STRIKES are assuming monstrous di mensions. Fully 30000 of the coa handlers, longshoremen, rail road freight handlers and dock hands are idle in New York and the wharves present a deserted appearance. Business of the steamship lines is partly checked and the strike has a dampening influence on commercial interests.

THE name of Senator Cameron is mentioned of late in connection with the presidency in 1888. The weilgrounded impression is that Cameron carries the Republican party of the shall be six years with a salary of old Keystone in his vest pocket. But as to his presidential candidacy the use of his name may be a trifle too premature. We are a good ways off yet from the national campaign and he may be killed off as a candidate before we get there.

WHEN Queen Victoria opened parliament in the customary style from her throne the other day she delivered her speech to the members and the synopsis of it is that in her opinion "everything is lovely and the goose borrower of money pays the tax in the shape of increased interest if not otherwise : while, on the other hand, they argue in the same breath that the lender is at a disadvantage, because money lenders from New York and other States can come in and underbid him by just the amount of the tax. In this case the lender virtually pays the tax, not the borrower. The would-be repealers will have to do better than this to argue the law off the statute books.

"SECTION 1. Be it enacted, etc., that THE Interstate Commerce Bill which passed both Houses and will likely be signed by the President is now a law, and as many other existing laws it also has its defects and is in some parts dark to the understanding of the common public. But as a whole it can be considered as a beginning to the check which the country ought to put on the unscrupulous business system of the powerful corporations. Section 2 prohibits railroads to charge different persons different equal to three-fourths of the amount of his last year's salary, to be paid in like prices for substantially the same service. Section 3 forbids to give cerin active service." tain persons, firms or corporations special privileges on railroads. Section 4 provides that railroads dare not make higher frieght charges for transportation in small distances than in large distances. Section 5 prohibits combinations for so-called "pooling." Section 6 provides that within 90 days after the passage of this law all transthirty-four months. portation or freight offices must print and publish their rates. Section 10 fixes the penalty for transgessors of this law at $5000. The next eleven sections treat of the commissioners, which shall be five in number and who shall be appointed by the Presiendorsed John Hunter for receiver of dent. The term of the commissioners taxes.

CHICAGO, Jan. 28 .- The Knights of Labor have declared war upon the Pinkertons and other detective agencies which make it a business to furnish armed patrolmen for service in labor troubles, and within the next thirty days bills prohibiting the importation of Pinkeiton detectives and making it a penal offence for any employe of such agency to exercise authority as an officer of the law, will be introduced in nearly every state legislature which is now in session in this country. Measures of the kind will be introduced in the legislatures of Wisconsin, Indiana, Pennsylvania and Illinois in the course of the next two weeks, and those responsible for the movement say that even should they fail in some states, they are confident of giving the system a severe set back.

At the headquarters of the Pinker. tons in this city, the movements of the various legislatures have occasioned considerable uneasiness. Col. W. A. Pinkerton, however, declined to discuss the question more than to say that he will abide by whatever bills may be come law. "If the law sustains me I Parliament has already had several propositions under consideration to settle the fishery question amicably, which goes to show that England is troubled about the threatening tone of the Senate's resolutions. Certain it is that if England does not make efforts to remove the bone of coatention the United States government will settle the matter in a way that may give Great Britain a little trouble.

THE Philadelphia Times in speaking of the attempt at a revision of the three mills tax law by the present legislature says :

"The organized raid that was to be made on the three-mill tax law affecting personal property as soon as the Legislature should meet, has not yet trouble seems to be that almost every would-be tax reformer at Harrisburg ters, pills for additional cruisers, and has his own special scheme for tinkering with the tax laws and is not overwilling to see anything else go through if his plan fails of acceptance.
