Pattison Speaks.

Mr. Pattison made his first speech in the present campaign in the rooms of the Commonwealch Club House Philadelphia, on Tuesday evening the 19th. The five Democratic can. didates for state offices-Pattison, Black, Clark, Africa and Elliott. were all present. Some four hundred prominent Democrats from the city and other parts of the state had assembled together for the pleasant and interesting occasion. It was not intended as a mass meeting in the popular sense of the term, Senator Eckley B Coxe, on be half of the Club, made the address of welcome to the candidates to which Mr. Pattison responded in just such a speech as the voters of Pennsylvania are glad to hear from a candidate for Governor. Mr. Pattison made no labored attempt to be brilliant, did not expand on glittering generalities nor promise improbable things, but spoke plain. practical common sense such as the masses can well understand and most desire. He gave abundant strong one throughout. proof that he is entirely familiar and Preaching in Aaronsburg next Sunday after indentified with the interests and wants of the people, and that he is a safe man to elect as chief executive of a great commonwealth.

Mr. Pattison's Speech.

MR. PRES: DENT AND GENTLEMEN: I thank the Commo nwealth Club for this tribute to the State candid ates. I am glad to be present at a reception tendered by an association which, as I understand, had its origin in the desire to assist in placing the Democratic party in Philadelphia in accord with the popular demand for administrative reform and the purification of the public service. My engagements as a public official have made it impossible for me to embrace the many opportunities hitherto presented for meeting the people throughout the State. I do not mean to neglect the duties of one office for the purpose of being elevated to I cannot resist the feeling of diffidence when I contemplate the importance of the responsible office for which I have been named. The reflection which I have given to the subject has strengthened my convictions of the magnitude of the trust imposed upon the Executive of the Commonwealth. The people, by their constitution, have commanded that he 'shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed." This injunction carries with it a weight of meaning that grows in importance with attentive consideration. It means more than that the Governor shall be a mere automator to sign his name to acts of legislation. nominate men to office and draw his yearly salary. The Constitution invests him with the highest and gravest responsibilities. By his ve to, if faithfully and firmly exercised, the Governor is a cheek upon hasty, extravagant and perniclous legislation. He has the right to require an account of their stewardship from the heads of all the executive departments. The Treas. urer, who is the custodian of the people's money; the Auditor General, who is the chief accounting officer of the Commonwealth and the inspector of every draft drawn against the treasury; the Secretary of Internal corporawho has a general supervisiness and material tions of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, the Secretary of the Commonwealth-all are subject to the inquisition of the Chief Magistrate of the people charged with the faithful execution of the law. The just execution of the criminal law, also, is in his keeping. By the inordinate exercise of executive elemency the prison doors may be opened and the transgressors of the law allowed to escape just punishment. It is a mistake to suppose that the favorable decision of the Pardon Board is conclusive upon the Executive. The recommendations of that board are adviso. ry merely. By the fund amental law the final power to grant pardons is vested in the Governor, who alone is responsible for the exercise of this grave duty.

that, in my judgement, the issues of the coming election are confined within the corners of our State, Between Lake Erie and the Delaware and from the Northern Tier to the South ern border is to be found the reason for every question ligitimately intering into the contest. Any attempt to import issues is an effort to detract public attention from the real questions involved in the campaign. This occasion would justify me in making a lengthy speech It may be fitting, however, that I briefly state one or two thoughts upon matters that impress me as important for present public considera-

One of the gravest evils in our political sys tem is the low estimate of duty held by public functionaries. This arises from their failure to recognize this fundamental idea of our govern ment: That a public office is a public trust, to be executed for the benefit of the whole people, to whom alone officials owe responsibility and of whose will they should be the faithful exponents. When this conception of duty is lost sight of or modified, the way is open for an immediate, certain and constant degeneracy of the public service. A merely mechanical and negligent performannee of official functions follows the obliteration of these standards of duty This results from the long continuance in power of selfish political leaders, and a most serious evil in the public service. No one can estimate the injury and loss the people suffer from this cause alone.

There is a widespread discontent at what is forcibly called "boss" government. This is not without reason. Popular discontent has generally good cause, for the people bave no advantage in unnecessary agitation and disorder. The great evil of "boss government is that the interests of the official is made inimical to faithful public service. His interest is not on the side of fidelity to the public weal, but on that of abject obedience to the orders of the 'machine"-and he follows his interest.

A wise economy must be enforced in the pub lic expense. Profuse expenditure by government is not only burdensome in itself, but generates in officials a spirit of profligacy which permeates even private life. Extravagance breeds extravagance. Every useless expenditure creates an excuse, if it does not cause a necessity for further waste. This is true in many ways not always perceptible to the pub lie, but which becomes apparent upon an in vestigation of systems. Peculation may be gross but can be detected. Mere financial extravagance can be measured and corrected. The usual and ordinary "leaks" at last discover themselves and can be stopped. But there is a profligacy that invades systems, that is wrapped up in statutes, that has the protection of law and the warrants of long usage. It is the growth of years, has been line upon line written into your legislation, represents the concentrated ingenuity of a succession of public plunderers for Covernor by the Demcrats of and extends from the highest department in the State to the lowest in the municipality.

which the people are yearly despoiled of milions. A serviceable politician is out of place and must be provided for-a Recorder's office is immediately created. A junto of leaders determine to pool their designs upon the treasury -a dependent Legislature inflicts a Delinquent Tax office upon the community. The "spoils" public works is designed, big enough to take in ome of the needy of both parties. The abolition of unnecessary office, the reducion of the number of public dependents, the narrowing of responsibility and economy in the public expense, constituté an urgent and practical reform. This would be a substantial benefit to the people. To lessen the cost of government lightens the burdens of labor. The authors and abettors of the evils under which the people suffer are now on their trial in this Commonwealth. After a long stewardship they lieved, too neighbor to the scene of will be judged by deeds and not, by declarations. Professions are easily made; but the people have been fed on such dry husk so long that they have resolved to determine who shall be their servants, not by what is promised for the tles, whichows it to be fifteen years future, but what has been done in the past. I again thank this organization for the kind-has afforded me of saying these brief words. THE New York Democratic state convention met at Syracuse, New York on the 21st inst., and nominated Hon. Grover Cleveland, of Buffalo, for Governor, Mayor Daniel B. Hill, of Elmira for Lieutenant Governor, Gen. Henry W. Slocum, of Brooklyn, for Congressman-at-Large, and Wm. C. Ruger, of Onandango, for Judge of the Court of Appeals. The ticket is considered a

THE bosses may be able to buy up like cattle some hundreds of corrupt Democrats in Schuvlkill and Lackawanna counties, but thousadns of honest Republicans will more than balance the loss by voting directly for Pattison. That's just how it will work.

THE Democrats of the twenty-secend congresional district (Pittsburg) did a good thing in nominating Hon James H. Hopkins for Congress. Mr. Hopkins came within one of being nominated for Governor, and that one was Robert E. Pattison.

THE Stalwart and Independent papers are fast getting real mad at each other, applying such ugly and obsolete epithets as "rebel" "traitor" and the like. Don't now gentlemen, we are ashamed of you. It is so unkind, ungentlementy and unprofessional. Besides you can not do the slightest good by blackguarding each other. Bobby Pattison will be Guvner after all the fuss and bluster you make. The Philadelphia Boy will take the chair. That's fixed-"and don't you forget it,"

In his speech at Greenville on the 18th inst., Gen Bearing ticket as hve men bawling hoarsely fer office Now that was very unkind as well as impolite in Gen. Beaver, but it must be remembered that in his constant evasion of the live, burning question before the people he is hard up for something wo sav. Instead of barsh criticism he really deserves sympathy in his pitiable dilemma.

I you have not paid a state or county tax since the 7th of November 1880, see to it that you pay such a tax on or before the I take advantage of this opportunity to say 7th of October next, else you will lose
