CHRISTMAS.

"Merry Christmas" will again be here in a few days, to spread light and joy into every household. It is the old, old story, ever new at each returning year. Christmas is the time—the day above all others, that should call forth our deepest gratitude to our Heavenly Father, for the unspeakable gift of His only Son, our beloved Saviour.

Nor must the day be spent exclusively in religious services. It should be a day of good cheer and happiness in every home. True kindness, genuine goodness of heart will at this time manifest itself between the members of a family in the time honored and beautiful custom of making presents.

The Governor Asks for Information.

HARRISBURG, December 13—The Governor addressed a letter to-night to the Auditor General asking for a detailed statement of the disbursement of the contingent fund of the two houses of the Legislature during the extra session.

The Philadelphia Times furnishes the following complete list of representatives who took full pay for their time spent at Harrisburg, mileage, recess and all. Just why a list of senators is not published at the same time does not appear:

Abbett, Barnes, Beer, Bennet, Bigler, Brennan, Isaac Brown, Brosious, Burt, Buttermore, Carberry, Clayton, Coburn, Collins, Coolbaugh, E. L. Davis, L. H. Davis, Geegan, Deveney, Donahue, Ealer, Eberly, Ellsworth, Emery, Euston, Evans, Fortner, Fry, Fulmer, Furth, Gahan, Gallagher, Harrar, A. W. Hayse, Hothersall, Hines, Higgins, Himmelreich, Hoover, Hughes, Hunter, Lafferty, La Touche, Mawhinney, Meyer, Miller, Molineaux, Ellis Morris, McCabe, McClara, Joseph McDonald, McMillan, McWilliams, Neely, Nelson, O'Neill, Ormsby, Parkhill, Parkison, Robertson, Reilly, Rohrer, Roming, Saybolt, Schlicher, Schwartz, Shaffer, Short, Slocum, Joseph Smith, Snader, Sneering, E. G. Snyder, J. M. Snyder, E. H. Snyder, Sterrett, Sweeney, W. E. Tompson, Townsend, Trant, Vancerslice, Naughn, Waltz, Wonsider, Yerkes.—Times.

Congress has done but little so far and it is not likely that any real work will be done before the holidays. Mr. Carlisle has not yet formed his committees, but is making haste slowly, which shows that he exercises good judgment in the performance of his high trust. A large number of bills will be introduced by the time the committees are ready to go to work.

The next Electoral Vote.

The following is the number of votes that each State will cast in the next Electoral College, with the States divided politically as they voted at the last election:

Table with 2 columns: DEMOCRATIC and REPUBLICAN. Lists states and their respective electoral votes for each party.

The total electoral vote is 401, of which 201 are necessary to elect. Classing the States as they voted at the last election, the Democrats have 247 and the Republicans 154, but the majority would be reversed to 213 Republican and 188 Democratic if taking the fairly debatable States of New York and Ohio out of the Democratic column.

It is evident now that Ohio and New York will be the centres of the great contest of next year. The Republicans must carry both of these to win, as the Democrats, if holding their other States, could spare either Ohio or New York and elect their President. Ohio is naturally a Republican State with the party united, and New York is as naturally a Democratic State with the Democracy harmonious.

The two parties are now facing each other for the great conflict, with nearly even chances of success. They are both on trial, the Republicans with the President and the Senate and the Democrats with the House, and the party that serves the country best will best serve itself in the election of the next President.—Phila. Times.

A TOWN AND ITS NEWSPAPER.—The relation of a town to its newspaper has been very aptly compared to a book and its index, and vice versa. The index points out what is in the book and where any particular subject or matter may be found. It is indispensable to the proper and convenient use of the book. So with the newspaper. It is the true, legitimate index to the town—to its business, social and religious life.

It is very evident, then, that a paper if conducted on fair, equitable principles should enjoy the confidence and hearty support of the community. Every citizen should take his local paper. It should be a welcome visitor in every family. The editor may not belong to your party—he may differ in many things with you, but what of that? An intelligent liberal man will not be influenced in business matters by any such contracted considerations.

Every business enterprise that is at all worth advertising should find a place in the paper, even if only a simple card. This is a square business matter, and should not be viewed as a question of charity to the printers. That persistent, judicious advertising pays well is known to those who have tried it. We have labored early and late, in season and out of season, to make the Journal a live readable family paper, as well as a popular advertising medium for this growing part of the county.

The National Republican convention will meet at Chicago June 3rd. Colonel Quay says that this means Arthur for the presidency. June 3. was settled as the date, and Don Cameron is credited with this suggestion. Senator Frye's proposition to change the representation was voted down, which is also a victory for President Arthur. The readjusters from Virginia will be recognized and admitted to the national convention.

August Strauss and Henry Shaffer, the Clinton county horse thieves, who were arrested by Detective Abe Roat, were tried at Lock Haven on Tuesday and convicted. Strauss received four years and a half and Shaffer five years and a half.

Miscellaneous.

The Wilkes-Barre Record is responsible for the following fish story. It is told for a fact that a citizen of this town who owns land that was overflowed by the waters of the Susquehanna in the spring, has made a bill against the state for the damage which black bass and white perch have done by eating the roots of the grass.

A Lady Swindler Arrested.

Little Eva Britton, a delicate creature, remarkable for her insouciance and dirty finger nails, who has been going about the country for several years soliciting subscribers for a monthly paper called the Harriocoe, published at Charleston, S. C. has finally involved herself in a tempest. She has been arrested in New Orleans as a swindler. She has obtained in the Union 30,000 subscribers, at fifty cents each, for a paper that has no existence.

A great many people, men and women, think it unnecessary to be polite at home. When among strangers, or out visiting, they are the pluck of perfection in these respects, but short, crisp words and cross looks they keep in reserve for the home folks. This neglect of kindly consideration towards the members of one's own household is one of the main causes leading to disserved hearts, jarring contentions and unhappy homes. Politeness in the family circle will keep securely there, also, harmony and love.

Twenty-Three Days Under a Haystack.

LA CROSSE, Wis., December 10.—Some boys playing about a haystack near this city to-day found under it a man in a horrible condition of emaciation. Help was secured and the poor wretch extricated. He was almost dead and was barely able to speak in a whisper. He said his name was Christian Anderson; that he crawled under the haystack on the night of November 17th to keep warm and that the stack caved in upon him. He struggled hard, but was unable to extract himself. He cried out, but no one heard him. He was sent to the County Hospital, apparently in a dying condition. He was so weak that he could give only disjointed fragments of his horrible story. It is stated that several loads of hay have lately been removed from the stack which buried him, but he was probably too weak to make the teamsters hear him or was unconscious at such times.

What the State Grangers Want.

HARRISBURG, December 13—The resolutions adopted by the State Grange to-day demand that technical instruction in agriculture be included among the common school studies and that the State College be restored to the design of its originators; they declare against discriminations by railroad companies, denounce the Legislature for its failure to apportion the State, favor the equalization of taxes and ask Congress to encourage the cultivation of sugar.

More Light.

A new and brilliant electric headlight for locomotives is being quietly perfected by a modest inventor of Indianapolis, who does not care to have his name made known until a public exhibition has placed it beyond the possibility of failure. The light will equal the light of 4,000 candles. At present a twenty-candle light is the best that can be produced. It will light the track for a mile, brilliantly, and the light will be full and continuous. The generator or dynamo will be run by steam at the will of the engineer. It will be located opposite the air brake and will not take up as much room. By the same machine, depots, bridges, crossings and tunnels will be lighted. Extending along the track for a half mile in both directions will be an electric wire connected with the lamps in tunnels and bridges; then extending downward from the dynamo on the engine, the brush will be arranged to touch the wire as soon as it is reached. This will light up the object ahead, and as soon as the brush leaves the wire on the other side the light goes out. A public exhibition will be given soon.
