

A strange Use for the Telephone.

A police inspector at Odessa, says an English journal, whose name, Dobriusky, deserves in spite of its dissonance to be mentioned on account of his cleverness, has discovered a new use for the telephone. One day recently a policeman brought to the station a Jew, having in his possession a quantity of silver believed to be stolen. The silver was in a semi-molten condition, and had none of its original features remaining to assist in its identification. Hence, as the Jew stoutly declared the metal to be his own property, the police inspector was put in a fix, from which all his cross examination of the presumed thief failed to extricate him. At last a bright idea struck him. He went to the telephone in the adjoining room, and mentioning to the officials at the police master's office what had happened, instructed them to utter in solemn tones, on a signal being given, the words, 'Itzno Smeliansky, it will be better for thee to confess that thou hast robbed somebody, otherwise thy punishment will inevitably be more severe.' Afterwards summoning the Jew into the room, he pointed to the instrument on the wall, and told him that it really did not matter whether he divulged his crime or not, as the 'machine' would do it for him. At this the Jew laughed out-right, while the inspector placed a sheet of paper on the table and prepared to take down the confession. When everything was ready, he told the Jew to put the tube to his ear, and decide whether he would confess himself or allow the 'machine' to do it for him. Then, giving the signal, he returned to the table, when a second or two later he had the satisfaction of seeing the Jew's face turn deadly pale at hearing the solemn advice mysteriously conveyed to him by the 'machine' and of noting down directly afterwards a penitent confession from the thief's own lips.

Novel Use of Greenbacks.

"What becomes of all the greenbacks and bank-notes after they have served their few years of usefulness?" is a frequent inquiry. A bank-note has its life just the same as all other things useful. What an interesting story the travels of a greenback from the moment it leaves the press until it returns to the macerating machine would make! The average life of a bank-note is about three years, perhaps a little longer. After serving its purpose as currency it is metamorphosed into rabbits, birds and other figures. The process of the destruction of the notes is an interesting one. The readers will often see in the daily papers a paragraph something like this: "National bank-notes received for redemption to-day, five hundred thousand dollars." The next day these notes are carried to the bureau of Engraving and Printing and placed in a machine containing large knives, which chop the notes into fragments. The operation is conducted under the supervision of three officers of the Treasury Department, especially detailed for this business. No one is allowed to be present at this daily maceration of the notes except the officials and the men who run the machine. They are compelled to remain in the room until each separate note is destroyed. They must account in detail afterward to the Redemption Bureau for each note; and should one become lost or mislaid, and afterward find its way into circulation, the result would be the immediate discharge of the three men who daily have in their custody from $500,000 to $2,000,000, or $3,000,000 worth of notes and bonds. The shreds are reduced to pulp, and then by a patented process this mass is molded into figures of birds and animals and sold as mementoes to visitors. Oftentimes it will happen that one little object will be composed of what was once $100,000,000 worth of money.

"Young man" writes to learn what multum in parvo means. "Young man," did you ever call on your best girl and have her cruel father meet you at the door and with one crushing glance say "Go!" Well, that is multum in parvo, and it is about all you want!

DOWN'S ELIXIR N. H. DOWN'S Vegetable Balsamic ELIXIR

For the cure of Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Croup, Asthma, Flourish, Hoarseness, Influenza, Spitting Blood, Bronchitis, and all diseases of the Throat, Chest, and Lungs. In all cases where this Elixir is used its efficacy is at once manifested, convincing the most incredulous that it is not incurable, if properly attended to.

At its commencement it is but a slight irritation of the membrane which covers the Lungs, then an inflammation, when the cough is rather dry, local fever, and the pulse more frequent, the cheeks flushed and chill more common. This Elixir in curing the above complaints, operates so as to remove all morbid irritations and inflammation from the lungs to the surface, and finally expel them from the system. It facilitates expectoration. It heals the ulcerated surfaces and relieves the cough and makes the breathing easy. It supports the strength and at the same time reduces the fever. It is free from strong opiate and sedative articles, which are of so drying a nature as to be in great danger of destroying the patient; whereas this medicine cures the patient in well. Send address for pamphlet giving full directions, free. Price 35 cts. and 50 cts. per bottle. SOLD EVERYWHERE. HENRY, JOHNSON & LORD, Props., Burlington, Vt.
