Philadelphia, January 29, 1794.

PROCEEDINGS IN THE LEGISLATURE of SOUTH-CAROLINA, AT THEIR LAST SESSION.

Mr. E. Rutledge reported from the committee on privileges and elections, to whom was referred the consideration of the propriety of Dr. Jacob Robert Brown's retaining his seat in this house, as a member thereof, which was read and ordered to be taken into immediate consideration, which being read through, is as follows, viz.

Report, that in obedience to the orders of this house, the committee sat as soon as this house adjourned, and having required the attendance of the said Dr. Brown, they informed him "that a committee to whom was referred the business of examining into, and ascertaining the truth of a report, that an armed force was levying within this state, by persons under a foreign authority, without the permission, and contrary to the express prohibition of the government of the United States, and of this state;" had reported, that they had made diligent enquiry respecting the truth of the said report, and that they were perfectly satisfied from the information on oath, of divers credible persons, that he, Dr. Brown, had received and accepted a military commission from Genet, minister plenipotentiary from the republic of France, authorizing him, among others, to raise and organize troops, within the states of America.

Your committee further informed the said Dr. Brown, that by the 21st section of the 1st article of the constitution, it was declared, "that any member of the legislature, who should accept of any place of profit or trust, under a foreign power, should thereby vacate his seat."

To this information, Dr. Brown answered, "that he had not accepted of any commission, either civil or military, or any place of profit or trust, under any foreign power."

That he had sworn to support the constitution, and knew as a member of the house, that the acceptance of a commission under a foreign power, would vacate his seat. That true it was, a foreign commission had been proposed to him, and a paper stating the pay, rations, proportion of spoil, numbers of men to be raised, and battalions, divisions of land, and other particulars, had been put into his hands for his consideration, which paper he kept for some time, and on the day on which he was to give his answer, he declined accepting the commission, and refused to have any thing to do in the business.

That moreover, to satisfy his wife, who was much averse to his being engaged in that affair, and who pressed him to burn the paper above mentioned, he threw the same into the fire, where it was consumed in her presence, and in that of another person who had come to receive his final answer. Your committee are therefore of opinion that the said Jacob Roberts Brown, be admitted to his seat. The report being read through, a motion was made and seconded, that the report be committed for further investigation, which was agreed to.

Mr. E. Rutledge reported from the committee on privileges and elections, to whom the report on the case of Doctor Brown was recommitted, for the purpose of ascertaining the length of time of which he was possessed of the paper mentioned in the report, and also to ascertain the day on which he burnt the said paper.

The report stated, that they had Dr. Brown before them; that he said, "the day on which he burnt the paper, was on Friday or Saturday previous to the day to which the legislature stood adjourned; but with respect to the length of time which he was possessed of the said paper, he declared his reluctance to mention, as he
