

Who Mulligan is.

THE OCCUPATIONS AND PECULIARITIES OF A MAN WHO FIGURES IN THE PRESENT CANVASS.

Boston Letter in the St. Paul Pioneer-Press.

One of the notables of the Hub, and particularly at the present time, is James Mulligan, of Mulligan letter fame.

He is quite approachable and is an interesting conversationalist. To be sure, the most of his conversation during the past eight years has been upon the subject of letters which Blaine wrote to him.

He has nothing to worry him but this, for he is quite wealthy and lives as he cares to upon his incomes. He manages the estate left by the senior Fisher at his death and several others as well.

Mulligan was the confidential book-keeper of Jacob Stamwood, of this city, in 1851. In 1865 he was employed by the Adams Sugar Refinery Company, in which Warren Fisher, Jr., was interested and to whom Mulligan was a confidential clerk.

A Very Strange Marriage.

A Man of Sixty Wedded to His Seventeen-Year-Old Adopted Daughter.

[Cleveland (O.) Special.] Jacob Kritch is one of the solid business men of this city. He is Superintendent of the Cleveland Axle Manufacturing Company.

Kritch has but two children, K. E. Kritch, a well-to-do business man, and an adopted daughter, Bertha, a very handsome young lady, who has been for some time attending school at the convent at Nottingham.

the theatre, out riding, and to various places, and last week they visited Bertha at Nottingham, and her father acquainted his daughter of the proposed marriage, at the same time introducing her to her mother to be.

An instinctive taste teaches men to build their churches in flat countries with spire steeples, which, as they can not be referred to any other object, point as with silent finger to the sky and stars.

Real merit of any kind can not be concealed; it will be discovered, and nothing can depreciate it but a man's showing it himself. It may not always be rewarded as it ought; but it will always be known.

To Live.—So should we live that every hour May fall as falls the natural flower, A self-reviving thing of power;

That every thought and every deed May hold within itself a seed Of future good and future need;

Esteeming sorrow, whose employ Is to develop, not destroy, Far better than a barren joy.
