

Democratic State Ticket. For Governor—CHAUNCEY F. BLACK, of York. For Lieutenant-Governor—R. BRUCE RICKETTS, of Luzerne.

Democratic County Ticket. Representatives—JOHN A. WOODWARD, LEONARD RHONE. Prothonotary—L. A. SHAEFFER.

Democratic Mass Meeting!

Rally! Rally! Rally!

There will be a Democratic Mass Meeting at Bellefonte on Wednesday, October 6th, at 7 o'clock, p. m. CHAUNCEY F. BLACK, candidate for Governor,

Excursion trains will be run from Coburn and return after the meeting, also from Strables to Bellefonte and return on Buffalo Run road.

The Clearfield county convention last week nominated Wm. A. Wallace for Congress, Flynn for Senator, Kramer for Assembly, Bloom for Prothonotary, Fullerton for Register and Recorder and Reed for Surveyor

LEHIGH county renominated congressman Sowden for a second term in congress by a big majority. Bucks and Northampton counties have practically endorsed Sowden and he will be the democratic nominee of the Tenth district.

AND now Blaine, of Maine, is booked to stump the state of Pennsylvania for Beaver. The Republican bosses, in editor Fiedler's language, must consider Beaver's political ship in imminent danger, else they would not send for foreign help to save it.

It is generally understood now that Mr. Manning will soon resume his place as Secretary of the Treasury. It is said that President Cleveland had received such assurances from him. This news will certainly be hailed with great satisfaction by the country at large.

HON. CHAUNCEY F. BLACK and General Beaver met the other day in Lancaster. If the two leading candidates in this state canvass would have been joined by the Wolf yet, the Beaver might have felt a little sheepish. As it was, this party of distinguished politicians had a cheerful time.

BISHOP Shanahan, a renowned catholic divine of Harrisburg died in that city on Friday morning. The whole catholic population in the diocese deeply mourn the death of their beloved and learned bishop. He was 52 years of age and was the youngest member of the clergy ever elevated to such ecclesiastical distinction.

CHAIRMAN HENSEL sounded the democratic bugle at Stroudsburg, Monroe county on Tuesday night, when he addressed the county democracy, which had come out in immense numbers to hear him. He made a stirring speech in which he dissected Beaver's political character and commented upon the stereotyped remarks made by the republican candidate for Governor at Pittsburgh. The hot battle has fairly begun and Hensel's speech at Stroudsburg will have its effect in November when the Monroe county democrats will give Black a routing majority.

With men in congress like Charles R. Buckalew, William L. Scott, William A. Wallace, Saml. J. Randall, Daniel Ermentrout, and Levi Maish, and their election is reasonably sure, the democrats need not be ashamed and their representatives at Washington will compare well in talent, ability and experience with any of the republican representatives.

WOODWARD and RHONE are the two men who have ably represented the farmer and laboring man in the last assembly and it behooves democrats to send men to the legislative halls who have been there and have not been found wanting. Vote for Woodward and Rhone and your interests will be well taken care of.

A Friend of Farmers.

From the True Blue. All farmers should vote for Chauncey F. Black, for he is and always has been their sincere friend and advocate. Like his noble father, his sympathies have always been with honest tillers of the ground. If he is elected Governor the farmers can rest assured they will always have a sincere friend at court.

WHAT we want are good, sound, tried and loyal men to fill our county offices. Just such a man is the democratic candidate for Prothonotary, Mr. Shaeffer, and the democratic voters will manifest in November by a rousing vote that they fully endorse the action of their late county convention in nominating a candidate who cannot fail to fill the office honorably and efficiently.

BOSSES! BOSSES! cries the Gazette every week and tries to make the people believe that it was the bosses who nominated the democratic county ticket. The democrats sent delegates to Bellefonte, instructing them to nominate the best and most popular men and the delegates did their duty faithfully and satisfactorily and that is all the bossing there is about it. The people are the bosses and they will boss the election of the democratic county ticket at the ballots in November, all the boss talk of the Gazette notwithstanding.

DIDN'T Beaver's speech, or rather essay, at Pittsburg on Saturday night make a racket? It was his first effort in this campaign and was intended for a formal opening of the canvass. It is stated that the address was read from a ready-made and well-revised manuscript and that its unreasonable length and monotony caused the General many a drop of sweat. The principal part of the address was the inextinguishable tariff theme, which, by the way, the Republicans seem to consider the most important state issue. He read a little on the liquor question, made a few unmeaning remarks about the good feeling which ought to exist between the employer and employe and in this connection laid stress upon the point that the interests of labor may be promoted by the election of a Republican Governor. He forgot the store orders. The anti-discrimination question he disposed of by saying that it was no state issue at all and that only Congress could deal with it.

Boiling it down the speech simply ignores all real live issues and gives the impression that this campaign is to be run on the tariff platform. Such addresses will not go far in helping Gen. Beaver on to the gubernatorial chair. He was followed by Gen. Logan whose familiar off-hand war speech received by far the greater encore. Hurrah for B—B—what's his name?

The Business Boom. More Signs that the Country Has Nothing to Fear From Democratic Administrations. The Democratic State platform of Pennsylvania says: "The Democratic reform administration of President Cleveland has given confidence to the business interests of the country." Despite the silly Republican partisan attacks every sign of the times goes to show that this is so.

The New York Times, (Rep.) of a very recent date, says: "If there is any cloud anywhere in the financial sky it manages very thoroughly to hide itself. There has been no hint of it in the week past. Trade is booming; merchants are crowded by custom, and manufacturers are driven to ill orders booked far ahead; every man who wants work has it, and every dollar not locked up is showing an earning power. The farmers of the West and South have crops that pay for the first time in years; the railroads in all their history have never been called upon to handle such a vast traffic. Illustrations of the increased earnings of the railroads of the country were given last week. The same state of things continue, with but one difference that the percentage of increase is even larger now than then. The result is unprecedented. The prosperity betoken reaches in every direction."

Mr. Black's Letter.

Its Progressive and Aggressive Tone Attracting Widespread Attention.

Washington Dispatch to the Times. The letter of acceptance of the gubernatorial nomination of the Democratic Convention of Pennsylvania by Lieutenant Governor Black appears to have created an impression beyond the confines of his own State. In the doctrine it enunciates it is likely to become a feature in the policy of the Democratic party in other States.

The prominence of Judge Black in public affairs at the national capital during the last Democratic administration, and his later presence in Washington as attorney in many important cases before the Supreme Court, made him a conspicuous and important figure in Washington life down to the day of his death. The old friends of the father, irrespective of parties, therefore take much pride in the evident marks of ability in public life shown by the son. His letter of acceptance is pointed to as an exceptionally brilliant declaration of the position of the Democratic party in Pennsylvania. The confinement of State campaigns to purely State issues is applauded, and the latter itself is referred to as a forcible exposition of the progressive and aggressive tendencies of the young Democracy of Pennsylvania and the Union.

Miscellaneous News.

Lancaster County Shaken.

LANCASTER, Pa., Sept. 28.—Reliable citizens of Washington borough, on the Susquehanna, this county, state that a shock of earthquake was plainly felt there last evening at 7.21 p. m. In several instances the residents ran out of their buildings. The shock has not been reported from any other part of the county.

An Umbrella Saves Her Life.

YORK, Pa., Sept. 28.—Mrs. Elizabeth Spahr, residing in Manchester township, while coming to town yesterday, was attacked by a bull on the Harrisburg pike at Prospect Hill cemetery, knocked down and badly bruised. The ferocious animal next paid attention to Mrs. Spahr's umbrella, entirely demolishing it. The lady made good her escape and came to York, where her injuries received proper attention.

A Ball of Fire in the Parlor.

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—A Times' special from Wabash, Ind., says: A ball of fire passed through an open window of the residence of A. E. Rhobock during a heavy thunder storm yesterday, and played around a bronze cornice in the parlor. Then it exploded with a deafening report, filling the house with flame and smoke and throwing Mrs. Rhobock to the floor unconscious. Her condition is very serious.

Americans Emigrating to Mexico.

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—A special from Lancaster, Wis., says: A colony has been formed, known as Pacific Colony, which will emigrate to Topolobampo, Mex., October 1, on a grant of 15,000 acres of land from the Mexican Government. It will number about 2,000 a large number of whom are from the vicinity of Bloomington, this county, and will be co-operative in every respect. Mexico grants the colony many concessions. The enterprise attracts no little attention throughout this section.

Badly Needed Coal Cars Wrecked.

READING, Pa., Sept. 26.—A Philadelphia and Reading engine, drawing an empty coal train, met with an accident yesterday at Stoney Creek, this county. A bumper block became detached, and falling on the rail wrecked the train. About twenty cars were smashed to splinters. The wreck was unfortunate, because the company needed every car to take the great demand for coal to tide water. The tracks were blocked for three hours. It is stated that the company will issue orders to build 2,000 coal cars.

Terrible Fall of Two Painters.

LEWISTOWN, Pa., Sept. 26.—While James Bank and James Barr, two painters, were engaged in painting the cornice of the Presbyterian church yesterday, the scaffolding on which they were standing gave way, and they were precipitated to the ground below, a distance of 50 feet. Bank was instantly killed, his head striking on a large stone crushing in the whole top portion of his skull. Barr's back was hurt and his injuries are pronounced fatal. Bank was 35 years old and leaves a wife and three children.

His Last Farewell.

A Young Man's Horrible Death on the Railroad Track at Conshohocken. NORRISTOWN, Pa., Sept. 27.—Frank Solger, residing on Fifth avenue, Conshohocken, met with a tragic death on Saturday night. He was engaged to be married to a young lady residing in West Conshohocken, and the wedding was to have taken place at no distant day. He visited the lady on Saturday night, as usual, and at 10.30 o'clock bade her good night and started to walk home. Late that night his mangled remains were found on the track of the Reading Railroad main line in West Conshohocken, a short distance above the passenger station. It seems that he was walking on the railroad and stepping from the up track to avoid an approaching train, and that as he did so a down train that he had failed to notice came thundering down upon him. The body was dragged a distance of about fifty yards, leaving clots of blood and pieces of torn flesh in its path. The discovery of the accident was made soon after its occurrence, and the fragments of warm, quivering flesh were hastily collected. The first intimation had by the young man's parents of his horrible death was when the remains were carried into their home. Solger was in his 23rd year.

Lightning Rod Sharps.

COATSVILLE, Pa., Sept. 23.—Quite a number of Chester county farmers have been fleeced by lightning rod sharps during the past two weeks. The men represented that they would put up rods containing nine points on buildings for $200 as an advertisement. When the work was finished they asked the parties whom they had supplied with rods to sign their names to contracts for the $200, which were to be returned to the company's office. Later several farmers in the vicinity of this place learned that they had signed notes for $200, some of which had been discontinued. Detectives have traced them to Baltimore.

A Reign of Terror.

HARMONY, Me., Sept. 26.—Detectives have been summoned here from Portland to endeavor to capture an incendiary who is destroying thousands of dollars' worth of property, causing a veritable reign of terror among the people. So many fires have occurred recently that the citizens are now obliged to watch their premises night and day, and in many cases families have their goods packed for removal at a moment's notice. Six houses and six barns, together with other farm material, have been burned since Monday. The fires have all occurred in the daytime, generally about 5 o'clock in the afternoon, and the evidence is clear that they have been started by the same person. All of the fires have been started in out-houses or barns. Great excitement prevails, and business has been entirely suspended.
