COLONEL MATTHEW S. QUAY, in an interview with a TIMES reporter last week, said that with the feeling in the northwestern counties over the defeat of the Billingsley oil pipe bill as it is, and if what he heard about the condition in Philadelphia is true. the Republican party is in a bad shape. No comments.

GENERAL Wagner, the examiner and inspector of Soldiers' Orphans' Schools, has forwarded his annual report to Governor Beaver and handed in his resignation. He says that the schools are under the same inefficient, were first begun, and recommends as the only remedy the appointment of an inspector who is paid a salary which will justify him to devote his whole time to the work of inspection, a man of push and energy.

THE new tax law now pending in the state senate seems a bitter pill to swallow for the Republican Senators, and defeat the new revenue bill. The corporations and especially the railand working man does on his few discretion in the granting of licenses. hard earnings. * * * If the provisions of the law learly define the qualifications of appliants, there is nothing left for judges to deide, and why lodge an apparent power in the Courts that lacks the attributes of practical authority? As the law confers dis cretionary power upon the tribunal that is o grant or refuse licenses, the Judges are the last officials who should be thought of o exercise such discretion.

The present license law confers upon the ourts outside of this city, the power to grant or refuse licenses under certain pre umed limitations, and how have the Judges exercised that power? Hardly any two of them have construed their judicial discre tion alike; and judicial interpretations of the law range from absolute prohibition to practically free license. And the reason or such startling variations in the exercise of judicial duties under the same law, are ntirely logical. Judges are elected by the people; they are neither more nor less than auman, and they practically interpret the lo's public-spirited citizens. law on the principal of what may be delicately called popular sovereignty. When the dominant sentiment of a county or community is strongly against license, the license law becomes a prohibitory statute when the dominant sentiment is for hotels and saloons and plenty of them, the same law becomes substantially a free license statute, and when counties or communities wrangle over license in nearly equal numers and quite equal bitterness, the Judges come diplomatic-or politic would probgive about equal victories and defeats to the ed.

An elective judiciary should be most rupulously protected against the perils of idicial discretion which must offend popdar prejudices. The license question has already turned the scale in fully half a dozen judicial contests before the people, and with growing agitation of the issue and the Our Judges are charged with the administration of justice between man and man. and in order to command public trust in incomplete and illegal form of man- the faithful discharge of that great duty, agement as when the investigations they should be absolutely separated from all outside issues which drag the judicial ermine into the slums of politics. * * *

If mmunities or counties shall have any nethod of preventing license in their limits, who for political and selfish purposes it should be some more distinct method would rather leave things as they are than the discretion of a Judge after he is thumped from post to pillar by bitterly disputing citizens, and thereby organized supporting and opposing parties to assert themroads are as usual at the bottom of selves as factors in the selection of his sucthe trouble.
