THE 50th congress will convene next Monday a week. The official list of the members shows that the lower house will be composed of 168 democrats, 153 republicans and 4 independents, which gives the democrats & majority of GOVENOR HILL, of Mew York, recently appointed two women as inspectors in an insane asylum. This move cannot fail to elicit favorable comment, even if it is a diversion from general custom. Insane asylums as a rule have a fair proportion of female inmates whose wants and interests should be represented by officers of their own sex.

GOVERNOR BEAVER on Tuesday appointed Joshua L. Bailey, ex Governor Robert E. Pattison, David Scull, esq., Colonel Thomas H. Bauer and John Wanamaker a committee to ask President Cleveland to incorporate in his coming annual message a suggestion that congress enact some legislation looking to the settlement of inter national difficulties by arbitration. Dr. George I. McLeod was also appointed a member of the board of public charities on Tuesday to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Dr. J. K. Lee.

Food for Serious Thought.

The question of unlawful assemblages is one in which not only the people of England are at present very seriously interested, but it is also one

England has had centuries of experience with that phase of human nature which seeks by a recourse to posed to arise from a too strict endorsement of the law of the land, and which the new government of the United States may derive profit from. The time has arrived when disre-

During the past year the anarchists tude toward the laws enacted for the protection of persons and property and for the preservation of the general peace, which shows clearly the radical tendency, and to put it strongly but truthfully, the treasonable characters of their purposes. They have gone so far as to attempt to nullify the law of the land, and to interfere with its execution by threats of personal violence against those charged with the enforcement of that law.

On the trial of Lord George Gordon, the prime mover in, and instigator of the "no proper riots" in Lonwar against the king, and therefore than that they were considerably refreshed amounted to treason.

Under such an interpretation of the law what doubt is there that Herr Most and his ilk have been guilty of treason against the law of this government? Democratic by 34 on Joint Ballot.

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 18,- Full returns of the recent election for members of the general assembly show that the complexion of the new body will be as follows: Senate, democrats, 26; republicans, 14, House of delegates, democrats, 61, republicans, 38; independent, 1. Democratic majority on joint ballot, 34.

This is thanksgiving week, and although nly one day is dedicated to thanksgiving and praise by command of State aud national authorities, the whole week should illustrate the best offices of gratitude to God and man in a country so richly blessed as is

No land ever had more cause for thanks to the Giver of all good than has our free and happy Republic to-day, and no people in all the world's history enjoyed so large a measure of prosperity and content. Free government has vindicated its mission by a eartily accepted and imperishable Union of he States, and domestic discord has been panished from our midst.

Not only have peace and union been re stored, but the lessons of civil strife have given full fruition in matchless industrial progress in every section. Capital and labor are fairly rewarded, and substantial prosperity has succeeded the desolation of war and the feverish business inflation it in-

We have peace with all the world with every assurance that it will be maintained. We can have no cause for war with any foreign people; none can have cause for war with us. We covet no part of the possessions of others ; we have no perplexng diplomatic disputes ; we are for peace, and our army is limited in numbers to the necessities of military police regulations. While all European nations must maintoin their armies on a war footing in self-defense, we impose no such burden upon the people.

And there is plenty throughout the whole land. The harvests of the year have been the largest ever known; the garners are full to overflowing for the wants of the people and the fields are green with the promise of future abundance. The industry of the country-its wealth in peace and safety in war-is better paid than at any period of the past, and the ability of industry to purchase and enjoy infuses prosperity throughout every channel of commerce and trade.

We have the best of government to be in which he accepts the resignation of thankful for ; we have plenty and prosperithat official. Referring to the contro- ty in every section of the Union to be thankful for ; we have the largest civil and religious liberty to be thankful for; we have better government in nation, State and city points of the question he will have to then is common to be thankful for ; we have accept Lamar's opinion, but that freedom from pestilence to be thankful for, and who will not gladly give Thursday those burned. A great many familes next to thanksgiving and praise for such multiplied blessings?

And let it not be forgotten that even in the happiest and most prosperous countries, | 18m. there are the children of sorrow ; that want and suffering belong to every land and that those who are blessed with abundance would be pursued in the future when should temper the misfortunes of those who public lands were in question, but al. hunger or suffer. Let every home of plenty give double cause for thanks by sending the sunshine of charity into at least one home where sorrow reigns to erect the altar of thanksgiving where only the shadows of grief were known. Not only give thanks in every home that is blessed with health of the mischief, found it, of course, im- and prosperity, but gladden the hearts of possible to keep quiet about the re- the sorrowing and thus enable all to give cent tragedy in Chicago, when four of thanks together to the God who rules the

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our regular correspondent.) WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 22, 1887. The Democratic members from New York have called a caucus to neet in this city the latter part of the week to determine what course they will pursue in regard to the doorkeepership.

So two claimants,-both Democrats-will appear for the same Senatorial seat. One of the other cases that I refer to is that of Senator-elect Turple, of Indiana. Still, it is doubtful if Ex-Senator Harrison contests the seat, as his alleged claim appears to rest upon anything but a firm foundation. Then, too, the Senate is much more impartial and conservative than the House in the settling of contests.

The British Fisheries Commission having reached the Capital, it is probable that negotiations will be in progress before the end of this week. Upon the arrival of Mr. Chamberlain, the chief commissioner, he was beseiged at his hotel by forty reporters don, in 1781, the history of which is of the leading newspapers of the country not yet forgotten by the people, it was but only the subjects on which the adroit the unanimous opinion of the king's diplomatist could be satisfactorily interbench that an attempt to repeal a law viewed were liquors, cigars, and kindred by violence, or to prevent its execu- topics. PETERSON'S MAGAZINF for December is on our table, and highly as we have praised its efforts this year, we can conscientiously say that this closing number surpasses any of its predecessors. The steel plate is one of the finest that the magazine has ever given, and it illustrates a story of the last century, ty Miss Ewell, which is in itself worthy great commendation. The woodengraving is a spirited representation of a tobogganing-scene. The fashionplates and other illustrations are of superior merit. The literary portion of the magazine deserves the highest praise. Mrs. Lucy Hooper's story, "The Room at Heronsmere," is one of the most thrilling tales that we have read in a long time. "Two Christmas-Gifts," by Georgia Grant, a new contributor. is a story so charming that it proves "Peterson" has shown its usual discrimination in adding the author to its list. The other tales, as well as the poems, are of the first order of merit. "Peterson" ends the year with new honors, and it has so thoroughly earned the right to expect implicit belief in its promises that we are convinced it
