Bread is the staff of life, so is advertising the staff of business. Blessed are they who do not advertise, for they shall rarely be troubled with a customer. You can't eat enough in a week to last you a year, and you can't advertise on that plan either. Business can go without advertising, so can a wagon go without greasing, but in both cases it is hard work. No bells ring so loud as a good advertisement. People are more apt to heed what they read than what they hear. Those who take the lead in pushing their business through the newspaper, generally take the lead in everything else. If you don't mean to attend to your business, and prefer a slender income while your neighbors grow rich, it won't pay to advertise. Judicious advertising is sure to bring large returns, to increase your business reputation, to add to your acquaintance. If you haven't business, advertise-If you have business, advertise. It is a "poor rule that wont work both ways." A place well advertised is known to many, while one not advertised is known only to a few passersby. Quitting advertising in dull times is like pulling down a dam when water is low. When trade revives, it will rush by him who does not stay it with ready customers. The way to have such always on hand is through advertising.

A Carson City photographer treats each customer who will take it, to a drink of liquor, in order to get the proper "pleased expression" on the

The Philadelphia Times, 1884.

THE TIMES will enter upon the new year stronger and more prosperous than ever before in its history -more widely read and quoted, more heartily commended, and more fiercely criticised with a more complete organization. and an abler staff of contributors-and with the same independence and fearlessness that has made it successful and powerful in the past.

THE TIMES has no party to follow, on candidates to advance, but will meet eyery issue, as it has ever done, with consistent devotion to the right, to honest government, had the public welfare. And, while maintaning its position as the leading paper of Philadelphia, it will aim to be continually in advance in all that can add value to a newspaper.

The value of a newspaper is not in its size or display, but in the intelligence and care, the conciseness and freshness with which it is edited. The TIMES spends laivshly for news from all parts of the world, but all its dispatches are carefully edited and condensed, in order to give the complete news of the day in the most concise and attractive shape, and with it a large variety of entertaining and instructive reading. The best writers at home and abroad are imployed to enrich its colums, and to make it a journal adapted both to the busy man and to the leisure of the home circle, a welcome visitor to intelligent and honest citizens of every political, religious, and social taste.

THE WEEKLY TIMES is altogether different from the weekly newspapers of twenty years ago. The telegraph and better local newspapers everywhere, es pecially in the thriving centres of rural population, have made the old weekly metropolitan newspaper unsatisfying. Those that cling to their ancient usages have lost their hold on our forwardmoving people; they are but shadows of their former greatness, and they have but a shadow of their former power. Those papers have had their usefulness, but it is gone; and, with it, they are going, too. It was not the fault of papers; it was the improvement of the country that brought about the change. Men and women. wherever they live, now require fresher news; and they require more than

AND ALL MALARIAL DISEASES. The proprietor of this celebrated medi-cine justly claims for it a superiority over all remedies ever offered to the public for the SAFE, CERTAIN, SPEEDY and PER-MANENT cure of Ague and Fever, or Chills and Fever, whether of short or long standing. He refers to the entire Western and Southern country to bear him testimony to the truth of the assertion that in no case whatever will it fail to cure if the directions are strictly followed and carried out. In a great many cases a single dose has been sufficient for a cure, and whole families have been cured by a single bottle, with a perfect restoration of the general health. It is, however, prudent, and in every case more certain to cure, if its use is continued in smaller doses for a week or two after the in difficult and long-standing cases.
