A fine Christmas anthem was sung by a select choir and then the curtain parted and the nord's Prayer" was offered by sixteen little girls, dressed in white, with gilt crowns on their heads, arranged on steps in pyramid shape. It was the most solemn and touching sight ever beheld in this their innocent faces and folded their hands to repeat the prayer in concert everyone repeating an appropriate scripture passage, bearing on the "Advent of Christ," as they added block after on block to the structure. The editor of this paper then made a few explanatory remarks on this part of the programme. Assistant Supt. A. J. Harter in a few well-chosen sentences bid a welcome to the assembly, while the Superintendent, Mr. H. E. Duck made the address of the evening in a brief but very cieditable manner. The interspersing Christmas carols were of a stirring nature and were well sung. The distribution of gifts, the most fas. cinating part of the entertainment for the children was gone through with, and the following condensed annual report of the standing of the school was read by the secretary, J.
