A Very Old Bible. Adam McAfee, of Market street, among a large number of valuable books owns a very old family Bible, printed in two colors-red and blackllustrated with many quaint wood cuts of three centuries ago. It was pre-pared for publication by Martin Luther. began in 1522 and finished in 1534. It was printed at Worms, by Michael Mil. herns. The binding is in stout boards covered with heavy leather and the cover edged with plates of brass. Mr. Mc Afee purchased it about forty years ago at a sale at "Pinch-gut." a settlement among the York hills, back of Shiremanstown. He refused $50 for the old relic. Mr. McAfee has also another edition of the Bible printed in two volumes, in English, in Philadel-phia, in 1760. This copy is in a good state of preservation.

For a number of years he was engaged a salesman for a leading Philadelphia house in which business he proved very efficient and successful. Failing health, however, brought on by exposure in the service, com his home at Pine Groye, on Monday pelled him to quit the business. > OTHER POINTS .- Independence Day was ushered in with lots of noise and music at this place. The town clock had just finished the twelfth stroke on Sunday night when the young patriots fired off the first cracker which was the signal for a general fusillade all over town. In a few minutes afterwards the band struck up on the "Star Spangled Banner" and for an hour kept up the spirit of the moment by playing such lively airs as "Rally round the flag, boys, The Red, White and Blue, Hail Columbia," assisted by an embryo drum corps which furnished martial music. People in town could not help noticing that Independence Day had come. As the weather during the day was very hot and the farmers were busy ing on before evening, but after six o' clock Milheim began to fill up with people until about 7 o'clock, when the band gave an open air concert on the square, the streets were packed full of people. As previously announced the band proceeded to l'enn street as soon as the time had arrived for the fireworks. They marched along their route amidst the glare of illuminating lights and were followed by the immense crowd of people who seemed very anxious to witness the display. It was estimated that the crowd which lined Penn, Centre and Water Streets numbered about 1500 people. The brilliant pyrotechnic display was inaugurated by the successful ascension of a large balloon, with fire works attached, which was followed by a fine lot of rockets. colored mines and candles, fancy wheels and triangles, batteries, &c. &c. It lasted about three-quarters of an hour and was pronounced a fine treat by all who witnessed it. The town was handsomely decorated and several of the business places were illuminated in the evening with chinese lanterns. W. S. Musser's hotel on Main street looked specially attractive. The fireworks being over the rink on Penn street where the ladies of the M. E. Mite society were holding their festival became th centre of attraction and between the band music, cake walks and hundreds of people refreshing themselves at the tables that place presented a yery lively appearance for several hours.

As the celebration of the nation's birthday seemed to be a more generalone throughout the country this year, Millheim can justly say that they caught a good share of the enthusiasm and commemorated the declaration of independence in a manner highly satisfactory

Centre Hall had a grand day of it The celebration in that place consisted in fantastic parades, music, basket picnic, orations by Goy. Curtin, Hon. J B. Linn, and Judge Jno. Orvis, and wound up with a grand display of fireworks in the evening. It is reported that at about 8 o'clock in the morning the town contained more people than at any previous time in its history. A number of Milheim people helped to swell the large crowd there.

Maud Irene, daughter of H. F. & Anni Confer, died at Millheim, July 7th, 1887, aged 8 years, 3 months and 27 days. All that affection ate parents, kind friends and neighbors could do, was done for her, but all to no vail. On Thursday, July 7th, she passe from suffering to rest, and was buried on the Sunday following. Thus another family circle has been broken on earth and a new one begun above. During her long and severe affliction Maud had the sympathy of every one who knew her. The parents have the consolation that while she suffered much her rest is likewise complete.

May all so live that the reunion above may be as pleasant as the parting was painful.

At the semi-annual meeting of Centre Castle, No. 169, Knights of the Golder Eagle, of Spring Mills, thefollowing officers were installed: Past Chief, G. B. Crawford: Noble Chief, David Burrell; Vice Chief, Dr Geo. L. Lee; High Priest, P. C. Frank Venerable Hermit, J. B. Hazelle; Master Venerable Hermit, J. B. Hazelle, Master of Records, J. A. Burrell; Representative to the Grand Castle, T. B. Jamison.

This Castle was instituted on the 22nd of March 1887. Being the first in the County it took some time until the object and condition of the order became known. 46 members have been initiated. 4 elected (not vet initiated and 10 applications for membership at the last meeting, several of which, however, could not be considered or account of not being accompanied by the required fee and I woud just here remark for the good of those desiring to join the or-der that no applications will be considered unless accompanied by at least one half of the imitation fee the balance to be paid on the night of initiation. If rejected the fee will be returned. This order was introduced into Pennsylvania Oct.1st 1875, but upto about 1882 very little had been done, showing that the peo-ple of Pennsylvania do not go into any thing blindly; but after a thorough investi gation into the origin and ground-work of the organization, being satisfied that the order is a genuine one, they began work and now the order numbers over 180 Castles and between 20,000 and 30,000 menbers in this state.

It is considered one of the finest organiza tions in the county and is represented by some of the best men and highest officers of all the other benevolent and charitable institutions, who do not hesitate to pronounce the order of the Knights of the Golder

Eagle second to none.

The object of the order is to promote the principles of true benevolence by associating its members together for the purpose of mutual relief against the trials and difficulties attending life. The order is based upon the most liberal principles consistent with future prosperity and especially adapted for all, be they rich or poor. Its mottoe is, Fidelity, Valor & Honor. It conflicts with no religous or political belief, nor interferes with any duty one owes to his family, self or friends.

This Castle is still receiving members or en opportunity for all within reach of this Castle to join. This opportunity should be Castle to join. This opportunity should be improved at once as the Charter fees may close in a week or two after which it will cost about three times as much.

weeks from next Saturday. It is reported that several of our citizens are talking of having an evening's amusenent here in the shape of Tub Racing, Pie Eating Contest, &c., some Saturday evening in the near future. Arrangements are also to be made to have the Millheim Band here to enliven the occasion. The affair is to be gotten up for the enjoyment of all, which is right. Woop 'er up, and let us

The attendance as usual was large. Don't forget the lawn festival on the 23d inst. by the Aaronsburg Lutheran congregation and Sunday school. See posters. Miss Emma Edmonds closed her school on July 1st with a regular old fashioned picnic in the woods north of town. How the little folks did enjoy themselves, especially so when invited to sit up to the able and eat of the many good things that were prepared for them. In the afternoon their teacher had them recite as was their custom in the school room. The children as a teacher. The third annual meeting of the Reformed Mite Society took place on last Saturday evening in the audience room of their new church. A well prepared article on the workings of the society from its birth up to the present time was read by Miss Emma Jordan. Prof. Auman, of Millheim, was there and in his usual good style performed a part suitable to the occasion. The floral lecorations we might say were almost profuse. The ladies of this congregation, forming the Aaronsburg Reformed Mite Society have done very nobly in the past three years. They gathered together about $700 which amount was appropriated to the liquidating of their church debt which, we are glad to say is now almost, paid.
