Next—the show.

Any potato bugs?

Harry's Babies to-night.

Everything looks fresh and gay.

The hay stack hat predominates.

The ice-cream parlors in town seem to be liberally patronized.

The young ladies have done away with the bangs. What will it be next?

Jonathan Harter has sold one of his horses to Mr. Snook, of Sugar Valley.

Terrible cold snap last week. It nipped some of the garden things pretty badly.

C. A. Sturges' smiling face was seen in town this week. He paid us a pleasant call.

Clymer Musser returned from Lewisburg last week, where he has been attending High school.

Mr. D. P. Heckman of Penn Hall called on the JOURNAL office last Saturday. Come again.

Miss Lizzie King, a young lady from Cedar Springs is visiting her mother at this place.

Prof. J. B. Harry's educated babies gave a musical entertainment at Aaronsburg last night.

To pay as you go is the best plan, especially if the man in charge will not let you go till you do pay.

J. Spigelmyer is building an addition to the house occupied by Dr. A. W. Hafer, on Penn street.

A large and substantial awning has been placed over the front entrance of Kaufman's store on Main street.

FOR SALE.—A good dwelling house in Millheim, centrally located. For particulars inquire at this office.

Mrs. Krise, of Millifburg, and Miss Marion Cantner, of Milroy, were the guests of their sister, Mrs. S. D. Musser.

On Tuesday evening, about nine o'clock, the band started up North street and gave Mr. John G. Musser and his new wife a serenade.

Mr. Frank Frain and family, who for the past few days have been visiting friends at Millheim, have returned to their home at Salona.

Contractor J. W. Snook, constructed a new and substantial side walk along the two lots on Penn Street, belonging to B. O. Deininger.

Our virtuosos, Harter and Kreamer, are in raptures over their trip to Erie. They will respond to as many more calls of this kind as they can get.

A large number of country people were in town last Friday to witness the celebration of Memorial Day. Our business men profited by the crowds.

Circus and menagerie coming—any fellows anxious to speculate? If you are you might as well bid farewell to your dollar bills. A word to the wise, &c.

Mr. Daniel Kauffman is absent attending commencement of the Seilsgrove Seminary. We understand that his youngest brother will graduate there.

W. N. Auman's residence on Penn Street, next door to the JOURNAL building, received several coats of paint, which gives it a much improved appearance.

Mr. John DeLong, one of Brush Valley's ablest and oldest teachers, is suffering from a severe cut inflicted on the right foot. He is however, regaining its use.

The saw mills through Brush Valley are steaming up powerfully. Ere long the timber tracts over there will have nothing to present but stumps and stumps.

An enormous bill board 95 feet in length has been erected on the island east of town and was covered yesterday morning with flaring posters of the coming show. "Young America" was duly on hand to watch the proceedings.

—Read the Sale Notice of D. P. Heckman's property near Penn Hall. If you are in need of a good and desirable home you would better purchase from him.

—Our enterprising grocery man, G. W. Harter, has his say in an advertisement appearing in the first column. Read it and take the contents to heart. Give him a call.

—Contractor D. A. Musser has a crew of laborers at work building the stone crossing on Penn Street between his lot and the Luth. church. It will be the best crossing in town.

—Geo. Buck's new "photograph gallery" is nearly ready for business and George expects to do a good deal of it after he has moved. He is a tip-top artist and deserves a good patronage.

—Y. M. C. A. will meet in the E. church next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Topic for discussion "Heaven." A general invitation is extended with the request to bring Bibles along.

—The item sent to this office by "a subscriber" can not receive publication until we learn the author's name. It is a rule of all newspaper offices to be acquainted with the writers name, before inserting a communication.

—Communion services were held by pastor Tomlinson in the Luth. church at Millheim, commencing on Friday evening and closing on Sunday evening. A large number of communicants partook of the Lord's supper on Sunday.

—Our young friend, George Harter, a son of Abs. Harter, left on Tuesday morning to go to Philadelphia, where he has accepted a lucrative position in Bradley & Co's publishing house. Wish him abundant success in his new sphere.

—During the thunder storm last Sunday lightning struck the barn of Charles Beck in Nittany valley, setting it on fire and destroying all the live stock and other contents of the barn, belonging to Frederick Nihart, the tenant farmer.

—We are happy to state that our sick, B.F. Miller and Harvey Hauck, are both improving with fair hopes of complete recovery. They had long and severe spells of suffering during this winter, and we shall be very glad to see them out again.

—J. J. Lingle, Esq., of Philipsburg, made the JOURNAL office a pleasant call last Saturday morning. He is a candidate for Associate Judge, of the unexpired term of Judge Larmer dec'd. His name appears under the head of announcements.

—Prof. J. B. Harry's educated babies will exhibit in the E. church at Millheim this evening. Admission 25c, children 15c. Their performances are highly spoken of and we urge our readers to go and hear the musical and literary treat rendered by them.

—Just as we go to press we are authorized by letter to announce the name of Adam Hoy, of Bellefonte for President Judge. Mr. Hoy is certainly a strong and deserving candidate for said office and should receive the nomination without any friction whatever.

—OH! OH! This howling, jumping, raging toothache! I would give anything for relief. Well; it won't cost you much. 15c will get you a bottle of the Great Zingari Toothache Drops, Guaranteed. For toothache and neuralgia the Great Zingari have no equal. Keep them in the house, they may save you hours of agony. Sold by Jacob Eisenhuth, Millheim, Pa.

—The town council in its regular meeting last Monday evening ordered the repair of the road from Musser's brick mill to the Long Lane and also issued several notices of repair of boardwalks to property holders. D. A. Musser received the contract for all the crossings and J. W. Snook for all boardwalks.

—The Lewisburg Journal has the following, which we clip for the benefit of our readers who may have noticed the mentioned advertisement in our paper:

—We were induced to publish the advertisement headed "Crazy Patchwork" for one week, but we have since learned that the company is a fraud. We hope none of our readers were tempted to invest in its offers. If accounts given us are correct, it is a swindling concern.

—Mr. and Mrs. M. I. Jamison returned from the West last Friday, expecting to stay with the lady's mother, Mrs. Jacob Keen, for some time. Glad to see them in our midst and hope Mr. Jamison's impaired health will be fully restored, before they think of going back to the West. Mrs. Jamison, nee Rose Keen, seems to be in good health and full of praise for the western countries.

A. CROWNOVER, Salsbury, Pa., writes: "J. A. McDonald, Dear Sir:—Your Liver Pills are giving good satisfaction here, and there is quite a demand springing up for them. Please send me three dozen boxes at once, as I am out and some of my customers won't have any other."

Comment needless. Dissatisfied buyers can have their money refunded. JOHNSON, HOLLOWAY & CO., Philadelphia Agents. Sold by J. Eisenhuth, Millheim, Pa.

FOR SALE.—About one thousand feet of Dry Linn Boards. Inquire at this office. W. tf.

—Job work done neatly at this office and at prices as low as anywhere else. Bring your orders.

TAKE NOTICE.—The READY-MADE CLOTHING, formerly kept in stock by H. H. Tomlinson, has been removed to Jacob Sankey's dwelling house on Main Street, and will be sold at a sacrifice in order to pay a debt resting on the same. The goods are nearly all new, having only been bought a short time ago. Everybody is invited to come and secure the best bargains ever offered in this vicinity. Don't forget the place—Sankey's residence, Main Street, Millheim Pa., two doors east of Bank.

PISTOL ACCIDENT.—Milford, youngest son of our townsman Mr. Noah Stover, was accidentally shot by his older brother, last Saturday afternoon, while examining a loaded revolver. The bullet passed through his limb, a little above the knee, not striking any bones. The ball was extracted by the attending physician, who pronounces the wound "not dangerous."

—The Brushvalley band dressed in their fine and showy uniforms were in town last Friday afternoon and took supper with landlord Musser, of the Millheim Hotel. After that they serenaded several of our citizens, treating them to some of their choice music. They intended to give the JOURNAL a shake, but unfortunately we were not at home. We return our thanks for the will which is as good as the deed.

—In last week's issue we remarked that our merchants are laying in large supplies of goods. Now there is certainly much in life and business, especially where competition is hot, to make our feelings; and yet, we only have one life to live and we had best live it in a happy, congenial way. Let business men who are competitors be friends. Let us all join hands, not in trying to pull each other down, but for the general good, and mark ye, Millheim will not be a loser by it. Every body will prosper and be contented and good people will desire to be in our midst.

—According to the following item taken from the Lincoln Banner, our friend H. B. Stover, residing at Lincoln Centre, Kansas, must be doing up things broken and we take pleasure in giving the good news to our readers, many of whom are well acquainted with Mr. Stover.

P. J. Stover is making some fine improvements around his home. He is giving his house a new coat of paint, white with red trimming, has sunk a well in his garden and is going to irrigate three acres, has fenced all of the vacant land on his home farm, has set three hundred fruit and ornamental trees, has purchased four farms this spring, built a new wood house and buggy shed, and expects to build a granary soon.

—A BOTTLE of Curtis' Carmelite Cordial should occupy the handy corner of every traveller's satchel. No prudent person will think of undertaking a journey involving changes of climate, diet and water, without first procuring a bottle. It never fails! It never disappoints! Money refunded in every case when a single bottle, as directed, fails to cure any case of cholera, dysentery, cholera morbus, diarrhoea, cramps, pains in the bowels, or any intestinal irritation.

DEATH OF AN OLD AARONSBURG CITIZEN.—Mr. Isaac Stover very suddenly died last Friday morning at his residence at Aaronsburg. He had been around town day before, only commencing to feel unwell about evening, Thursday night he suffered considerable pain and called to his son, who slept up-stairs, for assistance. Mr. Stover was lying on the lounge through the night, and after receiving proper attention became somewhat better and sent his son to bed. Early in the morning however he was found dead on the lounge by a neighbor starting out to work. The funeral took place on Sunday, his remains being interred in the Luth. cemetery.

—Last Sunday confirmation services were held, in connection with the celebration of Holy Communion, at Grace Reformed Church, located at the eastern end of Brush Valley belonging to the Rebersburg charge. Three persons were added to the church by baptism and six by confirmation.

Next Sunday forenoon communion services will be held in the St. Peter's Reformed Church, at Rebersburg. Preparatory services on Saturday afternoon preceding.

DEATHS OF WELL-KNOWN RESIDENTS OF BRUSH VALLEY.—Mrs. Catherine Zeigler, relict of the late Isaac Zeigler, fell gently asleep in Jesus on Saturday a week ago. Her genial disposition, her kindly interest in others' welfare, and the many graces of her exemplary, christian life made her beloved by all. After a long period of illness, consumption finally completed its work. Her age was 69 years, 7 months and 12 days.

Mrs. Hannah Walker, wife of Daniel Walker, a prominent citizen of Brush Valley, died on Monday following. Mrs. Walker's family migrated from York county. Her activity during a long life, her kindness to the poor, her liberality in supporting the church and the many other evidences of her christian character evoked the praises of all who knew her. Her death was sudden. Aged 76 years, 8 months and 17 days. The interments in both cases were made in the Union cemetery, pastor N. J. Miller officiating. The funerals were largely attended.

MEMORIAL DAY AT MILLHEIM AND AARONSBURG.—In accordance with prior arrangements the Millheim band formed on Main street at about 3 o'clock in the afternoon, dressed in full uniform, and proceeded to the cemetery, followed by a great many people. On arriving there the solemn decoration services were performed while the band played a dirge, when Rev. Benj. Hengst regaled his hearers by very appropriate and touching address. The benediction was pronounced by Rev. J. G. W. Herald and everybody wended their way back to town, feeling none the worse for paying their annual tribute to the fallen soldiers.

At half past five o'clock the band left town for Aaronsburg, where a long procession of Sunday school scholars, accompanied by their teachers, and a number of veterans of the late war, were in waiting for them. Headed by the band they at once moved on, passing through town and countermarching in front of Mr. Jordan's house, first proceeding to the Lutheran cemetery. Able addresses were delivered there by Revs. J. Tomlinson and Z. A. Yearick, followed by the singing of "Star Spangled Banner" by select choir under the leadership of Hon. J. G. Meyer. A dirge by the band and the decoration of the graves completed the exercises at that cemetery.

The procession reformed and went to the Reformed cemetery, where the assembled people were addressed by Mr. Stover, of Franklin college, Lancaster and by Hon. J. C. Coburn, the latter gentleman awakening the patriotic feelings of his audience in his usual eloquent and impressive style of speaking. The choir sang "To thee, O country" and the graves were adorned with floral offerings, after which Rev. Z. A. Yearick spoke the benediction and the crowd was dismissed.

COMMENCEMENT OF THE PENNSYLVANIA STATE COLLEGE.—The following is the programme of the commencement at the State College, to begin June 22, and continue until Thursday evening, June 26th:

2. Monday, June 23—8 o'clock p. m., Annual Address before the Young Men's Christian Association, by the Rev. M. N. Cornelius, of Altoona, Pa.

3. Tuesday, June 24—10 a. m., Examination of candidates for admission to College; 3:30 o'clock p. m., Washington Reunion Association, address by Col. D. H. Hastings, of Bellefonte; 8 o'clock p. m., Annual Address before the Alumni, by the Hon. Chas. Emory Smith, editor of the Philadelphia Press.

4. Wednesday, June 25—9 o'clock p. m., Artillery Salute; 10 a. m., Annual Meeting of Trustees; 12 o'clock m., Alumni Dinner; 2 o'clock p. m., Meeting (in the Chapel) of Delegates and Alumni to elect Trustees; 4 p. m., Reunion of the Cressick Society; 8 p. m., Junior Oratorical Contest.

5. Thursday, June 26—9:30 o'clock a. m., Graduation Exercises of the class of '84; Commencement Address, by the Hon. John M. Gregory, U. S. Civil Service Commissioner, and ex-President of Illinois Industrial University; 8 o'clock p. m., President's Reception.

—The four greatest and most desirable properties of a successful medicine are perfectly combined in McDonald's Blood Purifier or Sarsaparillian Alternative. In malassimilation of food and dyspepsia its effects are speedy and happy. For disfiguring humors of scrofula and tetter, the loathsome sores of venereal diseases, the burning tortures of erysipelas, no other medicine can possibly equal it. As a spring medicine, perfect blood purifier, efficient and safe diuretic and aperient, it meets with gratifying favor from the medical profession and the people. Dissatisfied buyers can have their money refunded. JOHNSTON, HOLLOWAY & CO., Philadelphia Agents.

MEMORIAL DAY AT REBERSBURG.—Owing to a sudden change the weather was not as favorable as had been anticipated. Notwithstanding the rawness of the atmosphere, the good people of Rebersburg assembled at an early hour. At ten o'clock the Brush Valley band led off in procession followed by Post 295 G. A. R. The first cemetery visitation was that of the Ev. Association, where after some introductory remarks by the commander, J. A. Miller, the singing of a dirge, music of the band and prayer by Rev. N. J. Miller, comrades H. G. and T. J. Royer inaugurated the work of decoration with some very fitting and touching remarks. After the graves had been decorated with beautiful wild and cultivated flowers, the procession passed over to the Union cemetery. A dirge was sung and short addresses given by Hon. H. Meyer and Rev. N. J. Miller, who placed a white wreath upon the grave of chaplain Wolf. When all the graves had been decorated the Post and citizens gathered around the stand to listen to an able Memorial oration by Rev. N. J. Miller. The speaker, after thanking the Grand Army men for the honor conferred upon him, pointed out the blessings and privileges of American citizenship, the natural advantages of the country, the achievements in art, science and literature being alone sufficient to give us a superior rank among the nations of the world. Particular stress was laid on the nation's distinction, resting on the rights involved in its constitution. The speaker referred to the fact that our national career was begun as an experiment, but what was regarded a Utopian idea has at length almost been realized as a success. Kings, who once in scorn looked across the waters upon a people struggling to maintain the principles of self government, now tremble when their subjects, inspired by the example of America, grow conscious of their own rights and demand the recognition of their rights. The speaker further alluded to the expense, heroism and sacrifice required to make our nation what it is in the eyes of humanity. The occasion called to remembrance the heroes of the revolution and the gallant men of the civil war, who sacrificed their best interests for their country's good. The orator in conclusion remarked that the best way to keep green the memories of the fallen heroes, apart from the special services of this day, is to show an appreciation for the legacy bequeathed to us by maintaining the constitution, perpetuating the idea of national unity, carrying out a scheme of universal education, exercising the spirit of toleration and upholding the dignity of labor.

After the singing of the Doxology, and the benediction the procession countermarched and disbanded.

In the evening a special service was held in the Reformed church at Rebersburg, pastor N. J. Miller preaching a sermon on "Paul's Roman Citizenship," to the members of the Post and a concourse of citizens.

MEMORIAL DAY AT MADISONBURG.—Post 298, G. A. R., headed by the Brush Valley Cornet Band reached Madisonburg about 2 P. M. A few introductory remarks by Commander Miller opened the services on Union cemetery, in presence of a large number of people. After the dirge, music by the band and prayer by Rev. Weidemeyer, Messrs. L. Fuller and F. E. Royer made a few appropriate remarks and proceeded with the decoration of the graves. Rev. N. J. Miller placed a beautiful white wreath on officer Shaffer's grave. The procession also moved to the Ev. Cemetery, where Hon. H. Meyer made a short address. The decorating being finished the Doxology was sung and the benediction pronounced by Rev. Weidemeyer. It is worthy of special mention that the Madisonburg ladies were very liberal in their gifts of flowers.

The Grand Army accompanied the band to Millheim after the decoration at Madisonburg, where they were entertained by Mr. Musser, the proprietor of the Millheim hotel, and in response the band entertained the citizens of Millheim. The band has received numerous praises for its ability, its deportment and rapid progress. Many other bands of the state might learn considerably in many respects from the Brush Valley Cornet Band.

PENN HALL SHAVINGS.

Next—the raising of Heckman's barn.

Splendid—the sound of the new Estey Organ at J. C. Condo's.

Rooker & Heckman are making a trip to Bellefonte, Fillmore, &c., on business.

Mrs. Jonathan Condo is off on a visit to Williamsport.

J. W. Bartzes has sold his sorrel horse and bought one of the finest bay horses in this section. He is a picture of beauty.

There is a man in town who carries so many shavings away from Jerry's plane, that Jack Plane is left behind.

J. C. Condo sports one of the finest road carts in this part of the county. James is always up with the times.

Decoration day passed off very quietly at this place. But there was a big stir at Spring Mills, and everybody with all their uncles and aunts was there.

The Penn Hall boys "picked nine" and played a match game of base ball with a "picked nine" from Spring Mills on Friday afternoon. Result—Spring Mills won by 1.

Wonder what makes Elmer look across the pike so much. Some attraction?

The candidates for various offices are around looking up their friends and giving them a shake.

We are glad to report that the rumor of the failure of one of Spring Mills' merchants is all a bosh.

Miss Annie Heckman who had been on the sick list for a few days is able to be about again.

Rev. Yearick delivered a very fine sermon in this place on Sunday afternoon. JACK PLANE.

Madisonburg Items.

Where was Shin Bone last week? Clarence Moyer swapped horses with an agent.

Miss Minnie Bierly has gone to Millheim to learn dressmaking.

The recent frosts have done considerable damage to garden trucks.

Edward Shafer is at home on a visit to his parents and friends.

The new houses of Wm. Noll and Israel Wolf are ready for the plasterers.

Two of Dr. Lee's brothers of Tusseyville paid him a short visit last week.

John Brown of Bellefonte came here on Saturday to see the wife and baby.

Mrs. Adam Vonada spent a few days in town with her parents last week.

John S. Hoy, the photographer, has located at Spring Mills. He reports business good.

Simon Smull purchased a horse the other day from his brother-in-law, Mr. Gramley of Nittany Valley.

Joseph Bierly and Andrew Guiser scalped a fox last Saturday afternoon on the mountain above J. Ockers.

Luther Stover greatly improved his ho use by painting and papering it. E. W. Mauck can do it up to perfection.

Jeremiah Hoy's Granary was broken into one night last week. Several bushels of wheat and some oats was stolen.

David Shafer has returned from the West. He don't speak in very glowing terms about that country and will likely bring his family East again.
