—This is court week at Lewisburg. —The Central Penna. Conference of the M. E. Church met at Lock Haven yesterday. —Mr. John Zarker sold his homestead to Miss Catharine Dinges, and has concluded to go west this spring. —Money sold at 19 per cent premium at the meeting of the B. & L. Association on Monday evening. —Read the borough statement in the JOURNAL this week. It is a full statement of the public business for the year. —Mr. Mark Moony is the best tax-collector we have had for years, and was very a good overseer of the poor besides.

—Hon. A. G. Curtin is hereby tendered our thanks for bound volume of Congressional Record, 47th Congress, extra session of the Senate. —Prof. Kurzenknebe will give a grand concert in the Evangelical church, Logansville, next Saturday evening the 28th instant.

—The smiling and cheerful face of Mr. John W. Luse is again seen and heard in town. John was absent for some weeks on professional business. —Lewin, of the Philadelphia Branch, Bellefonte, sells off the balance of his winter stock at cost. If you need a good suit, overcoat, hat, or anything else in the clothing line, now is your time to buy.

—On Monday, Mr. Jacob Lose, residing at Madisonburg, met his death at Cresson, Pa., by falling from a building. The corpse was brought home and buried yesterday. Mr. Lose leaves a family surviving him. —Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gast, of Mifflinburg, celebrated their golden wedding on the 23rd of last month at their home. Mrs. Gast is a daughter of the late Daniel Spyker, of Aaronburg, where the couple were married, Feb. 28th, 1832—fifty years ago.

—Rev. L. W. Crauner, of Lebanon, who traveled and preached in Penna Valley some thirty years ago, was recently visited by burglars who exploded his safe but got nothing for their pains but a trifling sum of money and a box of cigars. —J. A. Limbert, the mail contractor on the route between Coburn and Woodward, is prepared to carry express packages and other goods to all points along the route at reasonable charges. All business entrusted to him will be punctually attended to.

—A tax-payers convention is called to meet at the Court House in Bellefonte, on the 21st of this month to do a little investigating into the financial affairs of the county. The citizens of Spring township are the movers in this matter and we hope they will take no backward step. Go in, gentlemen, and let us have the bottom facts.

The Summer Session of Spring Mills Academy will begin MONDAY, APR. 17th., 1882. Tuition $10, 13 and 16 for term of twenty weeks. Boarding reasonable. For further information call on or address LEWIS REITER, A. B., Principal, SPRING MILLS, PA.

CAMP.—the enterprising furniture man at Centre Hall, is to furnish Grenoble's new mammoth hotel at Spring Mills. This is what we call supporting home industries. But the truth is too, that Mr. Camp can do such a job just as well and cheaply as any other party in or outside of the county. His stock embraces every possible article in the furniture line, is well made and reasonable in price.

—A fine line of Family Bibles, Presentation Bibles, Photograph Albums Velvet Frames, French Vases, Beautiful Scrap Pictures, Paper Boxes, and a great variety of Fancy Goods generally Splendid S. School, Day School and Visiting and other Cards—all very cheap, at the Journal Store.

—The Evangelical Sunday School organized a missionary society on Monday evening. The following officers were elected: President—Rev. C. F. Gephart; Vice Presidents—A. J. Grove, W. K. Alexander; Rec. Sec.—Miss Mary E. Mauck; Cor. Sec.—Miss Ada E. Eisenhuth; Treasurer—Adolph Miller; Organist—Miss Cora V. Kreamer. The society begins with sixty members and is increasing. The objects of the society are the cultivation of a missionary spirit and the collection of funds, and the social, literary and religious culture of its members. The society meets on the second Monday evening of each month in the Evangelical church. Every member is expected to contribute monthly according to ability. After the society gets into good working order they expect to have free public entertainments every three months, consisting of essays, declamations, music, &c.

A BUSY PLACE.—One of the busiest places in Penna Valley is the MILLHEIM MARBLE WORKS. Fine monuments and elegant head stones are made in the best style of the art and in quick succession. The establishment has earned a reputation for good work and fair dealings second to none in this part of the state, and has a wide spread and increasing patronage.

PARSONAGE VISITATION.—During the last fortnight there have been occasional visits made at the Reformed parsonage, at Aaronburg, and packages and groaning baskets have found their way into the kitchen and pantry, to be emptied of their contents, reminding the inmates very forcibly that, after all, they were not angels, but might like the rest of mortals, make good use of the solid comforts of life. And to crown all, a regular invasion by a basket army was made upon the parsonage on last Saturday, in broad day light, while the pastor and his wife had been lured to the other end of town to take dinner. On their return home they found the main apartments of the house in possession of this unceremonious host, guarding two tables loaded with useful articles, too numerous to mention. The whole party looked very serious indeed, and withal as innocent as possible; but we thought we noticed a good deal of merriment and roguishness lurking behind the disguise, as we entered. No doubt they rather enjoyed our confusion and awkward movements. So it goes: there seems no end to this trouble; but our only trouble this time was to find suitable room and store away the flour, potatoes and apples, the butter, eggs, lard and ham; the sugar, coffee & fruit; the dry goods, hardware, &c. There were a few little packages, (and who does not know that these sometimes contain the most precious things,) which almost escaped our notice. There was no difficulty in finding room for the contents of these latter,—there is always room left in a preacher's purse. We have received lately from different members of the charge, in a more private way, some of these little packages which are so handy to take along.

Now for all these generous gifts, large and small, which we can assure all supply a pressing want, we feel very grateful, and return our sincerest thanks. And may the good Lord of heaven and earth, whose stewards they are, multiply to these donors twofold of his temporal and spiritual blessings, is the prayer of The pastor & his wife. —For reasons satisfactory to us, but which are not proper to state here, we will not reply to the unwarranted and far-fetched attack which a certain Millheim lady made on us in a communication to the Centre Reporter of last week. We have lived here for nearly thirty-nine years, every one ought to know us, and we are willing that our character and reputation shall take care of themselves "Reden ist Silber Schweigen ist Gold."

—The Bellefonte Democrat gives the following pointed article on the vulgar but common vice of profanity. It is a fit word in season and there are other places than Bellefonte that might profit by the admonition: An exchange says that under the Act of 1794, any person is liable to arrest for profane swearing. The fine is 50 cents for every profane oath. Now, there are great efforts being made to suppress the liquor traffic and vice generally, but we do not hear of any arrests for violations of this law. There is scarcely an evening but profane swearing is indulged in by half grown boys standing on the corners and squirting tobacco juice on the pavements. No one seems to molest them, and yet the practice is one of the most senseless, and at the same time degrading, that we know of. The poor man who inflames himself with lightning is to be pitied, but the man who in his sober senses takes God's Holy Name in vain is wholly destitute of those ennobling traits which constitute the true christian gentleman, and his society should be shunned by all who have respect for themselves and morality. If every young man especially, in Bellefonte, was fined for using profane language it would amount to a good round sum in the course of a year, for we must confess the practice is not exceptional; it is entirely too general. The infidel does not profane God's Holy Name, because he does not believe in God, and because it is shameful for one who professes to believe in Him to do so. The practice should be broken up and the only way we know of to do so, is to enforce the law.

—Those of our subscribers who change their post office addresses by removing to other places will please notify us of the fact.

PICTORIAL ILLUSTRATIONS.—The usefulness of pictures in a general way is seen by comparing the keenness of observation the general intelligence, the accuracy of knowledge exhibited by children brought up in the midst of an abundance of wholesome illustrated literature, with the comparative dullness of vision and narrowness of information shown by those who have not been so privileged. The foregoing which we take from the "Canada School Journal," truthfully applies to the 3000 illustrations in Webster's Unabridged Dictionary, in which more than 340 words and terms are illustrated and defined under the following words: Beef, Boiler, Ostrich, Ostrich, Eye, Horse, Moldings, Phenology, Kavelin, Ships, Steam Engine, Timbers, as may be seen by examining the Dictionary.

News Miscellany.

A Dwelling House that Ran Away.

From the Territorial Enterprise. C. L. Johnson's house is situated at the foot of a high bank of Russian river, near Cuffy's Cove, Cal. On Saturday last, while Mrs. Johnson, her boy and a cook were in the house, the high bluff behind the house slid down, carrying the house into the middle of the river and overturning it. The house was choked with water and the three within were drowned. Mrs. Johnson was twenty six years of age and had been married about two years.

Virginia City (New) Enterprise, Feb. 8. A CHINESE POW-WOW.—The Chinese had a grand New Year's pow-wow in their temple in this city yesterday afternoon. Their big god, decked in all the finery of tinsel and gilt paper was mounted behind the altar, on which were smoking roast pigs and burning candles. Worshipers were constantly coming in, saying their prayers, making their bows, contributing their "cash" and passing out. There were no regular services, or rather the services, in the shape of music by a band of men armed with fiddles, drums and gongs went right along. The Celestials all said it was "belly good;" give "plenty good luck next year."

Two Double Funerals in one Family.

The scarlet fever continues its terrible ravages among children in various localities. Last week Mr. Adam Bohn, of Wernersville, Berks county, had a family of four interesting children. Two of the little ones became suddenly ill with scarlet fever, died on the same day, and were buried in one grave. Within a few days the remaining two children were smitten with the same disease, died within a few hours of each other, and were buried together on Sunday last.

A FAT BOY'S DEATH.

David Navarro, Who Weighed 730 Pounds, Succumbs to the Small-Pox. PITTSBURG, March 7. David Navarro, the fat boy who was on exhibition at a museum in this city for weeks, died at the Municipal Hospital this morning. The boy's parents refused to have him vaccinated on February 26 and he contracted the small-pox from an attendant at the museum, from which he died. Navarro was born in Rochelle, Ill., June 22 1861. He weighed seven and three-quarters pounds when he was born and seven hundred thirty pounds before death. His measurement was ninety-seven inches around the waist; around the chest, seventy-five inches; thigh, fifty-seven inches; neck, twenty-four inches. Navarro was on exhibition all over the country. He had handsome features and "as a pet of the ladies. He received fifty dollars per week. Some weeks ago Miss Lizzie Glendenning, of Allegheny, fell violently in love with David and the fat boy reciprocated her affections. They were to be married shortly. His sweetheart spent Sunday with him. David was buried to-day. His coffin was six feet eight inches long, three feet wide and two feet two inches deep.

What Comes of Playing Ghost.

A few nights ago Henry Waters, a youth, whose home is near Youngstown, Ohio, was aroused from his sleep by something in the room. He sat bolt upright in bed. The moon shone through a window, and as young Waters looked towards the light he saw a tall figure in ghostly attire slowly approaching. He spoke, but the ghost made no reply. Then he grasped his revolver, and thus armed and thus emboldened said: "If you're a man I hurt you; if you're a ghost this won't kill you." He pulled the trigger and the report came, but as with quick motion the ghost lifted up an arm Waters heard the bullet rebound against the headboard of the bed. This sent a cold chill through the youth, but he discharged his revolver again and again, and then, wild with fear, hurled at the intruder. At that moment the ghost threw off his disguise, several other parties to the joke came laughing in and lights were struck. The merry-makers had drawn the bullets from the pistol, leaving enough powder to make a report, and at each discharge the play-ghost had thrown a bullet against the headboard. All this the practical jokers expected Waters to enjoy, as he was a jovial fellow, but they found him first dazed, then incoherent, then raving—as his parents fear, a maniac.

POLICY HOLDERS ALARMED

A New and Interesting Phase of the Graveyard Insurance Business.

READING, March 9.—Quite an excitement prevails in graveyard insurance circles in eastern Pennsylvania, owing to the fact that a large number of suits are to be entered against policy holders in the defunct mutual aid companies that have recently appointed receivers. Receiver McCarrroll, of the defunct World company, of Lebanon, is going to sue all responsible policy holders who failed to pay their assessments on deaths prior to the failure of the company. It is intended that the assessments shall be collected under the contract entered into between the company and the assured, and accepted by the assignee of the policy when taking the same. It is believed that McCarrroll has the sanction of the highest legal authority in the state, and that this example will be speedily followed by his contemporaries in charge of the other defunct associations. If this can be done there will be a very lively scramble among policy holders all over the state.
