WAR ON SENATOR CAMERON

Senator Mitchell Captured by the Indepenpent Republicans.

PRILADELPHIA, April 22.-Senator Mitchell's alliance with the anti-Cameron republicans is thought to have been completed to-day, when he met twentyfour out-and-out republicans at a conference that lasted four hours. Wolfe, the leader of last year's revolt: Representative McKee, chairman of the independent state committee; F. B. Reeves and many other members of the Philadelphia committee of one hundred were active participants. The burden of the talk, which at times was marked by vehemence, was that unless the republicans cease to uphold the spoils system all the thinking republicans in the state will desert it. The civil service spokesman was Henry C. Les, but all the speeches were against any compromise with Cameron. The capture of Mitchell was deemed complete when he was induced to appoint Wolfe, Mc-Kee, John W. Lee, Barker and Reeves a committee to confer with the Cameron men, for it is recognized that every member of this committee is bitter in his hatred of Cameron and itching to hit him a hard blow. Though Mitchell railed at spoilsmen and affected to hope for peaceful adjustment of faction troubles, his appointment of a fullfledged independent committee is generally believed to indicate his surrender to those whom he met to-day. Democrats are satisfied that by to-day's work the breach between the factions is Vest Pocket States.

From the Philadelphia Ledger (Ind.)

It is recommended by a congressional committee that Washington territory shall be admitted into the Union as a state, and that a part of Dakota shall people as the Nineteenth and Thirty-The whole of Dakota at the same pe-Thirty-first wards of this city. Yet each of these pocket states is to have two senators, and the two inchoate states are to be placed on "equal footing" with the states of New York and Pennsylvania, with nine and a quarter million people. There was a time when acquiescence in that kind of inequality was a necessity in the formation of the Union. It was tolerable then, but is not now. If Washington territory shall be admitted, 25,000 voters there will be entitled to one electoral vote in Pennsylvania. In the same way 45,000 voters more or less in Dakota are equal to 142.000 in our state. The pocket state of Colorado, with its three electoral votes, cast by its legislature at that,

THE Republicans of Union county TREASURER'S SALE OF UNSEATED are usually a happy family and always have things their own way as against the wicked Democrats. But just now they have their own troubles. At a recent meeting of the county committee, the chairman, Mr. John V. Miller, took matters pretty much into his own hands, and by arbitrary and unreason- p. m.: abl decisions shaped the result of the meeting favorable to stalwartism. Dr. Brown and J Merrill Linn were elected representative and senatorial delegates 100 respectively. > Fearful Cyclone in Fayette County.

PITTSBURG, April 21.-Further reports to-day show that the cyclone in Fayette county yesterday crossed southwest to the Pennsylvania Road and destroyed timber and trees on the Wilson, Boyle and Playford farms. It uproofed the "Disciple Church" and otherwise seriously damaged it. On the Mount Pleasent Road the house of a widow named Miller was demolished and her barn carried so far that it has not yet been found. W. C. Lyon's property was also damaged to the amount of \$1,000. John S. Detwiller's barn was unroofed and his house badly damaged, as was also the house, barn 433 and orchard of G. D. Atkinson, half a mile further on. E. Heminger and H. S. Fretz suffered similar lesses. The 433 elements seemed to gather strength as the stormed traveled on. Before it reached Mounts creek it took an easterly course, and here the deadliest work began. John Bundorff's house was the first to succumb. Strange to relate, the lower story of the house was swept 415 instantly away and the uper portion came tumbling down. Mr. Bundorff was outside and when 413 he saw the storm approaching he $\begin{vmatrix} 415\\415 \end{vmatrix}$ sought shelter inside. He was, however, which was a sought shelter inside. He was, however, which was a sought shelter inside. He relates that rails, rubbish and timber could be seen flying through the air as if they came from the clouds. Mr. Bundorff was struck by one of thes missiles just below the small of the back. It penetrated an artery and it is feared the wound is fatal. Joseph Glassburn's house was utterly destroyed, as was also his barn. The last he saw of the roof of the latter it was going up the mountain at lightning speed. Nothing was left standing on his farm. Mr. Glassburn's wife and ive of the children are badly huit. A half mile from Glassburn's the storm struck the house of John Wingrove. He was about 500 yards from his home, driving thither a load of oats. He leaped from the wagon and ran toward his house. Fifty yards from the house his wife lay dead, with her babe of eleven months clasped tightly to her bosom. She had seized her youngest! born at the instant the storm struck the building and had been hurled so far that the violence deprived her of 460 life. The babe was unharmed.

The last point in the track, so far as can be ascertained, was two miles beyond Stauffer's at Himan Hozopsnider's whose house was carried away. Whether the tornado spent itself or went over the mountain it is impossible to state.
