-John Flanegan, of New York, stops at the Musser House this week. He is here with the purpose of buying up another car load of horses for the eastern market. About three weeks ago he shipped a car load of splendid horses from Coburn. Mr. Flanegan is said to afternoon we found lots of life about be one of the most successful and popular horse dealers on the road. -We learn with regret that the health of W. E. Keen, a son of our townsman, Jacob Keen, and one of Haines township's successful school teachers, is much affected by pleurisy. But a few weeks ago he was obliged to leave the schoolroom on account of sickness. At this writing he is better again but must employ medical advise.

-Charles W. Weaver, of Rock Spring, this county, was in town on Friday and paid this office a very pleasant visit. Mr. Weaver has been a regular and purctual patron of the Jour-NAL for several years and is one of those men who by their genialness and integrity at once enlist your friendship and respect. We were glad to have him call and invite him to come again.

ORGAN DEDICATION .- The new organ purchased by the Reformed congregation at the St. Paul's church. Aaronsburg charge, will be dedicated on Sunday morning, the 13th instant. Rev. L. D. Stecker, of Mifflinburg, will be present to preach on Saturday eyening and on Sunday morning. He will also occupy the pulpit at Coburn on Sunday afternoon and at Aaronsburg in the evening.

-In another column our readers will find the advertisement of H. G. Rover, of Wolfe's Store, agent for agricultural machines. Farmers should especially take notice of Mr. Rover's announcement. The machines advertised have a world-wide reputation for their neatness and durability and we have to hear of the first complaint that the Champion Harvesters, Binders and Mowers do not give perfect satisfaction. Call on H. G. Royer, agent.

-Messrs, James Kennelly and J. A. Deckert, both of Spring Mills, gave us a business call last week. Mr. Kennelly is the proprietor of the furniture establishment and also of the Spring Mills meat market and from what we can learn he is a gentleman possessing the necessary snap to make these enterprises boom. Mr. Decker expects to remove from Spring Mills by the first of April and intends taking charge of the hotel at Pine Grove Mills, We wish both good succes.

INDECORUM .- If some of our young chaps would see themselv's as others see them they would do with less rowdyism when on their way from church. Their behavior reminds one of a crowd of half drunken roughs coming from loud, vulgar talk, instead of walking along decently and quietly as one should from the house of God. We say show better sense and do away with such bad manners.

MALARIA. - Darbys Prophylatic Fluid is held in wide esteem as a specific and preventative. In it we have the means of rendering the air and water wholesome.

D., Savannah, Ga. -The Missionary and Educational Convention of the Reformed church in this county began its sessions at St. Paul's on Tuesday evening, and on Wednesday evening at Aaronsburg, where it will continue until this (Thursday) evening. It also opens at the Salem church this evening where it will continue in session to-morrow morning and evening. A number of the ministers of the W. Susquehanna Classis are in attendance discussing the interests of missions and the literary institutions of the church. STILL VERY SICK .- We are pained to announce that Lambert J. Noll, to whose sickness reference was made in our last issue, is still quite poorly. It is over four weeks now that he has been confined to the room, during which time nearly every part of his body was racked by rheumstism, leav. ing him almost exhausted by the intense suffering he must bear. He has the sincere sympathy of the community in his affliction and we earnestly hope for the rapid improvement of his

A very pleasant gathering occurred at the residence of Mrs. Jane D. Nofska, more familiarly "Aunt Jane", on Saturday afternoon last, It being her birthday it was decided to celebrate it by a grand party and surprise, To accomplish this she was enticed to visit one of her neighbors in the afternoon of that day and not suspecting anything the lady took the advice in good faith. Soon after her departure the guests began to come. Mr. John Kennelly and son, and Miss Molly Kennelly, from Lewistown, Pa. were the first to arrive. Then came Mrs. M. P. Crosewaite, from Salidaysburg, Pa., Mr. & Mrs. M. B. Hering, of Lock Haven and C. C. Cummings, of Philadelphia, The neighbors from far and near also gath ered in and lent a helping hand in preparing the supper which was indeed one of the grandest to be had. Imagine Aunt Jane's surprise when she was sent for. She could not think what it all meant until some one suggested that herhaps her birthday had something to do with it. When she arrived at her house she was still more surprised to find her own table loaded with things the most fastidious tastes might wish for. Then she was shown the many and valuable presents which her friends had in store for her in an adjoining. room. It was a time long to be remembered and may she live to have many more such surprises. ***

C. E. Finkle sold a horse to a Mc. Musser, of Woodward, the other day. Mrs. Wm Wolfe, of Buena Vista, Ill., paid this, her old home, a visit. She gives a very favorable account of Illinois, yet old Pennsylvania has still many attractions for her. A highly prized dog belonging to Mr. Sober, had his leg shot off by some unknown person Dr. Musser is attending the would and there are hopes of saving the animal's limb. The dog is a very valuable and well-trained pointer and his master is worried exceedingly over the matter.

funeral. Geo. Rowe, from Centre Hall, is at present employed by J. C. Condo. Quite a lively flitting passed through town on Saturday.

Lumbering seems to be the leading industry in this place at present. D. J. Musser has lately purchased Squire Hering's wainut timber, and James Leitzell, of Spring Mills, is preparing to ship the remainder of the line timber to Lock Haven for the manufacture of paper.

On last Friday evening the young folks (formerly called kids) had a taffy party at Charles Horner's. We would advise the boys, if they wish to feed the girls taffy, to buy the molasses themselves and not make the old gentleman of the house pay for it, even if it were only a pint.

The agent delivering the books entitled "McClellan's Own Story" was through here and left several copies in this place. Benj. Hering and wife, of Lock Haven, were visiting friends at Spring Mills and this place. DENVER DAN WOODWARD.

John D. Snyder, the storekeeper and gauger has now charge of a distillery west of Bellefonte, to which place he was called last week.

Last Thursday David Bowersox moved to Union county. J. C. Motz, Esq., is stocking his saw mill at this place with very nice logs.
