THE number of Judges in this state is already very large. Yet the lawyers, who are disproportionately represented in our legislature and who seem to have the most say, cry for more. They succeeded, recently in the passage of a bill which gives Chester county an additional law judge. Governor Pattison however - vetoed the bill and that disposes of the matter at least for the present. Several other counties in the state are hankering for more judges, but under the circumstances they will likely be a little more patient.

Under the new law which Mrs. Hunt so eloquently plead for in the court house last fall, recognized as the "hygenic act" the school district which refuses to comply with its requirements will lose its share in the appropriations. That the study of the injurious effect of spirituous liquors, when used as a beverage, by children and youths in our public schools will produce a wholesome influence of restraining nature is generally conceded. That is why public sentiment so readily endorsed the proposition. An ounce of prevention

GENERAL GRANT'S sixty-third birthday was commemorated on Monday when flags were flying and bunting was displayed in the street in which the general resides. A very large number of congratulatory messages were sent to the old soldier from all parts of the Union, to which he responded in the following letter for publication:

"To the various Army Posts, Societies, Cities, Public Schools, States, Corporations and Individuals, North and South, who have been so kind as to send me congratulations on my six tu-third birthday: I wish to offer my grateful acknowledgements. The dispatches have been so numerous and so touching in tone, that it would have been impossible to answer them if I had been in perfect health. "U. S. GRANT."

THE following article from the Philadelphia Times contains lots of welldirected sarcasm and clearly illustrates some of the pastime for which our legislators draw pay :

Out on the Promenade. As usual on Friday a large number of members of the Legislature yesterday left the Capitol before adjournment in order to catch the train for Philadelphia. A call of the roll showed the want of a quorum in the House, and the Speaker had the doors closed and ordered the Sergeant-At-Arms to hunt up the absent members. When the officer reached the station he was too late. The train had just started.

It would have been cruel in the extreme to have interfered with the overworked members on the way home to rest. They had been laboring hard three days and a part of the tourth since their last recuperation, and they were undoubtedly entitled to relaxation. They have no precedent for doing work on Friday, Saturday, Sunday or Monday, and they have found by experience that they get forty dollars for those four days, while they get only thirty dollars for the three days on which they do assume to work. With this fact before them they are not much to be scolded. The average member of the Legislature needs all the rest he can get, and many have learned that one of the very best places to get the muchneeded relief from the great cares which weigh them down is on the Chestnut street parade of an afternoon. Besides getting rest the states men serve to ornament the street, and the State should feel proud of the priv ilege of paying them for such important service. It is for this that the most beautiful men in every part of the State are sent to the Legislature. If Speaker Graham is going to order a call of the House and deprive Chestnut street of its loveliest attractions he will get this town very much

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From our Regular Correspondent. WASHINGTON, D. C., April 27, 1885.

A step in the direction of squelching polygamy in this country has been taken by the Supreme Court of the United States in the Clawson case, wherein the court desides that the exclusion of polygamists from the jury-box is not only lawful but is absolutely demanded, to make the administration of justice in Utah anything but a legal farce. To admit to the panel for the trial of a prisoner charged with polygamy, a set of men who believe that the crime committed is justified by Divine decree, and that it is no offence at all, is the highest absurdity and a travesty upon the system of trial by jury. This man Clawson was convicted and sentenced to the penitentiary for a term of four vears, and the case came up before the U. S. Supreme Court on appeal based upon the assigned error of excluding polygamic jurors. The decision paves the way for more convictions of the same sort, but the Mormons declare that the enforcement of the law against polygamy shall be resisted even to a resort to arms, because all such prosecuis worth a pound of cure. Sunbury tors are nothing more nor less than an infringement upon that religious liberty which the Constitution guarantees to all the citizens of the United States. Utah included.

> The last Congress, under a pressure of public sentiment that it could not longer bear up against, passed an act prohibiting the fencing in of the public domain, and requiring the removal of all fences now-existing that inclose the lands belonging to the Government. Of course the law will not enforce itself, and therefore the same pressure that bore upon Congress has now been transferred to the President, who has issued his proclamation announcing that the law must be enforced, and that all persons, companies or corporations who are mantaining fences upon the lands of the United States, must remove them at once, in default of which the President will take such measures as shall be necessary under the law to remove or destroy them. By the fifth section of the law a sweeping authority is conferred upon the President, to employ both civil and military force sufficient to wipe out the last vestige of these unlawful inclosures. The people of the country will hail with eminent satisfaction the tidings that the executive has made up his mind to enforce the stat-Рномо.

Newspapers of To-day.

People generally, and even those who may be termed steady readers and close observers, have but a faint conception of the magnitude and influence the press of this country has attained. From a careful examination of the advance pages of the 1885 edition of the AMERICAN NEWSPAPER DIRECTORY, issued May 1st, by Geo. P. Rowell & Co., of New York, it appears that there are 14,147 newspapers and periodicals published in the UnitedStates and Canada; of these the United States has 12. 972, an average of one paper for every 3,867 persons. In 1884 the total number of newspapers was less by 823 than at present, and while the gain this year is not so marked as in some previous years, it is still considerable. Kansas shows the greatest increase, the num- Pills. Money refunded to dissatisfied ber being 78, while Illinois follows with buyers a gain of 77. It is curious to notice that New York, the scene of so much political activity during the last campaign, should have only about one-third as many new papers as the State of Pennsylvania. Attention, Doctors.

Everybody knows that the life of the average physician is a hard one. He is often compelled to ride great distances through mud and rain for a merely nominal fee. It is not fit nor proper for us to condemn any physician for his work, but easier, and he can effect more cures by the proper and judicious use of PERUNA. If he will only add this great remedy to his list of medicines, he will find that his usefulness will be greatly increased. Full direction for its use will be found in the "Ills of Life," and he should at once procure this valuable book. N. J. Wright, Business Agent Evening Herald, Erie, Pa., says: "Dr. Harr-MAN—I can not but feel it my duty to express to you my thanks for the great benefit I received from the use of your medicines, PERUNA and MANALIN. One bottle of each placed me square on my feet, after a sickness of four weeks, which confined me to my bed, and then left me lame and crippled. Three days from the commencement of the use of your remedies the cane was dispensed with, and in a week I was perfectly well."

Mrs. Ellen Maynard, Oswego, Potter county, Pa., writes: "Dr. HARTMAN, Columbus, O. The small ulcers are all healed, and the two large ones are not more than half as large as they were. I am feeling quite well. The people say your PERUNA and MANALIN are doing a miracle. I do not take nearly so much opium as I did before."

Joseph Thomas, East Brady, Pa., writes: "I have used your PERUNA and MANALIN with good results. In the year of 1880 I was so bad that I could scarcely walk. I used PERUNA and MANALIN, and am now as healthy as I have ever been. I have also recommended it to several parties, and they have been much

Mr. C. H. Harris, New Vienna, Ohio, writes: "Our little girl was paralyzed at thirteen months old, and we resorted to everything we could hear of for relief, but she appeared to get but little better. Hearing of PERUNA we concluded to try it, and will say it has done her a great deal of good—the first bottle apparently giving aid and relief. We have used it for nervousness in other cases on other persons and found it a success. For general debility, and in fact for any disease, we don't think anything else can at all compare with it. We have used forty or fifty bottles, and our house is never without PERUNA. Our little girl is now eight years old, and can run any place, was for four years helpless. PERUNA cured her."

A Deadly Disease Induced by Bad Sanitary Conditions.

Thirty-Four Deaths in Three Days --No Business Transacted Except With the Druggist and Undertaker.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., April 26 .- A disease resembling typhoid feyer has appeared in Plymouth, a mining town of 8.000 inhabitants, a few miles from here. Forty deaths have occurred and over 600 persons are sick. The disease frequently ends in peritonitis. The doctors, thirteen in number, are kept working day and night. They have 70 to 100 cases each, and finding that they cannot give all proper attention have appealed to the County Medical Society for aid. The distress and consternation among the people is great. Nearly all belong to the mining classes and are poor. In many cases whole ramilies are down with the disease. The epidemic, in the opinion of the physicians is caused by the bad sanitary condition of the place. There is not a sewer, or paved street, or properly constructed gutter in the town. In the side streets, alleys and vacant lots garbage offall and refuse of all kinds have accumulated and the recent hot weather has turned those accumulations to breeders of disease. A portion of the town derives its water supply from wells, the water of which has become polluted by drainage from the soil. Thirteen persons died on Friday and fifteen on Saturday The disease mainly affects the children and infants, fails! It never disappoints! Instruc- though many adults are also attacked. Six deaths have taken place since yesterday and nine funerals were held today. The whole town appears to be in mourning. Business is practically at a standstill, except the drug stores and undertaking establishments. At a meeting of the borough council last night it was decided to clean the streets, alleys and back yards at once. The water company of the village having made a careful investigation have notified the council that they were supplying pure and wholesome water, and that one chief cause of the epidemic was that a large portion of the village was supplied with water from wells which had become polluted. A heavy shower fell in Plymouth and its vicinity early this morning, and did much towards cleaning the filthy streets, thus creating a more hopeful feeling. If the rain is followed by colder weather the

> To mans'ns in the skies,' is a matter so absolutely essential to one's eternal happiness that all should feel concerned that their 'deeds" are in proper form. However I will not moralize on this particular line, but state as nearly as possible just where the Journal Store is, which important fact there is good reason to fear the great majority of mankind does not yet know, nothwithstanding all my blowing and fussing to 'keep it before the people.' Therefore

"Know all men (and the dear la. dies too) by these presents" that the Journal Store is situated, fixed and come to stay at north latitude nearly 41°, longitude about 10 west from Washington. Many write "west from Greenwich," but as a true and loyal American citizen I prefer to say "Washington." Besides I don't much believe in "witches," whether "green" or shriveled.

I might indicate my location in various other ways. As for example might say that my store is squarely oppsite the palatial residence of that "bloated bondholder," Alfred Walter, Esquire; or diagonally across the street from that expert machinist. Mr. R. B. Hartman; or at about the same angle south from brother Yoney Harter's. Again I might state that little Cooney Auman my occasional salesman, is my next door neighbor north, and that my old friend Samuel Weiser joins me on the south, with only a 16 feet alley between to keep usapart. And again I am proud to know that the Journal Store is situate exactly midway between and only about half a square distant from each of two of the finest churches in central Pennsylvania.

All this would however be a very circuitous if not clumsy way of stating my locality. For example it would require too much writingcost too much paper for my correspondence with customers in the "West, north-west and south-west, as the big railroad companies put it. And so for good reasons I have chosen a very simple and practical way to inform the public where to find my little big store. Friends, come down Penn Street from the centre of town, from the direction of Coburn if you prefer, keep the west side until you see" No. 20" in plain, conspicuous figures above the door. That is the Journal Store. Come in, buy a bill of goods, cheap and good, as perhaps nowhere else, and see how grateful and happy I will be
