READ THIS.—Grand opening of a fine line of Holiday Goods at J. Eisenhuth's Drug Store, Millheim, on and after December 13th, where will always be found a full line of pure Drugs, Chemicals, and all the standard Patent Medicines of merit, which will be sold as cheap as the cheapest, for cash. Come, see, and be convinced. 4t

—Lancaster Almanacs at the Journal Store, Sets.

—The days are getting longer, the nights shorter.

—Allie Deininger, of New Berlin, was here on a short visit over Christmas.

—Everybody buys the beautiful gilt edged paper and Envelopes to match at the new Journal Store.

—The finest Luther Portrait in chromo imported from Europe, for sale at the Journal Store on Penn Street.

—Mr. Wm. Kerstetter bought the house of Mr. A. B. Alexander, on the Dutweiler farm, at Elk Creek, occupied by Josiah Long, at present.

—For fine Monuments and Headstones the Millheim Marble Works is the leading and best place in the county. 4t —Probably you need new Blank Books to begin new accounts with the new year. The new Journal Store is just the place to get them.

—Mr. Jacob Keen bought the homestead of Mr. Wm. Kerstetter on Penn Street at private sale for the sum of $800.

—Our County Commissioners will offer a large lot of land at public sale, at the Court House, Bellefonte, Jan. 29, 1884.

—The EVERLASTING WASHING MACHINES for sale by Mr. H. A. Luse of this place, is the best machine of the kind. It will pay you to procure one.

—Geo. W. Brown, executor will sell a valuable small home above Madisonburg at public sale, Jan. 23, 1884. See bills.

—Dr. H. H. Warner, proprietor of the great observatory at Rochester, N. Y., has our thanks for tickets of admission to his observatory during the year 1884.

—Quite a number of new advertisements appear in this number of the JOURNAL. Read them friends, you may strike something exactly in your line of wants.

—Shakespeare said, "Throw physic to the dogs;" but then Shakespeare probably never had the rheumatism, and knew nothing about the wonderful virtues of Smith's German Olio.

—We acknowledge with thanks the receipt of tickets to the County Teacher's Institute, and regret that we could not avail ourselves of their benefits.

—The new Journal Store on Penn Street is Headquarters for Books, Stationery, Fancy goods and Notions. Don't forget it and give us a call.

—Mr. J. Willis Musser has bought out the stage route from Woodward to Millheim, but also goes to Coburn every morning. He carries express and other goods from all points along the line at very moderate charges, and continues the calf and poultry business. 4t

—The latest railroad news that has gained currency, and it really seems to be based on good grounds is to the effect that the board of directors of the Penna. R. R. Co. have decided to extend our road to Lemont, to intersect with the Bellefonte and Lemont road. This is the work of Gov. Curtin.

—Do not fail to read the advertisement of the Millheim Marble Works. They are fully prepared to serve their old friends and customers as well as the public generally with the best work at the lowest prices.

TAKE NOTICE.—Mr. H. K. Luse hereby respectfully informs the public that he has a large lot of seed potatoes known as the "White Elephant Potato" for sale at his residence at Millheim. We are in possession of a basket full of these potatoes and can give them a warm recommendation as the best yielding potato in the market. If you are in need of any seed potatoes do not fail to call on him. 4t

—Rebersburg charge (Reformed) Rev. Newton J. Miller, Pastor, will hold Zwingli Memorial services on the second Sunday in January—at Grace Church, east end of Brush Valley. Saturday Jan. 12th, 2 o'clock, P. M. Greenburg, Saturday 7 P. M., Sunday Jan. 13th, Tylersville, 10 A. M., Madisonburg 2 P. M., Rebersburg 7 P. M.

Rev. Z. Yearick, of Aaronsburg and Prof. D. M. Wolf will assist Pastor Miller in these services

The Pastor.

—Prof. Wm. T. Meyer, whose field of labor is at Shamokin at present, and where he has a large class of pupils in instrumental music, came home to pay a week's visit to his folks at Aaronsburg. He illuminated the JOURNAL office by his friendly smile and a bright dollar for the paper. Call again, William.

—The festival held in the Methodist church over the New year was quite well patronized by our people and was a full success generally. Those who had the matter in charge did their utmost to serve and oblige the many visitors and in this they fully succeeded. Everything was in best style and every one present seemed highly pleased. The proceeds were good and fully remunerated our friends for their labor, with a fair margin over. We congratulate our friends on their success.

—The 400th birthday of Ulrich Zwingli, the Swiss reformer and one of the founders of the Reformed church, will be celebrated in the Aaronsburg Reformed charge next Saturday and Sunday, in the following order:—at St. Paul's on Saturday evening, at Aaronsburg on Sunday, 10 A. M., at Millheim, 2.30 P. M. and at Salem's in the evening.

Similar services will be held in the Rebersburg charge, on the 12th and 13th inst., as follows:—On Saturday, at the chapel, East End, Brush Valley, at 2 P. M. and at Kahl's church, Sugar Valley, in the evening; on Sunday, at Tylersville, 10 A. M., at Madisonburg, 2.30 P. M., and at Rebersburg in the evening.

Prof. D. M. Wolf, Rev's N. J. Miller, S. M. Roeder and Z. A. Yearick will be present at one or more of these appointments and deliver short addresses suitable to the occasion.

—A number of marriages appear in this number of the JOURNAL and some of the parties are our near neighbors and friends.

Mr. John W. Luse we have also known these many years. He is one of the most useful young men in this town and community and we are glad that he has concluded to settle here. Mrs. Luse is also well known here, having taught school in Millheim with much acceptance for several years. The happy couple have our best wishes and warmest congratulations, as well as our best thanks for the printer's share of the delicious wedding cake.

Mr. Robert H. Kreamer also comes in the list of newly-married couples. Robert is a very active, sociable, and agreeable young man. His chosen one Miss McMullen, we have no acquaintance with. Luck to you Bob.

Last but not least, is Mr. Irvin T. Williams of Clinton county and Miss Maggie Ulrich, of this place. Mr. Williams has been around here for several years, off and on, and he sustained a most excellent character for industry and sobriety, while Miss Maggie has always been one of the excellent of the earth. They have our warmest congratulations.

For the Journal.

A GOOD TIME AT THE EVANGELICAL PARSONAGE OF MILLHEIM.—Dear Editors: The happy life is made up of two elements, the religious and the social. These two elements constitute the good of the parsonage. On Christmas eve I was expecting my youngest son home from the city whom I had not seen for several years, and on my way to church, I intercepted the last coach from the railroad station, to receive my boy, but he was not a passenger and I was sadly disappointed—fo I love my boys dearly.

I went to church and preached to my congregation from the sublimest of all themes, the "nativity of Christ," and though I tried to make my discourse as interesting as possible, yet my hearers seemed as if "all the world were to be taxed again," so that I did not accomplish what I expected, closed the service, went home, and sat down in my parlor all alone, the family had gone out, and somewhat like Edgar Allan Poe in his "Raven,"—

Once upon a midnight dreary while I pondered weak and weary, Over many a quaint and curious volume of forgotten lore— Suddenly there came a tapping As if some one gently rapping At my chamber door: It was in bleak December—So.

The tapping at my door was not by the raven, though they furnished the prophet of the lord with food in his solitude. The rap at my door was by a different species of ravens, but on a similar errand, and led by the Rev. C. F. Gephart. It was he who did the rapping at my door, and following him was a flock of about 75 smiling men and women, and each one having a gift for the servant of the lord—and his beast, for there was a bag of oats for "Dollie" among the lot of good things. When I looked upon the heap on the table I saw at once what the burden was that weighed my people down in church and freely forgave them for their seeming indifference. After the singing of a few Christmas Anthems, and a free flow of social good feeling, I tried to make a little speech and thanked my many friends. We sang the "Praise God from whom all blessings flow," pronounced the apostolic benediction and dismissed them. In conclusion, once more I thank you one and all for that agreeable surprise. I shall cherish it as one of the pleasantest of my life, and may God in return richly bless you and yours, is the sincere prayer of your friend and pastor,

Benjamin Hengst.

Communicated. ULRIC ZWINGLI.—Scarcely have the festivities of the Luther Memorial services been succeeded by the commemoration of the nativity of our Saviour, the greatest of earth's reformers, before Protestantism again summons a portion of Christendom to halt in the pursuit of secular affairs in order to celebrate on the incoming New Year the four hundredth anniversary of the birth of Zwingli, one of the foremost lights of the 16th century. One might almost suppose that the birth of Zwingli on the first day of January 1484 foreshadowed that when the present generation had passed away and he attained to the vigor of manhood a new era in ecclesiastical affairs would by his aid mark the rise of Protestantism in Switzerland and in the many countries whither the Swiss Reformation extended its influence.

The primary luminaries of the Reformation were Luther, Zwingli, Calvin and Melancthon. It is no disparagement to the memory of any one of these bright lights of the ecclesiastical firmament to say that this or that one ranked above the others in special spheres of christian activity; but it is a gross injustice to the memory of Zwingli, Calvin or Melancthon to regard them as satellites revolving around and reflecting the illumination caught from Luther. They alike devoted their lives to the reformation of the church. They all contributed to its success. They differed in their powers of mind, in the temperament of their physical constitutions, were reared under different circumstances, were educated at different schools and their theaters of action were different.

Each displayed characteristic qualities. Melancthon stands out as the polished scholar who mediated between the coarseness of Luther's manner and the refined humanist of that age. Calvin has generally been acknowledged as the greatest theologian. Luther's prominence rests on his boldness, energy and the immense amount of work he performed. Zwingli comes into the forefront as the champion of man's exaltation to Godlikeness and as the hero of Capel. As a student of the Bible and preacher of positive truth Zwingli was unrivaled.

The character of Zwingli was not tarnished by the besetting sins of his countrymen and profession. Against these he took a firm stand during youth as well as in the ripe years of manhood. By indomitable perseverance he succeeded in supplanting to a great extent the immorality and impiety of his age.

With good reason the Reformed church proposes to celebrate the 400th anniversary of this great reformer's birth. The reformed branch of protestantism is divided into many families and distributed over many countries. The coming anniversary will serve to bring into closer union the many denominations of protestantism who look to Zwingli not as their sole founder but as to an illustrious one of their many founders who protested against Roman error and laid the foundation of the reformation. ***

—THE REBERSBURG MUSICAL CONVENTION, held in the Lutheran church under the direction of Prof. Sechrest from Hagerstown, Md., was a perfect success. A great many singers were present and the music throughout was very good and well rendered. The patronage was exceedingly liberal, and the proceeds realized amounted to about two hundred dollars. Both concerts were well attended, and all present seemed highly gratified with the exercises. Prof. Sechrest is undoubtedly one of the finest teachers of vocal music that ever visited this section of the country. His son, Harry and daughter Ella, can also be classed among the best musicians of the day. They have certainly endeared themselves to the good people of Rebersburg, both by their professional skill as well as by their excellent social qualities. One who was present,

—Hon. W. K. Alexander, accompanied by his sister, Miss Maggie, was off on a trip to Philadelphia, last week.

Echoes from Coburn.

Wheat is worth $1.04. Protracted meeting closed on Sunday evening.

The wet weather is killing the ice crop which was about ripe. Our merchants did a thriving business during the holidays.

Miss Lizzie Catherman who had been here visiting a few weeks went to Lewisburg on Monday. Shall be glad to have her call again.

Mr. John Rote has moved into his new house and says he likes it tip top at Coburn.

Our new school is a perfect success. Mr. E. H. Bressler, the teacher, reports 36 on the roll, 29 average attendance. He is a good teacher and a clever fellow.

In behalf of the select oyster supper on Saturday evening we render thanks to Mr. Ard and would be glad to have more such social gatherings during the long winter evenings.

Mr. C. Dinges had quite a distinguished guest last week, in the person of Wm. K. Hawkins, Esq. of Philadelphia, Secretary to the chief engineer of the Pa. R. R. I did not have the pleasure of meeting him but he is highly spoken of. He made an inspection of the railroad from here to Lewisburg, Scribe.

—Mr. H. B. Hering, son of S. J. Herring, Esq., of Penn Hall, who had been in Dakota, since August, returned, to spend the winter at the parental home. He likes the West and speaks of going back to the distant land by next spring.

—In looking over our advertising columns you will find the large and interesting announcement of Dinges, Vonada & Co., at Coburn. That firm is bound to make things boom and as far as we can ascertain they are successful in their enterprises. Call at their store and get the benefit of the bargains they are offering.

—THE HOLIDAYS, the happy, festive season of the year has again come and gone, with its meetings and greetings, its family reunions—its pleasures and joys. There was no public demonstration in Millheim this year, no church or other festival, except New Year's Day by our Methodist friends noticed elsewhere. The Sunday School scholars were remembered with substantial gifts, and many presents were made in a quiet way. On the whole the holidays passed off of very pleasantly, and we trust profitably.

—The word "Oho" implies a mixture. Smith's German Olio is a mixture of herbs, roots and seeds, skillfully compounded, and is a specific for rheumatism and similar diseases.

TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.—We call the attention of our readers who may be in want of engineer's, architectural and carpenter work, to the fact that Mr. John Kerstetter, Jr., of Millheim is master of these trades and is in possession of the best recommendations to this effect. Give him a trial by all means. 1-t

—The official statement of the business on all the lines of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company east of Pittsburgh and Erie for November, 1883, as compared with the same month in 1882 shows an increase in the gross earnings of $99,654; a decrease in expenses of $155,161; an increase in net earnings of $254,815. And yet that great corporation can't finish the Lewisburg & Tyrone branch without exorting $25,000 from the hard earnings of the people of Centre county, for—what? The damage done by the Company's own negligence. That sounds bad for the great corporation.—Lewisburg Chronicle.

—The art studio of Buck Brother's on Main street is fixed up and arranged on the best style and persons wishing to procure photographs at their establishment will find it a fine place of business and the proprietors of it obliging and pleasant gentlemen. Give them a call.

—Mr. C. A. Sturgis, the gentlemanly jeweler of Lewisburg, presented the M. E. Church of this place with a fine silver Communion service valued at $50. Bravo, Charley, such deeds deserve the heartiest thanks of the community.

DID YOU

ever read a patent medicine advertisement? Yes, say you; one can't pick up a paper now-a-days that is not one-half medicine advertisements. No doubt of it. Columbarium of most wonderful cures performed on Jones and Brown away off somewhere.

But did you ever read of a manufacturer of a medicine who had the courage, or had sufficient confidence in his medicine himself to say, "if you are not cured or benefited go to where you bought the medicine and demand your money and it will be given to you." You didn't? Well, neither did we; but there are such remedies nevertheless.

Are you troubled with torpid or diseased Liver, inactive Kidneys, Biliousness, Constipation, &c., &c., use McDonald's improved Liver Pills—money refunded to dissatisfied purchasers. Do you inherit Scrofula or Erysipelas? If so, try McDonald's Great Blood Purifier—money refunded to dissatisfied purchasers.

Do you want to feel secure from those frightful and oftentimes fatal visitors, Croup and Whooping Cough, as well as having in the family the one incomparable cough medicine for all colds and lung troubles. Then buy Dr. Kessler's famous cough medicine—money refunded to all dissatisfied purchasers.

Do you want a whole Drug store in a little glass bottle: then secure at once, Curtis' Carmelite Cordial: the greatest medicine ever devised for Cholera, Dysentery, Diarrhoea, Cramps, &c. Neyer was equalled as a general family pain curer—money refunded to dissatisfied purchasers.

Have you reason, from symptoms exhibited, to suspect that any of your children are troubled with worms? If so, let me say to you, for smallness of dose, easiness to take, efficacy, as well as a worm destroyer, McDonald's Celebrated Worm Powders have no equal on earth—money refunded to dissatisfied purchasers.

Have you a valuable horse for which you want a medicine to enrich the blood, improve the appetite and digestion, make his coat glossy, eye bright and step elastic? Give him McDonald's Tonic and Blood Purifying Horse and Cattle Powder. We don't think it possible to produce a better medicine for stock.

Don't use it unless your animal is sick and needs a medicine. If you want to use a stock powder for fun, buy somebody else's—Money refunded to dissatisfied purchasers.

Dr. Barber at his Drug store, in Middleburgh, Snyder county, Penna., keeps these remedies for sale and is authorized to refund the money to any dissatisfied buyer. Now ask yourself the question, can I afford to place a hump before you under the above conditions, or would a druggist of J. Eisenhuth's standing and reputation be likely to have these medicines in his store, much less recommend them, if they were not medicines of merit.
