-Millheim affords a good opening for a first-class tailor, one who is master of his trade in every way. There is no tailor nearer to town than six miles and it is exceedingly unhandy for our people to have their clothes made at such distances. A good shop, almost centrally located, is for rent by A. A. Frank, North street, where an experienced mechanic may command a large trade.

MR. EDITOR :- By your permission the undersigned would utter a word of thanks through the columns of the "Journal," to the good people of the Aaronsburg Reformed charge, for the evidences of kindness and appreciation left at the parsonage on Thursday last. At about 2 o'clock p. m. they began to arrive from the several congregations, with well-filled baskets and bags, the contents of which abundantly replenishary, all of which were about empty. It was with significance that one of the brethren said, "It was just in time."
A supply of dry goods including various articles of dress and cloth for a study-gown, and a variety of groceries were put at our disposal. > -It was with regret that many of our citizens saw landlord S. T. Frain leave Millheim this week. Mr. Frain, by his natural adaptedness and enterprise in conducting a hotel, has made the First National a first-class public house and while his departure is Millheim's loss it is Selinsgrove's gain.

Mr. Rook, who took charge of the house yesterday, will no doubt endeayor by B. F. Kister, who will remove it to to retain the reputation which Mr. his premises on Main street, with the Frain has built up for it, and to begin with has equipped the hotel with bran new furniture from top to bottom.

> THE FARMER AGAIN SWINDLED .-The other day a man went through Dauphin county with a lot of colored salt put up in jars, which he represented was a stump consuming powder. His instructions were to bore a hole in the stump, fill it with powder, plug up the hole, let it stand for six weeks and then set the stump afire and it would burn away down below the plow line. The farmers caught on to it rapidly. The six-week's provision was a wise one, for it allowed the agent to get away. An examination of the 'powder,' however, proved its worthless qualities and the farmers can again kick themselves over being badly fooled. -Ex.

This place is situated in the Criley, pastor of fter supper at the parsonage I accompanied the pastor to prayermeeting, in the lecture room of the church, where I was called upon to give the people a talk about Kansas in general, and Kansas Lutheranism in particular. I performed this duty with great pleasure, because I had the close attention of my audience. Rev. Criley has a very handsome church, and a fine people to whom he ministers with great accept-His labors here, as everywhere, are attended with marked success.

There are quite a number of Centre county people residing in the city, many of whom I visited yesterday. Among them was Mr. James Hering and family. Mr, Hering is a younger brother of my old and esteemed friend, Squire Hering, at Penn Hall. By the way, the latter gentleman has an only son, Horace, who resides in Republic county, Kansas, where the writer has at Rebersburg, but in the neighborhood frequently been. The son has come to of Wolf's store considerable moving Kansas to stay, is perfectly in love with the country and is doing finely. Shouldn't wonder if the 'Squire would follow some of these days and also turn up "Jay haw her." Hope he may. At James Hering's I found Miss Cal Hering sick and confined to her bed. She is slowly recovering however, under the careful treatment of Dr. Arney. To-day I shall be the honored guest of Rev. M. J. Firey, the old temperance war-horse, and present pastor of the first English Lutheran church. I purpose leaving here this evening at 6 o'. clock, for Bellefonte, Pa., from which place I shall proceed to my dear old home in Pennsvalley, in a way I never did before -viz by means of a railroad ! At last my hopes are realized and old Aaronsburg and Bellefonte, the mountain city, are only a little more than an hour apart. During my stay in Bellefonte I shall be the guest of my friends C. M. For the Millheim Journal. DEAR EDITOR: - As I have just reached my future place of residence, Loganville, York Co., Pa., and looking back over our somewhat eventful journey, I thought a few items would cupying another house situated on the be acceptable to you and friends in Centre Co. After having left Millheim early on Friday morning of last week we proceeded to Lewis_ burg and got along well, considering the very bad roads. At Lewisburg we stayed over Sunday and preached in the Evang elical church. Monday we bid adjen to our friends and start ed for Vork, and encountered fearful roads be tween Lewisburg and Selinsgrove. From there to Liverpool, Perry Co. the roads became bet ter. At the latter place we found a warm weland we owe many thanks to them. Tuesday we proceeded on the west side of the river, but fearing to strike out into the country for Newport and Mechanicsburg on account of bad roads, we crossed the Susquehanna at Clark's Musser, Jennie Reifsnyder. Stella Ferry and went down on the east side, reaching children to mourn his death. This a-Zerby, Lula Snook, Tura Roads, Mamie Dauphin, Dauphin county, in the evening. Next Kreighbaum. During the week of con- morning made an early start and neaded for ference the school was visited by quite York, but had not gone far, when we met an a number of persons, which showed the accident, which caused us to lay over nearly the interest taken in the school work and whole day. Right south of Dauphin the rail for which I most heartily return my road rounds one of those mountain bluffs, and thanks. The number of visitors dur- the narrow wagon road runs closely along side the track with the canal on the other side. This narrow defile is about a mile long and I dare say is the most dangerous part on all the way between Sunbury and Harrisburg. Before we started we made inquiry with the landlord and he said we could get through before the trains ling house, to be occupied by one of his came and wishing to make good time that day we entered the defile and behold, thad hardly gone half the distance, when a freight train came close following us. "Dollie" became exceedingly scared, but we whipped her up and kept ahead for some distance. However the train gained upon us and passed and we breath ed more free. But scarcely had we recovered scholars 74, total 74. Per cent. during from our fright when the up passenger train came with almost lightning speed and before we could do anything, she was up to us. "Dollie" ran to the right, became altogether unman ageable, broke the right wheel to splinters and ran with her breast against the wall which separates the canal from the road. There we held on L. B. Stoyer's farm, east of town. her, because the wall prevented her from making a full sweep to the right. Otherwise she would have upset the buggy and ran away in spite of our efforts to hold her. Had she nad room she would have scaled the stonewall and leaped into the canal. It was the most frightful scene I ever witnessed in all my travels. There was the unseen hand of the Lord over us Some are satisfied with the teacher's manifestly, else we would have perished together with our frightened and frantic animal. I wish to give public expression of thankfulness to Almighty God for our deliverance. After we were able to do anything we unhitched the horse, carried the wheel and led Dollie back to Dauphin. The wagonmaker went to work with a will and by two o'clock, we were ready to start a second time and got through safely. Passed on to Harrisburg, crossed over to the westside of the river and in the evening arrived at Newberry, 14 miles west of York. The next day at noon we arrived in York, safe and sound finding that our goods had been hauled to Loganville already. In the afternoon we reached
