Centre County Democratic Committee for 1883.

Table with columns: District, Name, P. O. Address. Lists names and addresses for various districts in Centre County.

DEMOCRATIC STATE TICKET.

FOR AUDITOR GENERAL, CAT ROBERT TAGGART, OF WARREN COUNTY. FOR STATE TREASURER, HON. JOSEPH POWELL, OF BRADFORD COUNTY.

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY TICKET.

FOR DISTRICT ATTORNEY, W. C. Heinle, OF BELLEFONTE. FOR ASSOCIATE JUDGE, Dr. J. R. Smith, OF FERGUSON TOWNSHIP. FOR COUNTY SURVEYOR, Ellis L. Orvis, OF BELLEFONTE.

Dr. J. P. Smith, the Democratic nominee for Associate Judge, was appointed to that office, vice Judge Runkle, deceased, by Gov. Pattison and confirmed by the senate the other Tuesday. He took his official seat on the same day.

The Greenbackers of the state actually went to the trouble to hold a sort of state convention at Williamsport on the 30th ultimo. T. P. Rynder, of Altoona, and A. T. Marsh, of Erie, were nominated for Auditor General and state treasurer.

Judge Orvis was handsomely banqueted by the Huntingdon bar the other week, on the occasion of taking his seat there as President Judge of the 49th Judicial District, composed of Centre and Huntingdon counties.

We have only space to state that the Democratic county meeting in Bellefonte, on Tuesday evening of court week, was a big affair. The Court House was crowded, and not a few republicans were in the audience, anxious to hear our noble young chairman, Mr. Hensel, and Ex-Gov. Curtin. Both speeches are highly spoken of by all who heard them.

D. F. Fortney and W. C. Heinle, Esqs., also made speeches, and the meeting was kept up with much enthusiasm until a late hour.

Thus the campaign opened very auspiciously in O'd Centre.

He Has Nothing to Say.

Representative Niles, the Republican candidate for Auditor General, was a member of the legislature in 1881, and is also a member of the present house. Then Mr. Niles had a very clear conception of his constitutional duty as regards apportionment. In a speech delivered by him at that time he said: "We have for months been neglecting our constitutional obligation to pass an apportionment bill which the constitution declares shall be passed."

Now Mr. Niles has not one word to say against the revolutionary course of his confederates in the senate, although he is the chosen candidate of his party for a high and responsible office. He is silent, dumb as an oyster. No sense of "constitutional obligation" now impels him to speak in favor of justice and right. The bosses nominated him, they own him, and he must do their bidding; and this is why he stifles conviction and dodges plain duty. But the people will bring up his cowardly course in judgment against him on election day. They will not be so silent about the matter as Mr. Niles is.

SINCE Sept. 1, the headquarters of the Democratic state committee for the present campaign are permanently located in rooms No 7 and 9, at the Girard house, Philadelphia, the same as were occupied last year and by Col. McClure in the Curtin-Lincoln campaign of 1860. The clerical work of the committee has been vigorously prosecuted since the opening of the year and is much further on than at the corresponding stage of last year's campaign. The work of the organization will be somewhat simplified this year by reason of the fact that there is no election for nor complications over members of the Legislature and congressmen. The efforts of the state committee will be concentrated upon getting out the full Democratic vote.

CHARLES S. WOLFE, it seems, learned to know Senator John Stewart pretty thoroughly during the contest for United States senator in 1881. In his great speech in Philadelphia, on October 3, 1881, Mr. Wolfe distinctly intimated that Senator Stewart aided in bringing about the surrender of the bosses in the republican state convention of that year which nominated General Bailly for state treasurer. In view of what Mr. Wolfe then said of Senator Stewart it is not a matter of wonder that he is now cheek by jowl with the bosses. After he stumps for Arthur the next year he will be a fit candidate for the succession to Senator Cameron.

THERE is no longer any doubt that the country is becoming thoroughly alarmed at the spread of intemperance and consequent increase of crime. Take Chicago alone. Ten days ago a man on the west side came home drunk, and whipped his wife to death, in the sight of her child. The saloon did it. The next day a drunken man murdered another in a saloon in the same neighborhood. Liquor did it. Last week two desperadoes met in a saloon and fought to the death of one and wounding of the other with revolvers. Whiskey did it. More than three-fourths of all crime is traceable directly to the saloons.—Chicago Advance.

CHAIRMAN HENSEL, of the Democratic state committee, takes a hopeful view of Democratic prospects in the state. He says that within four weeks after the state convention there has been more work done than in the eight weeks succeeding the convention last year; that the work has been untiring, energetic and thorough, and that there is a Democratic organization in every election precinct. Mr. Hensel believes there will be a larger vote polled this year than is ordinarily expected in an off year, and he is confident of the success of the Democratic ticket.

At HARRISBURG the situation is still the same it has been these many weeks. The subject is becoming stale, monotonous—tiresome and even disgusting to write about. The House from time to time hits upon some new or at least different plan to effect some kind of apportionments, but the Senate, under the leadership and party lash of bold, bad men like Cooper, Reburn, the hypocrite Stewart and others, defeat every project brought up to bring about that desirable end. They will not budge an inch beyond their infamous, outrageous McCracken gerrymander, the dead-lock continues and the people are squarely robbed out of about $3000 each day under the forms of law.

It sickens the heart to see that party feeling, party interests, party bigotry and wickedness can go to this extreme extent—above and beyond all fairness, right, justice and even sworn constitutional duty. And yet it is but the logical punishment the people must suffer for electing unworthy men to high and responsible positions.

Nor do we see any present, constitutional remedy for the shameful evil, except a partial one—and that is to adjourn. If the legislature can give the people no better return for much time idled away and vast treasure spent, they can at least adjourn, and thus end disgraceful performance.

INDEPENDENT CHAIRMAN I. D. McKee says the independent organization will be kept up and that the fight will be made in the legislative districts next year. No wonder Cooper and the bosses are so anxious to continue the present gerrymander in force.

The Delaware County Record, an independent journal published in Media, the hour of the Boss Cooper, denounces the conduct of the republican senators in adhering to their ultimatum. In its last issue commenting on the American arbitration proposition, the Record says: "Of course there is no constitutional inhibition. The true germ of the offer is contained in an evident desire for satisfactory solution of the whole question. As things now stand a pure state of negation reigns by virtue of the senate's ultimatum. That body virtually says, you must take our McCracken bill or you can have nothing. We have shown clearly that the McCracken bill is a most shameless attempt to pass an unjust bill and inequitable measure, for purely partisan purpose, in defiance of the spirit and letter of constitutional mandate, and this position has in no way been contravened from any quarter. It is this bull head resolution which is at the bottom of the present dead lock." The independent and intelligent editor of the Record understands the matter thoroughly and what is more speaks his mind with a freedom which does him infinite credit.—Patriot.

It is said the failure of the First National Bank of Indianapolis was caused by the state treasurer of Indiana withdrawing $500,000 of the state deposits. One question the people are vitally interested in is what right has a state treasurer to allow hundreds of thousands of dollars to accumulate in the treasury and then divide this money up among favored banking institutions out of which politicians draw large dividends? What would happen to the Allegheny National Bank if General Bailly should withdraw the $800,000 of the people's money he has on deposit there, or to the Farmers' and Mechanics' bank of Philadelphia which has $822,000 of the state's money, or to the People's Bank of Philadelphia which has $123,000, or to the Uniontown Bank which has $285,000? Wolfe never made a better hit than when he said at Titusville, October 9, 1881: "The People's Bank of Philadelphia is properly called the People's Bank because the money of the people of Pennsylvania is deposited there, and the politicians grow rich off its dividends." Ellet Powell state treasurer and the people's money will be invested as required by law. Elect Livezey and the politicians will continue to use it.—Patriot.
