was 130 feet. The church was built some seven years ago, and withstood many storms in that time, but the hurricane on that Sunday exceeded everything in that line ever experienced in Centre Hall.

We lay before our readers this week, in the form of a supplement, the annual county statement as prepared and authorized by the county commissioners. Four successive supplements, like the one issued to-day, are to follow. It is the most comprehensive and satisfactory financial exhibit ever published by any board of commissioners of Centre county, and will be placed into the hands of every taxpayer of the county as nearly as possible, by the several papers. The board deserve much credit for liberality and business tact, in effecting an arrangement with the newspaper by which all parties and classes that are taxed for public expenses, may have the annual county account in a convenient form: the more so, because this supplement system, now used in Centre county for the first time, enables all the papers to give their readers the usual amount and variety of reading matter, which, under the old system would be crowded out for four weeks in succession.

We will have some comments to make on the statement itself, next week.

—The following, which we clip from the Bellefonte Republican, proves but too plainly that there is no love wasted between brother Tuten and the tax man of that town. True, tax collectors are a grasping, heartless set as a rule, and a not very popular class of officials, but they are a necessary evil that can not be dispensed with as the world goes, and the best way is to humor them and keep their good will as much as possible. Really, we wonder why Tuten is so mad over the tax chaps?

There goes a Man. He wears glasses and carries a bundle of Papers in his Hand. These are tax Receipts, and the man is a Tax Collector. His name is William Jones, though some mean people call him Billy Skin Flint. He chews Plug Tobacco, and don't care much for Public Opinion. He is going over to Chesapeake to collect a man's taxes. He is a Brave Man and if the man don't pay him he will nail his name on a Shado Tree, so the people will know all about it. The Collector doesn't teach a Sunday-school class and was never tripped up by his Conscience. He will grow old some time and die. Wouldn't you like to be a Collector?

BELLEFONTE LETTER.

Bellefonte, Pa., Feb. 2nd, 1882.

We have been having quite an interesting session of court this term and Millheim people have been prominent. In the case of Hon. Fred Kurtz vs Hon. W. K. Alexander the jury rendered a verdict for the plaintiff of $39.39, the full amount claimed. The action was brought to recover pay for printing and advertising done for the defendant during his candidacy several years ago. The defendant was not satisfied with so little anxiety by politicians generally, and some solicitude by publishers of newspapers. The precedent established will have some effect, I think, on contracts made with editors, and why should they not be paid for their services? In the matter of commonwealth vs Millheim Election Board, the grand jury ignored the bill, and ordered the prosecutor to pay the costs, and the same result was reached in the case of commonwealth vs J. H. Reifsnnyder. It is thought more than one half of the voters of your town were in attendance as jurymen or witnesses.

The next lecture, under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., will be delivered by Wm. L. Marshall, Esq. of Fitchburg, Mass., Feb. 13, on the Yellowstone National Park. This park is the largest in the world, containing over 2,000,000 acres—larger than either Delaware or Rhode Island. Americans are accustomed to having only the best of every thing and this Park will add one more feather to the tail of that proud bird—the American Eagle.

BRIEFS.—Mrs. McMillen and daughter have arrived.—Why do we hear nothing about Millheim Y. M. C. A? —Mr. Deininger of the JOURNAL was in town last week.—Mr. Burchfield, ex-register intends to open a nice stock of groceries in the room of the new Bank building.—Mr. J. C. Harper has secured Mr. Lew. Hoffer as clerk.—Mr. Henry Beck has a comfortable chair reserved for him in the office of the county treasurer.—Of the six applications for license the court refused to grant four.

—J. A. Lambert, the mail contractor on the route between Coburn and Wood-ward, is prepared to carry express packages and other goods to all points along the route at reasonable charges. All business entrusted to him will be punctually attended to.

A $200.00 Bible Reward.

The publishers of Rutledge's Monthly in the prize puzzle department of their Monthly for February offer the following easy way for someone to make $200.00.

To the person telling us which is the shortest verse in the Old Testament Scriptures by February 10th, 1882, we will give $200.00 in gold as a prize. The money will be forwarded to the winner February 15th, 1882. Those who try for the prize must send 20 cts. in silver (no postage stamps taken) with their answer, for which they will receive the March number of the Monthly, in which will be published the name and address of the winner of the prize, with the correct answer thereto. Cut this out; it may be worth $200.00 to you. Address, RUTLEDGE PUBLISHING COMPANY, Easton, Pa.

WESTERN TRIP.—On December 19th last Mr. and Mrs. C. Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Kreamer and Mr. H. T. Z. rby left their eastern homes for the west, to pay a flying visit to their many friends and see the country. They took the cars at Bellefonte at 6.46 A. M. on said day and arrived at Elkhart, Ind. the following day. The first Pennsylvania family whose kind hospitality they shared, was Aaron Keen's in Elkhart, son of Peter Keen, who formerly resided near Millheim. The following Pennsylvanians they visited on their western journey: Perry Gates, Mr. Gramly, H. Kreamer, Samuel Hoover, Daniel and George Wingham, Peter Keen, Samuel Plotner, Mr. Walters, Benj. Stover, Newton Hosterman and John Keen, all of near Edwardsburg, Mich., Francis Fleisher, H. Horner and Jonathan Zerby, Berrien Springs, Mich. Our visiting friends found these families enjoying health and prosperity to such a degree that old Pennsylvania with its hills, mountains and rocks has no more charms for them.

The travelers then set out for Mendota, La Salle Co., Ill., where Clark Herman and G. Warren Keen have their homes, and met the m in the full enjoyment of life with no reason for complaint. After having spent a few days in that vicinity, they continued their trip taking in all the sights on the way. They report La Salle, Lee and Bureau Counties of a deep gravel soil, very productive and easily cultivated. Land sells in said counties at about 60 dollars per acre. It is only an ordinary thing in that locality to see from 60 to 325 head of cattle on one farm. One man owning 2230 acres in Bureau county has over 500 head of cattle, over 100 head of horses and a proportionate number of hogs. His annual net income is about $10,000. Many farmers have from 9 to 10 thousand bushels of corn. G. W. Keen having a four horse farm raised last summer 6500 bushels, notwithstanding the unfavorable season. That part of the west the travellers admired very much, and especially the customs of the good German settlers who treat their guests with wine and all sorts of delicacies. Other places visited were Freeport, Cedarville, Onego, Polo, and Brookville. Daniel Kreamer is the owner of two fine farms, such as Pennsylvania can hardly produce. The country between Brookville and Onega is like unto Pennsylvania with hills and bluffs covered with timber. They report those parts of the West, which they visited, dotted with families from east proving that "Westward the star of the empire takes its way." Many families do not have as good and expensive buildings there as we have here but they are willing to bear and forbear while they do not live in luxury as to houses, the majority certainly do as to Cash. Our party returned from their trip safely a few days ago and are still praising the country and people who have so kindly entertained them.

LYNCHED IN KANSAS.

A Pennsylvania Man Sets Fire to a House and Murders His Wife.

LOCK HAYEN, Pa., Jan. 18.—Intelligence has recently reached this place that George Pfeiffer was hanged by lynch law in the State of Kansas, a few weeks ago. Pfeiffer was raised in the vicinity of Howard, Centre county, fifteen miles from this place, where his father, who was a respectable farmer, died about two years ago. His mother is still living to grieve over her son's lamentable end. George was married to a Miss Reish, whose father is a well-to-do farmer in Brush Valley. Some five years ago he lived in the borough of Howard, in a house belonging to Rev. Nathan J. Mitchell. The house burned down under circumstances which excited suspicion, having his household goods insured for much more than their value. As soon as he secured the insurance money he left with his family for the west. Last spring his wife died, and he brought her remains to her Centre county home for burial. Last fall detectives arrested him at Driftwood, Cameron county, on a charge of robbing the mails in Kansas, and he was conveyed back to that State for trial, and letters and newspaper publications received at Howard, report that he made a full confession to the officers who had him in charge, not only of the mail robberies, but also confessed the crimes of arson and murder, stating that he set fire to Mr. Mitchell's house, for the purpose of getting the insurance money on his furniture with which to go west, and that he poisoned his wife to obtain ten thousand dollars life insurance which he had on her. The practical business view the people of Kansas took of the matter was that it was useless to take up the time of the courts, after such a confession. Pfeiffer was summarily executed, as it is said that he left a large safe, such as they used to use in express cars, with his mother, which has never been opened; it is very heavy, and since his crimes have come to light is supposed to contain gold. George was well raised, was not suspected of evil practices before he left this country, and it is surprising how rapidly he went to the bad. His career has plunged two respectable families in to deep sorrow.

Here are two questions which are startling in their directness and point but which will be worth considering by all who are holding their money with an avaricious grip. They are the suggestions of a New York paper:—"Mr. A. —has just died worth $10,000,000. When he meets God he will have two hard questions to answer, namely: First, how did you get the money? Secondly, what did you do with it?"
