—His Honor, Mayor Gutelius, is the happiest man in town.

—Excepting Monday and Thursday we had beautiful spring weather last week. Too early we fear.

—Hon. A. G. Curtin is hereby tendered our thanks for a copy of the Congressional Directory and other public documents.

—Sunbury has a larger per centum of deaths than any other town or city in the state. So says the Democrat of that place.

—Lewisburg is trying to coax the Reading R. R. Co. to extend their road from Sunbury to West Milton, via Lewisburg. Hope the company will do it.

—The staid old town of York proposes to establish a queens-ware manufactory. Go in "middle yorrick"— plenty of spondoosles to do it. But what will Millheim establish, eh?

—The Milton Churn and Novelty Factory has, since last November, when the enterprise was started, manufactured over 5000 churns and sold over 4000. The capacity of the factory is 50 per day.

—The Central Manufacturing Company of Lewisburg has a large force of men at work. The company expects a largely increased demand for their mowers and their celebrated Bates Harvester.

—It just beats the Dutch what all is invented these days that is useful and good. Frank Kister has a composition with which he mends gum boots and shoes. He patches up a rent or hole first rate. This is a real saving invention.

—J. A. Lambert, the mail contractor on the route between Coburn and Woodward, is prepared to carry express packages and other goods to all points along the route at reasonable charges. All business entrusted to him will be punctually attended to.

—Frank Miller was determined to have the first mess of dandelion for the season, and he had it. Guess the bucket brigade will soon commence operation on a larger scale. All right and no harm—only "remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy."

—A fine line of Family Bibles, Presentation Bibles, Photograph Albums Velvet Frames, French Vases, Beautiful Scrap Pictures, Paper Boxes, and a great variety of Fancy Goods generally Splendid S. School, Day School and Visiting and other Cards—all very cheap, at the Journal Store.

A GOOD ORDER.—First Assistant Postmaster General Hutton has issued an order forbidding Postmasters giving the papers of subscribers to non-subscribers to read and then put them back into the box again. For doing this hereafter they will be removed. That's an order every printer and every subscriber will insist on having strictly obeyed.—Ez.

—Please don't ask us any more whether we are going to the Rebersburg concert on Saturday evening—we are to busy to answer you all singly. Course we are going, if anybody takes us and we can shape a quarter somehow. The fact is we would like to be over there all week, and have just enough vanity to believe that we could make ourselves useful in sundry ways.

—Charley Miller, of Millheimburg, who goes west in a few days, was here to say farewell to his aged parents, brothers and friends, and to settle with the printer and direct his JOURNAL to be sent to Freeport, Ill. Charley has our best wishes. He is a steady, sober man, descends from good democratic stock, is as good a tanner any day as Gen. Grant, and in his darling little girls Illinois will get two as sweet singers as we ever heard.

CONJUGATION.—of the verbs To love and To go. I love music, you love music, he loves music.

We love singing, you love a good performance on the organ, they love fine musical treats of any kind.

I will go, you will go, they will go—yes, with wives and children, uncles and aunts, brother's cousin's sons and all—to the grand concert at Rebersburg next Saturday evening.

—One of the most desirable small farms in this neighborhood will be sold at public sale on the premises, three miles west of Millheim, Saturday, March 11th. It was the homestead of Capt. Henry Smith. The land is in a fair state of cultivation, has good buildings and choice fruit and water as well as much valuable timber. Here is an excellent chance for a man of moderate means. See notice in another column.

—Charley Sturgis does business on a rush. He goes to Lewisburg, buys out that first class Watch and Jewelry Store of Capt. J. P. Brook, returns and moves his family down—all within the short space of a few days. We feel very sorry to lose Charley, but such are the ways of business.

Charley will continue to carry on the Watch and Jewelry business in Millheim as heretofore. Mr. P. H. Musser will have charge of the shop. All work entrusted to him will be guaranteed. The continued patronage of the public is respectfully solicited.

TOO MUCH SCALP.—Centre county was severely afflicted with scalps last year and it cost the county treasury no less than $124.55 to pay for all the wild cat, fox and skunk scalps, which is rather a steep scalp bill for a single year. There is a strong probability however that much crookedness prevails in this scalp business, and D. G. Ganoe, a Justice of the Peace of Taylor township was arrested the other week and lodged in jail, charged with having made out false probates representing that certain persons had killed a certain number of foxes. The trial will determine whether Ganoe is guilty or not.

MUSICAL CONVENTION.—A musical convention will be held in the Lutheran church, Rebersburg, commencing Monday evening the 20th inst., and ending with a grand concert on Saturday evening following. The matter is in the hands of a competent committee who understand just how to conduct such an affair. Prof. J. A. Weaver, of Pine Grove Mills, a gentleman of first class professional and personal reputation, has direct charge of the convention as leader and teacher. Several experienced organists will assist. Singers from a distance are cordially invited to attend and will be entertained free of charge.

TERRIBLE CALAMITY AT CHESTER.—Last Friday the 17th, Prof. Jackson's Pyrotechnic Fire Works at Chester, Pa., caught fire, and an explosion soon followed that seemed to shake the whole town to its very foundations. This was followed by a second, and later by a third explosion, each one more terrible than the last. The last explosion carried death and destruction with it on all sides. Great crowds of people were standing close to the burning building when the second explosion occurred, but many left then, else the destruction of lives would have been much greater. Seventeen persons were killed and about fifty wounded, the most of them but slightly. The scene of the great disaster was horrifying in the extreme.

—In these days when disease seems to be about in the very air, people should take most scrupulous care of their health. Good wholesome food, moderate work, regular habits, absolute cleanliness, proper ventilation of houses, a good conscience, pleasant and even temper, and last but not least—good, warm clothing, such as Lewisin, of the Philadelphia Branch sells so cheaply, are about the best preventives we know of. If you give strict attention to all these sanitary regulations and yet take sick you will have the comfort to know that it was providential and not the result of your own carelessness or neglect.

The Middleburg correspondent of the Selinsgrove Times writes the following of the Kintzler murderers, who are now awaiting their dreadful doom on the gallows:

Those poor unfortunate men in jail begin to realize their terrible doom; but I think their confessions so far are very conflicting. They still persist that the Kintzlers were killed on Friday evening; that Ulrich Moyer and Ettlinger went to Kintzlers in the afternoon; that Ettlinger had a gun lying across his lap pointing towards the old gentleman and Mrs. Kintzler, and that Mr. Kintzler told him to change the position of the gun as he might accidentally shoot both of them. The old man was shooting some tinware, and he went out after having it fixed to a small stream near the house to put water in it to see if it would leak, and there Ettlinger shot him and finished him by beating him to death with his gun; after which Ettlinger rushed into the house and met the old lady in the entry hall and knocked her down with the gun and killed her; that afterwards they went through the house and then burnt it.

—That man Camp up in Centre Hall is simply a capital chap. Yes, he is a good citizen, a kind husband and father, a benevolent man and most excellent mechanic. Just guess what he did for us last week. Why he sent us a whole lounge at once and a most beautiful and comfortable one at that. O how grateful we feel toward Mr. Camp, as we rest our weary body on that lounge, after the toils and labors of the day. Mr. Camp has more lounges of the same kind—ones for you if you wish. Or, if you prefer, you can have a parlor suit, chamber suit, set of chairs, large rocker, centre table, or anything you may desire in the furniture line—all of excellent make and at the lowest prices. Fact, Camp is your man for furniture.

THE ELECTIONS.—The elections in this end of the county were rather lively in some of the districts, notwithstanding the extremely disagreeable day. In our borough politics were not made a factor, as the Chief Burgess and majority Inspector are both republicans. We give the result as far as we could obtain them.

WHO MOVES ?—Millheim and its vicinity will have an unusually large number of fittings this spring. A few families are leaving or have already left for other parts, but the majority only move from one house to another. This matter of moving nearly every spring is without question a great burden and hardship to many, and we most heartily wish that people had homes of their own more generally than is the case now. It should be the objective point of every man to found an own home, even if it takes years of hard toil and rigid economy to accomplish it. Much of the evil of frequent moving could be mitigated, and it would clearly work to the interest of both landlords and tenants, if the latter would stay on the same premises for a number of years.

But we were going to tell you who moves. To begin the n, Abner Miller moves into the old mill house, east end of town; H. H. Tomlinson moves into the old Harter house, just vacated by Charles A. Sturgis; David Miller gets into Thomas Hare's house, North street; Samuel Ulrich goes on Evert's farm at Coburn; Dr. Stam bought Samuel Bame's property and takes possession in April; Henry Brown bought John Stoner's house, the old pottery, and goes there; Mr. Cone moves into the mountains, at Gephart & Musser's saw mill; Samuel Weiser, Jr., just one door west, where Mr. Cone vacates; Wm. B. Hartman moves into Lamy & Knarr's house, North street; Father Maize quits housekeeping and makes his home with Christ Woodling; James D. Luze moves to his father's house, which his brother Henry leaves and moves to Rev. C. F. Deininger's house, Wm. N. Auman takes possession where James D. Luze leaves; A. Walter goes into his own house on Penn street, recently purchased from Henry N. Kreamer; Ben Weiser to Frogtown, into his own house; E. Bartholomew takes charge of the premises that Ben leaves; Harvey Lamy moves into John Keen's house, Main street; Wm. M. Moyer goes into Sam'l Otto's house North street; John Long quits farming and moves into Daniel Ulrich's house, South street; Josiah Long goes, Dutweiler's house, near Iron Bridge; Jerome Spigelmeyer fits into his own house, Penn street, lately bought from J. H. Reifsnyder; Henry N. Kreamer goes west Slifer, gets Sauer's house, Penn street; Jacob Keen comes to town, into Dr. Dasher's house, his son John takes the farm; Rev. A. Shannon moves into Mrs. Nees' house, Main street, where David Miller now is; Jesse Kreamer gets the Forney property, where barber Springer lives, while the Barber goes into his own house, bought of Jesse Wert, and Jesse expects to build and occupy a house by April at Petersburg; George Wert bought his brother William's farm, on the road to Coburn, and gets possession in April; William has rented the Price farm, east of Lozansville; Abs Harter gets Gephart's farm which George Wert leaves; Solomon Confer goes to Hublersburg, while a Mr. Bierly from Hublersburg, takes Solomon's place; James Dutweiler gets Lydia Musser's house; W. H. Reifsnyder moves into the squire's house, late the property of David Tielow's estate; Wm. Shultz, from Brusl Valley, fills up where Reifsnyder makes room; John Confer also goes to Hublersburg; Michael Maize moves into Keen's house, with Harvey Lamy; Jacob Alter bought Wm. Mauck's homestead, on North street, and of course moves there, while William purchased John Bame's house, Penn street, and takes possession of it; John Bame goes to Michigan, and Ira Ayers takes the Bame farm; George Cummings winds up the list by moving into Danny Zeigler's shop, next to Alexander's building—and thus our work on the fitting question is over unless somebody would compel us to take dinner with them on moving day.

PENN HALL LETTER.

MR. EDITOR:—The world may as well know as not that Penn Hall is still living; and what is more and better, living in a few villages that can compare with it for beauty of location, fine homes and the absence of ram shops.

The new school house is to be located opposite Mr. Pealer's residence between Penn Hall and Spring Mills. When completed it will be a credit to the community. Bravo!

The concert given by Prof. Meyer and the Penn Hall singing class last Saturday evening, was well attended. It was really a delightful affair, especially the comic part. The pieces "First an' second mein Freund," by C. W. Fisher, and the "Spelling Bee," by Clara Guise, Sue Hosterman, C. C. Meyer and J. S. Meyer, were finely rendered and elicited much applause. It was decidedly the best concert ever held in this neighborhood. Such was the general opinion.

BILL BUSTER.

MARRIED.

On the 16th inst., at the residence of the bride's parents, in Millheim, by Rev. P. C. Weldemeyer, Mr. James M. Grove, of Potter township to Miss Annie M., daughter of Igen Musser.

Another one of our young Millheim ladies goes, and indeed one of the best ones. It affords us pleasure to bear testimony to Annie's excellent character and spotless reputation. We know her these many years and are sorry to see her go, but such is the way of the world. Girls will get married and leave. We wish and her worthy husband all possible happiness and God's richest blessing, and justly we thank the fair bride very much for her excellent cake. That was very commendable of Annie.

DIED.

On the 4th inst. at Potter's Mills, Mr. Henry Crawford, aged 47 years.

On the 15th inst., at Coburn Mrs. Sarah Evert, wife of Samuel Evert, aged 49 years, 9 months and 27 days.
