

Local Department.

Fine growing weather. Mr. R. B. Hartman is roofing and otherwise improving his house. Guess he will paint it too.

Rev. W. W. Criley has declined the call to Carlisle and stays at Lewisburg.

The citizens of Bellefonte gave Gen. Beaver a grand oration on his return home the other Saturday evening.

An exchange hopes that the time will yet come when members of a church choir will be expected to behave just like other people.

FASHIONABLE DRESS CUTTING.—Miss Alice R. Bollinger, of Aaronsburg, will give instructions in dress cutting according to the most approved rules. Her long experience in the business enables her to give full satisfaction. Terms moderate.

NOT NEIGHBORLY.—"Mr. Smith, father would like to borrow your paper; he only wants to read it." "Well go back and tell your father to send me his supper. Tell him I only want to eat it."

A GOOD DOSE.—A Kentuckian who refused to stop his loud profanity on the platform of a railroad car in Lexington, was arrested, locked up and subjected to a fine and costs amounting to $35.10.

Mrs. Lydia S. Gatelius, wife of Dr. C. H. Gatelius, who departed this life at her home in Millburg on the 14th inst., kindly remembered her pastor, Rev. A. C. Whitmer, of the Reformed church, by a bequest of $100.

J. A. Lambert, the mail contractor on the route between Coburn and Woodward, is prepared to carry express packages and other goods to all points along the route at reasonable charges. All business entrusted to him will be punctually attended to.

WANTED.—The undersigned wishes to secure a man who will either rent his blacksmith shop, two miles west of Woodward, and carry on the business, or work for him as a hand. For particulars apply to J. M. WEAVER.

No better place to buy boots and shoes in the county than Doll & Mingle's, in Bellefonte. They sell a lady's dress shoe for $2.00; a fine button walking shoe for $1.00; carpet slippers for 25 cents; men's brogans for $1.00, and others in proportion. Try Doll & Mingle's shoes.

Last Friday three murderers were hanged: Augustus D. Leighton, in New York, for murdering Mary Dean; Stephen G. Eppler, at Marion, N. C., for wife murder; W. W. Rea, at Pulaski, Tenn. Rea tried to cheat the gallows by taking poison but did not succeed.

The auction sale of the estate of John D. Foote, deceased, on Friday and Saturday, was well attended and the goods sold brought fair average prices. Next Saturday a fine lot of stoves, heaters, plows, cellar crates, stove crates, wagon boxes, as well as store goods will be offered. All are invited.

H. H. TOMLINSON is now prepared to sell anything in the mercantile line, as cheap as can be bought in the county. Give him a call and be convinced. Goods received daily, always new and fresh.

On Wednesday afternoon the 17th inst. the Woodward Distillery was entirely consumed by fire. There was no one in the building at the time and it is not known how the fire originated. It was discovered at about 3 o'clock, but had already made such headway as to render fruitless all efforts to save the distillery building. The bonded warehouse and large hog pen, close by, remain. N. E. Eby & Co. the distillers, lose about $500, but the owners, Messrs. Albright & Reber, lose heavily, although we did not hear any definite amount stated. We understand that neither party had any insurance.

The Central Mfg. Co. of Lewisburg are doing an immense business this year. They have been in business for twenty-two years and are building more machines than ever before. The Buckeye mowers, so well known in this county, is still kept at the head of the list. The Bates Harvester introduced in 1880 at once took the lead, the sale in our county being 2 in '80, 6 in '81 and 46 last year. Their agents in this county, Jno. DeLong & S. Strohecker, sold last year 49 machines. Farmers should remember that these machines are not yankee grimcracks, but made on the line of our railroad. The shops can be reached twice a day, making it very convenient for repairs. Their machines are all put out on their merits, warranted durable, well made, of good material and run light, and as the record proves will outlast any other machine in the market. Machines built by this company 22 years ago are still running in this county.

The improvement infection that now rages so fearfully here has at last caught our sedate friend Walter. Huge piles of stone in front of his residence indicate plainly that he intends to build something solid and substantial—and we hope beautiful as well. Just what it will be the quiet well-poised cashier has not yet stated. Time will tell.

The Millheim Marble Works just now present a very fine appearance. The stock on hand is well selected, full and complete. A splendid line of monuments, couches and head stones to select from, and sold at prices that can not be undersold anywhere. Many years of experience in the business enables the proprietors to suit the wishes of the people exactly, and they will do all they can to maintain the high standing of the Millheim Marble Works.

SQUAW CORN.—On his recent visit to the Seneca Cornplanter Reservations the Indians gave Rev. R. Crittenden a few ears of what is called "Squaw Corn." It is said to be a little earlier than the common sweet corn and an excellent variety for table use, as well as a forage plant, having an abundant growth of leaves.

Mr. Crittenden says, "Any member of any Sunday School in Centre county can have enough seed for three or four hills by sending two three cent stamps to pay postage and postage, or ten cents for mission use, to Miss Jennie Crittenden, Bellefonte, Pa. We hope at least some of our Millheim Sunday School boys and girls will manifest enough missionary spirit to invest the few cents.

THE ROYCE REAPER.—Mr. Lem. Campbell, who has recently become a resident of Sunbury, is general agent for the sale of the Royce Reaper, one of the popular machines of the day, manufactured by L. Sweet & Co., at Wellsville, N. Y. As an indication of the increasing popularity of these machines we will state that Mr. Campbell took the agency for them in this neighborhood in 1879, in which year he sold 24 of them; in 1880 his sales amounted to 52 and in '81 the number he handled ran up to 128, an increase of over one hundred per cent. each year. He has orders already for over 100 this season, and will no doubt double that number before harvest. We doubt whether any other machine can show an equal increase in popularity in the same length of time. This may be attributed to the excellent qualities of the Royce Reaper, it being of the lightest draught and is the easiest handled machine in the market, and as to durability it is unexcelled. He is also selling the best mowers in the market, together with rakes and a general variety of agricultural implements.

BOLD BURGLARY.—On last Friday night a bold burglary was attempted upon Mr. David Krape, the President of the Millheim Banking Company. Mr. Krape resides about three miles east of Aaronsburg, some distance north of the pike. It was long after midnight that the burglars visited the house. They first went up stairs and securely fastened the door of Mr. Krape's room, making him a prisoner, and then commenced operations on the safe below. They had already drilled and charged it with powder, ready to explode, when for some cause they became frightened and made a hasty retreat. This was the condition of things as Mr. Krape found it in the morning when he was released from his room by a neighbor. No clue has yet developed as to who the burglars were.

Mr. Lewis of the Philadelphia Branch Clothing Store at Bellefonte, has given away hundreds of whips but the demand still continues; and the same may be said of his immense and excellent stock of clothing and gent's furnishing goods. Mr. Lewis understands his business thoroughly—knows how to buy and how to sell—knows exactly what the people want—and last but not least, he knows that free, judicious advertising pays, and that he enjoys the full benefit of printers ink.

Last week we had the pleasure of a call by two of our editorial brethren from Bellefonte, Mr. Tuten, of the Republican and Mr. VanOrmer, of the Democrat. Recse, who is one of our own boys, is known by everybody here. He looks well and happy, and reports himself comfortable and satisfied in his new vocation. When he had us alone, away from the rest of the company, he said something about "getting married," but for the life of us we can't remember the exact words and will therefore say no more about it, lest we state something not strictly true, which is not our fashion as all the world knows.

Mr. Tuten is not much acquainted with our people. His wicked politics and Yankee prejudices keep him a stranger to us. Yet he is a full sized gentleman for all that, social and generous as anyone could wish. Call again.

The corner stone of the Lutheran church at Zion, was laid with the usual ceremonies on last Sabbath. The services were held in the Presbyterian church. The Pastor, Rev. C. W. Seerist, was assisted by Revs. W. H. Dyon, S. E. Furst and John Tomlinson. A collection was lifted amounting to about $300.

Zion is located in a beautiful part of Nittany Valley, and the new church to be erected will stand at a very suitable place. It will be an honor to those erecting it. Pastor and people have entered upon the work in good earnest and have great reason to be encouraged.

SPRING MILLS ITEMS.

Mr. Henry Kraumire has the foundation walls up for his new house.

James Grove, of Zeigleville, Mifflin county, bought a lot from J. J. Grenoble, and will put up a tony house this summer.

The Farmer's Mills Cornet Band now have one of the finest wagons in the state, and the boys are very proud of it.

The grand opening of the Spring Mills House came off at the specified time and was largely attended. Everything passed off pleasantly barring a little fuss by a drunken rowdy from Centre Hall, who got himself effectually squelched and cleaned out. The press was well represented by Mr. Tuten, of the Republican, Mr. VanOrmer, of the Democrat, and a reporter for the Horriburg Patriot and Philadelphia Press. The music by Prof. J. W. Reitmeyer and troupe, and the Farmers' Mills Cornet Band, was excellent. The opening was a complete success and speaks well of the manager, Mr. Geo. B. Nash.

Decoration Day will be celebrated here. The Spring Mills Veteran Club and Sabba'th Schools will participate in the so-called festivities. How vividly do these annual occasions bring back to our memories the days that tried men's souls, when side by side we stood on the bloody field of battle with those who now sleep the long sleep of death beneath the sod of the valley, while the chirping of the beautiful birds unite with the soft and perfumed zephyrs of spring, to sing a requiem over their honored graves.

SAM PATCH.

Supreme Court Decision.

THE STREAM MUST FLOW IN THE OLD WAY.

In Clinton county flows a stream along Nittany Valley known as Fishing creek. Years ago the stream lost itself in sinks on the farm which now belongs to Jacob Heltman. Before Heltman bought the farm an owner of olden times caused a channel to be made around the sinks, so that the stream might flow on and be of some use to the valley. It seems that in 1878 Mr. Heltman conceived an idea that by diverting the course of the stream he could make it of greater profit to mills in an opposite direction. The water was turned around the sinks and, as a consequence, the old artificial channel became dry, as did also the spring belonging to James H. Porter. On several occasions Mr. Porter broke the dams so that the water might continue to flow in its old channel. Finally he entered suit against Heltman, asking that he be restrained from obstructing or damming the old channel. The lower Court decided in his favor, but Heltman appealed to the Supreme Court, who affirmed the judgement of the lower court.

GUITEAU'S VAIN APPEAL.

The Court in Banc Sustains the Judgment of the Court Below.

By Telegraph to the Patriot. WASHINGTON, May 12.—The decision of the court in banc affirming the decision of the court below in the Guiteau case attracted little attention. The counsel for the government and Guiteau were in attendance, and the usual crowd of curious spectators. Mr. Reed, Guiteau's counsel, is expected to either apply for a writ de lunatico inquirendo, or to a justice of the United States supreme court, for a writ of habeas corpus.

The News Conveyed to Guiteau. Mr. Reed, Guiteau's counsel, immediately after the decision was announced, went to the jail to see his client. What Mr. Reed proposes to do he does not yet say. The death watch will be immediately set, and Guiteau will be kept in close confinement till June 30 unless Reed succeeds in securing some restraining order from the United States Supreme Court, or the President shall grant a respite.

The Assassin Indifferent. Guiteau received the decision with indifference. He has asked his counsel what is to be done next. Mr. Reed will apply to a justice of the United States Supreme Court for a writ of habeas corpus. This, of course, cannot be granted, as the court has adjourned until October, but if the justice should endorse on the application, after hearing, that he thought good cause for granting the writ was shown, Mr. Reed would apply to President Arthur for a respite until the court could hear the argument on the writ in October. Meanwhile the president will be deluged with petitions for a pardon.

GUITEAU HEARD FROM.

He Wants the Officials Who Hang Him to Understand That They Will Suffer.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Guiteau has addressed the following letter to the Star for publication: "I tell the American people and its officials, from the Executive down to the court in banc, who are reviewing my case, that I tell the truth, and lie not," when I say I am God's man in the matter of President Garfield's removal, and that if a hair of my head is harmed the Almighty will make the officials that do it suffer for it. If I was outside I would lecture, under the auspices of some bureau, on religious subjects. One of my subjects would be "Paul the Apostle," and kindred topics. If my time has come to leave this world I am willing, but I want the officials that murder me on the gallows to understand the issue. If they murder me they will incur the wrath of the Almighty God, and it will be a long time before He lets up on them and this nation. The devils that crucified the despised Galilean thought that they were doing God's service, but that did not release them from liability. They and their nation incurred the wrath of the Almighty by that act, and he got even with them at the destruction of Jerusalem, and he will get even with this nation and the officials if I am murdered on the gallows. I want an unconditional pardon or nothing, and I want the Executive to so understand it. I have set forth my views fully on this in my book, "The Truth and the Removal." If the honorable jurists representing the Washington court in banc decide this case according to the law there is only one decision they can make, and that is that they have no jurisdiction. If they decide contrary to the law the matter will rest with President Arthur, and they will have incurred the wrath of Almighty God."

The Capitol of the State of New York was expected to cost four million dollars. Thus far it has cost thirteen million, and when finished will probably have reached twenty million. And, most of all, when finished, at five times the proposed original cost, it is a debatable question whether or not the stone ceiling in the legislative hall will stand, or suddenly fall and catch the whole legislative body while some noisy member may be airing his eloquence.
