portant incident in the war experience of the writer. The first of the series was written by J. W. Hoffman, who commanded the Fifty-Sixth Regiment Pennsylvania Volunteers, and was entitled "The First Infantry Fire at Gettysburg," and appeared in the issue of January 13th. The second article "Where Reynolds Fell," written by Capt. J. C. Rosengarten, appeared in the issue of January 20th. A long list of Pennsylvania's distinguished soldiers have furnished or are writing articles for this series of papers, and they promise to be the most interesting and valuable of any similar collection of war papers. Secretary Bayard's Wife Crosses The Dark River.

The Agony Caused by the Sudden Death of Her Beloved Daughter Results in Congestion of the Brain. WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Mrs. Bayard, wife of the Secretary of State, died at her residence, in this city, at 8.30 o'clock this morning. The immediate cause of Mrs. Bayard's death was congestion of the brain, brought on by the shock of her daughter's sudden death two weeks ago. For the first week following that event she stood the strain and excitement quite well, but a week ago last Friday she was compelled to take to her bed, and gradually grew worse from day to day. On Thursday congestion of the brain made its appearance. She was unconscious for twenty-four hours before her death. Although for years Mrs. Bayard had been a confirmed invalid, she had for the last six months been in better health than for many years. Last summer she was very ill at her home in Wilmington, Del., with a complication of diseases of the liver and stomach, and her recovery at that time was considered doubtful. At the solicitation of her daughter, Miss Kate, she put herself under the care of Dr. Gardner, of this city, and under his treatment she had improved so much as to be able to go into society this winter, and although still an invalid, she was in comparatively good health when her daughter died. She was about 51 years of age. With the exception of her daughter, Mrs. Warren, of Boston, and her son who is in Arizona, the family were present when she died. The body will be taken to Wilmington for burial to-morrow; and the funeral will be on Tuesday. The death of Mrs. Bayard will have a marked effect on social festivities at the capital.

Miscellaneous News.

CHICAGO, Feb. 2.—The mercury is descending rapidly here to-night and has reached 15 degrees below. Dispatches from the outside note extremely cold weather at points west. The Cresson and Coalport Railroad is finished, the last spike having been driven on Friday. It is thirty miles in length, extending from Cresson, on the Pennsylvania Railroad, to Iryona, Clearfield County, and opens up valuable coal lands and timber tracts in the Clearfield regio.

As the annual financial statement of the Commissioners of Centre County reached us but shortly before we went to press, our space is too limited to go into a detailed comment in this issue. We noticed at a glance however that the county debt has been much decreased and that our commissioners have kept house well. At the rate at which the debt has been reduced since 1882 we may look for a clean sweep of all indebtedness in less than two years hence. Well done, faithful servants.

SECRETARY BAYARD'S family circle was again visited by death on the 31st of January. His wife, after a short but severe illness, namely congestion of the brain, was called to her eternal home. Mrs. Bayard was unconscious for 24 hours before her death. Her quiet burial took place at Wilmington, Delaware, on Monday afternoon. The body was accompanied by the secretary, his two daughters, and Mr. Bryan, the private secretary of Mr. Bayard. The saying "trouble never comes single handed" has surely come true in Mr. Bayard's late afflictions.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND seems fully able to take a firm stand against the republican members of the senate who would demand his reasons for removing certain officials to replace them by fresh and healthy material. These senators seem to be given to the illusion that the President must "dance as they whistle." They might as well make up their minds to knock down, because Cleveland will assert his dignity and authority by simply refusing to comply with their unreasonable wishes. The exclusive right of the executive to remove officials and appoint others in their places has never been disputed and as for the causes for such removals the senators may rest assured that the President would not remove any officer except for "good reasons" and that ought to suffice. We think the people who elected Cleveland to the presidency will stand by him in the executions of his official rights.

THE PHILADELPHIA WEEKLY PRESS is now engaged in publishing a series of papers descriptive of the part taken by Pennsylvania troops in the late war. These articles are written by officers in command, or soldiers who participate in the scenes described, and each will be a vivid pen picture of the most im-

Couldn't See the Train for the Culp Pile.

SCRANTON, Pa., Jan. 29.—Mrs. Julia A. Hunter, a physician practicing at Carbonade, had been to Jermy this morning on professional business, and was returning to her office in a carriage, accompanied by Mrs. Wesley Stanton and daughter of that place. The latter, a girl of fifteen was driving when the crossing of the Erie Railroad at Carbonade was reached. The 11.30 passenger train for Scranton dashed against the carriage, killing the horse and dragging the carriage and its occupants several yards upon the track. Mrs. Hunter was instantly killed, two great holes being made in her head. Mrs. Stanton was dangerously hurt. Miss Stanton was hurled several yards, but was uninjured. She stated that none of the occupants of the buggy saw the approaching train on account of a high culm pile close to the track; the top of the buggy was also drawn up. Engineer Benschoter says the usual signal was blown and the bell rung.

LIFE.—"All that a man hath," it has been said, "will he give for his life." But this is only true in a narrow and qualified sense. A large majority of people shorten life by becoming victims to Dyspepsia, Biliaryness, Constipation, Headache, Malaria, etc. If you continue to suffer from these troubles, you have no excuse, for we tell you plainly that Simmons Liver Regulator will rid you of them and like disorders caused by a sluggish state of the Liver, Stomach or Bowels. Ask the recovered dyspeptic, bilious sufferer, victims of Fever and Ague, the mercurial-diseased patient, how they recovered health, cheerful spirits and good appetites—they will tell you by taking Simmons Liver Regulator. This justly celebrated medicine regulates the Liver, promotes digestion and fortifies the system against malarial diseases. See that you get the GENUINE Simmons Liver Regulator, prepared by J. H. Zeilin & Co.
