. The Philadelphia Times is getting impatient in trying to explain to some of its readers for the twentieth time what a Congressman-at-Large tervals through the large procession, is. The Times is much at fault in adhering sternly to one and the same explanation throughout. Why not give a variety in definition, a la Webster, and let each "constant reader" adapt the one best suited of the many and extensive strikes to his taste? For example:

CONGRESSMAN-AT-LNRGE, a large congressman, i. e. of large and hand some person, large abilities, large experience, large patriotism, liberal views and broad sympathies. Just such a congressman like the Hon. A G. Curtin.

1. A member of congress let loose like a wild beast that has escaped its eage and broken away from its keeper. terrorizing entire communities, like the monster snake near Minersville, or the wild hogs of New Jersey.

2. A kind of surplus member, who fancies that he represents an entire state in a general way but no fixed district in particular. In Pennsylvania it means the twenty-eighth man out of twenty-seven. This absurd state of affairs is all the fault of Governor Hoyt, who is too blunt to see that we are entitled to twenty-eight members and have only twenty-seven districts. Moreover he stupidly refuses to call together the legislature in extra session, who would cheerfully remedy the great evil and perform sundry other valuable services besides. What is a Gevernor good for?

CHAIRMAN BOGERT has completed arrangements with the Pennsylvania, the Reading and Lehigh Valley Railroads for half-fare tickets for delegates to the Democratic State cution. King said, when he was about Convention. Those entitled to the commutation in fares can upon application to Mr. Bogert receive orders to the local agents, which will secure them:

The Philadelphia Press now looks to Gov. Hoyt as the political Moses to help the discordant party out of the desert. He is asked to call an entirely new state convention which is to join and fit the broken fragthe market to make it all stick.

Senator Anthony was re-elected to the U.S. Senate from Rhode Is-

The Independent Republicans opened the campaign at a lively rate at Pittsburg, on Tuesday evening the 13th instant. A large and enthusiastic meeting was held, over which the Hon. J. K. Moorhead presided. Senator John Stewart, candidate for Covernor, Ccl. Duff, candidate for Lieutenant Governor, and Col. McMichael, candidate for Congressman-at-Large, were present and made ringing speeches. Especially did M1. Stewart's speech elicit popular sympathy and enthusiastic applause. We will quote but one of the senator's many telling points:

Please explain, if you can, the sincerity or consistency of a convention which would adopt such a civil service platform as that adopted at Harrisburg and at the same time appland an administration which deals in "practical politics" only. But that is not all; within a week after the adjournment of the convention our senior Senator showed his faith in its platform by pressing to a confirmation the suspended appointments and starting the guilletine afresh. Nor is this all; ten days age, in the city of Harrisburg, my dis-tinguished competitor, General Beaver, the nominee of the Harrisburg Convention, in a public speech, as if to show that he had independence, too, and an honesty and candor of speech superior to the men who nominated him, boldly declared that the civil service was "wisely administered." The convention which nominated him declared it was not wisely administered. [Laughter and cheers.] It saw abuses. General Beaver sees none. It declared reform; General Beaver can find nothing to reform. It declared that public offices must not be used for personal political ends; General Beaver holds otherwise, and sees with perfect and absolute satisfaction the patronage of an administration and the spoils of office given to a political boss, to place where they will do the most good, not for the public, but to sustain and support an autocratic power upon which my distinguished friend has relied too much for his own promotion. [Great applause. I

The lobor men had a monster demonstration at Pittsburg on Saturday. Large delegations from Wheeling, Steubenville, Mansfield, Midway and other places, attended. A procession was formed in the afternoon and it is estimated that fully: 0,000 men were in ranks, representing some eighty different labor organizations. These were largely composed of the "strikers," who have quit work and ask for higher wages. Bands of music and banners with a variety of mottoes and devices. for example a Skeleton, "In God we Trust," "Give us this day our daily tread," "United action will banish cheap labor," were distributed at in which was an hour and a half in passing a given point. Good order prevailed and no forbearanca of any kind ocimposing demonstration does not appear very clearly, and what theout come throughout the entire country will be remains to be seen. They are very unfortunate at best, and at this particular time when there is a general shrinkage in business all over the country, they are both unseasonable and unwise. At least such is the universal opinion of conservative men.

News Miscellany.

A Wild Man on the California Coast.

From the San Francisco Chronicle.

While hunting for deserters from a ship at Guaymas, a few days ago, the searchers discovered a man covered from head to foot with long shaggy hair, of a redish color. On their approaching him he commenced to run, and they chased him, followed him for a distance of a mile or more to the beach, where he jumped from rock to rock with the agility of a chamois and was soon lost to sight behind a jutting point. They afterward discovered the cave which he inhabits, the floor being covered with skins, and the indications were that he subsisted entirely upon law fish. Organized offorts wil be made to capture hin.

LAWRENCE, Kan., June 11 .- Peter Vineyard, Geo. Rosinson and Ike King all colored, were taken from jail here yesterday morning, at 1 o'clock, by a crowd of vigilants, and hanged from the bridge. Robinson pleaded for his life and fell on his knees three times while being taken to the point of exeto drop: "Boys, let me down easy." The men beyond said: "Did you let Bausman down easy?" The necks of Vineyard and Robinson were broken, but King's was not. Vineyard had his life insured for $5000. The crime for which these three men were thus summarily punished was the murder of David Bausman, of Southern Ohio, a welltc-do farmer. Bausman came here about a week ago on a visit to relatives in the country, became intoxicated and was lured to the river bank by a degraded daughter of Vineyard, where ments of the party together. There the three murdered and robbed the is hardly enough prepared glue in victim. All confessed their guilt after

STIRKING ADVENTURE.

Business caused W. L. Renfoe, who lives on Rocky creek, near Dublin, Georgia, to be out late on Saturday night, the 3rd inst. As he was riding in the moo nlight along the creek, with the rump of his horse like a flail in the hands of Samson. The horse sprang upward and the astonished rider was thrown against a fence, Mr. Renfoe turned towards his assailant to see an enormous alligator with head up and jaws widely distended. Though it was midnight the moon was at the zerith and objects were outlined almost as clearly as if it had been noon. Rentoe thought himself gone. In imagination he could feel his body confined in the saurian's pauch, and only by a strong effort resisted the strange impulse of leaping into the beast's mouth, the charm being of the kind that draw one to drop from the masthead. Recovering his feet and self-posession at the same instant the man lunged at the alligator with a fencerail. The rail went into the animal's throat, but was broken like a pipe-stem. Renfree shouted for help, and while waiting for some one to come used other fence-rails to parry alligator's lungs, which, for some reason then unkown, were not as tiercely made as was expected. When his weapons came Renfroe shot the beast twelve times with a revolver, four times with a shotgun and ended the battle with a broad-axe. The alligator had broken its tail when it struck the horse, which was killed. If the assailant had not been crippled by its own blow, as Renfroe thinks, the man might have shared the fate of the horse. The alligator was exhibited to crowds of curious persons in Dublin during last week. The scales showed his weight to be 300 pounds.

The President and Sergeant Mason's Case.

WASHINGTON, June 16 .- Mr. J. G. Bigelow, counsel for Sergeant Mason, visited the White House to-day and submitted for the President's inspectoin a review of the case of his client and his reasons for believeing that the sentence of the court-martial is void. Private Secretary Philips promised to lay the matter before the President at the earliest opportunity and assured Mr. Bigelow that it would receive due consideration.
