

BEININGER & BUMILLER, Editors and Proprietors.

Local Department.

—Mr. T. G. Erhard is down with a severe spell of sickness. Hope he may soon be restored.

—The new Evangelical church in George's Valley will be dedicated next Sunday morning.

—Excellent sleighing—and those who have sleighs and horses, time and money, are enjoying it grandly.

FOR SALE.—Rev. C. F. Deininger offers his valuable property in Millheim at private sale. For particulars inquire of H. K. Luse, on the premises.

—Prof. P. H. Meyer's singing class will hereafter meet twice a week—on Wednesday and Saturday evenings. All concerned will please take notice.

—Township and Borough elections, Tuesday, Feb. 20th, and if you want an office you had better begin to canvass in time.

—Benjamin Kerstetter, Administrator, will again offer a valuable property, situated at Coburn, at public sale, Saturday, Jan. 20th.

—The JOURNAL STORMS is keeping up a full line of Family, Pocket and Sunday School Bibles, Books of Worship with and without tunes. Albums, Paper, Envelopes and Stationery of all kinds.

—Our County Commissioners have appointed Mr. L. B. Frank, of Rebersburg, Mercantile Appraiser for this year—a capital choice. Lute is young, good-looking, active and qualified, simply a gentleman and a scholar.

—J. H. Reifsupper, Esq., Jas. C. Smith and F. D. Luse are off to Harrisburg to see Gov. Pattison properly and legally inaugurated. Hope they will make a good, solid job of it and get a good office—each of them—into the bargain.

—Ex-Sheriff Shafer and Mr. Wm. Shafer, of Snyderstown, were here on Monday to take a look at the Lutheran church. The Snydertown congregation purpose building a new church and are just now determining on size and plan.

—You are right—'tis a fact—a mackerel fact even—it is cold. But if what a certain teacher once explained to his school is true, it is still much colder up in Greenland—and that ought to be some consolation to us fellows here.

—From the best information we can gather as well as from our own observation we are happy to conclude that our schools are in a prosperous condition, although the attendance is not as full and regular as it should be. A little more reform on this line would be salutary.

—Rebersburg is fast becoming a musical town and another convention is on the tapis, to come off February 12th to 17th. Prof. J. A. Weaver will be director and the several committees who have the matter in charge are laboring hard to get everything in best shape. We wish them abundant success.

—Mr. Jackson Catherman, of Hartley township, Union, Co. recently felled an oak tree on his premises which measured 4 feet 9 inches across the stump and furnished logs aggregating 90 feet in length, the last log measuring 18 inches in diameter at the small end. The Telegraph calls it a "socket." Up here we would call it a pretty fair sapling.

—The firm of Hattraft & Brown, in Milton, recently butchered three hogs—Jumbo, Moses and Romeo—weighing respectively 933, 773 and 719 pounds. That will do to wind up the hog business for the season.

—Another. Mr. A. V. Miller, of Pleasant Gap, butchered his big porker Brag on New Years day, weighing 930 pounds.

—The firm of Dr. E. J. Deshler & Son is dissolved by mutual consent. The books and accounts are in the hands of E. J. Deshler for settlement, where all who know themselves indebted are requested to call without delay. Dr. E. J. Deshler will continue the practice of the profession.

E. J. DESHLER, J. J. DESHLER, Aaronsburg, Jan. 13, 1883.

—In looking over the jury and trial lists for January court we notice that G. W. Stover, Esq., of Penn, is on the grand jury, and Geo. W. Beam, J. A. McClintock, I. Underwood, of Gregg, James Hasel, C. L. Gramly, Frank B. Miller, of Miles, Henry Keen, of Penn and B. F. Kister and J. Spigelmeyer, of Millheim, among the traverse jurors.

The case of Centre County against the old board of County Commissioners is the first one on the list for the second week. This seems to be the one case of public interest. Those of local interest are, Rebecca Schroll vs. John W. Scholl, Mary A. Barcroft vs. Jacob McColm and others, Warren & Merritt vs. Solomon Ettinger, and last but not perhaps not least, Israel Confer vs. Abraham King. The last named parties have quite a material difference of opinion to be settled by court or jury.

—Mr. I. J. Grenoble, Spring Mill's enterprising merchant, has leased Gebhart & Musser's grain and ware house at Coburn, and will open a grain and coal business on Monday next.

—From the Bellefonte Democrat we learn that our young friend J. W. Stam, formerly of this place but now residing at Maiden Rock, Wisconsin, had a streak of luck that would be absolutely crushing to any man less hale and hearty than John. On the day before Christmas John married a young lady, answering to the beautiful name of Ella Walsingham, with a large and flourishing mercantile establishment thrown in.

We congratulate John on his luck and success—provided always he did not forget to send his printer a good, large wedding cake. That is a necessary part of good etiquette and seems to be very essential to the future happiness of a newly-married couple.

—John Luse has found his match at last. He bought himself a fiddle and fiddles away for dear life by the hour, to the annoyance of the neighbors and the dismay of all the chickens in town. John, your music is entirely too plaintive for this merry season. Play something "lusty," it would sound much better, especially on water. Give us, frinstance:

"On a Susquehanna raft I go down the bay, An' I fiddle an' I dance An' I frolic all the way, Such a getting up the stairs I never did see."

—DEININGER & MUSSER now have the largest and most complete stock of marble on hand—both in the rough and in finished work—ever brought to Centre county. At their works can be seen no less than twenty monuments, ranging in price from $14 to $200, and about two hundred head stones, plain or carved, from $3 to $75. They are prepared to suit all tastes as well as all means. They have also accepted the sole agency for the largest part of the county including Bellefonte, for the sale of the celebrated White Bronze Monuments, Head Stones Statuary, Vases, &c., manufactured by the extensive White Bronze Company, Bridgeport, Conn.

Thankful for past favors they respectfully solicit the continued confidence and patronage of the public. D. L. Zerby is their authorized soliciting and collecting agent.

—Ex-Judge Hartman, after years of gratuitous but faithful service as chairman of the hog committee, has at last resigned that high position and turned antiquarian. His first efforts have resulted in a grand triumph for himself as well as a valuable rescue for local history. Recently he unearthed—we forget how many hundred feet under ground—two old lottery tickets. The one is or was for the benefit of the Washington Monument Lottery, of Philadelphia, has a rough out of the "Father of His Country" and promises somebody $100, less 15 per cent. It is dated at Philad., Jan. 1, 1814, and signed "Hope & Co."—a significant signature.

The other ticket shows how our pious old fathers sometimes raised funds to build or pay their churches, a plan that has fallen into entire disuse in our degenerate days.

The following is a true copy of the ticket: No 313. For the benefit of the German Meeting House in Aaronsburg. This ticket will entitle the bearer to such Prize as may be drawn to its number, if demanded within three months after the drawing is finished. Subject to a deduction of 20 per cent. ADAM NEIDIGH, DANIEL KEEN, Aaronsburg, October 18, 82.

Two CHILDREN, one of fifteen and the other of fourteen, were recently married in Fayette county. Of course they ran away from home to do it and finding a preacher on the road were married by him. The children ought to have had more sense; but anything like that seems too much to expect of the preacher. Somebody ought to be detailed to go around with that man and interfere with his performance of such disgustingly idiotic things as marrying two children who seem to have fallen out of the cradle and into the hands for the purpose.—Ez.

A TERRIBLE HOLOCAUST. ST. PETERSBURG, January 14.—During the performance at a circus in Berditzsch, in Russian Poland, a fire broke out in the building, and before the spectators could escape the whole structure was ablaze. Three hundred persons perished in the flames. St. Petersburg, January 15.—The loss of life by the burning of a circus in Berditzsch on Saturday last was not so great as at first reported but it is believed that over 150 persons perished in the flames. The fire was caused by the careless handling of fire works on the stage.

St. Elmo Hotel, Nos. 317 & 319 ARCH ST., PHILADELPHIA. RATES REDUCED TO $2.00 PER DAY. The traveling public will find that at this Hotel the same liberal provision for their comfort. It is located in the immediate centre of business and places of amusement and the different Rail-Road depots, as well as all parts of the city, are easily accessible by Street Cars constantly passing the doors. News Miscellany.

A Berks county farmer claims to have raised 725 bushels of potatoes to the acre this year.

A Good wife for Some Good Fellow. From the Conyers Weekly.

Not a thousand miles from the line of Ozlethorpe county lives a young lady, who according to our estimation, is a perfect model. She has a nice little farm, on which she has a large flock of sheep, cattle, swine and a nice horse. Those thriving animals are fed and attended by her own hands; and we are told that she will make a good crop of both corn and cotton.

A Dress with 1,800 Buttons.

New York Letter in the Detroit Free Press. It almost seems incredible, and had I not ocular proof I should not dare to state it that a single dress should have on it 1,800 buttons of varying sizes. Ten days were consumed in arranging and sewing on the buttons by a seamstress. On each sleeve there were 100 buttons; on the body, basque and collar 550, and on the skirt 1,350. Those on the skirt were arranged in triangles, squares, crosses, stars and other curious shapes, on a foundation of black satin. The dress had a satiny appearance and was very weighty—so much so that it would require a lady of considerable strength to wear it. The intention was to have 2,000 buttons on it but the entire surface of the dress would have to be covered. The buttons were all black, some round and others flat and many of them quite expensive.

An Electric Rat Destroyer.

Ralph Corbit, an ingenious twelve-year-old boy of Honeybrook, Chester county, has devised a novel plan of getting rid of rats which vex his father's cellar. He has constructed out of old fruit jars a battery of three leyden jars, which he connects and places upon a large iron plate which touches the tin foil on the outside. The battery is so arranged that when the rat steps upon the plate and seizes the bait he at once makes the connection between the outside and the inside of the jars and they are discharged through his body killing him literally as quick as lightning. He charges the jars by means of an electrical machine, also constructed by himself. He ran a couple of wires through the floor to the cellar from the room above; as soon as he would hear a rat squeak he would immediately recharge the battery. The first time he put the machine in operation he slaughtered twenty-five rats in the space of three hours, and in two days the cellar was entirely cleared of the pests.

A Snake Story in Midwinter.

From the Jacksonville (Florida) Times. Professor Bell, the Smithsonian Institution's agent, shipped his last collection of snakes to the North two weeks ago, and already has his museum full again. It is surprising how rapidly they become domesticated under his treatment. During the recent cold snap some of them that he turns loose in his room at night climbed up in the bed-posts and coiled themselves up in his blankets. He felt them hunting for cosy spots about his legs and knew that he ought to get up and provide some loose straw, but a sleepy man in a warm bed of a cold night is not over-obliging, and the professor snored musically, as is his custom. The reptiles crowded upon one another, quarreled, fought a little, hissed, but the professor did not budge; only now and then he would budge slightly and cry softly, "Whist, boys! Be easy, boys!"

At last a big coonwhip snake found an opening near the edge of the blankets and slowly glided in. There was a gentle waving up and down of the bed clothes as the big clay-bank serpent moved about getting himself comfortable, when he slapped about two-thirds of his frigid length against the warm legs of the dozing professor. The professor made a violent remark. He sat up in bed, gathered a handful of snakes in each hand, depositing them carefully on the floor; then throwing back the bedclothes he administered a kick that sent the coonwhip flying through the dark to the further end of the room encountering the lamp in its aerial flight and knocking from its bracket on the wall the fragile skull of an ancient Florida mound builder.

"Freeze and be hanged!" exclaimed the irate professor. "I'll share my bed with you, but you shan't drive me out." He drew the blankets over him. A few moments later several pairs of little red eyes moved up the bed posts on either side, and soon snake herder and snakes, in one couch, were lost in peaceful sleep.

GIRLS, TAKE WARNING—BEWARE OF STRANGERS!—Saturday's newspapers contain an account of the remarkable exploits of a dashing commercial drummer named Jacob W. Gebhart, who, in a few months' time succeeded in marrying three young girls, and accomplishing the ruin of as many more. This gay youth is described as being remarkably handsome, sang in a church choir, played the piano, spoke several languages and is a graduate of Lafayette College, at Easton. He seems to have taken a contract to desolate as many homes as possible in a given time and the havoc he wrought to innocent, unsuspecting maidens forms a fearful chapter of crime. It is refreshing to know that the scoundrel has been overtaken by the law and will be made to answer for his misdeeds.—Ez.
