CUTTING THE CULLS, -- Milch cowe are greatly benefitted and will increase and maintain the flew of milk if fed upon the little potatoes, Irish or sweet, which are left over from the crop, and are too small to sell or use at home. But they should be cut fine. A good plan is to have a trough or steut box in which, after washing, the potatoes can be cut with a common spade; but a better plan is to take an old spade or hoe or fire shevel, and by attaching a stout short handle, provide an implement expressly for the purpose and save the wear | comfortable; some protection to the and tear and rust of the spade.

As a general thing, says a sensible writer, all of our farm tools are too heavy. Generally speaking, the farm wagon that will bear up under a ton weight with ease is plenty heavy enough for all practical purposes to which a farm wagon should be two loads of it. The saving in horse flesh houses or lands. and feed, will, in a few years, amount to enough to buy a new one and have something left for profit. If you are about ordering a new wagon have it made light and of the best material and you will nev-

C. H. Johnson tells the Fruit Grower that by going carefully over his grounds several times each season and removing and burning all plants showing raspberry rust he has succeeded to such an extent that no more than half a dozen cases of the disease appeared last year in the whole of his three acres devoted to this frnit, while another grower at some distance, "lost almost his entire stock without knowing the cause.

A HAY HOOK. - A very convenient little article is my hay hook, made from the stem of a young tree cut off about four inches below its juncture with a short branch the branch out off about the same distance from the stem, both sharpered to a rounding pint, and the upper part of the stem for a handle about three feet in length. This is a proper implement for pulling hay out of the stack or mow.

Among raspberries, the Turner is a rampant grower and needs severe pruning. Cregg stands in the front rank of black caps. It needs a strong, loamy soii. Keliance is an excellent berry for canning and home use. Hanseil is a red berry, and noted for its hardness, earliness, and solidity. Brandywine is a first-cl ss market

While there are grapes of finer quality than the Concord, there is none that is more commonly grown for general use. But a vineyard is not complete without the little Delaware, the Catawba, Clinton and others, such as the Prentiss, Pocklington, Worden and Ludy Washington. Nearly every vine grower has his favorite variety, one specially adapted to his soil, locality, and general surroundings.

Almost simultaneously from lowa City, Ia., and from Stillwater, Minn., comes news of disease among the hogs. Though called hog cholera in the first case, physicians who have examined the animals after death declare it to be a new disease. Correspondents in vicinity of these places will oblige us by advising us of such particulars as they can learn in regard to it.

House plants cannot flourish without much eare in Winter; and insects are especially to be looked after. Tobacco tea kills the green fly; white hellebore the mealy bug, and red pepper is "good" for almost all insects.

THOSE who live in the country need to give their cellars special attention just now. Disease lurks in the decaying vegetables, if such there be, See that the cellar has good ventilation somewhere else than through the cellar door and stairway.

Onions must not be allowed to freeze and thaw alternately through the Winter; as this is injurious to them. Spread them on the barn floor, where the quantity is large, and cover with hay or straw. Or they may be kept in barrels neaded up and put in a cold place.

PROFESSOR BEAL recommends to peck celery and other vegetables in damp mose for keeping through winter. It is said that vegetables thus packed will not only keep a long time but retain their flavor and quality so well that they can hardly be distinguished from fresh ones.

THE water courses carry millions of tons of fertilizing material to the sea. The Nile alone pours over a thousand tons of nitrate into the Mediterranean each twenty-fonr hours. The loss annually is greater, therefore, than that contained in the guano deposits, when we consider the entire surface of the earth.

THE thoroughbred horse is large in size. often reaching sixteen hands in height-Though not as heavy-limbed as the Ciydes dale or Percheron they are more muscular in proportion to their bones, which are very fine, and, comparing their endurance, activity and speed with the larger breeds, are not inferior to them in any respect for farm purposes.

A FEEDING Box .- A handy substitute for a basket, in which to carry corn, vegetables, etc., from the house or crib to the stables, is a stout box eighteen inches square and ten inches deep, with a handle or hickory bent and fastened to the sides with screws. It will last a lifetime, and can be made to any exact measure.

THERE is considerable advantage realized in turning off young animals as young as possible after getting a good growth, as it requires less capital in conducting the business of breeding and feeding, and the risks of accidents, diseases and all other slowly, add small green peas, and seathings are much lessened.

DOMESTIC.

HINTS FOR . WOMEN, -The face anon cold and winds is upon us. Those ewm to the inclemencies of the season. Whether wife or daughter you do not entirely belong to yourself. Your precious health and lives are important to you and to those dependent on you. Exposure on "blue Monday," getting through with the family washing, experils. Over the hot suds and in probably a hot room, with sleeves rolled up, the wood, the water or the clothes line are out in the cold, where the bleak winds pierce the very marrow. In the harry one is tempted to go bareheaded, with bare arms, and thinly clad to the wood shed or probably the wood pile buried in the snow, or the well or pump at the corner of the house where the fierce winds cut to the heart. Detained longer than anticipated, severe colds are contracted, which are neglected until pulmonary troubles ensue, followed by consumption and death. Will not you who are so valuable to husband, children, father and brothers-and who have such sanguine hopes of a long life of happiness-take care of yourself? If compelled to go from a hot room and steaming suds, put on a shaw, close and head; roll down the sleeves, and put on over-shoes. You can, too, make yourself a cheap but comfortable pair of cloth mittens in which to hang out or bring in clothes, wood, or perform any other outdoor chore, which even the best and most delicate women are called on to perform. But take care of yourput. If you want to haul two tons it is selves. Your health and life are more far better and cheaper in the end to make valuable to your friends than stock.

> TURKEY Soup .- For four quarts of soup use the carcass of a cold roast turkey; cut all the meat from the bones and reserve it; break up the bones and put them into a saucepan with any skin. force-meat and gravy which may be on hand-the bones which may have been served at the table should be saved for this soup; add to the bones four quarts of water, a large white turnip and a peeled and stuck with a dosen whole cloves, a blade of mace, a sprig of thyme or sweet marjoram, a stalk of celery, a tablespoonful of sait and two tablespoontuls of tomato catsup or any good table sauce. Let all these ingredients boil slowly together for an hour, keeping the saucepan closely covered, Then strain the soup, season it highly with salt and pepper, put into it the bits of turkey meat and half a cupful of rice, picked over and washed, and boil the soup until the rice is just tender, which will be in about twenty minutes; then serve the soup hot.

> SCALLOPS BREADED AND FRIED .- Prefor Fried Scallops with Salt Pork; have ready the frying-kettle half full of smoking-hot fat; beat two eggs smoothly, but not to a froth; put plenty of fine sifted bread-crumbs or cracker dust in crumbs, then dip them one by one in the egg, taking care not to wash off the crumbs, and letting the egg drain off them; roll them again in the crumbs. and fry them in smoking-hot fat: when the scallops are brown take them up with the skimmer, lay them for a moment on brown paper to free them from fat, and then serve them hot, with sliced lemon, water-cresses, or fried parsley. Remember in breading the scallops to dip only one hand in the beaten egg, and keep the other dry to roll the scallops about in the crumbs or cracker dust.

SCALLOPS FRIED IN INDIAN MEAL, -Follow the general directions for washing and drying the scallops. While they are being dried put over the fire a frying-kettle half full of fat, and let it get smoking hot; then quickly roll the scallops in Indian meal, seasoned with salt and pepper; drop them into the hot fat and fry them a light brown; as soon as they are brown take them up with a skimmer, lay them for a moment on brown paper, to free them from fat. and then serve them hot. Slices of lemon served with the scallops greatly improve the flavor and appearance of the dish. If water-cresses are in season, they may replace the lemon.

FRIED PARSLEY. - Choose full stalks of parsley, carefully remove all imperfect or decayed leaves, wash it well in plenty of salted cold water, and apread it on a clean towel to dry. When it is quite free from water, gather the stalks in the right hand, and quickly dip the leaves into smoking-hot fat for a moment to crisp them. If the parsley is put into the fat with any moisture on wife and I are the most contented couit a cloud of steam will arise, and there will be great danger of burning the about anything. She is always willing hand seriously; but if it is carefully to get up in the morning and build the dried the operation can be performed fire, and I am always perfectly willing with perfect safety.

HERE is a recipe for making coffee (not German): Grind two gills of roasted Rio coffee as fine as possible. Put into a common tin coffee-pot. Add two tin-cupfuls of cold water and set on the back part of the stove and let it come to a boil gradually. When at the boiling point set off and serve. It requires no addition to settle it, as it is beautifully clear. The above quantity will make six medium cupfuls of No. 1 coffee, good enough for any man, and very easily made. Try it.

SPONGE ROLL. -- Two eggs beaten very light, 1 teacupful of light brown or white sugar, 3 teaspoonfuls of sweet cream, I heaping teaspoonful of baking powder thoroughly mixed with 1 teacupful of flour. Stir all together till very light, bake in a quick oven, have a napkin ready spread with sugar, turn out on the napkin, spread with any kind of jelly, jam or applebutter. Roll up man sowing his ground, two smart felwhile hot and cover with a napkin until cold before cutting.

A TEMPTING DISH,—A nice dish for the supper of a convalescent is made by toasting two thin slices of bread; flatten and soften the crust by pounding it a little; butter the toast while hot, put one slice on a warm plate and spread over it a thin layer of cooked chicken, chopped or cut in small bits; season with pepper and salt, add a soft-boiled egg, then lay the other slice of toast

PIGEONS WITH LITTLE PEAS.-Truss the pigeons, put them over the fire with fat pork and butter, let them brown son them with but little salt and pepper. As there was no chance for an argument Wet a very little flour with some broth the subject was dropped instanter. stewing them until tender.

Do not put soap in the water with which you wash the glass on your bu-F'EED all the sweet apples that are not reau; wash it with clear water with a marketable to the pigs and horses. They soft cloth; then polish it with a piece who "couldn't stand it any longer" has are healthful and especially relished by of chamois skin. This removes lint and taken a seat and now feels quite comformakes the glass shine.

Should hire a hall: "Justice, your Honor!" exclaimed a legal comet in one of his eccentric perorations, "is not like the fabulated Briareus of old, whose were as multiplical as the sands of the sea, nor yet like the famed Cyclops, whose vision perforated only the arena of coming futurity, but, like the sportive demonstration of 'blind man's bluff,' she pursues her way unseeing and unseen, holding the steelyards that weigh with coeval vicissitude the carats of poses the wife or daughter to many gold and the carrots of horticul ture and knowing no North, no South, no East, no West!"

[New Haven (Conn.) Union. How a Lawyer Treated the Case. I. David Strouse, of New Haven, Connecticut, was attacked with a severe rheumatism in my right arm, hand and foot, so that I walked with difficulty and could hardly use my hand to eat with. I used one bottle St. Jacob's Oil, rubbing well three times a day, and obtained instant relief and a perfect cure.

DAVID STROUSE, Attorney at-Law.

"Lemme tell yer," exclaimed old Nathan, arising at an educational meeting and addressing the assemblage, "dar ain't half as much in eddycation as a man in a moment ob 'thusiasm mought promulgate. I raised two town sons. Jim went ter school an' got a good eddycation, but Tom stayed at home an' neber looked inter a book, but yit he made a quicker showin' dan Jim,"

"How?" asked a chorus of voices. "Why, he beat him inter de penitentiary by two days," exclaimed the old man as he sat down with the air of one who feels that the weight of evidence is in his favor.

* * "He that is discontented in one place will seldom be happy in another." People are constantly changing their homes from East to West and from North to South or vice versa, in search of a healthy State. If they would learn to be contented, and to use the celebrated Kidney-Wort when sick, they would be much better off. The whole system can be kept in a healthy state by this simple but effectual remedy.

An Austin young man had been boring a young lady with his attentions for some time past, although on various and sundry occasions she had given him to understand that he was distasteful to her. A few evenings ago he assured her that he was anxious to fulfil her every wish.

"Is it really a fact that you will do whatever I ask of you?"

"Your slightest wish is law, Com-

A Splendid Remedy for Lung Diseases.

Dr. Robt. Newton, late President of the Eclectic College of the City of New York, and formerly of Cincinnati, Ohio, used Dr. Wm, Hall's Balsam very extensively in his practice, as many of his patients, now living, and restored to health by the use of this invaluable medicine, can amply testify. He always said that so good a remedy ought not to be considered merely as a patent medicine, but that it ought to be prescribed freely by every physician as a sovereign remedy in all cases of Lung diseases. It is a sure cure for consumption, and has no equal for all pectoral com-
