

LOCAL NEWS.

—This is Ascension day.
—First-class job work done at the JOURNAL office.

—If you have a good business, advertise and keep it; if not, advertise and get it.

A BIG BARGAIN.—Ladies' Hose, guaranteed fast colors, three pair for 25 cts, at Kauffman's store.

—Since the strikes are about ended it may be hoped that business will brighten as the summer advances.

—Regular services will be held in the Lutheran church of this place next Sunday forenoon by the pastor.

—Lighting completely destroyed the steeple of the German Reformed church at Milton, Pa., week before last.

—Misses' hose, a fine stock, warranted not to fade, at popular prices. Come and see at D. S. Kauffman & Co's.

—A new Self Binder Reaper for sale cheap, will exchange on a good horse. Inquire of J. Spigelmeyer.

SWEET SEED CORN.—Several quarts of Stowell's Evergreen Sweet Corn, for planting, for sale at the Journal Store.

—Miss Rose Harter, a former teacher of one of our town schools, smiled on her friends at this place last week.

—Sunday, June 13th, has been fixed upon as the time for the dedication of the new Lutheran church at Centre Hall.

—A Shamokin clothier sells men's straw hats two for five cents. Millheim merchants haven't come down to that yet.

—The festive fly is out in full bloom and people hasten to keep it out of their houses by putting up screen doors and windows.

—Mr. W. L. Snyder, the energetic implement man of Spring Mills, was in town and gave us a pleasant call. He is on a canvassing tour.

—Survival of the fittest. Downs' Elixir has outlived every cough remedy simply because it is the best. For sale by J. Spigelmeyer and D. S. Kauffman & Co.

—As the season advances Summer Shawls are being sold at a sacrifice at D. S. Kauffman & Co's store, and if you need one there is the place to get it.

—Our Rebersburg correspondent relates a horrible accident which befell a child of Daniel Weaver, of near Wolf's Store, and by which it is likely to lose its life.

—Mr. S. T. Frain, of the Keystone Hotel, Selinsgrove, states in a recent letter, that Mr. Harvey Lamey, of this place, was a guest at his house one day last week.

—We learn that grandmother Ulrich, who resides with her son, Mr. Michael Ulrich, on Main street, is in poor health. Old age is beginning to tell on her, it seems.

—Now that Decoration day is past it would be well to think of the coming Fourth of July and see what can be done in Millheim in the line of celebrating the 110th anniversary of American independence.

—Frank Lukenbach, of Bellefonte, spent Decoration day in Millheim and was heartily welcomed by many of his former schoolmates. Frank is growing into a handsome and polished young gentleman.

—A basket picnic will be held in a grove near Salem, about 2 miles west of Selinsgrove, by the grangers next Saturday. Hon. Leonard Rhone, of Centre Hall, is mentioned as one of the prominent speakers expected to be present.

—A close inspection of J. W. Loe's grocery will reveal the fact that John intends keeping step with the times and the demands of the trade. His stock is increasing from day to day and our readers will profit by giving him a call.

—When one watches the town Loys hanging on to and climbing into the wagons that pass through town, sometimes in rapid motion, it seems a wonder that not more accidents to life and limb occur. It is an exceedingly risky habit.

—Mr. A. C. Musser, the senior member of our enterprising marble firm, was to Millheim last week to put up tombstones on the graves of Mr. & Mrs. Dreilbeis at that place. He was accompanied by Mr. E. J. Brumgard and son.

—The appeals which will be held by the county commissioners at the Musser House, Millheim, next Wednesday, June 16th, will be as follows: For Miles and Haines in the forenoon, and for Penn and the borough in the afternoon.

—The undersigned gives notice that he has this day sold his stores at Millheim and Madisonburg to S. Spigelmeyer, Jr., and employed D. L. Zerby collector of all accounts due J. Spigelmeyer, Agent, which must be settled within ten days from date.

W. E. GHEEN.
Millheim, May 31st, 1886.

DEAD SOLDIERS HONORED IN MILLHEIM AND HAINES TOWNSHIP.—Heaven's unclouded canopy and the glorious rays of a warm May sun smiled upon us last Saturday and aided in making it a genuine sunshine holiday. Main street wore its festive garb and displayed a rich profusion of national colors, giving proof of our citizens' patriotism and their interest in the grand occasion at hand. Everybody seemed in genial spirits and anxiously awaited the return of the G. A. R. men from their trip to Brushvalley, where they had been in the forenoon to decorate the soldiers' graves at Madisonburg and Rebersburg. At noon a big string of carriages and buggies brought the post back to town for dinner, and at about half past one o'clock the Brushvalley band, in their wagon drawn by six horses, made its appearance, followed by a number of other large wagons, filled with people. This was the signal for forming in parade which was done in front of the Penn street school building, where the day before a large store of flowers had been deposited. The parade was the biggest affair Millheim had for some time and proceeded up Penn St. to Main in the following order:

Chief Marshal, M. M. Musser—Flag Bearer, Wallace Musser.
Rebersburg and Millheim Bands (consolidated).
Banner of G. A. R. Post 298.
Post 298, Commander Van Valin.
Millheim Hook & Ladder Company drawing truck.

Teachers and scholars of the Sunday schools, carrying bouquets.

Upon reaching the cemetery the regular exercises of the G. A. R. were gone through with, Commander Van Valin reading the memorial service. When the post had dropped their wreaths and bouquets of flowers upon the graves of their dead comrades and the bands had played dirges, the vast assembly of people were addressed in patriotic and impressive terms by Rev. Syngle, who was followed by a few appropriate remarks by Comrade Keller. A little after three o'clock the procession returned to town where the band wagons and carriages were in readiness to convey the bands and members of the post to Aaronburg. It is hardly necessary to mention that the parade and exercises in the cemetery were witnessed by a large crowd of people who had gathered into town from all neighboring points soon after dinner. We heard close observers say that the number of people in town that afternoon was the largest ever known in Millheim on any like occasion.

When the bands and post arrived at Aaronburg they formed in front of Dr. Musser's residence and marched first to the Lutheran and then to the Reformed cemetery. At both cemeteries the same order of exercises was observed as at this place, Rev. Deitzler delivering an address in the former and Rev. Z. A. Yearick in the latter. This being over, all entered their conveyances and the Rebersburg band departed for home.

From Aaronburg the post, accompanied by the Millheim band, proceeded down the valley to decorate the graves of departed comrades in Wolf's cemetery. At this place, Hon. James P. Coburn, who had accompanied the procession from Aaronburg, was requested to deliver an oration, which he did in his well-known and unsurpassed style. The beautiful flow of language and the animation with which he expresses his fine thoughts tend to deeply impress his audience in almost every instance.

The sun was about setting when the veterans and the band reached St. Paul, which was the last point of the day's route, and where the Sunday school stood in waiting with flowers. Here the services were gone through with for the last time and Mr. Coburn again addressed the small but attentive audience with a few well-chosen remarks. This ended the exercises of Memorial Day and they certainly were attended with greater interest and solemnity than in any previous year, of course all owing to the noble influence of the G. A. R. post. It is no doubt a source of great satisfaction to every true and patriotic heart that a worthy tribute has been paid to the memory of those who risked their lives for the safety of this great Union, and Millheim and its sister towns may safely say that this year they have done their full share in performing that solemn duty.

A WONDERFUL BOOK.—We should judge, by the wording of the advertisement in another column of this paper, that the new book entitled, "The World's Wonders," is indeed a wonderful book. It will pay the curious, as well as those seeking employment, to read the advertisement. The Historical Publishing Co. offers to give standard books free to persons who will send them names of book agents. They also offer to start people without capital in a business that will pay from $15 to $30 a day—a pretty good income for these hard times. Read the advertisement.

—For certain reasons, which it is unnecessary to give here, Mr. Sandoe, the tailor, has closed his shop in this town and removed his utensils back to Centre Hall. This sudden departure of so good a mechanic leaves just where we were less than two months ago, viz: without a tailor. Mr. A. A. Frank authorizes us to advertise the shop for rent to any tailor who is an experienced workman and who can cut and fit to the satisfaction of his patrons. It is a splendid opening for a first-class tailor, as the town and surrounding country afford a large trade.

—All colors in Silicias at Kauffman's store.

—For Earache, Toothache, Sore Throat, Swelled Neck, and the results of cold and inflammation, use Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil—the great pain destroyer.

—Mr. Jacob Wagner, Sr., an aged citizen of this county, residing in the Loop, departed this life on last Monday and was buried yesterday (Wednesday) forenoon.

—Every bottle of Arnica & Oil Liniment sold is warranted by the proprietors to give satisfaction or money will be refunded. For sale by J. Spigelmeyer and D. S. Kauffman & Co.

—Mr. Clair Gephart, who holds a clerkship in one of Logansville's leading stores, was home on a visit to his parents, Mr. Jacob Gephart's, over Sunday. Clair likes his position right well and seems pleased with his present place of abode.

—D. S. Kauffman, one of our leading merchants, took a pleasure trip to Clinton county for a few days and visited Lock Haven. He was very favorably impressed with Clinton county's capital and seems to feel good over the whole of his journey.

—Many thanks are due the young ladies of this town for their contributions of well arranged and beautiful bouquets of flowers on Decoration Day. Their valuable assistance at such times is indispensable and is duly appreciated by all.

—Landlord Rook's newly painted carriage, which conveys passengers from Coburn station to the National hotel at this place, is of the most attractive appearance. The job was done by that excellent coachpainter, C. W. Albright.

—Speaking of grand success in fishing this season, Mr. C. K. Sobers, the well-known sportsman, tells us that he and a friend of his caught over 200 fair-sized trout in less than half a day, the other week. They were angling at the head of Penns Creek.

—More people, adults and children, are troubled with costiveness than with any other ailment. Dr. Henry Baxter's Mandrake Bitters will cure costiveness and prevent the diseases which result from it. For sale by J. Spigelmeyer and D. S. Kauffman & Co.

—For taste and elegance E. W. Mauck's wall papers can not easily be beat. We were shown a room in Mr. Noah Stover's residence on Penn street the other day and were filled with admiration of Mr. Mauck's skill and exactness in hanging paper and producing beautiful effects.

—Strange to say we have not yet heard of a single picnic or festival in this neck of woods. Frank Jordan is waiting on gute Kuche this long time and we even heard a bandmember remark the other day that he will resign his place if the outlook for a picnic dinner does not soon get better.

—Mrs. Emmons' lecture on temperance in the Evangelical church last Friday evening was largely attended and resulted in the organization of an auxiliary society to the W. C. T. U., with Mrs. B. O. Deininger as president. Mrs. Emmons was pronounced a splendid speaker by those who were among her audience.

—By scanning our advertising columns our readers will find S. T. Frain's card, in which he announces the superior accommodations afforded at the Keystone Hotel, Selinsgrove, of which he is the enterprising and obliging landlord. Mr. Frain has faith in the value of printers' ink and his faith, we're sure, is in the right.

—The town council of Danville made war on the telegraph and telephone poles and hereafter each pole in that town represents a tax of $1.00. Now if our borough fathers should ever get a similar idea, we would propose that an extra 25 cts. be added on every telephone pole, as a special tax for bad appearance and crookedness.

—Efforts are being made to effect the organization of "Sons of Veterans" of this place and vicinity and we are requested to announce that a meeting will be held for that purpose in the Millheim town hall next Saturday evening when all the young men whose fathers were in service during the late war are requested to attend and to signify their intention of joining the junior post.

—We are not in the habit of "boasting" about the JOURNAL, but the following sentence, taken from a letter to this office from J. A. McDonald, proprietor of the Central Pennsylvania Pharmacy at Reedsville, is certainly very complimentary and speaks for itself: Please continue our advertise-ment until we tell you to stop, as I find your paper one of the best advertising journals I ever used.

—Confer & Son, the planing mill men are busily engaged in the manufacture of building material for the Methodist church in this place, which will be remodeled after harvest. We understand that the changes will consist in a new steeple, to be built from the ground, a new roof, new floors and windows. At that rate Main street will be able to boast of a fine church building by next winter.

—The first copy of the "Times-News," Selinsgrove's new paper, and at the same time Snyder's democratic organ, is on our table. By all appearances the proprietors, Messrs. Early & Leshler, have the necessary qualifications and push to issue a wide-awake and readable weekly and if they continue on that line we predict success for them. Of course the wish is father to the prophecy.

—An Arizona paper of recent date has the following paragraph: "If our paper doesn't seem as bright as usual this week we beg our readers to overlook the fact. Some darn fool came in on Monday, while we were over to Al Blodgett's and spilled all our muckage. Now we can't do without the muckage if it is to hold its place in the community. We have a right smart bunch of brains, but we don't pretend to cover four sides of a paper at once. P. S.—We have bought a new bottle of muckage, and warn the onery cuss who spill the last bottle that he will have to pay for it or get a licking."

WAITING A CLAIMANT.—A challenge is offered to any one who can produce a case of torpid liver that will not succumb to the influence of Simmons Liver Regulator, taken regularly by direction.

—Adolf Lalloz, carriage manufacturer, 119 Carroll Street, Buffalo, N. Y., states: "I was troubled with nausea of the stomach, sick headache and general debility. Burdock Blood Bitters cured me."

DISTRESSING ACCIDENT.—Just two weeks ago we recorded the fracture of Charles Alter's arm and in this issue we are again obliged to publish a similar occurrence. The subject of this article is Eddie, the little son of Mrs. Emma Tomlinson, who about a month ago left for the West. On Saturday forenoon Eddie accompanied his uncle, Will Ulrich, to Coburn on a lumber wagon and on his return occupied the back part of the now empty wagon. When turning the corner of Main and Penn streets he jumped off and the hind wheel of the heavy wagon passed over his lower limbs, breaking the left one at the thigh. He was picked up and taken home by his grandparents, Michael and Ulrich's, where he received proper medical attendance. His mother was at once telegraphed for and arrived on Tuesday morning. The little fellow stood the painful operation bravely and without any drug whatever and is at this writing doing very well.

—Observations made during last Saturday's parade occasion us to suggest to our worthy town council the making of an ordinance "prohibiting the tying of teams or the stopping of horses on streets where such parades pass" or public demonstrations take place. Such an ordinance might prove the means of averting serious accidents on such occasions and it always pays to take time by the forelock. In several instances accidents were prevented last Saturday only by the pluck and presence of mind of some of our citizens, who just in time turned away frightened horses, that stood along the line of march. Had it not been for this timely assistance several women and children might have been trampled to death. Horses as a rule become unmanageable when they hear a brass band or see a large flag or banner passing by and for that reason should not be allowed on the principal streets of town during public parades. An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.

—The new building of Musser & Smith, in course of erection at the corner of Main and Penn streets, is nearing completion. When finished it will be an ornament to town. The lower story contains two spacious store rooms facing Main street, with attractive plate glass fronts, and is divided by a staircase of comfortable width, which leads to the second story. The other two rooms face Penn street, the one to be used as a warehouse, the other to be rented to a mercantile firm. The upper story of the building will be partitioned off so as to make four fair-sized rooms, the largest of which is being fitted up for a G. A. R. and I. O. O. F. hall. Said hall is situated above the storeroom which will be occupied by Mr. Jerome Spigelmeyer. The other three rooms are above the hardware store and will be specially adapted for smaller societies. Altogether the structure will be a handsome and most convenient in town and the proprietors, as well as the contractor, Mr. John Kerstetter, Jr., can with just pride look upon it as the work of their enterprise and mechanical skill.

SETTLEMENT NOTICE.—As we wish to close our books we request all persons who have unsettled accounts with us to call at our place for settlement not later than June 15th, 1886. Parties who fail to comply with this request between this and the above date will be compelled to do so by law.

BARTGES & BRO.
Madisonburg, Pa., May 20, '86. 3t

Letter from Nebraska.
EDITOR OF THE JOURNAL:—No doubt it may be of some interest to the many readers of your paper to read a few lines from this part of the world.

Since the 16th of March, last, the time I left home, I found out more about this great country than I ever knew before I left my old home, three miles east of Rebersburg, Pa. When we started we were a party of five until we reached Chicago, when we scattered, each going in a different direction. I stopped two weeks in Kane and DeKalb counties, Ill., to visit some of my friends. Finding no profitable work in that section, I went on to Nebraska. The ground at that time, was covered with snow nearly all the way. I arrived at Geneva, Fillmore county, on the 2nd of April. The weather was cold and the roads were in a terrible condition. The next day, Saturday, the snow fell fast and a fierce wind blew it along in blinding drifts. That same day I started for my final destination, about 10 miles southwest. The winter storms had now ceased and the weather became pleasant. The farmers began work in their 160 acre fields. The mechanics commenced building up in the midst of the large prairies. The Burlington and Missouri River R. R. Company are constructing two railroads which cross each other in this county, one leading from Fairmount to Council Bluffs, the other from Beatrice to Hastings. Quite a number of new towns were laid out along these roads and their first houses are being erected. Carpenters are settling here from all parts, the writer being one of them, and the sound of the hammers and the screeching of the saws makes things real lively. We are paid from $2 to $2.50 per day.

Many of the eastern folks think this is the wrong country to emigrate to. They imagine it to be swept clean of everything by the raging storms. But such is not the case. The farmers out here have two chances to one in the East. Here they raise more grain, more fruit and more stock. From 75 to 150 acres of corn, and an abundance of small grain, may be found on every farm. Melons and peanuts are raised by a good many farmers and much enjoyed by eastern immigrants. The farmer finds a ready market for all his raises. Wheat is worth 45 cents, Oats 30 cts., Corn 16 cts., Rye 40 cts., Pork $3.25 and fat cattle $4.00 per hundred. Butter sells at 10 cts., per lb. and eggs at 8 cts. per doz.

We had a heavy rain on the 22nd of May. The weather is fair and the ground dry. Streams are scarce and springs are not known of. But water can readily be secured at any place by boring a well. Three men will bore a well 300 feet deep in one day without working very hard. Once in a while we are visited by prairie fires.

But I must close lest I weary you and the readers of the Journal. With the request to send the Journal to me for one year, I am
Yours truly,
C. C. SPANGLER.

COBURN.

Warm weather has now taken the place of the recent cold snap.

Dr. Desher and wife, of Aaronburg, left for the West last week, via Washington, D. C. and the P. R. R.

Mr. Wibley, our new track boss, moved from Watsonstown into the part of the residence of F. P. Barker.

The Lutheran congregation of this place organized a Mite Society one evening last week.

Our blacksmith, Felix, is doing a good business, and works early and late.

There is no one out of employment, which speaks well for the place.

The new firm of Durham Bros & Co., will shortly stock up the new addition to their store room and will carry a complete line of general merchandise and groceries. And now is their time to advertise in the Journal as it will pay them to do so.

Mrs. Clark has moved into the new building across from the depot.

Our shoemaker, Tom Keen, is kept very busy at his trade.

Quite a number of our citizens took in Millheim on Decoration Day.

Messrs. Grenninger, Barker & Hockmum spent two days along the mountain streams fishing last week and report trout plenty.

Quite an exciting time around the station last Saturday between one of our citizens and two Jew peddlers.

VALE.

AARONSBURG.

Andy says its Buffalo Mead—yum.

P. Gross Yearick, of Philadelphia, is here paying his annual visit to his parents, Mr. Thos. Yearick's.

John Beyer has broken ground for a new residence on North 2nd street, on a lot adjoining his present place of residence.

Abs. Confer has put up a neat little building to be used as a confectionery and grocery on North 2nd St. That thoroughfare means business.

Dynamite! Ira Gramley and his associate, a Mr. Wilson, from Spring Mills, have contracted to blow out a large number of rocks and stumps in Penns and Brush Valleys with dynamite.

Thos. J. Kister exhibited his skill as sign painter by lettering a confectionery and tobacco sign for Chas. H. Stover, on Tannery Hill.

H. H. and F. J. Weaver are off again to York state for another lot of Holstein cattle.

Mrs. John G. Kurtz, of Milton, Pa., in a letter to her relatives at this place, says, that on Saturday, the 22nd, ult., the lightning struck the German Reformed church, the Presbyterian parsonage, a railroad bridge and a barn in that town. There was also a heavy fall of rain and hail. The extent of the damage we did not learn.

S. H. Diehl put down a stone pavement in front of his residence; D. H. Lenker follows by putting down a brick pavement, while C. G. Bright is also putting down a stone pavement and will enclose his front yard with a fence.

Samuel Miller, Aaronburg's oldest resident shoemaker is confined to his bed, suffering from what is known as dropsy. We are told at this writing Mr. Miller is in a dangerous condition.

The masons and the boss carpenter, Mr. Bierly with his men from Brushvalley, commenced work on Lewis Mench's barn last Monday morning. Some of the boys are already smacking their lips for that good dinner they expect to eat on the day of "raising."

Since the editor of the Journal took an active part in the ceremonies of last Saturday, Decoration day, we expect him to assume the task of giving the readers of the Journal a report of the day's proceedings.

ANOTHER.

Rebersburg and Vicinity.

Hem! Here we are again, after being urged by many readers of the Journal to give them an occasional slip of items.

In this section the prospect for an abundant hay crop is good.

J. R. Brumgart's new brick house is nearing completion.

Prof. C. L. Gramley gave the outside of his house a coat of paint, which improves the appearance of his residence very much.

A disease which seems to baffle the skill of our horse doctor, A. G. Gramley, has visited the stables of Dan. Royer, and two valuable horses belonging to that gentleman have died of this disease.

Jno. Spangler at present has the plasterers at work on the interior of his stone mansion which has been remodeled. Mr. Spangler also expects to give the outside of the building a coat of plastering.

Last week a set of Snyder county carpenters came to this vicinity and proceeded to tear down an old barn owned by Jacob Gephart. They are at present engaged in framing a new barn, which will be erected by five rods north from where the old one stood.

One day last week, while two of Wes. Snyder's children were playing in the barn, they eyed a straw cutter. The little girl at once began to turn it, while her brother, aged about five years, attempted to feed the machine. He got his hand too close to the knives and two of his fingers were cut off and his thumb badly lacerated. Dr. Bright was at once summoned to dress the wound and the little boy is doing as well as can be expected.

Samuel Condo has the painters at work on some of his outbuildings. Sam is trying to make his new home attractive.

On Tuesday of last week, while a small child of Daniel Weaver, near Wolf's Store, was playing in the house, it crept on the hot stove plate. Its clothing ignited and before the flames could be extinguished the child was so badly burned that it is not expected to live.

A valuable colt, owned by Perry Condo, died of that much-dreaded disease which seems to be rapidly spreading throughout this part of Brushvalley.

Memorial Day was well observed in our town. Members of the G. A. R. post arrived here in the forenoon from Millheim and Aaronburg to join the veterans of this valley in the solemn decoration ceremonies. They were headed by the Rebersburg band and presented a real fine column. Revs. Landis, Dotterer and Lenord delivered the addresses of the day and our town was filled with spectators, giving it a lively appearance.

SMITH TOWN.

Miss Ella Swartz and Miss Emma Shull from Rebersburg were visitors in this place on Sunday.

Well, Ben, how did you get that basket home? But we will keep mum and not tell on you.

Last week an agent canvassed our vicinity with a liniment and took night lodging with W. F. Smith. By the appearance of his room the liniment is the strongest stuff that was ever made. It will be advisable for the fellow never to show his face in Smith Town again.

Wm. Bright and family, of Millheim, were in our midst on Sunday.

One of our young men, who is but a child yet, carries a revolver and is bold enough to flourish it and shoot with it publicly on Sunday evenings when going home from preaching. Now, Mr. Editor, what should we do with such boys? [Send them to this town for good training and we are sure High Constable Sankey will learn them better manners in less than a week.—Ed.]

There is a very bad disease among the cows in this neighborhood. H. E. Duck has three on the sick list and they are hardly able to move about.

Prof. Likewise spent Sunday in this vicinity.

On Saturday nearly all of Smith Town's population was to Millheim to take in the decoration exercises, which were gotten up in real fine style.

JUMBO.

SPRING MILLS.

Mrs. Dr. Frank, of Philadelphia, is at present here with her surveyors to locate lands, for which she claims to have an old title. She seems, however, to have trouble to locate the lines which would correspond with her drafts.

The game of base ball on Decoration day was quite interesting. The Centre Hall club carried off the laurels.

Chas. Miller, Esq., has made a business trip to Lock Haven.

On Decoration day a very large crowd gathered at the graveyard to decorate the graves of their departed comrades and friends with the most beautiful flowers the country can afford. The Challenge Band of this place was in attendance and furnished music for the occasion.

Of Interest to Ladies.

The new treatment for ladies' diseases discovered by Dr. Mary A. Gregg, the distinguished English Physician and nurse, which has revolutionized the entire mode of treating these complaints in England is now being introduced into the U. S., under a fair novel plan.
