—This portion of the country was visited by heavy rains, accompanied by thunder and lightning, last Thursday and Friday night. More of the rain would not be an injury.
—Centre Hall is full of big ideas. They now expect a syndicate to come and build a monastically big hotel there. They also want a permanent park or grove for picnic purposes. Whooop'er up!

—G. W. Witt, of Fiedler, Haines twp., Pa., writes to tell the people that he has the best cider press in the county. We therefore advise those who have any apples to grind up to give his press a trial.
—The residence of Major Wm. F. Reynolds at Bellefonte was visited by burglars last Friday night. They succeeded in getting away with some silverware, a pair of the Major's shoes and a lot of victuals.

—Mr. Brooks, of Bellefonte, representing the Daily News, Republican and Fountain, of that place, was in town last week, to hunt up delinquent subscribers and make collections. Mr. Brooks is an agreeable and gentlemanly collector.
—Next Tuesday evening District Attorney James B. Correll, of Williamsport, is to be married to Miss Mary Blencard Mayor, daughter of President Judge Mayor, of Lock Haven, the event to take place in the Presbyterian church at that place.

—Geo. Mesh, of this place, packed his "grip-sack" last week and started for Sunbury to enter upon the duties of brakeman on the Penna. railroad. We hope George will have good luck on the road and be promoted to a better position in the near future.
—John T. McDivitt left a very good sweet pumpkin at the JOURNAL office last week. B. O. Deininger followed with a peck of large and delicious quinces. Right, bring in your specimens, we'll see to it that they won't spoil.

—Mrs. Maria Weaver, the Penn street milliner, was to the city beginning of this week, and now the ladies all stars and fronts declare that they never before beheld goods as fine collection of new millinery goods as are this year displayed at Mrs. Weaver's establishment.
—Judge White, of Pittsburg, has made a decision which will be of considerable interest to the colored population of this week, and now the ladies all stars and fronts declare that they never before beheld goods as fine collection of new millinery goods as are this year displayed at Mrs. Weaver's establishment.

—We had a call from John D. Decker, of Potters Mills, on Tuesday afternoon. He is the Republican candidate for county commissioner and was down to hunt up his republican friends. Mr. D. is a quiet and pleasant gentleman who seems to have but one fault, and that is he that travels in bad company politically.
NEW MILLINERY AT REBERSBURG.—Mrs. Louisa Harter has opened a millinery shop in Rebersburg and will receive the latter part of this week an elegant stock of new millinery goods, comprising the latest styles in hats, bonnets, ribbons, laces, feathers, &c. She desires the ladies of Rebersburg and vicinity to call and inspect her stock. Her motto is the best goods at the lowest prices. Look out for her advertisement next week.

—Musser & Alexander, our popular marblemen, received the elegant and large granite monument intended for the grave of the late George Shafer, of Zion, on Tuesday morning, and had the same taken to the Zion cemetery to mark the last resting place of the deceased. This monument is one of the finest that has yet been put out from the Millheim marble works and will be the handsomest piece of work on that graveyard.
—What is of special interest to parties in need of tombstones are the low prices they charge for their work, a consideration that is very important to the average purchaser.

—The register of the National Hotel at this place, H. G. Shafer proprietor, shows up remarkably well for the past week, a large number of travelers having stopped there, which would indicate that Shafer and his landlady understand full well to treat their guests in the best style. Among those who put up at the National last Saturday were Miss Fairy Shafer, of Reading, and Miss Ida Kreamer, of Rebersburg, accompanied by Messrs. R. I. Franz and J. A. Shreckengost, of Tylerville, all of whom arrived in town mounted on horseback and after partaking of supper returned home under the soft beams of a full moon.

—The chronic grumblers seem to be a necessary adjunct in most communities. And Millheim, along with other towns, is not behind in this line. Every progressive step, if ever so necessary, is opposed by these disagreeable fellows, simply because their local taxes may be a few cents higher. At present there is considerable squealing about the improvement of the town hall, and still, when completed, these very grumblers, in their inmost hearts, are glad themselves that the local authorities had the sand to go ahead with a work that will do the town credit. Filling a borough office is pretty much like running a newspaper—you can't please them all and so you must do things the best you know how.

—The best winter boots for small and large, old and young, at Kauffman's store.
D. S. Kauffman.

—A good Overcoat at Kauffman's store, from $7 to $10.

—The woodshop of Hartmann's foundry on Penn street was greatly improved by the laying of a new floor.
—The cold waves are here and so is my stock of Underwear in endless varieties. Come and see. D. S. K.

—Mrs. Dr. S. G. Gutelius, of this place, is at present visiting friends and relatives in Millburg and other points east.
—Talk about your pumpkins. Wm. Kerster of near town comes to the front with one that measurs 70 inches in circumference. Next?

—C. A. Snow & Co., patent lawyers, Washington, D. C., report that a patent has been granted W. R. Jenkins, of Bellefonte, for a coal carrying car.
—Democrats not having paid a tax within two years should attend to it now. Next Saturday, Oct. 8th, is the last day to pay a voting tax. Do not put it off until the last minute.

—Millheim needs new sidewalks in all parts of the borough. Town council will have to issue special orders, if it wishes to be done before winter sets in with its snows, rain and slush.
—Our readers will please notice L. B. Stover's announcement of his store at Madisonburg, in another column. Mr. Stover is a wide-awake business man who makes it a point to please his customers.

—J. W. Snook is manifesting the surroundings of his brick manufactory on Penn street, by filling up and leveling his yard with rich ground. "Cuff" Alters, that handy fellow, does the work and it will be done right, too.
—Nevan Auman's grocery on Main street seems to be headquarters for checker playing. There are some interesting match games played there every evening, in the presence of a goodly number of spectators.

—An interesting event at the Lancaster county fair at Lititz this week will be the public marriage of farmer George Ryan and Miss Laura Hoover, of Lancaster, Governor Beaver the having consented to the knot.
—James Musser, whose return home from the South we announced last week, arrived in town last Monday evening, considerably reduced in health. He is afflicted with malaria and has been ailing for well nigh a year.

CHURCH ANNOUNCEMENT.—Rev. A. Yearick makes the following appointments for next Sunday: The Lord's supper will be celebrated in the Reformed church at Aaronsburg in the forenoon; there will be preaching at S. Paul's in the afternoon, and in the U. B. church in Millheim, in the evening.

—We had a call from John D. Decker, of Potters Mills, on Tuesday afternoon. He is the Republican candidate for county commissioner and was down to hunt up his republican friends. Mr. D. is a quiet and pleasant gentleman who seems to have but one fault, and that is he that travels in bad company politically.

—The best winter boots for small and large, old and young, at Kauffman's store.
D. S. Kauffman.

—A fine, satin-lined Overcoat at Kauffman's store for $11.
—Don't forget to call on J. W. Stover and examine his assortment of gents' gloves. He has certainly a fine selection and sells them at great bargains.

—Man at the telephone—We have at Musser & Son's shoe store Kip and French Kip, grain, sewed and pegged Calf Boots, for men and boys, heavy and light weight. Duck rubber boots, felt boots from $1.35 to $1.75.
—John Reinhold, Reading, Pa., is at present sojourning in these valleys and is buying up apples to ship to the eastern market. When through with his canvass he will have shipped about seven carloads, or 300,000 bushels.

ALWAYS ON THE GO.—The meat wagon of Gettlig & Kremer's meat market. They are doing a slashing business and all their customers are pleased with their splendid meat. When in need of fresh beef, pork or mutton give them a call.
—All are invited to call on Miss Sadie E. Grove and examine her stock of Fall and Winter Millinery goods which have just been received from New York. Her place of business is in J. G. Meyer's house, opposite the hotel in Aaronsburg.

—Ex-Gov. Curtin treated us to a liberal dose of congressional recollections. It required a bushel basket to carry the bulky documents from the post office down to the JOURNAL office and increased the library in our paper room by about fifteen volumes.
—Boiling applebutter, making soap and cleaning house are the chief aims of the housewife's life at this season of the year, and the docile benedict stands in awe of the big black "kittles," the large rolls of carpets and manifold joints of stove pipe, and respectfully awaits orders from headquarters.

—An inquisition board of three, an attorney, a physician and a reliable citizen, were summoned to Squire Reifsnnyder's office on Tuesday, to decide upon the sanity or insanity of John Cummings, the farmer on Jacob Sankewy's farm. The committee declared Mr. Cummings insane and will so report to the next quarter session court.
—A little like winter on Tuesday. Hence the farmers are thinking of cornhusking. John Keen had the misfortune to lose two of his Hogs. J. H. Frank has also one that is sick.

—The farmers are busy gathering their winter apples.
—The wet weather made havoc in the cloverland.
—A number of our folks were away visiting over Sunday. J. H. Frank's and W. F. Smith's left last Thursday for Paintsville, near Lewistown, to visit John Stover. They returned on Monday. W. C. Duck and wife were visiting in Nittany over Sunday. Your correspondent had the pleasure to make a short visit to Bellefonte, our beautiful and lively county seat, last week, and every place he looked to he could see a picture of JEMBO.

AARONSBURG.
—And still they are going up—potatoes.
—S. H. Diehl turned out a very fine two-wheeled carriage on last Monday.
—Mrs. Howard Homan, of Centre Hall, is visiting friends here this week.

—M. Slier was up to Millheim the other Saturday and found it very moony, especially on the hill.

—A party of deer hunters were down to Pine Swamp on Saturday but they report they were very scarce there. We have a few deer down here at the mill. Ask B. L. H. about it.
—The happiest man in Poe Valley is Michael O'xender. Another Oxy.

—The Junction boys went out coon hunting on, right last week. They are keeping one eye on the look-out for the one-eyed John. They ran across a strange animal and captured it. Captain Oxy kept it on exhibition several days and had a fortune to speculate by offering it to P. T. Barnum for his menagerie. But all these ideas were rudely dispelled by an angry woman from Poe Valley, who came after her six-year-old pet swine and Captain Oxy had to give up his prisoner. If you want to see some boys black and you need to do it to squeal like a pig. TEXAS COW BOY.

—Man at the telephone—Velvet, Felt, Grain and Carpet, embroidered and unembroidered Slippers, a big variety; also Ladies' and Gents' Waukekapast shoes.
—Ladies, come and feast 'your eyes on the fancy Dress Cloths at my store.
D. S. Kauffman.

WORDS FULL OF ENCOURAGEMENT.
—We are not naturally of a bustling spirit but the following letter from one of our regular subscribers in the west is too good to keep hid under a bushel and we publish it to give our Millheim people the assurance that they have cause to be proud of their local paper: Seville, Medina Co., Oct. 27th, '87.
EDITOR JOURNAL: Enclosed find one dollar to pay for your valuable paper for another year. I am glad to see your paper enlarged and improved so that it ranks second to none in your county, considering the low subscription price. I hope that the people of Pennsylvania and through the county will appreciate your efforts to furnish them such a clean and newsy paper at such a nominal price. May success crown your efforts.
Truly Yours
A. G. Heckman.

NATIVE OF MILLHEIM MARRIED.
—The following item which appeared in last week's Carrington (Dakota) News is a clipping from the Clinton County Democrat, published at DeWitt, Iowa, the bride's home. Most of our readers know the happy groom, who is a son of our townsman, Jacob Eisenhuth, Esq., and in republishing the account of Willis' wedding we add our hearty congratulations:
Mr. Willis H. B. Eisenhuth, of Carrington, Dakota, and Miss Laura Kelly, of this city, were married yesterday at the residence of the bride's parents, at 4 o'clock p. m. Rev. Chapple officiating. The affair was a quiet one, only a few friends of the contracting parties being present. After the ceremony was performed, the bride and groom, in an elegant repast, which was prepared for the occasion, after which the bridal party took their departure on the 6.01 train for Minneapolis and other points of interest, after which they will settle in Carrington, where the groom is successful business man. The bride was born and reared in De Witt, and was a lady admired by all. She was for a long time teacher in the High School, and was highly esteemed by both patrons and pupils. The groom has long been a resident of Carrington, Dakota, where he is engaged in the drug business, and he is congratulated upon his success in the matrimonial lottery. The Democrat joins with the community in wishing them success through life.

GREENBRIAR.
There seems to be a great deal of dissatisfaction about the change of a bookkeeper in that they will keep their children at home from school sooner than buy new books. This would certainly be a mistake on their part, because it would deprive the children of many valuable school days.
Andrew Weaver lost his pocket book containing in the neighborhood of eight dollars. Mr. Weaver is a poor man and feels his loss keenly. We hope the finder will be honorable enough to return the pocket book to its owner.
G. W. Stover's bullock stopped the early morning train the other day. That's doing a great deal for a bullock.
Mrs. Peter Brown has a sunflower measuring 29 inches in diameter. Open for competition.
Mrs. G. W. Stover has returned from her visit to Lebanon county well pleased but surprised at the many changes that have taken place since her last visit. She could hardly recognize her old birthplace.
Mr. Daniel Hosterman has lost four hogs with the same disease which made such havoc among the porkers in the lower end of the valley.
Misses Annie and Cora Gettig, of Spring Mills, were visiting friends in this neck o' woods.
Quite a large party of hunters were out last Saturday but hadn't their "luck" along and returned without any game whatever.

Jas. N. Leitzell has gone to New Jersey on business and pleasure.
Mrs. G. A. Runk will leave here to take up her abode in Flemington, N. J., where she expects to make her future home. This place will lose an estimable lady and a good and kind neighbor.
D. G. Smith has gone to Philadelphia to attend lectures at the Jefferson Medical College in that city.
PENN HALL.
Major Huss, from Linden Hall, and some of our boys were out coon hunting on Friday night, but they were not very successful on account of the rain.
Mrs. Charles Horner who had been sick for several months died on last Wednesday. The interment took place on Saturday in the Salem Reformed cemetery, Rev. Dettler (Luth.) officiating. Mrs. Horner had arrived at the age of 60 years 2 months and 7 days. She leaves a husband and six children, (2 sons and 4 daughters) to mourn her death.
Mr. D. G. Smith left on Monday morning for Philadelphia to enter the Jefferson Medical College.
The schools in this township opened on last Monday. We understand that the teachers, with the exception of one or two, are very much dissatisfied with the manner the board stationed them. It is indeed amusing to see the educators of the young on their three and four-mile tramp to their respective farms. The directors certainly made a bad deal and if they desire to be re-elected they must do better in the future.
The game of croquet which was played on Saturday afternoon was rather slim. The hasty parties quarreled too much among themselves. DENVER DAN.

The Oft Told Story

Of the peculiar medicinal merits of Hood's Sarsaparilla is fully confirmed by the voluntary testimony of thousands who have tried it. Peculiar in the combination, proportion, and separation of its ingredients, peculiar in the extreme care with which it is put up, Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes cures where other preparations entirely fail. Peculiar in the unequalled good nature it has made at home, which is a "tower of strength abroad," peculiar in the phenomenal sales it has attained.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
is the most popular and successful medicine before the public today for purifying the blood, giving strength, creating an appetite, "I suffered from weakness and low spirits, and also had eruptions on the back of my head and neck, which was very annoying. I took one bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I have received so much benefit that I am very grateful, and I am always glad to speak a good word for this medicine." Mrs. J. S. SNYDER, Pottsville, Penn.
