

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND is hard at work on his annual message. The document is expected to be much shorter than last year's but no less forcible and pointed.

The report is that Mayor Smith will soon announce his candidacy for the re-election to Philadelphia's mayoralty. No doubt the "dandy" mayor thinks "let the past be forgotten."

The second session of the Forty-ninth Congress will begin its work next Monday. The calendars are filled with live matter which will demand the immediate attention of the members. Most of the business on hand are appropriation bills, and they are just ripe enough to make the session a lively and interesting one.

INDIANA Democrats dispute the legality of the election of Robertson, Republican, for Lieut. Governor, to fill the vacancy caused by General Manson who accepted a Federal office. Green Smith, President pro tem. of the state senate holds that the election was unnecessary and filed a petition for an injunction to restrain the Secretary of State from transmitting the result of the vote cast. The outcome of the suit will have great bearing on the coming Senatorial contest.

A POLICE SCANDAL is the latest excitement which the public at Washington have for their daily topic. Chief of Police, Maj. Walker, is said to have given orders to his subordinates to keep a sharp eye on the conduct of congressmen and watch over their morals. The object of this ridiculous order was to asperse the private character of some of the members and thus compel them to support the passage of certain laws which Chief Walker wants made for the district of Columbia. The consequence of this rash and unreasonable proceeding on the part of the police was the discharge of several of the officers.

AFTER the adjournment of court last week the Centre county Bar Association had a meeting for the purpose of adopting the following preamble and resolution:

WHEREAS, W. C. Heinle, Esq., having served as District Attorney of this county for two successive terms (six years) and having finished his last term will retire from his office on the first Monday of January, 1887, therefore Resolved, that the bar of Centre county, recalling the uniform kindness and courtesy shown by Mr. Heinle in the prosecution of the criminal business of the courts, cheerfully bear witness to the ability, integrity, efficiency and firmness with which District Attorney Heinle always discharged the complicated duties of his office. The above is a very clear and demonstrative expression of their sentiments by the members of the bar and we are sure that every man in the county and especially Mr. Heinle's party friends will readily endorse this testimony. Mr. Heinle's happy disposition of treating those with whom he comes in contact kindly and courteously is well known, while the faithful work he did in the past for his party, we hope, will never be forgotten. While his successor in office has already won the public favor as well as the esteem of the legal fraternity, Mr. Heinle's retirement will be the source of universal regret.

An interesting comparison of the prices paid by advertisers for advertisements in small and large papers in this country was made in a recent issue of the New York World. It says that many a merchant in the country when he pays $10 for an advertisement in his local paper thinks he is just donating that much to the publisher, while actually he derives rich benefits from that very advertisement. Compare for instance the prices charged by papers like the New York Herald, from $40,000 to $50,000 a year per column, or the New York Tribune from $30 to $40,000. Now reckon the weekly circulation of these papers at 600,000 and take the country paper with about 1000 and the price for a column in the latter should accordingly be the 600th part of $40,000 or $50,000 making the cost of it from $66 to $83 per year. And still the Herald and the Tribune are constantly crowded with advertisements while the country paper must beg of his patrons to let him have an ad. at half price. There is lots of room for improvement in this branch of business.

The thirteen New York "Boodle" Aldermen, who are arraigned for selling their votes for the benefit of jobbers and speculators, were fully exposed by the recent confession of ex-alderman Fullgroff, one of their number. Besides these thirteen nine more are complicated in this inamous "boodle" work and will be made to answer the serious charges. And it is almost certain that the frauds who purchased certain privileges from these aldermen will have to join the crowd and be also "drawn over the coal." Jaehne, the principal offender, has commenced to serve his term in the penitentiary, three others escaped to Canada, one died and another became insane, so that of the original thirteen seven remain awaiting their sentence. The last process against one of the members of the thirteen, namely against McQuade, ended last week, the jury being divided. Their vote stood 9 for acquittal and 3 for sentence. A new process will be necessary. One thing is sure. The New Yorkers are firmly resolved to send the whole posse of criminal aldermen to Sing Sing, if it is at all possible.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our regular correspondent.) WASHINGTON, Nov. 29, 1886. This is one of the busiest weeks of the year in Washington. Congress will be here in one week, and everybody must be ready for it from the President to the boarding-house keeper. The President's message is receiving its last course of condensation and revision. Cabinet officers are performing similar work on their annual report, and their assistants of the First, Second, Third and Fourth degrees, with several hundred Bureau Chiefs, Controllers, Auditors and Officers too numerous to mention, are arranging their figures and plodding over long tables of statistics.

The streets of the city are again alive with a busy, bustling throng, and up at the long deserted Capitol, Chairman Randall, with a quorum of his committee, has for a week been pressing work on Appropriation bills. He reports fine progress, and says Congress will not have to wait on him for money bills. During the week he has had in consultation, the heads of different Bureaus and Government establishments, with regard to the needs of their respective departments for the next year. Among these were Prof. Baird of the National Museum, Smithsonian and Fish Commissioner; Superintendent Thorne of the Coast Survey; Dr. Godding of the Government Insane Asylum; Col. Wilson of public buildings and grounds and others.

The improved condition of the Government service under Democratic Administration has been mentioned repeatedly, but new instances of reform are continually making themselves felt, which deserve special notice. The President probably never made a happier stroke of public policy than when he called Mr. Benedict here to be Public Printer. In the period of three months the notoriously demoralized Government Printing office has been put in such order that about one-third more work is now being done with the same amount of money, and the press room which three months ago had 400 forms waiting for the press is now clear, having "caught up."

It is too bad the President cannot be left in peace and quiet with his modest little country home. As soon as the real estate dealers of Washington knew of his intention to buy this place they secured as much ground in the vicinity as possible and ever since they have been using the President's name in the most liberal manner in connection with all sorts of schemes they have organized for improvements at the public expense. Of course the President has been in no way concerned in these manoeuvres, but rumors to that effect cannot but be annoying to him.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and until the past few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years Doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly falling to cure with local treatment pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires a constitutional cure. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from ten drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly upon the blood and mucous surface of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circular and testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75 cts.

Miscellaneous News.

Through the Whirlpool.

NIAGARA FALLS, Nov. 28.—George Hazlett and Miss Sadie Allen, of Buffalo, went through the rapids and whirlpool this afternoon in the torpedo whirpool barrel used by Hazlett and Potts last summer. They were in the rapids and whirlpool five minutes, and were taken out of the eddy on the Canada side, just below the whirlpool, three-quarters of an hour later, in good condition.

Renews Her Youth. Mrs. Phoebe Chesley, Peterson, Clay Co., Iowa, tells the following remarkable story, the truth of which is vouched for by the residents of the town: "I am 75 years old, have been troubled with kidney complaint and lameness for many years; could not dress myself without help. Now I am free from all pain and soreness, and am able to do all my own work. I owe my thanks to Electric Bitters for having renewed my youth, and removed completely all disease and lameness. I tried a bottle, only one at J. Eisenhuth's Drug Store."

THE MAYOR OF HARRISBURG DEAD.

Simon Cameron Wilson, the chief executive of the city of Harrisburg, died suddenly last Saturday evening of heart disease. Mr. Wilson was very much liked by everybody in the city, having been a faithful and strict officer, but at the same time amicable and kind man, and the public are greatly grieved over his unexpected demise. He was 46 years of age and was serving his second term as mayor of Harrisburg.

DISASTROUS AND FATAL FIRE AT DULUTH, IOWA.

Over 800,000 Bushels of Grain Consumed and the Loss Footing Up to About $850,000—Three Men Missing.

DULUTH, Nov. 28.—The most disastrous fire in the history of this place, broke out last night and destroyed two large elevators and a row of nine frame buildings and stores. About 800,000 bushels of grain was destroyed. The total loss will be about $850,000, and the insurance $600,000. Of four men in one of the elevators, only one escaped. Charles Moore, watchman, after being severely burned, jumped from the cupola to the ground, a distance of 80 feet, and was killed. A man named Larech and Foreman Charles Lee are missing.

A Captain's Fortunate Discovery.

Capt. Coleman, scurvy-suffering, plying between Atlantic City and N. Y., had been troubled with a cough so that he was unable to sleep, and was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption. It not only gave him instant relief, but allayed the extreme soreness in his throat, and his children were similarly affected, and a single dose had the same happy effect. Dr. King's New Discovery is now the standard remedy in the Coleman household and on board the schooner.

Free Trial Bottles of the Standard Remedy at J. Eisenhuth's Drug Store.

Terrible Accident in a Mine at Wilkesbarre.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Nov. 29.—A terrible explosion of gas occurred in the Conyngham shaft this morning shortly after the miners and laborers had entered. About fifty miners and laborers were sitting at the foot of the shaft waiting for the inside boss when the explosion occurred. The explosion was the most serious that has occurred in the anthracite coal fields this year. It is now definitely known that thirty-two are severely burned and others slightly injured. Twelve of the men while the injured men were being taken from the shaft was terrible. A crowd of several hundred persons had gathered at the mouth of the shaft, among them, the wives, the mothers, and daughters of the injured men. They were taken out of the pit and they were brought to the engine house, and the women made desperate efforts to gain an entrance. Their entreaties and frantic demonstrations of grief were heartrending, but they were sternly kept outside while the blackened, scorched and bleeding victims of the disaster were wrapped in blankets soaked in oil. The floor of the engine house was covered with writhing human forms so disfigured by fire as to be unrecognizable. As fast as possible they were taken to the hospital or to their homes and so rapidly was the work done that by 9 o'clock every one had been taken out and carried away.

Terrible Death.

Joseph C. Lyuah, a former merchant of Harrisburg, but since 1883 traveling agent for the Hazard Powder Company, New York, was killed by an explosion of 20 kegs of powder. At the time of his death, Monday Nov. 29th, he was at Galveston, Texas, selling several hundred kegs of powder for his firm. Discovering about 20 kegs of powder which were damaged he proceeded to destroy them. He and an employe in one of the magazines there carried the powder 150 feet from the magazine. Lyuah kicked in the heads of a couple of kegs and piled the other 18 on top of the open ones. As he pulled out his match box Drew protested against lighting 500 pounds of powder at arms' length, and warned Lyuah that he would certainly be killed. Lyuah had handed powder so many years that he was careless, and replied by telling Drew that he would teach him something new. Drew then started and ran as fast as he could. He had only proceeded 50 yards when he heard a most terrific explosion. Turning around he saw Lyuah spinning around like a top 60 feet in the air, his clothes being ablaze. The unfortunate man fell fully 75 feet from the spot where he went up. Every vestige of clothing and hair was burned from the body, and the corpse was as black as that of a negro. Drew was uninjured. In the magazine close by was stored enough dynamite to blow Galveston to atoms, but fortunately it did not explode, although the concussion was very great and heard all over the island.

Big Mail Robbery.

BRUSSELS, Nov. 28.—Twenty-two sacks, containing mails from England to Germany, Russia, Austria and the east, while in transit on a train in Belgium, were cut open and plundered of all the registered letters. The other letters were not touched. The robbery was discovered upon the arrival of the train, the Ostend express, at Verviers. Letters from America containing money and diamonds to the amount of $40,000, were stolen. It is supposed the authors of the robbery are a band of thieves who were implicated in the recent thefts of the English mail.

Wild Steers Turned Loose.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—While a herd of forty Texas steers were being driven through the city to-day on their way to a slaughter house on the East river they were frightened by an elevated train and stampeded. The herd started in a mad gallop through the streets, despite all efforts to stop them. Most of them were captured before they went very far, but several kept on until they reached the Grand Central Depot. A crowd of passengers coming out of the depot was scattered like sheep. A panic ensued, but fortunately no one was hurt. The steers kept on their way, gored several horses and chased unlucky pedestrians. A lady in getting out of a stage on Fifth avenue was knocked down, but not seriously hurt. A boy was tossed into an ash barrel.

The drove kept on to the North river, where they were stopped by the water. One steer wanted to swim over to Jersey City and went over the pier into the water. He was fished out, and the others started back for the East river, running wildly through the streets, goring horses and upsetting pedestrians. Four of the steers were shot by police and the rest finally corralled and were driven to the slaughter house. Although the wild stampede of the cattle caused much panic and damage, no people were seriously injured.

NO JOBBING CONTRACTORS

"It's Square Bidding Now"—The Navy Plunders Sent to the Rear.

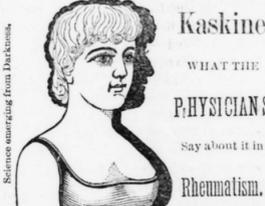

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—The abatement of all the old naval jobbing contractors and their army of retainers was most conspicuous yesterday, when the contracts for the new cruisers were awarded. One of the most prominent Republican ship-builders of the country, whose integrity made him unsuccessful under the Robeson and Chandler management of the Navy, said to your correspondent this morning, "It's square bidding now; things have greatly altered about the Navy Department."

In former times when large naval contracts were to be awarded, favorite contractors were privately posted by inside clerks and inside and outside jobbers were thick as the lice of Egypt, all of whom had to be subsidized by contractors. In many instances, the largest contracts were given out without competition, and the contractor, while seeming to get large prices, was robbed at every turn while he was robbing the government.

The one noticeable feature of Washington under the Cleveland administration is the entire absence of the professional jobbers and lobbyists about the departments. It is honest government all around and honest business has a fair chance at everything the government wants done.

THE NEW QUININE. Kaskine. WHAT THE PHYSICIAN SAYS ABOUT IT. Rheumatism. MALARIA, DYSPEPSIA, NERVOUS DEBILITY. LIVER, LUNG AND KIDNEY DISEASE. The eminent and celebrated Dr. Glessner writes: "The Kaskine Co.—Dear Sirs:—The first great success I had with Kaskine was in chills and fever, malaria, nervous debility, rheumatism, dyspepsia, and liver obstructions, considered at that time it was undoubtedly the best medicine ever discovered. I was even then unfamiliar with its really wonderful powers in curing all the other nervous diseases and disorders, particularly where the blood had become diseased or impoverished and the system impaired. Strictly speaking, Kaskine is the only blood purifier we have. I use it also very largely with unflinching success in all diseases peculiar to women and children. In over three hundred cases I have cured there has never been the slightest relapse following its use, and it is far superior to any tonic or nerve medicine ever known to the medical profession.
