

The Millheim Journal

DEININGER & BUMILLER, Editors and Proprietors.

A PAPER FOR THE HOME CIRCLE.

Terms, $1.00 per Year, in Advance.

VOL. 58.

MILLHEIM, PA., THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 28., 1884.

NO. 9.

NEWSPAPER LAW. If subscribers order the discontinuance of newspapers, the publishers may continue to send them until all arrearages are paid.

Don't Let Mother Do It.

Daughter, don't let mother do it! Don't let her slave and toll. While you sit, a useless idler.

MISSING.

Missing—so many are missing. The old as well as the young. The poor and the rich together.

Chased by Wolves.

A STORY OF THE EARLY SETTLEMENTS.

"Tell us a story grandpa." It was a youngster who spoke, and as the words fell from his lips he came forward with a chair, and seated himself by the side of a little old man.

"No, thank you, Mrs. Belcher," said I; "father commanded us to be back before sunset, and it must be that time now. How thoughtless we have been that we did not start before!"

dared to rush down that precipitous bank in the way I did if it had been in the daytime and I could have seen where I was going.

A Sparkling Spasmodic Spectacle. A Plumber nearly Drowned by our little Boy—his Failure to do so a Disappointment to the World.

BEHIND TIME. A Railroad train was rushing along at almost lightning speed. A curve was just ahead, and beyond it was a station, at which the cars usually passed each other.

The Duck Hunter's Story. "Speaking of duck shooting on St. Clair Flats," sighed an old citizen, as he took a seat in a gun store yesterday.

A. HARTER, Auctioneer, MILLHEIM, PA. W. J. SPRINGER, Fashionable Barber, Next Door to JOURNAL STORE, Main Street, MILLHEIM, PA.