A Blizzard in the West.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Feb. 18.—A blizzard is raging in the vicinity of St. Vincent.

The Ohio River Floods still Raging.

FEB 15th.—The towns and cities on the Ohio river have been visited by the greatest flood of the century.

THE LOCAL ELECTIONS.

MILLHEIM BOROUGH. Chief Burgess—R. B. Hartman.

PENN TOWNSHIP.

Supervisors, H. M. Swartz, Emanuel Neese.

MILES TOWNSHIP.

Judge, William Walker, Constable, W W Hockman, Inspectors, Wm Kreamer, G W Hazel, Assessor, Austin Gramley, School Directors, Michael Miller, S Krumrine, Overseer of the Poor, John Shafer, Auditor, J B Kreamer, Supervisors, D D Dubbs, J J Shultz, Town Clerk, Jos K Weber.

DELUCE MOVING WEST.

SHAWNEETOWN, Ind., Feb. 17.—A heavy rain fell all night and during the early hours of the morning, and the indications are that there will be still more rain.

WASHNETOWN, Ind., Feb. 17.—A heavy rain fell all night and during the early hours of the morning, and the indications are that there will be still more rain.

Two Bold Swindlers.—The other morning at 4 o'clock, as the Philadelphia and Erie passenger train was about starting west from Harrisburg, a bold and successful swindling dodge was played upon an old gentleman, a citizen of Erie, who was on his way home.

Miscellaneous.

A general reduction in fare has been made on the Reading Railroad.

There is a man in Shamokin who has lived for seven years on bread and water at an expense of 40 cents a week.

The Lehigh Valley Railroad company is building a locomotive which it is stated will be the heaviest ever built. It will have ten driving wheels with pony-trucks before and behind.

On Sunday Feb. 10 Mrs. Fenstermacher, living on East Market street, Sunbury, discovered a bunch of full blown blossoms on an apple tree in her lot. The tree is also full of buds nearly ready to burst.

A Reading Lad's Singular Death.

READING, February 13.—A strange and fatal accident occurred here on the streets to night. An alarm of fire was struck at 8.30 and a large crowd ran in response. Harry Ganz, aged seventeen ran against a tree in the thick fog, slipped and was instantly killed. He struck the tree with his temple.

The State Agricultural Society, having bought ground for a permanent place of exhibition in Philadelphia, will erect capacious buildings during the coming summer and inaugurate its new department next fall with a State fair at which $50,000 in premiums will be offered.

It strikes one at first as odd to hold an agricultural fair in the largest city of the State and in the extreme southeastern corner; but, after all, by the increase of railroad facilities, Philadelphia is brought near to the great agricultural region of the State.

Dead in a Dentist's Chair.

SCRANTON, Feb. 7.—Mrs. James Stevenson, of the Providence section of the city, died to-day in a dentist's chair at the office of W. H. Heist, after she had three doses of chloroform and ether administered during the pulling of fifteen teeth.

A Railroad Track Ruined.

WHEELING, Feb. 15.—The greatest financial loss is that of the Ohio River railroad. For a hundred miles the track and road bed has almost entirely disappeared and the bridges have all been swept away.

PENN HALL SHAVINGS.

Free concert every night at Condo's parlors.
