FOR THE FARM AND HOME.

Warts on a Horse.

Warts are a cutaneous disease; they consist of tumors formed by an enlarged growth of the papillæ of the skin, which is covered by thickened epidermis. They are vascular and are provided with blood vessels and nerves, excepting on the hardened surface. It is probable that they are parasitic in their nature, and constitutional and contagious. The most effective remedy is to destroy the diseased growth by caustics, as carbolic acid, nitric acid, nitrate of silver, or sulphate of copper, and to dress the wound produced by dry. ordinary means-as with tincture of benzoin-until new, healthy skin is formed. A continued course of antiseptic and alterative medicine might be useful-as half-ounce doses of hyposulphite of soda daily.

THE LOST CHILD. A FATE WORSE THAN ABDUCTION,

How Parents, by a Lack of Precaution and Onre, are Responsible for the Death of Their Children. (Canden, Me., Herald.) The moral and legal response b lity of pa-refits, in the care of their children is, fortunately, attracting the serious attention of the better portion of the entire country. The many instances of child-beating, oppression and other forms of cruelty which have come to light, demand that something be done; and it is gratifying to know that the people re becoming thoroughly aroused. Whether the cruelty be in the form of physical vio-lence or physical neglect matters not-the principle in both cases is the same. The man woman who neglects his or her own health may be pardoned, as the con equences fall upon the individual alone; but the parent or ruardian who permits the inroads of disease pon the innocent ones dependent upon him for protection, is criminally liable in the sight of God, however he may appear in the eyes of men. There are, however, parents that intend to care for their children, but, who through carele sness or the urgency of other duties, permit them to become the innocent victims of disease. Such parents may be guiltless of intentional wrong, but the disastrous results upon their children are

There are many families in this locality who have been called upon to mourn untimely losses, even when the greatest care was exercised; but the experience of one only will be given: 1 is that of the late W. O. Thomas. The children were all most promisin g, but for some unexplained reason their hearth and strength seemed to gradually lessen until their friends feared they were the victims of consump Une by one they sickened and died, tion. antil three had departed and two of the sur viving brothers were also taken ill. At various times three different physicians visited him; and each one told his friends he could not live. He finally got so low that death was only considered a matter a few days. At that critical time his elder brothers, aronsed almost to the pitch of desperation by the three deaths that had so recently occurred, and the other one staring them in the face, resolved to take the case into their own hands. They accordingly did so, and secured a remedy that was then being universally used, and began giving it to him. Its effect at first was slight, but any improvement was considered a good symp By degrees his strength returned: he was able to eat with a relish, then walk about the house; and finally he regained complete heal h and strength. easily become chronic, all demand the greatest care and caution. No case of cholera infantum, measles, scarletina, or diphtheria was ever virulent while the child's kidneys and liver were healthy. It would simply be an impossibility. These important organs of the body are just forming within the child and growing with its growth; and they can be trained to strength and health as Sent on receipt of cash. JOHN B. ALDEN, Pubreadily as the little mind can be trained to truth and uprightness. The importance of carefully watching the slightest troubles of the child, and especially those affecting the kidneys and liver, cannot be too strongly emphasized. Children respond so readily to the proper remedies and are so sensitive to disease, that it is a sin to deprive them of one at the risk of incurring the other. By a judicious treatment these essential organs can be developed so that a strong constitution, able to resist the inroads of disease through coming years, shall be the result.

THE AGE OF MIRACLES

is past, and Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" will not raise the dead, will not cure you if your lungs are almost wasted by consumption. It is, however, unsurpassed both as a pectoral and alterative, and will cure obstinate and severe diseases of the throat and lungs, coughs and bronchial affection. By virtue of its wonderful alterative properties it cleanses and enriches the blood, cures pimples, blotches and eraptions and causes even great eating ulcers to heal

In the profession of journalism the man with a poverty of ideas will soon have some idea of poverty.
