Announcement.
A. B. BUMILLER, Esq., EDITOR MILLHEIM JOURNAL—Dear Sir: Some parties are circulating the report that I am not a candidate for Prothonotary. Now I desire to say to the Democrats of Centre County, that I am a candidate in earnest, and want to make the nomination if I can do so honorably, and hope the people will give my case fair consideration with the rest. Respectfully Yours,

AARON WILLIAMS.

In COMMENTING upon the retirement of Hon. A. G. Curtin from the congressional field some of the red-hot and superwise republican journals jump to the hasty conclusion that Gov. Curtin took this step with a view of becoming a candidate for Pennsylvania's governorship. Don't know whether it is for the want of something else to say or for the love of talking that they spring these wild reports, but certain it is that their statement is without a shadow of foundation. The old Governor simply feels that he has done his full share in the service of his country and consequently wishes to enjoy the rest to which he is fully entitled. But at the same time those fidgety papers know full well that if Mr. Curtin would wish to enter the race the chances are that he would get away with the whole pack of them and that he would make as fine a governor as the commonwealth had since he himself occupied that office. We give below a short dialogue between the Ex-Gov. and a reporter of the Philadelphia Times, bearing upon the talk of Curtin's nomination for Governor, which should allay all fears of the Beaver organs:

"There is talk about your nomination for Governor."

"I feel complimented by the mention, but it is pure speculation. I expect to go back to Bellefonte and spend the rest of my days in ease and retirement. I think that the Democratic party, with wise nominations, will have an excellent chance of success. Things are badly mixed in the Republican lines."

Referring to the relations between himself and Cameron, the Governor said: "I think Cameron has quit, and so have I."

REPUBLICAN CONGRESSMEN and some republican papers have been working hard to make it appear as if the democratic party neglected the soldier and soldiers' widows and orphans. Mr. Springer, of Illinois, however, has furnished convincing proofs from the official documents in the pension bureau that the present democratic administration has in proportion granted more pensions than any of the republican administrations. For instance Grant during his two terms [8 years] signed but 542 private pension bills. During the 47th congress, which was republican in both branches, 151 pension bills were passed. Now the 48th congress, in which the democrats had a majority in the house, passed 552 and the present congress, since December has already passed 665.

It is true, President Cleveland vetoed about 90 of the last 665 pension bills, but it was sufficiently proven that he did so for weighty reasons and all deserving and honest claimants will only benefit by his cautious procedure.

PRESIDENT Cleveland vetoed the bill appropriating $150,000 for the erection of a new government building in Dayton, Ohio, saying that the old structure has ample accommodations and that it is unnecessary to incur the expense of building a new one.

MORRISON offered a concurrent resolution in the House on Monday, for the final adjournment of Congress at 3 o'clock, July 28th. The resolution was referred to the Committee of Ways and Means.

PURCELLS, Utterly and Schaeffer, democratic candidates for Congress in Mifflin county have withdrawn from the field and Andrew Reed is now the only candidate in the county.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND meant business when he issued the following order to office-holders, regarding the contemptible fashion of partisans in government employ, to use their influence in political campaign work.

EXECUTIVE MANSION, WASHINGTON, D. C., July 14, 1886.—To the Heads of Departments in the Service of the General Government: I deem this a proper time to especially warn all subordinates in the several departments and all office-holders under the General Government against the use of their official positions in attempts to control political movements in their localities. Office-holders are the agents of the people, not their masters. Not only is their time and labor due to the Government, but they should scrupulously avoid in their political action as well as in the discharge of their official duty offending, by a display of obtrusive partisanship, their neighbors who have relations with them as public officials. They should also constantly remember that their party friends from whom they have received preferment have not invested them with the power of arbitrarily managing their political affairs. They have no right as office-holders to dictate the political action of their party associates, or to throttle freedom of action within party lines by methods and practices which prevent every useful and justifiable purpose of party organization. The influence of Federal office-holders should not be felt in the manipulation of political primary meetings and nominating conventions. The use by these officials of their positions to compass their selection as delegates to political conventions is undcent and unfair, and proper regard for the properties and requirements of official place will also prevent their assuming the active conduct of political campaigns. Individual interest and activity in political affairs are by no means condemned. Office-holders are neither disfranchised nor forbidden the exercise of political privileges, but their privileges are not enlarged nor is their duty to party increased to pernicious activity by office-holding. A just discrimination in this regard between the things a citizen may properly do and the purpose for which a public office should not be used is easy in the light of a correct appreciation of the relation between the people and those intrusted with official place and a consideration of the necessity under our form of government of political action free from official coercion. You are requested to communicate the substance of these views to those for whose guidance they are intended.

GROVER CLEVELAND.

The Canadian Thistle Pest.

The farmers of every community should sternly enforce the law of 24th April, 1885, forbidding all citizens from allowing the Canadian thistle to go to seed on their premises. It is one of the most pestilential weeds of all that now pollutes the fields of the farmers, and it spreads from the thistles to the land of the thrifty with fearful rapidity.

The law of 1885 provides that any person holding lands by lease or otherwise, who shall allow the Canadian thistle to go to seed on their premises, shall be fined fifteen dollars, to be paid to the school fund of the district. Any citizen who is likely to be injured by the spread of the pest from his neighbor's lands, may give notice to have the weeds cut before going to seed, and if not done, the Constable or Supervisor is required to enter upon the property, cut the weeds and can compel the payment of labor and costs from the holder of the polluted lands.

Committed on a Serious Charge.

SUNSBURY, Pa., July 19.—Robert Parker, proprietor of the Curtis House, Shamokin, and quite a prominent citizen, and Robert Lawrence were brought to jail this morning, charged with having fatally beaten Vincent Rokus, a prominent Pole, of Shamokin, who was buried yesterday.

Killed a Bear.

MONDAY last C. W. Keiler, jobber for O. W. Wolf, on Shingle Branch, J. P. Robbins and Thomas Robins were working in the woods, and while J. P. Robbins was fellling a tree for Keiler to spud, when the former saw a bear coming toward them. Having no guns at hand the men took positions behind trees, armed with their axes, quietly awaiting the approach of the bear. The animal came along, licking his chops and entirely ignorant of his impending doom. As he got opposite the tree that hid Robbins, Keiler whispered to let him have it, which was done, the blow from the axe disjointing the bear's neck. The animal weighed nearly 200 pounds.—Clinton Democrat.

A misstep will often make crippled for life. A bottle of Henry & Johnson's Arnica and Oil Liniment at hand, will not prevent the misstep, but used immediately it will save being a cripple. Sold by J. Spigelmeyer and D. S. Kauffman & Co., Millheim.

ONE dose of McDonald's Great Blood Purifier or Sarsaparilla Alternative is guaranteed to contain more alternative properties, more truly remedial power than three doses of any other known alternative or blood purifier. Many other blood remedies are good enough in their way, only that you are compelled to buy a gallon of medicine to get a pint of remedy; the manufacturers having sacrificed strength and usefulness to palatability and profit. McDonald's Blood Purifier is put up in seventy-five cent bottles containing as much as most dollar bottles of other makes. Dissatisfied purchasers can have their money refunded.

He is Arrested at Cleveland and Taken Back to Pittsburg.

PITTSBURG, July 19.—Samuel K. Gay, the absconding pension clerk, who was arrested in Cleveland yesterday, was brought back to this city to-night. Gay admits his guilt and says the sum taken will not exceed $4,000. A special examiner from Washington is now engaged in running over the books of the Pittsburgh Pension Office to get at the extent of Gay's defalcation. The job is no light one, as 18,000 pensioners are paid from the Pittsburgh agency every quarter. As the books for the last three years have to be gone over, nearly 26,000 different accounts must be examined. The examiner states that, so far, the embezzlement runs into thousands, but will not reach anything like the high figures given.

The Nanticoke Armory Burned.

NANTICOKE, Pa., July 16.—Broadway Hall, a large frame building used for amusement purposes, was completely destroyed by fire this morning. It was the property of Company G, Ninth Regiment, N. G. P., and served them with the prospect of steady employment for the next three months. Capitalists have been prospecting for coal in that vicinity, and at Centralia have struck the Mammoth vein, which is 35 feet in thickness and is the largest vein in the anthracite region.

LAY THEM AWAY.—We mean the horrible, mausoleum worm-seed compound called worm syrups and vermicifuges; many of them as worthless as they are obnoxious. They have outlived their usefulness. People do not want them since McDonald's Celebrated Worm Powders, so easy and pleasant to take, can be had from any dealer. Everyone who has tried them say they are the nicest and best vermicifuges ever discovered. The children take them and never knew a medicine being administered. Any case of failure to cause explosion where worms exist the money promptly refunded in every instance.

Thirteen Petrified Bodies.

ROCHESTER, Ind., July 19.—While Mr. T. Bowman, residing about three miles north of Akron, was engaged in setting posts a day or two ago he was greatly surprised to have a post with which he was packing the bottom of the whole break through and disappear from sight. He took his spade and dug down, with the intention of discovering where the seemingly bewitched post had disappeared to. The hole was soon enlarged, and a cave was disclosed. He procured a ladder and a lantern, and descended into the cave. Then the hair of the inquisitive Mr. Bowman stood on end. On the ground were the forms of 12 men, while a part of a thirteenth leaned up against the side of the tavern, with one hand outstretched, as if earnestly addressing his 12 comrades. Mr. Bowman examined the bodies and found them to be petrified.

Mr. J. A. McDonald, Reedsville, Pa., writes:

"DEAR SIR.—Some time ago I had a severe attack of chronic diarrhoea. Could obtain no relief. A friend gave me a part of a bottle of your Cutis' Carmelite Cordial, and a few doses entirely cured me. The balance of the bottle went around among the neighbors. Since then I have written to New York and Philadelphia for the medicine but could not procure it. I traced up the bottle we had and found it was purchased of Mr. Jacob Cowan, merchant in Altoona, and from him obtained my address. Please forward me one dozen bottles by express at once, as I do not wish to be without it in my family and wish to sell it in my store."
