-Ever since last Friday, with the exception of Sunday, heavy northwest winds prevailed, making the weather exceedingly cold and unpleasant. The fierce storms of Friday did great damage in Philadelphia, Reading, Huntingdon and other places. Houses were unroofed, church steeples were shaken out of position and barns were blown

Luke's Evangelical church of Miliheim, which took place last Sunday was favored by a beautiful, sunny sky. On Saturday evening the first sermon in the new church was preached by Rev. J. M. Ettinger, P. E., preparatory to the dedicatory services of the next day. On Sunday morning long before the time for opening had arrived many of the people who were anxious to witness the dedication and wished to secure good seats were on their way to church. By ten o'clock the auditorium, the Sunday School rooms and the gallery were filled to their utmost capacity and the services were opened with an appropriate anthem by the choir. This was followed by the reading of a scripture passage and prayer by Bishop Dubbs. After another hymn the Bishop preached the dedicatory sermon to an attentive and intelligent audience. His text was taken from Exorus, XXXV 4-5-6. By way of introduction he housewife and consequently it is the pointed out the simularity between the occasion spoken of in the text and the present occasion. Further on he emphasized that ministers should thorougly understand their subjects upon which they preach and the gospel truths which they intend to teach. He strongly asserted that prayer and giving are twin-factors-the one being the breath of the soul, while the other is a religious duty, and that they must go together. He pointed out God's demand of gold from those who are in posession of it, for the erection of Houses of Worship and referred to Christ's con demnation of the miser. He also showed that nobody is excused from this duty of giving -that all have an opportunity and invitation to give according to their means. He dwelt on the necessity of building churches as a means of civilization and as places where the evils of the human heart may be root ed up. He stated that there is nothing more edifying and soul-inspiring than the united song and prayer of a worshiping people -in fact that every church is a fortress for Emanuel. By several touching illustrations he showed how much God has done for us and reminded his hearers that we should exhibit our gratefulness by giving willingly and cheerfully. All we are Sarsaparilla is the means to use for and all we have we owe to God. He closed his address by the remark that if his congregation believed what he had preached -which they knew to be true -their time to prove it had arrived. He then disclosed the fact that a debt of $2000 rested on the church which it was his purpose and task to liquidate. In less than an hour about $1700 were

> In the afternoon Bishop Dubbs preached an excellent German sermon from Marki I: 35-38, but as we were prevented to attend in person we are unable to comment upon his remarks at that time. The work of soliciting funds was continued and resulted in the collection of about $100.

singing the doxology and were dismiss-

The evening session was again attended by a crowded house and was pened by an anthem Rev.S. Smith of fered up an earnest prayer, after which Bishop Dubbs again preached from Mark XV: 21. He treated the history of Simon, the Cyrenian, and laid sufficient stress on the fact that Simon's assistance to our Saviour in bearing the cross upon calvary was compulsory, but intimated that this compulsion was likely brought about by Simon himself. He vividly described the crucifiction scene and called attention to the glorious privilege of this Simon to be so near Christ and render active service to the Master. He declared that through the cross of Christ the world gains better men and women daily. Re admonished his hearers to be ready and willing to help to bear each other's crosses and illustrated the beauty of such a spirit by several well applied and interesting anecdotes. In all his sermons the Bishop gave no uncertain sound but revealed the and effectively. He had his audience touched to tears in many instances and the contributions throughout the day proved that he had fully succeeded to get the people in a humor to give. After the evening service the lacking $200 were raised in a very short time and the impressive and solemn dedication ceremonies were gone through with. At the close of a few parting remarks in German by Bishop Dubbs the congregation rose and sang the doxology, and the members of the church went home rejoicing that their house of Worship was now complete, consecrated and paid for while the community feels proud of another fine church

LARGE DELIVERY of CHAM-DEDICATION. - The dedication of St. PION BINDERS, REAPERS and MOWERS.

A carload of these renowned machines was due at Coburn last Friday morning, but having been delayed a. long the road, did not arrive at the station until in the afternoon. The day was one of the coidest and stormiest we had this winter, but in spite of the raw and unpleasant weather the farmers turned out with their teams bright and early, anxiously awaiting the arrival of their machines. When they finally reached Coburn at about 3 o'clock, the work of unloading and reloading was at once commenced and it was nearly dark before the men were ready to start for home Many of them had come quite a distance and had to drive most of that night.

The Champion Binders, Reapers and Mowers are manufactured by Whitely, Fassler & Keller, at Springfield, Ohio, proprietors of one of the largest estab lishments of the kind in the world. Every part of these machines, down to a burr, is made right at their factories, none but the best and strongest material is being used and their capacity for turning out complete machines is one every two minutes. The frame of their new mowers, even to the bolts and rivets, is manufactured of pure steel. In fact their harvesting machines, after a fair test are pronounced the most durable and serviceable in the country.

It may strike our readers as extraordinary that tweaty-four of these har vesting machines are being delivered at this early day and so far in advance of harvest. It certainly shows that the manufacturers and their general agents, Messrs. L. H. Lee & Rro., Baltimore, Md., are wide-awake and experienced business men, who realize that the great factors of success are-"always to be in time"and then lead in stocking the market with the very best and most satisfactory wares, regardless of cost. Another reason for this early and large delivery is that these firms have active and faithful agents in all parts of the country who are continualv at work recommending and selling their machines.

Messrs, Van Pelt, Shoop & Co., of Centre Hail. Pa., through whom this delivery was made, are agents for the 'Champion Machines" in this county, and farmers will always find a full line of repairs on hand at their shops. These gentlemen are ably assisted in this section of the county by Mr. Henry G. Royer, of Miles township, who by his untiring efforts has succeeded in selling up to date over thirty of these machines, and this recent delivery of and activity.

Finally in annexing the list of farmers to whom the twenty four Binders, Reapers and Mowers were delivered, we would also say that these men, who are among our most successful tillers of the soil, display much progressive spirit and enterprise and seem to believe in modern improvements and timely preparation.
