-That old established cough remedy, Downs' Elixir, still more than holds its own in the public estimation, despite sharp and active competition. It is a 'home remedy,' and in this locality needs no words of praise from us, so well and favorably known is it. It is the standard remedy for coughs, colds and all throat troubles, with great numbers of our people, and their continued use and unsolicited recommendation of it speaks volumes in its favor. -Bur lington, Vt., Free Press, January 26.

Sold by J. Eisenhuth, Millheim, Pa. THE FIRST OF APRIL .- As soon as we write March we are involuntarily reminded of the coming first of April. There are thousands of people to wbom that day has no more meaning than any other day in the year. And there are just as many who dread the day on account of debts, interests, rents, &c. which must then be paid. The printer most always belongs to the latter class.

We will have to pay considerable amounts on the first and our bank account is far from being up to the mark of meeting our obligations. We therefore request all those who owe us on job work, advertising or subscription to help us over the dreadful First of April by a prompt remittance of their respective bills.

Letter from J. H. Reifsnyder.

Doyle, Tenn., March 7th, 1885. MILLHEIM JOURNAL: I have to lay over about four hours here and concluded to write a few lines for the JOURNAL. I have been delayed at least a day on my trip so far. Arrived at Washington on the morning of the 3rd, remained there until the morning of the 5th. The inauguration was a grand affair, the city was crowded with people from all parts of the Union. Saw President Arthur and President Cleveland drive to the capitol together, before Cleveland was sworn in. Saw him taking the oath and heard part of the inaugural address, President Cleveland is fine looking and a good speaker. After the ceremonies at the capitol the procession formed and marched to the White House, which lasted from 2 o'clock till about 6 p. m -SAYS neighbor Smith, "My little Gen. Slocum was the commander-inchief. I feel proud to say that Pennsylvania had more soldiers in the parade than any two states. It took the N. G's. fully one hour to pass a certain point and I was informed that there were about 9000 men in line from Pennsylvania. Vice President Hendricks, Gen. G. B. McClellan, Gov. Pattison and a host of prominent men were in line and everthing passed off orderly. The fire works in the evening > were the grandest display that could be After leaving Washington I went to Lynchburg and from there to Bristol, which is on the east line of Tennessee. The land on this route is very poor, being a red clay-in fact everything looks poor. No dwellings of any account, no barns or fences. Did not see any hay or straw. The land is all bare. The farmers did not get their crops out last fall on account of the drowth. Their stock looks thin and there is not much > of it The ground is still covered with snow. After crossing the Tennessee line the land is about the same until at Sweet Water, where the buildings and fences are good and where they have barns. From this place to Chattanooga the valley is pleasant and it looks as if the land was good. See plenty of straw and hay stacks and some grass or sod on the fields, but the winter grain is nearly all killed by the cold. In fact only saw several fields that looked a little green, and an old farmer told me that they would not get any wheat. From Chattanooga I left for this place, which is the nearest R. R. point to Spencer, Van Buren Co., Tenn., where I expect to spend a week to look after timberlands. To my surprise it commenced to snow this morning and the snow is now about four inches deep. The train just arrived and I must Yours Respectfully. J. H. REIFSNYDER.
