GOVERNOR Pattison is spoken of as a candidate for congress in the eighteenth congressional district. Should he accept such a nomination, which is doubtful, his election would be more than probable and he would certainly fill a seat in congress with credit to himself and to the advantage of his constituents.

THE numination of J. C. Meyer for District Attorney on the democratic ticket gives such general satisfaction that it is safe to say he will receive the vote of every democrat as well as of many republicans. Mr. Meyer is a young lawyer of unquestionable character and ability and has a clean political record. Being a native of staid old Aaronsburg he is known to most as far as we know this end of the words, "Now come up here, Goyernor." county is willing to give him their When Lieut. Gov. at Bellefonte. Pursuant to the call the democracy of Centre county flocked to Bellefonte fast evening to attend a demonstration which was simply immense in size and enthusiasm, notwithstanding the fact that the notice was rather short and the people had but very little time to get ready. Bellefonte had on its fessive garb and there was a profuse display of banners, bunting, flags, mottoes, and the windows of many of Bellefonte's private resinences and public buildings were illuminated. The court house yard had a speaker's stand erect. ed in its center and large portraits of Gov. Black were conspicuous everywhere. Many people had arrived in town during the day so that when the trains came in in the eyening Bellefcute was already well filled. The PennsValley train, which got there at 6 o'clock brought two bands and about 150 people and the Buffalo Run train which came in later swelled the crowd by about 500.

About at 7 o'clock the court house bell rang out the signal for the meeting and soon the 5 or 6 bands which had been parading up and down town marched to the diamond where a liber-The dense mass of people followed 'and in less time than it takes to write this the court room was packed to its fullest capacity, while the yard below was one compact body of men who were ready to hear the speeches on the outside. The meeting up-stairs was opened by J. L. Spangler, Esq., who made a motion for organization, and nominated

Hon. A. G. Curtin as president, and a number of gentlemen for vice-presidents and secretaries. Gov. Curtin took the chair and the floor and was greeted with roaring applause. All who ever heard the old Governor make a political speech know how telling and well-directed his words are and on this occasion he opened his remarks by a strong endorsement of Gov. Black's letter of acceptance, calling it a square, open and direct statement of the real issues at hand and advising all to read it. He also laid special force on the fact that the "tariff" has nothing to do with this campaign and should be left where it belongs-at Washington. He interspersed his remarks by several fitting anecdotes and finally paid a strong eulogy to Candidate Black and of our readers from boyhood up and introduced that gentleman with the Labor Takes a Hand.

The coal miners have taken a hand in politics in the way of trying to ascertain how all the candidates for State offices and for the Legislature stand in regard to labor legislation. To this end circulars have been prepared, and are now being sent out from the office of John Costello, President of the Miners' Union, on Fifth avenue, Pittsburg. The questions are as follows : "Will you be for or against cottage hospitals ?"

"Are you in favor of a State Mine School for bituminous miners ?" "How do you stand in regard to the actions of the coal and iron police ?" "Are you in favor of two weeks' pay ?

"Will you use your endeavors to secure an appropriation for the Labor Bureau ?' Cantegorical replies to all the ques ions are asked. The circular states that any objection from a candidate to any of the questions is to be considered a direct manifestation of hostility to the cause of labor.

Buckalew on the State Ticket. Hon. CharlesR. Buckalew's remarks before the conference that nominated him for Congress were in excellent taste. After thanking the conference for harmonious action he said :

"We are united in this district as the party is in the great and powerful Commonwealth. From this conference I shall go to take my part in the canvass tor the excellent State Ticket nominatdeath. ed at Harrisburg. For this cause and the cause of Democracy, I ask your earnest, sincere and active work. By united effort we shall redeem Pennsyl vania from the shameful vote of 1884 for the man from Maine. To you, gentlemen, I have no pledge to make. You Congress to draw the salary attached to the office, because I can make more money in the practice of my profession; nor for the honor of the position, because I have served in the Upper House of Congress; but for the useful work in the matter of legislation to which I have, to some extent, been trained. I desire to aid and assist the great man, President Cleyeland, in the work which he has so courageously set out to accomplish, and to assist in establishing the Democracy in a position that shall be enduring. Thanking you again, gentlemen, I enter upon the political task before me."

Unmitigated and Inexcusable.

Horses Stung by Hornets.

PUNXUTAWNEY, Pa., Oct. 1.-The other day George Bennett, of Canoe township, left for his home. When he reached the iron bridge he discovered that he had lost the lever of his wagon brake, so he tied his horses to an ancient walnut tree and went back to look for it. During his absence an army of hornets attacked the team in flank and rear and stung them nearly to death. The poor beasts, unable to break loose, laid down and rolled in agony. Bennett, seeing the awful plight of the tortured animals, muffled his face and cut them loose. The horses were stung so badly they could scarcely stand.

PROHIBITION advocates seem to become more numerous day by day and the party devoted to this cause has ceased to be an insignificant handful of people. They opened the canvass in earnest on Saturday evening, when Hon. Charles S. Wolfe addressed an immense crowd at the Academy of Music in Philadelphia. When reading the reports of this gathering it appears that the prohibitionists expect to push their campaign with consider able aggressiveness and yim. Several of the other candidates on the prohibition ticket delivered addresses and all were received with great enthusiasm. The meeting was quiet, brass bands, clubs and torches being absent, but it is said to have been a very sober and earnest assembly.

THE Knights of Labor assembled in their tenth annual convention at Richmond, Va., on Monday. Governor Lee delivered a stirring address of welcome, to which General Master duced Mr. B. F. Meyers, of H"., risburg, Workman Powderly made an able and powerful response. The convention is attended by about 1000 delegates from all parts of the country. On Tuesday Mr. Powderly addressed the Knights on the great strike in the southwest, on the eight hour law and on the labor of children. He says that the child of the poor man should have an opportunity to acquire a good common school education which is only possible by prohibiting the employment of children under 15 years of age in workshops, mines and factories, GOVERNOB Pattison proposes to tackle the Anthracite Coal combination, an organization composed of the principal railroad and coal companies, which of late had several meetings and then and there made restrictions to the production of coal and advanced the price of that useful article. The Governor thinks that it is about time that this arrogant "do-as-you-please" business of the coal monopolies be stopped and that the market and individual firesides should be protected from further advances and impositions. He has directed Attorney General Cassidy to investigate whether such action of the coal pool is not contrary to the state laws. Governor Pattison is known to be a man of pure motives and in this case his aim is to right a great public wrong and the cheer which made the very walls trem-About this "pluck me" ble. Mr. Black bowed his thanks and there is not a mitigating and excusastated that he had not come to Bellefonte to make a political speech but merely to get acquainted with the people. He said that he had been shaking hands with Centre county democrats so much since he got to town in the morning that his arm really ached but that there was no ache in his heart. As far as the state issues were concerned he had given a full and clear expression of his opinions in his letter of ac. ed in power. ceptance, which is published and cast abroad all over the state, a written pledge of his official course should he be elected governor. And should he fail to do his duty as state executive the reople will have his letter to hold him to account. Goy. Black cut his remarks short, but brief as they were they gave his hearers the impression that be is every inch of a gentleman, a statesman and a most popular and fine-looking candidate, who has "Victory" written upon his very brow. It could also be plainly seen that he forthwith won the love and confidence of a steady, health growth. Every one the people 'by his straightforwardness and speech.

At this point Goy. Ourtin again)" spoke a few minutes and then is to than it has been for a number of years as the next speaker. That gentleman treated on the iss es of this camprign at length. ...e expressed the opinion that menever the Republican party times. Big jobbing and commission "arped on the tariff in a campaign of houses are lighted up at night. and the this kind it is a sure sign that it had severe colic spasms. He also spoke of a disease that the cattle are subjected to at times, called "Wolf in the tail," and thought that this was precisely what ailed our Republicar friends. While the aforenamed speakers addressed the crowd upstairs, the nominee for Auditor General, Wm. J. Brennen, spoke on the open stand in the court house yard. We could not be at both places and consequently did not catch that speech, but judging from the repeated outprusts of applause he fully succeeded in satisfying his yast audience. He was followed by J.B.Nead, Esq., of Harrisburg and later by Gov. Curtin, who had come down stairs to see whether he could be of any assisttance there. At 15 minutes before 10 the meetings to be cautious and somewhat conservaadjourned, and the crowd which we estimated anywhere between three and four thousand dispersed. All told it was a gala day for Bellefonte and a feast for Centre county's democracy. If the unbounded enthusiasm and marked earnestness of the democracy as sembled last night is any sign at all of success we may say that Hon. C. F. Black will be elected governor on the 2nd of November and that by a good majority.

The Return of Prosperity.

The Democratic State platform of Pennsylvania says "the administration of President Cleveland has given confidence to the business interests of the country." The following dispatch from New York, printed in the Commercial Gazette of Pittsburg, a Radical Republican newspaper, confirms this eclaration. NEW YORK, Sept. 27 .- The iong period of depression in business seems now to be giving way to one of pro-agree that the prospects of the fall trade are very bright. The is no boom, but sees indication of better times. It is the universa) opinion in commercial and inamial circles that not only is the resent condition of business better past, but that the future is of greater promise than for a long time. The bustle and activity in the dry goods district is apparent to all who visit that part of the city. That trade is generally the first to feel the good sidewalks are lumpered with bales and boxes. Far into the night men pack goods for shipment. The streets in the dry goods district are lined at night with trucks piled high with merchandise and covered with tarpaulins, ready to be started at daybreak for the steamer wharves and railroad shipping of-

ana Confidence has been restored among investors, and new enterprises are being promoted in Wall street. The banking institutions are encouraged and àð holders of railroad securities are deer lighted by the increased earnings of the lines from freight, which clearly shows that goods are being transported everywhere in large quantities. Iron has advanced in price in the face of the largest production ever known. This prosperity is no sudden thing; it has been coming on gradually, and the country is now in a condition to make the most of it. Prices are good and there is activity everywhere, and what more can we ask ? Confidence is fast returning, and while people are inclined tive, there is enough of confidence to give hopes of brighter prospects. Reports from the wood trade indicate a most encouraging outlook for the season's business. Miscellaneous News.
