—Mr. J. Willis Musser has bought out the stage route from Woodward to Millheim, but also goes to Coburn every morning. He carries express and other goods from all points along the line at very moderate charges, and continues the calf and poultry business. tf

—We understand that Prof. A. N. Johnson, of New York City, the director of next week's singing convention is a renowned musician and that he has few equals in conducting large classes of singers. Our folks should embrace this opportunity to participate in the musical feast.

—Louis A. Hengst, youngest son of Rev. Benj. Hengst of this place, and in the employ of the N. C. R. R. Co. at Calvert station Baltimore Md., accompanied by his friend Mr. Charles Schmidt, Vegetable and fruit packer, were in town on a short visit, having arrived on Monday and left on Tuesday for Philadelphia.

SHOOTING MATCH AT THE REBERSBURG HOTEL.—On Thursday and Friday, the 28th and 29th inst, there will be a shooting match at the hotel at Rebersburg. Prizes: A fat steer, a good cow, and a lot of fine shoats. Distance 50 yards off hand, 100 yards rest. A peep sight may be used but globe and telescope sights will not be allowed.
C. CONDO.

—Some of our musicians are making an effort to start a musical association in town, which is to have regular weekly meetings and give entertainments every three months. This is a good move and will certainly advance musical culture as well as social intercourse in this town and we hope it will become an established and successful organization.

—If Lewisburg realizes but the one half of her projected improvements she will in a few years be the busiest manufacturing centre in the interior of the state. Meetings are held and the building of rolling mills, nail works, and other manufacturing establishments are being discussed. Some of these no doubt will be built, as the leading capitalists and business men of the town seem to be deeply interested in the general subject of improvements.

—Mr. Jacob Dutwiler, whose large farm is located along the turnpike about 1 mile south of Millheim, will make sale of his live stock, farming implements and household goods on Wednesday, March 19th, 1884. He expects to move to Jewel county, Kansas, soon after the sale.

THE ENTERTAINMENT.—The entertainment held by the Millheim Literary Society on last Friday evening was attended by a large audience. Some of the performances were very good, while others deserve censuring. The exercises of the evening were opened with an appropriate prayer by Rev. B. Hengst, followed by a salutatory from Miss Rose Harter. The lady performed her task in a very creditable manner delivering her address in a slow, distinct and correct way. The oration of Rev. J. G. W. Herald on "Advantages of the International Exhibition" and Mr. W. T. Auman's "Brother and I," deserve special mention as well rendered productions. Several other orations, declamations and essays were delivered throughout the evening, of which we would say that the selections of the subjects were good but that the performers did not do them justice. The amateur orators must give the study of elocution a little more attention if they would succeed in interesting an audience.

The vocal pieces sang by the Misses Sallie Musser and Mary Lose, Mr. W. T. Auman and Mr. J. W. Lose were rich treats and were ably accompanied on the organ by Miss Cora Kreamer. The tableau representing "Queen Victoria's Royal Court" was one of the best features of the programme and was gotten up in a brilliant and tasty manner, making a pleasing impression on all present. Considerable time and work had been spent on this tableau, but the participants were rewarded for their labor by the manifest appreciation of the audience. Entertaining dialogues formed part of the programme, among which the well-known "Frog Hollow Lyceum" was received with most favor.

We are only sorry to state that some of their pieces were not exactly suitable for an entertainment of a Literary society and would, advise its officers and members to use more care in the future so that no objectionable matter will go on the stage. The people expect their entertainments to be interesting, instructive and elevating and anything that may have a tendency of lowering the morals or characters of our young people should be avoided on an occasion of this kind.

The order in the audience was not as good as it ought to have been and it was at times exceedingly difficult for the performers to render their pieces satisfactory.

The band enlivened the occasion by some of their best music.

—A sad bereavement befell our friend Jacob Dutwiler on Monday in the unexpected death of his oldest son, Elmer. The young man had only been sick a few days but suffered extremely during his short illness. The deceased was a model young man and had been industriously working on his father's farm ever since he was able to do any work. It is a severe blow for the grief-stricken family and they have the sincerest sympathy of the community. The funeral took place on Wednesday forenoon and was attended by a large number of relatives and friends.

—The other day W. J. Springer called us in to look at his new place of business on Main Street. We found nicely arranged and fitted up rooms which are to be used for divers enterprises. In the large front room he expects to keep confectioneries, in the two smaller apartments to serve oysters and in the backroom to follow his trade as barber. He wants to begin with shaving the pocket books in the front rooms and put the finishing touches on the faces of his customers in the backroom. Sometime this week yet he will open his bazaar and invites his many friends and customers to give him a call.

—Again it becomes our sad duty to record the sudden death of one of our neighbors and friends, one who has lived in this community these many years—Mrs. Julia Ann Musser, wife of John G. Musser. Mrs. Musser had an attack of palsy on Monday evening, from which she became unconscious and so remained until relieved by death, which followed on Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Musser was well known as a kind and helpful neighbor, a devoted wife and affectionate mother. Her genial disposition endeared her to her family and all with whom she came in contact. But her life work is over, and while her surviving family mourn, may her rest be sweet.

WOODWARD CHIPS.
Business is brisk at the Peoples' Store.

John is hostler at the still house. The doctor says, the lord willing he will positively move up street on the first of April.

Big Jis is not satisfied with the verdict on the waste water argument. Ben was Jis's lawyer.

Mr. Geiger, our excellent tailor, is crowded with work. Better get a jaw, Frantz.

Howard Musser goes to house keeping in spring. He goes into the old Hosterman house north of Woodward.

Wilson Haines is going into the sewing machine business. Success, Wilse.

Howard Bowersox was very unfortunate while peeling bark last week. His axe slipped, cutting an ugly gash in his knee. He is getting along as well as can be expected under the treatment of Dr. Ard.

R. M. Wolfe & lady attended the torry wedding at Spring Mills last week and enjoyed it very much.
PEDRO.

PENN HALL SHAVINGS.
That funny lad, M. Yony Condo, from Nittany Valley was here on a visit to his brother John.

Mr. Chas. Smith left for Pine Grove to attend the festival being held by the Cornet Band of that place.

Some of our boys had been to the entertainment at Millheim on Friday evening last and speak very praiseworthy of it.

Mr. K. Kline who has been constable of Gregg township for over 16 years was again elected to that office by a large majority. Reuben is hard to beat.

We notice in an item of last week's Centre Democrat, that the correspondent of that paper named "Mountain Boy" would like to shake the hand of JACK PLANE. Here is to you, Mr. Mountain—who are you any how.
JACK PLANE.

SPRING MILLS ITEMS.
Mr. E. H. Shook who had gone to Jefferson County for stock returned with 5 very fine looking horses.

The teacher of the mountain School came very near getting into trouble, as one of the citizens concluded to handle him like he did the pupil. Look a little out—Alf.

Mr. Samuel Wolf of near this place celebrated his 94th birthday on the 14th inst., and he can handle a saw and buck very well yet. We find very few at his advanced aged that can do that.

On Sunday the Rev. Roeder admitted 5 to the Reformed church here. Hope many more may join the church and live a christian life.

Messrs Vandyk & Wilson, R. R. Contractors of Williamsport are here and they expect to commence work on the road bed by the first of March. We are all glad to have a western outlook.

Miss Emma Bolander returned to her western home after spending the winter with her friends here. Well I suppose some of our gentry will follow shortly.
BROAD AXE.

MARRIED.
On the 7th inst, at the home of the bride's mother, by Rev. I. Vonada Mr. Joseph Bachan and Miss Mary D. Eitel, both of Gregg township, Centre Co. Pa.

DIED.
On the 26th inst. in Millheim, Mrs. Julia A. Musser, wife of John G. Musser, in the 68th year of her age.

On the 24th inst. in Penn township, Elmer Elsworth, son of Jacob and Sallie Dutwiler, aged 19 years, 5 months and 22 days.

—For fine Monuments and Headstones the Millheim Marble Works is the leading and best place in the county.
