

Democratic State Committee.

In accordance with the rules of the Democracy of Pennsylvania, the Democratic State Committee will meet at the Bolton House, in the city of Harrisburg, at 4 p. m., on Wednesday, Jan. 19, to elect a Chairman, Permanent Secretary, and seven members of the Executive Committee; and also to fix the quadrennial apportionment of Delegates to the State Convention.

A BILL appropriating $50,000 for a battle monument at Gettysburg has been offered in the senate by Senator Cameron. It also provides $25,000 for the maintenance of the land-marks on the field.

THE inauguration of the new governor of Pennsylvania will take place on next Tuesday, Jan. 18th. Harrisburg will of course put on its best "duds" and there will be a genuine old-fashioned republican time.

BLAINE stock is getting below par. The latest in politics is the intention of Republicans to put up Senator Cameron as a candidate for the presidency in 1888, in case Blaine should have the cheek to again claim the nomination.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND is said to have completely recovered from his rheumatic attack which had made him a sufferer for several months. Though his sickness was at no time considered dangerous, the reports in the daily press made it bad enough.

SENATOR COOPER gracefully declines the appointment as secretary of the state in a letter to Gov.-elect Beaver. No doubt General Beaver feels relieved. The matter reached a delicate stage, for the new governor had promised the office to Cooper and at the same time the republican politicians objected to the appointment on constitutional grounds. Taking it in all Gov. Beaver will have a hard time of it till he gets the different offices filled to the satisfaction of all the hungry applicants.

As the time for the election of a county superintendent of public schools approaches the names of several gentlemen who would be eminently fit to fill that position suggest themselves to the minds of the people. A writer from Centre Hall to the Daily News recommends Rev. Chas. Steek, of Bellefonte, but is not sure if that gentleman would accept the nomination. Be that as it may, we are certain that Rev. Steek would make as efficient a superintendent as he is a preacher. Again, the voters should make it a point to put a man there who will handle the functions of this important office as ably as the present superintendent has done.

THE apportionment of the state into congressional districts will be among the most important work of the new legislature and as to the probable shape in which the apportionment bill may be expected to come before the senate the following article from the Patriot will throw some light on the subject. It remarks that Senator James S. Rutan is said to be the coming chairman of the senate committee on apportionment. The senator occupied the same position when the present apportionment was made in 1874 and though he has been for some years absent from the legislature it may be said that he is familiar with the work which will devolve on him as chairman of that committee. He has had a wide experience both in politics and legislation, and though a partisan of the strictest sect, he is not innately an unfair man. But politics is politics and Senator Rutan is a leader in the republican party. The party will no doubt insist on the enactment of a partisan apportionment bill, and Senator Rutan will be both able and willing to help his party in its aspirations on that point. It may reasonably be assumed therefore that the party demand for a germynder will not be discouraged by the chairman of the committee on apportionment, but no doubt will be promoted by him in every particular. He is not a man to falter when party interests are involved.

But the Constitution rather than party interest should be the guide of the chairman of the committee on apportionment in framing a bill to divide the state into congressional districts. The chairman was among the first and most emphatic to insist that the organic law should be respected in the formation of the governor's cabinet. What reasons are there that bind the governor-elect to support this instrument that do not apply with equal force to the senators and members of the legislature? It is to be hoped that Chairman Rutan will carefully consider this subject when he goes about making an apportionment bill.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our regular correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11, 1887.

The week's work in Congress can be easily summarized, as the Senate was in session only three days and the House four. Besides a good deal of other private legislation the Senate passed the bill on the Inter-state Commerce. The House passed three of the regular Appropriation bills, several dozen private pension bills, and discussed bills on the Public Buildings and Naval Reorganization. But what should be emphasized in the work of a Democratic House is the passage, without opposition, and without any provision for Confederate soldiers, of a pension bill for the current year appropriating over $76,000,000.

This amount is nearly as much as were the entire expenses of the Government before the war, and it ought to put the Republican ranters of the last Presidential campaign to the blush, if anything could. Democratic closedness, indeed, wherein does it consist?

Senator Beck has by no means given up his intention of pushing his bill to prohibit members of Congress from acting as attorneys for railroads which have received government aid, although his long silence had led some of the railroad Senators to hope that they would not again be confronted by this bugbear. It is a sore trial for them to have to face this dreadful measure, especially since they know it is urged forward by a practically unanimous public. The debate on the Inter-state Commerce bill is being long drawn out in the Senate as a shield to keep Mr. Beck off, but even it must come to an end when all the speakers have made their speeches for or against it.

It seems that the Revenue Reform question is really coming to the front now, and that another effort will be made to reach those surplus millions. This time it will be by the internal revenue men, Mr. Randall and his followers. They will advocate that the whole tax on alcohol used in the arts be abolished, and that fruit brandies be relieved of tax, but as to whether they will attempt any tariff alterations, no one can predict. The members of Congress from tobacco-producing states feel that it is a duty they owe their constituents to vote for the repeal of the internal tax on tobacco in almost any shape that it might be presented.

These are exciting days for the Senators whose terms expire on the fourth of March, and there are many indications that the Senate will be much changed after that time. But whether or not it will be improved in character or ability is an open question. Senator Conger of Michigan, who has been in public life for thirty-two years, is to be succeeded by Col. Stockbridge, because the latter is a richer man. The long bearded Republican millionaire from Nevada, Mr. W. M. Stewart, is coming to the end of his term. No one objects to him, however, as he was rather a lively man in the Senate, and having a pretentious looking residence here, takes a good deal of interest in the improvement of Washington city.

It is still doubtful who will get Gen. Logan's place, but Pennsylvania sends Mr. Quay, a well-known boss and intriguer, instead of Mr. Mitchell; and Minnesota sends ex-Governor Davis, a tariff reformer, a writer of a book on Shakespeare, and a so-called orator in place of Mr. McMillan. Nebraska is sending a man who is a demagogue and a magnate, and California is still in doubt as are also New York, Massachusetts, Tennessee, and other states.

As to the present condition of Democracy and what it is doing, Gen. Black, Commissioner of Pensions, gives a picture in a recent letter to Allen G. Contracts are not given to the highest partisan bidder and the public lands are safe within the pale of the statutes. What more could be said in behalf of the great party which has brought about these things in the brief space of twenty-two months?

Miscellaneous News.

More than Fifty Below Zero.

FORT KNOX, Mont., Jan. 9.—The weather last night was the coldest of the season. Spirit thermometers at post hospitals registered fifty below zero, which is their minimum, but it must have been much colder.

Praise Telegraphed to the President.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 9.—At the Ohio Club banquet last night, Congressman John Follett lauded the administration, advised President Cleveland to continue in the course he has thus far observed, and predicted that Jefferson and Jackson, and predicted that he would be his own successor. This portion of his speech was ordered telegraphed to the President.

Pigeons Cross the Atlantic.

Henry Wagner, of Boston, sent by steamer nine carrier pigeons to London on the 9th of October last, and when they were given their freedom the whole number started on their long homeward journey across the Atlantic. The owner is in possession of three of his birds up to this time. One of them came flying direct to Boston. This is one of the longest flies on record.

Wiped Out by Chinese Pirates.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 9.—Advice from Hong Kong by the steamer City of Peking, state that the trouble on the frontier of Tonquin and China has assumed serious proportions. News has been received at Hong Kong from Pakhoi by the German steamer Signal that large bodies of Chinese pirates attacked the French garrison at Haiko on Nov. 24th, and after a three days' siege completely annihilated the town. They also annihilated Mongkoi.

Dynamite in Philadelphia.

One hundred and forty-four dynamite cartridges exploded in a shanty on the vacant lots at Twenty-ninth and Stiles streets, Philadelphia, shortly after eight o'clock on Sunday night. One man was blown fifty feet and killed. The cause of the explosion is unknown. Thousands of window sashes were shattered and a panic followed among the people living in the neighborhood. The shock was felt in Germantown, Manayunk, Norristown, Frankford and adjoining towns.

Randall's Revenue Bill.

Carlisle and Morrison Will Not Stand in Its Way.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Speaker Carlisle and Ex-Speaker Randall had a lengthy conference to-day in reference to the proposed revenue reduction measure. The Speaker informed Mr. Randall that he was not favorable to his plan of reduction, but still he would not stand in the way of giving him a fair trial before the House, and he could say that Mr. Morrison would accord him the same facilities before the committee on ways and means. Mr. Randall was non-committal as to his plans and purposes. It was evidently his intention to await the action of the committee of which he was chairman, with McAdoo, of New Jersey, and Warner, of Ohio, as colleagues, authorized to prepare a bill embodying the protection Democratic position on reducing the surplus. Speaker Carlisle proposed a compromise measure, taking off a little in internal taxes and adding in duties like sugar and adding salt, lumber and fish to the free list. Mr. Randall preferred to consult his friends before agreeing to any fixed plan of operations. It was understood, however, that they would see each other again when matters were in a more definite shape.

To Make Great Guns.

The Naval Board's Inspection of the Pittsburg Foundries.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 7.—The seven naval officers composing the special board on national ordnance plant arrived in this city this morning and spent the day in an inspection of the iron and steel mills. This board was appointed to submit plans and estimates for the erection of a plant in the Washington Navy Yard for furnishing heavy guns. It is intended to have the plant completed in two years. It will be of sufficient capacity to finish guns 19 inches in diameter, 45 feet in length and weighing 100 tons. The members of the board are familiar with the arguments presented in making steel cast guns, instead of the Krupp pattern. Captain Evans, one of the members, is a friend of the steel-cast gun and says the government, sooner or later, will be forced to try the experiment.

"The Krupp guns," said he, "cost $170 per pound, while the steel-cast guns can be made for 20 cents per pound. There is sufficient difference, you see, to induce the government to give the steel-cast gun a trial. I am a great friend of Pittsburg. There are better iron works here, more of them and with greater facilities than any other place in the United States. There is no diminution in the amount of natural gas, either. The flow is just as strong to-day as it ever was."

Drowned Off Virginia Coast.

Not One of the Twenty-two Men on Board was Saved—Bodies Recovered.

NORFOLK, Va., Jan. 10.—Later particulars from the wreck of the German ship Elizabeth, which went ashore on Virginia Beach fourteen miles south of Cape Henry, put the number of the crew at twenty-two instead of fifteen, not a man of whom was saved. This fact is learned from the two men of the life-saving crew who survive, and who have recovered consciousness. The bodies of the five men of the life-saving crew and four of the ship's crew which were recovered yesterday were in life preservers and three more of the ship's crew without life preservers were picked up lower down the coast this morning. A body which has been identified as that of the captain is among those recovered. (1) his person was a photograph marked Capt. F. Halberstadt, and letters addressed to Henry Kautzman and several bills from Joseph Lambke & Co., Bremerhaven. Superintendent Poyner of the life saving service will board her to-day if possible.

As reported last night, not a word was spoken between the ship's crew and the life-saving men when they boarded her in their desperate attempt at rescue, and the cause of the wreck can never be positively known, although it is supposed that in attempting to make the cape of Virginia under reefed sails, sufficient allowance was not made for the strong currents which have caused several disastrous wrecks along the lower Virginia and North Carolina coasts during the last few years.

John Roach, the Great Ship Builder Dead.

After suffering several months from cancer, John Roach died at his residence in New York, late on Saturday night.

Flames in Ashland Causing Serious Loss.

A fire in Ashland on Sunday morning totally destroyed Wythe's bakery and his barn, the latter with two valuable horses in. Two barns on the opposite side of the street and a candy factory were also totally destroyed. The combined loss is about $9000.

An Editor loses his Life in doing Duty as a Fireman.

The most serious fire which occurred at Hartford for years occurred on Sunday about noon in the dry goods store of C. O. Sawyer & Co. and spread to two large adjoining stores. The loss by the fire is $125,000. Thos. R. Laughton, one of the editors of the Hartford Times lost his life while on duty as a fireman.

Interstate Agricultural Convention at Lake Charles.

Governor McEnery, of Louisiana, had issued a call for an Interstate Convention in the interest of stock raising, dairying, fruit-growing and general agriculture, to be held at Lake Charles, La., on the 22nd, 23rd and 24th of February, 1887.

The convention will be formally opened on Wednesday morning, after the close of Mardi Gras.

One of the most noteworthy indications of the great industrial progress of the Gulf States is the marked attention of their public men to agriculture and the efforts they are making to bring the theory and the methods of agriculture in those States into harmony with the teachings of science and the highest demands of a progressive civilization.

Nature has been prodigal of her gifts to the State of Louisiana. Few fertility of soil, salubrious climate, and for great variety of products, Louisiana ranks among the most favored countries of the globe.

Governor McEnery has shown commendable wisdom in thus giving the weight of his official influence to call a convention which cannot fail to be of inestimable value to the farm interest of that State and the country generally. We trust it may be widely noticed by the press, and that the results may be all the people anticipate.

This convention is so called that excursionists can remain in New Orleans till the close of Mardi Gras and take the train for Lake Charles on Tuesday evening.

Full information regarding the convention and the low rates of transportation, can be obtained by addressing the Secretary, S. A. KNAPP, Lake Charles, La.

Home Evidence

No other preparation has won success at home equal to Hood's Sarsaparilla. In Lowell, Mass., where it is made, it is now, as it has been for years, the leading medicine for purifying the blood, and toning and strengthening the system. This "good name at home" is "a tower of strength abroad."

It would require a volume to print all Lowell people have said in favor of Hood's Sarsaparilla. Mr. Albert Estes, living at 28 East Pine Street, Lowell, for 15 years employed as boss carpenter by J. W. Bennett, president of the Erie Telephone Company, had a large running sore come on his leg, which troubled him a year, when he began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. The sore soon grew less in size, and in a short time disappeared.

Joe, Dunphy, 214 Central Street, Lowell, had swellings and lumps on his face and neck, which Hood's Sarsaparilla completely cured.

Mrs. W. Merritt, wife of the First Assistant Fire Engineer of Lowell, says that for 16 years she was troubled with stomach disorder and sick headache, which nothing relieved. The attacks came on every fortnight, when she was obliged to take her bed, and was unable to endure any noise. She took Hood's Sarsaparilla, and after a time the attacks ceased entirely.

Many more might be given had we room. On the recommendation of people of Lowell, who know us, we ask you to try
