-Our school board has concluded to build a high board fence along the rear end of the school house lot in order to keep the pupils out of the "swamp" that borders the premises.

-The Bellefonte Republican thinks that A. O. Furst, Esq., of that place would make a "scholarly, firm, conscientious and able President Judge.' Brother Tuten hits it the Furst guess.

-A member of the school board requests the JOURNAL to state that the Grammar School will not open until Wednesday morning the 7th instant. The other schools begin on Monday

-Hon. J. H. Fow, of Pailadelphia, is a stranger to our people, but he is rated high as a stump speaker and the Democracy of the valleys should give him a cordial welcome to-morrow even-

-"SCHMITZ" sounds a little funny for a man's name-very nearly like Schnitz, but he is no doubt a good man and able speaker for all that. In fact we have Mr. Hensel's own word for it, and that is enough.

-John A. Woodward, Esq., of Howard, has accepted the position of assistant editor of the Furm Journal, an agricultural paper of great merit and wide circulation. Mr. Woodward is abundantly qualified for the place.

-The Reformed Church is making preparations to celebrate the 400th anniversary of the birthday of Ulrich Zwingly, the great Swiss reformer, who was born Jan 1st, 1484 a few days less than two months after the great Luth-

He attributes his misfortune to bad speculations.

-The fine farm of the late John Dutweiler will be offered at public sale by the executors, Saturday Nov. 17th. While the farm itself is a very valuable one, the beautiful spring flowing out from a natural cave of solid limestone, man, Mr. Henry Fiedler, has just re. just a few rods from the house, is an additional consideration of importance. Not only is the supply of good, pure water never-failing, but the cave is the best dairy-house in the county.

> -On Monday evening after the rain a beautiful sunset produced the finest panorama of nature that was ever seen in this neighborhood. The town and surrounding hills and mountains with their variable autumn foliage were illuminated by the rich yellow light of the setting sun while on the eastern horizon a magnificient rainbow formed a grand centerpiece to this enchanting scene. The beholder of it could not help to be impressed with the grandeur of the Supreme Being reigning in the skies-ruling the universe.

-The meeting at Madisonburg last Tuesday evening was a full-sized democratic rally. The spacious town hall was well filled by an attentive and respectable audience, who were addressed in an able and comprehensive manner by J. L. Spangler and D. F. Fortney, Esqs. The Rebersburg and Millheim Cornet Bands were on hand, discoursing some fine music. It was just the thing to waken up the democrats back from the west. of that vicinity to do their duty on Tuesday next and Miles township will show that it is an old democratic

Among those of primary importance are competent teachers, proper supervision by the board and regular attendance by pupils. If parents wish to reap the full benefit of school privileges they must see to it that chilldren go regularly and that they devote their evenings to a proper preparation of their studies. If there be no system or discipline in this matter both time and money are largely

- From the Ellsworth (Kansas) News of the 17th ult., we clip the following, which shows that our friend Rev. J A. Bright stands well in public estimation and especially in the peculiar order of which he has long been an honored member :

Rev. J. A. Bright, pastor of the Lu theran church of this city, was appointed Worthy Grand Chaplain of the Grand Lodge of the I. U. O. F., of the State of Kansas, at its recent meeting at Topeka. We congratulate our reverend neighbor on this honored appointment. Surely Ellsworth Lodge No. 103, I. O. O. F., with both the Grand Master and Grand Champlain among its members, should be considered in the front.

-Joseph Fansler, a well known citizen, who was born near Millbeim and spent his entire lifetime here, died last Thursday night in the 59.h year of his age. He was one of the humof the earth, true, faithful, industrious as but few, harmless and inoffensive as a child. If ever a man lived who was faithful with the one talent which his Creator saw fit to give him, that man was Joseph Fans ler. He had not an enemy in the world. To him life was but one continous round of toil and frugality. But for all that he may shine in his Saviour's crown as a brighter jewel than many others more gifted with talent or favored by wealth.

-The Luther Memorial at Bellefonte last Friday was a full success notwithstanding the unfavorable weather. The morning session was fairly attended, the afternoon meeting was full, but in the evening the spacious court house was literally packed. Addresses were delivered in the morning by Rev. Samuel Henry, of Mifflinburg, in the afternoon by Rev. Dr. Morris, of Baltimore, and in the evening by Rev P A. Heilman, of Lock Haven, Rev. John Tomlinson, of Aaronsburg and again by Dr. Morris. The addresses were all good, timely and appropriate to the occasion. That of Dr. Morris especially excelled. The Doctor is not only a ripe, profound office opposite the Millheim Banking House, schelar, but a speaker of a high order, an elocutionist and rich humorist. His addresses were replete with historic information and spicy anecdotes and merchant prince of Mifflinburg, but for | incidents of the great Saxon Reformer and the Reformation. The vast audience seemed to enjoy it all with infin-

The music was rendered by the Lutheran choir, the Bellefonte Orchestra, under the direction of Miss Ohnmacht, and the Zion Cornet Band. The performances were of a high character and we do not care ever to hear any better. Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott" was given both by the choir and orchestra in a manner truly thrilling.

The exercises throughout were a rich intellectual and musical treat and will long be remembered with pleasure by

IN MEMORIAM. - Mr. George Bollinger, an honored and beloved eitizen, departed this life at his home in Aaronsburg, Thursday night, the 25th ult., BEAVER & GEPHART, in the 66th year of his age.

For several years past Mr. Bollinger was an invalid unable to do any work, and for some weeks prior to his death, life hung upon a very slender thread.

Mr. Bollinger was by trade a chairmaker, spinning wheel-maker and painter. He was an expert mechanic and no man ever made better and neater work. On hundreds of garrets throughout Central Pennsylvania there could to-day be found model spinning wheels made by him, good as ever, but now otsolete, while his excellent chairs will give rest and comfort to hundreds of others, long after bis bones have mouldered to dust. In disposition Mr. Bollinger was industrious, true and honest, kind, gentle. amiable and unassuming. This was his beautiful character as a husband. a father and neighbor. No one ever knew him to be anything different. He was one of the most even-tempered men living. Above all and better than all, Mr. lowly Saviour he adorned his professBuss to and from all trains. Special rates to witnesses and jurors.

Thus lived and died George Bollinger man, the faithful christian. May his memory long be fresh and green in the hearts of his family and kindred, neighbors and friends. And while his disenthralled spirit has taken its flight to the better land, may his weary body "Rest in Peace."

Our schools opened on Monday and the average boy has stopped loafing during the day. Broad Axe suggests that the boys stay at home in the evenings also and prepare their lessons.

Last Tuesday morning Mr. Jacob W. Hagen, while harnessing a horse was kicked by the animal so severely in the region of the stomach that he died from the effects the same afternoon. He was a steady, examplary young man and his tragic death is much mourned. BROAD AXE.

MARRIED

On the 25th ult., by Rev. John Tomlinson, Mr. William Fehl, of Clearfield county and Miss Emma Snook, of Wolfe's Store, Centre county. On the 9th ult., by Rev. W. H. Groh, Mr. Benjamin Stam:n, of Boalsburg, and Miss Emma R. Long, of Tusseyville.

On the 25th ult., at Aaronsburg, Mr. George Bollinger, aged 65 years, 3 months and 26 days. Mr. Bollinger was born in Aaronsburg and lived and died in the place of his nativity. He was an afflicted sufferer for nearly two years, but bore his sufferings with patience and resignation to the divine will. He was a regular at cendant at public worship while he was well and able to attend. In his death the community has ost a good citizen, his family a faithful father and the church a worthy member. It is hoped that their loss is his eternal gain.
