RICHMOND, VA., Nov. 3. -Returns from counties classed as doubtful, such as Culpepper, Prince Edward, Halifax, Charlotte, Rock Bridge, Rockingham, Alexandria, county and city, show that the Democratic Legislative ticket has been elected in all of them, which will give the Democrats a good majority in

DEMOCRATS have all reasons to be satisfied with the result of Tuesday's elections. The clean sweep which was made of New York and Virginia put the democratic party on a solid ba is. The election of Govern or Hill in New York is a great triumph which will fire the democracy all over the land with confidence and hope. Old Virginia, by the election of Fitzhugh see and a democratic legislature, virtually wipes out the offensive Mahome reign, and puts the impudent pateson in the

THANKSGIVING DAY.

President Cleveland Sets Apart Nov. 26th for the Occasion.

WASHINNTON, Nov. 2 .- The following proclamation was issued to-day:

By the President of the United States of America: The American people have always abundant cause to be thankful to Almighty God, whose watchful care and guiding hand have been manifested in every stage of their natural life—guarding and protecting them in time of peril, and safely leading them in the hour of darkness and danger. It is fitting and proper that a danger. It is fitting and proper that a nation thus favored should on one day in every year, for that purpose especially appointed, publicly acknowledge the goodness of God, and return thanks to Him for all His gracious gifts.

Therefore I, Grover Cleyeland, President of the United States of America, do hereby designate and set apart Thursday, the 26th day of November, instant, as a day of public thanksgiving and prayer; and do invoke the observance of the same by all the people of the land.

On that day let all secular business be suspended. And let the people assemble in their usual places of worship, and with prayer and songs of praise devoutly testify their gratitude to the Giver of every good and perfect gift for all that He has done for us in the year that has passed: for our preservation as that has passed; for our preservation as a united nation and for our deliverance pestilence which in other lands has claimed its dead by thousands, and filled the streets with mourners; for plenteous crops which reward the husband-man for his labor and increase our nation's wealth; and for contentment throughout our borders which follows in the train of prosperity and abund-

And let us by no means forget, while we give thanks and enjoy the comforts which have crowned our lives, that truly grateful hearts are inclined to deeds of charity, and that a kind and thoughtful remembrance of the poor will double the pleasures of our coudition and render our praise and thanks-giving more acceptable in the sight of the Lord.

SUDDEN DEATH OF GENER-AL McCLELLAN AT ORANGE, N. J.

A Short Sketch of his Career.

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 29.—General George B. McClellan died suddenly at his residence on Orange Mountain shortly after midnight last night from neuralgia of the heart. He returned home about six weeks ago from his trip West with his family, and had been under the care of a physician for about two weeks, Nothing serious was expected until vesierday, when he became pected until yesierday, when he became worse. He was surrounded by his fam-ily. Invitations had been issued for a reception this evening.

General McClellan's summer home, erected after the war, was on the summit of Orange Mountain, next to that of his father-in-law, General Marcy, and he had lived there about 20 years. The whole community was shocked by the news of his death. The flags are flying at half mast, and the Grand Army Post has called a meeting to express their sorrow and offer a body-guard for the remains. General Mc. Clellan was an elder in the Presbyteri-

George Brinton McClellan was born Philadelphia December 3, 1826, so that he was not quite 59 years of age at the time of his death. He was the son of Dr. George McClellan, the founder of Jefferscu Medical College, a physician of distinction and a worthy descendant of the Scotch noble family the last head of which was Lord Kirk-hudbright. Dr. McClellau died in 1846. His mother, Elizabeth Brinton, was a representative of a very sturdy American family, who lived at her country-seat in West Philadelphia. After some preliminary home training at his fa-ther's home, young McClellan was sent to a school kept by Sears Cook Walker, where were also such men as Dr. Caspar Wistar, Dr. Logan, and Richard Sargent. With him he remained four years, and was then transferred to the care of a German named Schipper, with democrats can afford to overlook whom he began a course in Latin and Greek. He next attended the preparatory school of the University, where he entered the University remaining there two years. He was a good scholar, but not a brilliant or precocious boy. His taste was for solid studies, rather than showy achievements.

In June, 1842, he entered the West Point Military Academy in obedience to a settled inclination for a military life. McClellan graduated before he had completed his twentieth year in the summer of 1846, standing second in general rank in the largest class that had ever left the Academy. In engineering and geology he was first.

McClellan was breveted second lieutenant of engineers, and assigned to duty with a corps of sappers and miners then forming to participate in the Mex ican war. On returning to West Point he was made director of field labors there and instructor of bayonet exer-

In January 1857, Captain McClellan resigned his commission in the army. having been fifteen years in the service. and accepted the position of Chief Engineer of the Illinois Central Railroad. He soon after became Vice-President of the road, and in May 1860, he married Miss Ellen Marcy, daughter of General R. B. Marcy. In August of this year he resigned the Vice-Presidency of the Illinois Central Railroad to accept the Presidency of the Ohio & Mississippi Road, at a salary of $10,000 per annum, which post he held, residing in Cincinnati, until the war broke out between the North and the South.

This lugrative position he promptly resigned to accept on April 23, 1861, a major-generalship of volunteers from the State of Unio, a command also hav-ing been tendered him by Goyernor Curtin, of Pennsylvania.

On the 10th of May, 1861, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois were made a department, and General McClellan was appointed to the command, and made major-general in the regular army. In 1870 he was appointed Chief Engineer of the Department of Docks and Piers in New York City, a berth which he resigned in May, 1873. In 1874 he made another foreign tour remaining abroad until August of the following year, and extending his journeys as far as Egypt, in which country he received many attentions from the Khediye. In March, 1877, Governor Robinson nominated him for the position of Superintendent of Public Works of New York, but the nomination was rejected by a party vote in the Senate. At this time he was a citizen of New Jersey, having established his home permanently at Orange Mountain in 1872. In September 1877, he was suddenly made the Democratic candidate for Governor of the State. At the election in November he defeated Newell the Republican candidate, by 13,339 plurality, having a clear majority of 7,366 over all opposition. He was sworn into office on January 16, 1878, without any unusual display at his own special request, and discharged the duties of the Governorship for three years to the general satisfaction of the people and with great credit to himself.

Since the end of his term in 1881, he lived in retirement, haying meanwhile made another lengthy foreign tour. His name was, however, frequently men-tioned in connection with public office. His friends urged his name for the Secretaryship of War in Cleveland's Cabinet. If he had lived, he would have been a leading candidate for the United States Senatorship in 1887, in case the Democratic party control the Legisla-

BILIOUSNESS.

Bilious symptoms invariably arise from indigestion, such as furred tongue, vomiting of bile, giddiness, sick headache, irregular bowels. The liver secretes the bile and acts like a filter or sieve, to cleanse impurities of the blood. By irregularity in its action or suspensions of its functions, the bile is liable to overflow into the sions of its functions, the bile is liable to overflow into the blood, causing jaundice, sallow complexion, yellow eyes, bilious diarrhoa, a languid, weary feeling and many other distressing symptoms. Biliousness may be properly termed an affection of the liver, and can be thoroughly cured by the grand regulator of the liver and biliary organs, BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS. Act upon the stomach, bowels and liver, making healthy bile and pure blood, and opens the culverts and sluiceways for the outlet of disease. Sold everywhere and guaranteed to cure.

Every Farm an Experimental Station.

The best analysis of any fertilizer is in the farmer's own hands. Soil tests are reliable tests to determine the value of any manure. An analysis is only an intelligent suggestion, but actual trial by the farmer proves conclusively whether a fertilizer will give good crops or not. For six years our $25 Phosphate has stood severe field tests. The best results have been obtained by intelligent farmers who use it season after season in preference to any other brand. If you have not used it yet, we hope you will do so this season.
